

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Gallofridi Arturii Monumetenfis

Contra Polydorum Vergilium.

Ex Autographo.

GALLOFRIDUS Arturius Monovagæ (quæ celebris & antiqua urbs est Cambriæ, posita quidem inter duos fluvios, Monam & Vagam, unde & nomen fumpsit,) natus erat. Num tamen ibidem in bonis literis ad maturam usque ætatem informatus fuerit, certo adfirmare non possum: ut neque ^a an monachus fuerit. quanquam utrumque aliquam verum ^b speciem præ se fert. Nam Monæ Benedictinorum cœnobium nuper erat, sed cujus antiquitatis mihi incertum. Et illis temporibus soli fere monachi, cum alibi, tum præcipue in nostra Britannia, docti erant. Causa autem hæc fuit. Non dum ^d Isidis vadum, non Granta, florentes nunc ^e academiæ, alte capita extulerant; emerferant tamen, sed ita, ut ^f Dacia barbarie, vi, furore, aliquoties deprimerentur. Quare quæ celebria erant monasteria, erant etiam & gymnasia, perinde atque olim ante diminutum Saxonum imperium; monachique non ventrem lautis epulis, sed animum pulcherrimis studiis perpascebant. Quid multis in confirmanda conjectura moror? Illud liquido constat, Gallofridum, quantum tempora patiebantur, nec carmine, nec soluta oratione indoctum fuisse; id quod ne ipsi quidem Itali, ^g qui tum, non usque adeo pure & exacte Latini, vivebant, mihi pernegarent. Quanquam non hæc res mihi curæ est, ut autorem ab eloquentia laudem. Aliud est longe nobilius, illustrius, magnificentius, quod me sedulo hortatur monetque, immo jubet potius cogitque, ut illum, idque accurata oratione, extollam. Solus etenim est, qui diligentia sua, nunquam satis laudata, bonam partem Bri-tannicæ antiquitatis ab interitu plai vindicavit: rumpantur ut ilia Codris, aliter & scribentibus & sentientibus. Non tamen sum usque adeo malus rerum æstimator, ut putem Gallofridum tanta & tam integra fide in scribenda historia fuisse, ut nunquam à vero latum culmum erraverit: cum manifeste liqueat, incerta pro certis, vana pro veris ab illo esse aliquoties scripta. Et quis, obsecro te candide lector, inter historicos in eodem luto non hæsit? Gallofridus tamen in primis veniam meretur, qui ingenue fatetur, se tantum interpretis usum fuisse officio, id est, historiam Britannicam, Britannice scriptam, a Latinitate donavisse. ^b Sed Codrus Galfredo-mastix, non videns manticam, quæ sibi à tergo dependet, ista furda aure præteribit.

^c Ita divisim Lelandus, ut etiam alii; faventque lapides & codices MSS. vetustissimi. Grammatici autem recentiores nondum conjunctim proferunt.

Forfan aliquis dixerit, quis hic est Codrus? Huic ego hominem depingere non gravabor. Est peregrinus & hospes gloriosus simul ac curiosus, ut qui sua jactet, nostra autem audita potius quam intellecta pro arbitrio tractet. Nec alio nomine Britannis pro imperio insultat, quam quod, nescio cujus c Pythagoræ dogma secutus, certo sibi persuasit, facundi Ciceronis animam, post tot secula, in suum scilicet pectus recta migrasse, atque hoc munere aureum illud torrentis eloquentiæ flumen ita assecutum, ut illa fretus ex muscis elephantos, rursus ex elephantis muscas facile faciat. Itaque juvenis carmina scriptitavit, sed quæ postea, furente illo, omnia in spongiam, ad exemplum Ajacis, incubuere. Quanquam quod versus parum dextris Musis & Apolline scripserit, non multum à Cicerone degeneravit. Tum vero cum videret, non belle sibi cum Musis convenire, contulit se ad liberiores dicendi campum, nactus materiam, in qua ostenderet, quid posset facundia illa quidem c Ciceroniana. Sed circiter idem tempus in eandem inciderat materiam quidam e barbarus Batavus, quem vulgus sexcenties prætulit Codro Italo. Hanc ægre tulit rem, & causabatur injuriam aperte sibi factam, quod Barbarus per dolum gloriam, quam jure optimo meritus fuerat, præoccupasset. Postremo, ne animum f despondere videretur, & illo pereunte, una periret Romanæ linguæ elegantia, historiam majiori confidentia quam rerum cognitione aut lectione inchoavit & consummavit; ita tamen, ut editionem non modo in nonum, ex Horatii præcepto, annum, sed in trigésimum usque, si Diis placet, premeret.

Sed operæ pretium est cognoscere, qua arte fidem historiæ suæ adstruat. Prius strenue debacchatur in Galfredum, ut ejus auctoritatem elevet, & suæ vanissimæ vanitati pondus, robur, veritatem etiam accumulet. Deinde, quem tot sævis verbis ante lancinaverat, cogitur homo impudentissimus per bonam antiquioris historiæ partem sequi. At huic impudentiæ venia certe danda est, quia alium, quem recte sequeretur, auctorem prorsus nullum habuit. Usque adeo tamen sui immemor non fuit, quin obiter in ducem suum, tanquam fatuum & mendacem, multo sale, ut est mire argutus, lepidus, factus, luderet. Atque hoc non alio ab eo nomine factum, quam ne ullo approbare modo videatur, quem prius infectatus est.

Fieri hic potest, ut aliquis mihi objiciat, Codrum non esse primum, qui Galfredum fugillavit, & alios extare scriptores, quorum auctoritate in primis historiæ suæ libris non raro usus est. Ad hæc ego breviter in præsentia respondebo, Gulielmi Parvi, canonici Novoburgensis, verba minoris esse pretii, quam ut in confutandis illis libenter velim laborare. Fuit ille etenim dignissimus, quicum Codrum conferas, maxime in cognitione antiquitatis Britannicæ. Porro, quantum ad Romanos, qui de rebus nostris modo breviter, modo concise, modo parum vere scripserunt, nemo ex illis aliquid saltem memoria dignum de Britannia, quod ego sciam, ante Cæsarem edidit. Et omnia quæ Cæsar scripsit, quantumcunque illius dictis Codrus tribuat, mihi non videntur è tripode profecta, quemadmodum neque alia multa, quæ postea à Latinis autoribus de Britanniis posteritati tradita sunt.

At nunc, ut Romanorum autoritas, qua frequenter utitur, fileat, objiciat alter Gildam Bannochorenses, & Bedam Gironicensis monachos, quorum testimoniis, velut quibusdam vernis floribus, primos historiæ suæ campos interpolat. tantum abest, ut neminem præter unum Galfredum habeat, quem in eruenda antiquitate sequatur. Hujusmodi objectiones me nunquam ad palinodiam adigent. Non me latet, libellum circumferri titulo Gildæ, quamvis docti vehementer de autore dubitent, in quo paucula quædam de Britannia florente leviter referuntur, & aliquanto plura de eadem, gladio, fame, peste ad interuersionem fere laborante, inculcantur. Sed quid hoc rei, quod qualiacunque illa non dum bene à Codro intellecta sint? Ut * intellegat, quid illic antiquorum regum aut urbium, quid populorum aut rituum, quid denique quod ante Romanum nomen cognitum in pretio fuit? Si Gildas Britannus tam parum in hac parte prodesse potest, quanto minus Beda, homo Anglus, qui licet multis esset virtutibus clarissimus, genti tamen Britannæ infensus, & toto fere vitæ suæ tempore intra monasterii septa clausus, nec multum voluit, aut potuit antiquitatem illustrare? Sim vanus, nisi præceptoribus Romanis, paucissima modo demas, eaque non admodum magni momenti usus sit in libro primo ecclesiasticæ historiæ, ubi de rebus Britannicis, veluti in transcurso, aliquam facit mentionem.

* Sic Lelandus, in re Grammatica versatissimus. Nec aliter alibi. Ne scilicet ab Orthographia regulis discederet. Ab inter & lego est intelligo, R in L abeunte. Non desunt etiam qui ab intus & lego, ut U abeat in E, & intelligere idem sit quod intus legere. Prior sententia magis placet. Verum quomodoque hoc se habeat, illud certum est, quamvis intelligere per i vulgo efferratur, à Prisciano tamen per e scribi, eodemque modo in antiquis codd. & lapideis exarari.

Hæc nunc quæ dixi omnia si æquus iudex in acervum congererit, quodammodo probare videbuntur, multa esse in historia Codri, quæ merito accepta referat Galfredo. Quid igitur causæ est, quod de bono autore tam male sentiat? Certe hæc prima est. Galfredus, homo Britannus, Arturium regem, Britannorum decus inclytum, prædicat, laudat, & ad sidera tantum non extollit. In qua parte secutus est fidem vetustissimæ historiæ, quam à Gualtero, archidiacono Oxoniensi, interpretandam accepit. Invidet hanc laudem barbarus hospes Arturio, principi olim cum potentissimo, tum de Britannis optime merito. Invidet & Galfredo Arturii nomen. Nec sic contentus, modo clam, modo aperte loquitur, scribit, sentit, nullum unquam fuisse regem apud Britannos nomine Arturii illustrem. Quanquam ne solus sapere videretur, eum inter reges in sua historia ponit potius, ut genti nostræ morem gerat, quam quod tale quicquam ex animo scribat; id quod facile apparet cum ex aliis locis, tum etiam ex illo ubi lepide & festivo, ut sibi videtur, in ejus sepulchrum, quod est Glessoburgi * Smertarum, jocatur. At ego tam certis, claris, veris argumentis, non dicam tam multis, probare possum, Arturium fuisse, quam Codrus Cæsarem. Labet itaque in gratiam Antiquariorum subtilius hanc rem tractare.

Arturius, Utheri Pendraconis & Igernæ filius, nomen à Romana nobilitate, quemadmodum & alii id temporis Britannii multi, traxit. Nam Arturiorum nomen apud Romanos clarum fuisse vel ex Juvenale liquet, qui Satyra tertia sic scribit:

————— vivant Arturius isthic

Et Catulus. —————

Sed nostra non de nomine, sed de homine, contentio est; quamquam & illud à recentioribus vitiatum scriptoribus, inter quos est etiam & Codrus. Age igitur. Est civitas in Cambria, nomine Legionum insignis, sita in ipsis Iscæ fluminis ripis. Ibi aliquandiu vixisse Arturium, eoque à Tava, Morganæ urbe, archiepiscopi sedem transtulisse, non modo antiqua incolarum fides asserit, verum etiam permulti libelli, qui Britannica lingua scripti à Cambris etiam nunc leguntur. Ut nihil loquar sime transfulerunt. Germani id Gles appellant quod pellucidum est, quemadmodum & vitrum. Eye vero eisdem nunc insula, nunc aqua est. Postremo autem cum magnificentissimum ibidem posuisset Ina, Westsaxonum rex, monasterium, & oppidum propter in justam excrevisset magnitudinem, Glesseye nomen auctum est in Glesseneybury, quod nos non omnino inepte Glessoburgum vocamus.

Sed quorsum in nominum etymologiis occupati digredimur? Hic, id est, Avalloniæ, Iderum sepultum diutiuscule lugebat Arturius, utpote virum sibi multis modis charissimum. Ex quo tempore locum præ ceteris sacris omnibus non modo diligere incepit, verum etiam beneficio suo ornare, illustrare, ditare. Atque hinc factum, ut cum in bello, quod contra Modredum gessit, cecidisset, à Britannis, invidentibus tam clarum corpus ejus adversariis, Avaloniam sepeliendus deportaretur, comitante, & una funus curante, Morgane, femina nobilissima, ac Arturio sanguine conjuncta. Quoque minori strepitu & tumultu id facerent propter Saxonum ingruentium metum, fingebant, Arturium graviter vulneratum vivere tamen, & ad feliciora superesse non alia causa, quam ut Saxonibus metum incuterent, & occasionem sæviendi in cadaver tollerent. Effosso igitur puteo bene alto, mortui Arturii corpus, cavato in hoc ingenti ex duro robore trunco, recondunt in sacro cœmiterio propter veterem ecclesiam à Britannis constructam, quæ regnante Henrico 2^o. una cum augusta Inæ regis basilica tota conflagravit. Præterea in sepulchro crucem plumbeam Romanis literis ita inscriptam ponunt: HIC JACET SEPULTVS INCLYTVS REX ARTVRIVS IN INSVLA AVALLONIA. Addita fuit hæc inscriptio, ut si Britannis serenior aliquando fortuna arderet, certum haberent de Arturii monumento indicium. Sed res Britannorum quotidie deteriores fuerunt. Quare jacuit Arturii corpus sine gloria circiter 648. annos, solisque Britannis ejus sepulturæ locus ad longum tempus cognitus fuit. Quamquam postea fama etiam ad Saxones victores pervenit ex rithmis Britannice scriptis, quos Bardi quidam in Cambria ad lyram canebant. Hæc ego de sepultura Arturii partim ex libro Gulielmi Meldunensis de antiquitate Glessoburgensis monasterii, partim ex aliis autoribus decerpsi. Nunc quo pacto reliquiæ Arturii translatae fuerint in novam basilicam Glessoburgensem dicemus.

Henricus secundus, rex Angliæ, non raro inter Britannos, Cambriam inhabitantes, multa & libenter quidem de Arturii virtute, magnificientia, victoriis etiam audiebat. Quibus nominibus dici non potest, quam sit ad similia animatus. Usque adeo ut quemadmodum Cæsar Alexandrum, sic Henricus Arturium frequenter in ore habebat. Atque hic adfectus magna-

magnanimum regem provocavit, ut de perquirendo ejus sepulchro cogitaret. Sed filiorum iniquitas, quæ omnia fere consilia Henrici patris inturbabat, forsan & huic proposito obfuit. Quod tamen vivente patre prætermissum, in primis postea annis imperii Richardi, ejus filii, peractum est. Motore igitur, quantam conjectura adsequi possum, Richardo rege, Henricus de Soliaco, abbas Glessoburgensis, curavit, ut fossore terram alte egerent inter duas sacras columnas antiquissimi & elegantissimi operis etiam nunc extantes, quo loco fama vetus affirmabat Arturium fuisse sepultum. Cumque jam aliquandiu fodissent, nec quicquam ossium invenissent, coepit abbas desperare. Nihilominus fossore jussit operi incumbere, quod tam diu fecerunt, donec ad cavatum robur, de quo superius locutus sum, pervenirent. Tum vero abbas præ gaudio exilire, & tantum non lachrimari, locaque vicina diligentissime scrutari. Preter cetera tamen oculos in cruce plumbea defigebat, verbaque inscriptionis eruebat, quæ quoniam superius à me scripta sunt frustra est hic repetere. Inventa sunt & eodem tempore ossa Guenoræ, ut constanter affirmant, reginæ. Visa quoque vitta integra, quæ capillos, grata quadam varietate in nodum collectos, implicabat, donec unus ex multis temerarius eam tactu in cineres resolvit. Denique pius abbas utriusque ossa in novam basilicam, non dum à recenti conflagratione plene restitutam, transtulit, & syndonibus involuta separatim in cistis non sine Assyriis odoribus condidit. Nec multo post honorificum & adfabre factum ex Lydio marmore sepulchrum erexit, in quo cistæ obferatæ in hunc usque diem servantur. De hac Arturii translatione scribit quidam monachus Glessoburgensis, cujus ego ante aliquot annos librum legi adsutum libro Gulielmi Meldunensis de antiquitate Glessoburgensi, qui ante translatum Arturium obiit. Quid quod Giraldus Cambrensis, autor bonæ fidei, quique interfuit viditque, huic translationi subscribit? Donatus etiam Gallus in suis annalibus eadem confirmat. Hæc tamen translatio longo post tempore quibusdam in dubium veniebat. Quare Edouardus Longus, Henrici 3. Anglorum regis filius, verum exculpere percipiens, Glessoburgum anno à Christo nato 1276. venit, & aperto sepulchro cistisque referatis, Arturii & Guenoræ ossa una cum inscriptionibus invenit, & avidis contrectavit manibus. Idem fecit, præsentem rege, Henricus Lacius, comes Lindenensis, comes etiam Sabaudia, qui casu adfuit, ut omittam nobilitatem & plebem, quæ eadem non sine magna cum voluptate tum admiratione videbat. Tandem venerandæ reliquæ suis repositæ cistis. Sed crania utriusque foris relicta sunt, ut grato populo, illuc confluenti, spectaculo essent. Ab illo mos in-olevit, ut monachi peregre venientibus calvarias Arturii & Guenora una cum cruce plumbea inscripta ostendant. Nunc judicent æqui lectores, num aliquando apud Britannos rex nomine Arturii fuerit, rumpantur ut ilia Codro, quem nos eloquentiæ potius quam fidei commendatum relinquimus, plura dicturi de Galfredo. Is etenim summopere delectabatur lectione antiquarum rerum, maximeque Britannicarum. Delectabatur etiam doctorum consuetudine. Unde intervénit illi familiaritas cum Gualtero, archidiacono ^a Isiacorum, homine ejusdem prorsus instituti & animi. Nam tam diligenter veteres bibliothecas invisebat avidus, quam qui maxime, erudiendi docta veterum autorum in lucem monumenta. Quod cum aliquandiu strenue fecisset, & casu inter Armoricanos diversaretur, incidit in historiam Britannicæ, Britannice scriptam. Tum vero, tanquam ingentem nactus thesaurum, impendio gaudebat, pauloque post in Angliam transfretans, librum Gallofrido, viro citra controversiam in Britannica lingua exercitissimo, transferendum tradidit. Atque hic fuit Gualterus, ne quis ignoret, qui de rebus nostris proprio Marte privatam à Britannica, ut autor est Ranulphus Casterensis, historiam scripsit.

Gallofridus vero, antiquo exemplari, supra quam cuiquam credibile est, delectatus, historiam Britannicam Latinitate donavit, inque octo libros divisit, quos Roberto, duci Claudiano, postea dedicavit. Transtulit etiam in Latinam linguam prophetias Merlini Ambrosii, quas, addita præfatione, Alexandro, episcopo Lindensi, commendavit. Quanquam in multis exemplaribus libellus ille historiæ Britannicæ, à Gallofrido translata, tanquam quartus inseritur: quo modo si sumas, Britannica historia novem libros continet. Præterea vitam Merlini Caledonii ad Robertum episcopum non contemnendo edidit carmine, quod ego nuper avide legebam, cum esset Gleffoburgi ^b Somurotrigum. Pollebatur etiam 2. cap^o. 8. libri historiæ Britannicæ, translaturum se ex lingua Britannica in Latinam librum de exilio ecclesiasticorum virorum Britannicæ, quod num fecerit non dum fatis cognitum habeo. Aliud tamen, idque memoria non indignum, cognitum habeo ex annalibus Joannis, abbatis Burghensis, nempe Gallofridum designatum fuisse episcopum Eluensem anno D. 1150. Est enim Eluium sedes episcopalis in citeriori parte Cambriæ ab Eluio fluvio præterlabente sic dictum; Britanniceque vocatur Llanelwi, id est, locus vel ecclesia super Eluium fluvium posita. Sed recentiores nomen loco indidere sanum Afaphi. Sed jam finis esto nostræ de Gallofrido orationis, qui in pretio fuit regnante in Anglia Henrico primo.

CURA semper merito maxima eruditio fuit, Rex longe serenissime, ut fortia illustrium virorum facta sacrosanctæ posteritati accurate, splendide, magnifice consecrarent: ne rerum, undecunque memorabilium, conspicuum lumen crassa silentii umbra aliquando obducere-
r. Hinc Hebræi Judam Maccabæum magnis excellunt præconiis. Hinc Homerus Græcus, poetarum loria, Hæctora & Achillem commendatissimos orbi re-quit. Nec segniori usi sunt Græci diligentia in exorando Alexandro, bellatorum invictissimo. Romani vero æsaris facinora tantum non ad sidera tollunt. Burguniones Gottbosfridum Boillionensem, Saracenorum flaellum, ab insigni fortitudine exquisite collaudant. Nec esuevere Britanni viri, tum eruditione, tum rerum ognitione præcellentes, qui Arturii nobilissimi invictissimique genus, vitam, virtutem, felicitatem, famam lenique sollicita, at justa interim diligentia, orbi testa-issima reliquerint. Applausit eruditorum consensus nullis jam seculis tam celebri præstantissimorum Du-um memoriæ, & res ab eis gestas magno quidem cum studio,

studio, majori vero voluptate, & admiratione plane maxima letitat. Historiæ de Arturio scriptæ nota à nescio quo Gulielmo Parvo Novoburgensi, homine, ut ego judico, magis pio, quam in Britannica antiquitate erudito, temere, & præter commune judicium omne, inusta est: qui quum post ducentos & quinquaginta annos in manus Polydori Vergilii incidisset, ita in præfatione historiæ, quam de Nortomannis Angliæ regibus scripsit, in Artutium rhetoricatus, aut potius cornicatus est, ut Italum persuasione nova, sed violenta, virum aliqui probum & eruditum, in suam pertraxerit hæresim, & pertractum, ne alio dilaberetur, tam adamantinis arte constrinxerit vinculis, ut illum coëgerit, edita etiam historiæ, gloriam, nomenque, si diis placet, Arturii, tanquam solem, de medio tollere. Unde & grave quidem jam bellum non modo à Gulielmo Parvo, verum etiam à Polydoro Galfredi Monæmutbenfis manibus indictum est, hac præcipue calumnia, quod is primus asseritor gloriæ Arturii, Arturius & ipse, esse videatur. Durum, me Hercle! & impium cum manibus decertare. Quid enim nobis cum larvis? Nennius Britannus, scriptor, ut illa ferebant tempora, non ignobilis, Arturii gloriam luculenta celebravit oratione. Vixit enim ille tempore inclinationis Britannici imperii. Tantum abest, ut Arturius recentioris Galfredi Monæmutbenfis sit inventum & fabula. Ut taceat Nennius, Ibeliefnus vates, Merlinus Caledonius, & Melchinus, antiquioris notæ homines, Arturii illustrem fecere mentionem. Certe nunquam temere id imbibam, quod me à fide historiæ Arturii avertat: adeo vero non magni æstimo aut Gulielmi Parvi qualemcunque opinionem, aut Polydori in hac parte judicium, cujus tamen aliqui eruditionem excolo, eloquentiam adprobo, ingenium suspicio, & in bonis denique artibus autoritatem complector. Non hic de eloquentia, non de orationis splendore, non de styli perspicuitate, sed de solida fide, & historiæ veritate agitur, qua fretus ausim audacter pronunciare (neque enim est quod metuam umbras obversantis)
olim

fuisse, regnasse, atque adeo in precio stetisse magnum. Mentiar, nisi palam, liquide, & manifeste ur ingens nobilium suis temporibus scriptorum nuss Arturii originem, vitam, res longe fortissime s, mortem, sepulchrum, denique inventionem ejus viarum, unamque, & alteram, ac etiam tertiam idem latissime famosam translationem. Quarum ultima fuit, regnante Eadueardo Longo, Angliæ victore fortunatissimo, facta est. Quo tempore sis magna nobilium caterva presens Arturii ossa entia, reurato sepulchro, Avaloniæ vidit, & conavit, ut ex ejus diplomate, cui syngraphum adfixit, ente apparet. Quare, ut orbis universus pastbac ligat quanta, & quam præclara Arturii fama olim it, non gravabor vel universam ejus vitam & quid res de eo senserint autores, lucido quodam ordine cribere. Sic enim lucem obscuris, antiquitati suum s, vacillantibus præ ignorantia justum robur, certinem controversiæ, veritati postremo suffragium devidebor. Tu, Princeps maxime, victorque feliciss, novo libello, tuis alacriter in lucem prodeunti auis, fave quæso, quo munere non modo præsentis fari opusculi, una cum successu, promovebis, augebis, ibis, verum etiam lætissimo mihi igniculos ad alia ue non inferiora propediem edenda excitabis. Nam Cygnus meus, tuarum encomiastes virtutum, ad te volare mirifice cupit. Vale regum ornamentum.

A R T U R I I :

Auctore Joanne Lelando Antiquario.

[Numeri, ad oram paginæ à nobis collocati, Editionis primæ folia exhibent. Littera autem a primam, b secundam faciem folii denotat.

H E R C U L E M ex Alcmena adulterio Jovis fuisse natum, magno scriptorum Græcorum & Latinorum consensu liquet. Qualis vero quantusque olim fuerit, arbitror vel mediocriter eruditus notius esse, quam ut in præsentia ulla prorsus egeat insinuatione. Fuerunt & alii complures ex adulterio geniti, ut ex veteri abunde constat historia, quorum virtus domi militiæque eximie claruit. Inter quos & noster Arturius Britannicæ ornamentum maximum, & sui seculi miraculum unicum effloruit. Liceat mihi igitur cum bona gratia Gulielmi Parvi, atque adeo ejus fortissimi Succenturionis Polydori, Arturium, conterraneum meum, vel justis prosequi laudibus; & eadem opera Britannicæ historiæ, à Galfredo Monæmuthensi, viro non omnino inerudito, quicquid alias calumnientur scioli, antiquitatis ignari, interpretatæ præsidio inniti firmo, potius quam externorum ficulneo. Fabulis vero, quæ in Arturii historiam inrepperunt, non magis applaudo quam Polydorus censor. At ut perterritus alicujus vel senio, vel eloquentia, vel auctoritate demum veritatis partes vecors, atque idem desertor indefensas relinquam, commitam plane nunquam. Alio me æquum, honestum, famæ ratio, hinc & amor patriæ justus, ac ipsa veritas, qua nil mihi charius, una perducunt. Sed neque bellum cum doctis mihi suscipiendum puto. Liberum interim per rationem nem erit, patriæ, & veri maxime partes diligentia summa, industria expedita, labore alacri, consilio prompto, iudicio acri, denique modis omnibus erectissimas facere. Aggrediar igitur, candidorum lectorum benevolentia, humanitate, ac gratia fretus, Arturii originem ab ovo aliquanto accuratius repetere :

*Est locus Abrini sinuoso littore ponti
Rupe situs media, refluxus quem circuit æstus.
Fulminat hic late turrito vertice castrum :
Nomine Tindagium veteres dixere Corini.*

Constans fama est, per ora multorum tradita, & scriptis confirmata etiam eruditorum, Gorloiden, Coriniæ regulum, hic sedem habuisse sibi suisque. Erat ei Igerna uxor, femina formæ plane venustissimæ, at pudicitia improbatæ. Huc sæpiusculæ recreandi animi gratia Utherius, rex Britannaorum, cognomine Pendraco, à serpentina, ut ego arbitror, prudentia sic dictus, cujus & Gorlois beneficiarius erat, divertebat. Architrenius libro, si recte computo, quinto hæc scribit :

*Hoc trifido mundum Corinei postera sole
Irradiat pubes, quartique puerpera Phæbi
Pullulat Arturum, facie dum falsus adulter
Tintagol inrumpit, nec amaris Pendragon æstum
Vincit, & omnis Merlini consulit artes,
Mentiturque ducis habitus, & rege latenti,
Induit absentis præsentia Gorlois ora.*

Consuetudo, familiaritas, convictus amoris igniculos subministrabant. Et quoniam, ut inquit poëta quidam, lis est cum forma magna pudicitia, evicit libido continentiam. Unde & postea Arturius, una cum Anna, virgine egregia, genitus est. Illud non est omittendum, quod refert Hector Boëthius : Utherium, videlicet, Gorloiden tandem ob Nathaleodem regulum contra Saxones pugnantem ab eo derelictum è medio tulisse, vel potius, ut Igerna liberius potiretur. Nomen vero Arturiorum Romanis nobile juxta ac familiare vel hinc fuisse dinoscitur, quod Juvenalis Poëta hæc Satyra 3. scribat :

*Cedamus patria, vivant Arturius istic
Et Catulus.*—————

Samuel, scriptor Britannicus, Arcturium per Cappa pingit, ad ursam alludens, ut à Græco fonte etymon trahat. Non hic aut vitio, aut convictio esse debet Arturio, quod pater adulter filium ad fortitudinem, felicitatem, & triumphos genitum reliquerit : quando per eum non stetit, quo minus à legitimo nasceretur conjugio. Neque usque adeo refert quo parente

parente quis procedat, modo is in virum aliquando fortem probumque evadat.

*Nam genus & proavos, & quæ non fecimus ipsi,
Vix ea nostra putō* —————

Corona Arturii.

BRITANNICA adfirmat historia,
Arturium infulis regni decimo quinto ætatis suæ anno initiatum fuisse à Dubritio, urbis Legionum episcopo.
Joannes, Aureæ scriptor historiæ,
videtur octodecim adnumerare annos
Arturio regiam sedem conscendenti.
Scalæ-chronica, cujus libri, ut conjectura ducor, quidam Graius auctor
fuit, aiunt, Arturium coronæ insignia

Ventæ accepisse. Pictorum & Scottorum duo reguli Lotho, cui Anna, soror Aurelii Ambrosii, regis Britannorum, nupse-rat, & Conranus, cui Ada, soror Annæ, conjunx data fuerat, coeperunt tam lætis Arturii successibus invidere. nam uterque,
sed præcipue Lotho, ad Britannia imperium aspirabat. Hinc factum postea, ut ille, adjuncto sibi Osca, alias Occa, ho-mine impurissimo, bellum Arturio intulerit. Tandem ad manus perventum est, victusque Pictus pejoreis partes tulit, partim Hoëli invictissimi præsidio, qui tunc ducem ibi age-
bat. Libellus de imperio Britannorum & Anglorum in Scottos beneficiarios adfirmat, hanc victoriam Eboraci ab Hoëlo
partam; utque, devictis Scottis, antiquas sedes precibus motus Arturius reliquerit sub Augufello suo, quem eis regulum præfecit. Nec sors melior Saxones excepit, interfecto Colgrino duce, Baldrico autem & Cheldrico fugientibus. Victoriam secuta est concordia. Lotho se Britanno dedit. Mordredus & Gallouinus, filii Lothonis ex Anna, favorem Arturii Fol. 3. 2.
miris ambiebant modis, & tandem familiares illi facti sunt.
Duxerat interea Arturius Guenheram, Cadori Coriniensis alumnam, ratæ formæ feminam. Deindè & Saxones bellis cruentissimis contudit.

Duodecim bella ab Arturio gesta.

ENNIUS Britannus, bonæ & antiquæ fidei scriptor, inter alios multos luculentissimam ejus bellorum mentionem facit : cujus verba quanvis librariorum incuria, & temporis injuria aliquantulum luxata sint, tamen quia ad rem præsentem plurimum faciunt, & venerandam quandam secum adferunt antiquitatem, lubet hîc apponere, & suo ordine : “ Arturius pugnavit
 “ contra illos, videlicet Saxones, cum regulis Britonum : sed “ ipse Dux erat. Primum bellum fuit in ostio fluminis Glein, “ alias Gledy. Secundum, tertium, quartum, & quintum su“ per aliud flumen, quod vocatur Dugles, quod est in regione “ Linueis. Sextum super flumen, quod vocatur Bassas. Septi-“ mum fuit in sylva Caledonis, id est, Catcoit celidon. Octa“ vum in castello Guinion. Novum bellum gestum est in “ urbe Legionis. Decimum in littore, quod vocatur Trai“ theurith, alias Rhydrhwyd. Undecimum in monte, qui di“ citur Agned cathregonion. Duodecimum in monte Bado-“ nis, in quo multi corruerunt uno impetu Arturii.” Hætenus Nennius. Joannes, aureæ scriptor historiæ, hæc eadem de bellis duodecim adversus Saxones comprobat. Aluredus etiam Fibroleganus historicus similia narrat. Atque adeo hæc sunt Henrici Venantodunensis verba, 2. historiæ suæ libro :
 “ Arturius belliger illis temporibus dux militum & regulorum
 “ Britannæ contra Saxones fortissime pugnavat. Duodecies
 “ dux belli fuit : duodecies victor.” Et ibidem : “ Hæc au-
 “ tem bella & loca bellorum narrat quidam historiographus.”
 Videtur hîc Venantodunensis incidisse in Nennii historiolum, cujus nomen exemplari, ut videtur, non erat adscriptum.
 Hinc silentium illud. Neque erat libellus ille id temporis in manibus frequens, & nostra hac ætate plane rarissimus. Tan-tum tria ejus exemplaria me vidisse memini. Joannes Rhefus, antiquitatis amator, atque idem sedulus illustrator, habet libellum Gildæ titulo inscriptum, qui, quantum ego ex ejus oratione colligo, non Gildam, sed Nennium parentem ha-buit. Elenchus bibliothecæ Bellici monasterii Gildæ historiam inter suos numerabat thesauros. Sedulo quæsitus à me liber, at non inventus tamen. Fama prædicabat, exemplar Brecheniacum translatum fuisse. Hæc obiter inserui. Nunc repetenda bella. Scriptor non inelegans vitæ D. Dubritii, archiepiscopi urbis Legionum, talia commemorat : “ Perempto “ tandem

“ tandem per venenum Aurelio rege, & regnante paucis
 “ annis Uthero, ejus fratre, Arturius, filius ejus, ope Du-“ britii successit: qui Saxones audacter pluribus proeliis ag-“ gressus est, nec tamen illos à regno funditus extirpare po“ tuit. Subjugaverant enim sibi Saxones totam partem in“ sulæ, quæ ab Humbro flumine usque ad Cattenessinum æ-“ quor protenditur. Ea propter convocatis regni primatibus, “ quid potissimum contra paganorum Saxonum irruptionem “ faceret, consuluit. Communi tandem consilio mittit ad Fol. 4. a.
 “ Armoricam, id est, Minorem Britanniam, ad Hoëlum re-
 “ gem nuncios, qui ei calamitatem Britanniae notam facerent.
 “ Qui cum quindecim millibus armatorum Britanniam ve-“ niens, ab Arturio & D. Dubritio honorifice susceptus, ad “ urbem Lindocollinum, à Saxonibus obsessam, proficiscentes, “ commisso bello, sex millia Saxonum vel submersi, vel telis “ percussi perierunt. Ceteri vero ad nemus Caledonis fugi“ entes, à Britannis obsessi ad deditionem coacti sunt: &
 “ susceptis obsidibus de tributo annuatim solvendo cum solis
 “ navibus eos patriam repetere permisit. Elapso parvo deinde “ tempore, peractæ pactiōis Saxones pudit, & viribus re-
 “ paratis, foedus suum irritum fecerunt, urbemque Badonis
 “ obsidione vallant, quæ nunc Bathonia dicitur: quo audito, “ Arturius, congregato exercitu, conspectis hostium castris,
 “ sic alloquitur: Quoniam impiissimi Saxones fidem mihi obser- “ vare dedignantur, ego fidem Deo meo servans sanguinem ci- “ vium meorum ulcisci conabor. Proditores ergo istos viriliter “ aggrediamur, quos procul dubio, suffragante Christo, cum ve-
 “ tivo triumpho devincemus.” Et irruens in Saxonum cuneos, “ adjutus Dubritii precibus, multa millia prosternendo victo“ riam obtinuit, & paucos, qui stragem aufugerant, ad dedi“ tionem coëgit.” Boccatus in libro de stagnis & paludibus sic scribit: “ Murais stagnum est, Arturii, Britonum regis, “ victoria clarum. Aiunt enim Scottos, Pictos, & Hiberni“ enses, ab eodem in stagno obsessos, in deditionem coactos.”
 Idem libro octavo de viris illustribus illustrem Arturii facit mentionem, regione quadam ductus, ne tantum talemque

 instituto sunt, quæ in chronicis ejusdem Divionensis compa-
 rent. “ Cerdicius cum Arturio confliens sæpius, si uno mense “ vinceretur, in alio mense acrior surrexit ad pugnam. Tan“ dem Arturius, tædio fatigatus, post duodecimum annum
 “ adventus Cerdicii, fidelitate sibi jurata, dedit ei Aroniam
 “ meridianum, & Somariam, quam partem vocavit Cerdicius “ Visisaxoniam.” Gulielmus à Meildulphi curia, scriptor tum elegans, tum eruditus, & quod in historia primum, fidelissimus, hæc de Arturio primo de regibus Britanniæ libro infert: "Et jam tum profecto pessum issent," (Britannos intelligit) "nisi Ambrosius, solus Romanorum superstes, qui post Vortigernum monarcha fuit, regni intumescents bar-

 "baros eximia bellicosi Arturii opera pressisset. Huc etiam pertinere videntur hæc, quæ in Gildæ Britanni fragmentis ad hunc leguntur modum: "Vires capeffunt Britanni, victores
 "provoçantes ad prælium, quibus victoria, Domino annu-
 "ente, ex voto cessit. Ex eo tempore nunc cives, nunc hostes
 "vincebant, ut in ista gente experiretur Dominus solito more
 "præsentem Israhalem, utrum eum diligat, an non, usque ad
 "annum obfessionis Badonici montis, novissimeque ferme de
 "furciferis non minimæ stragis, qui & meæ nativitatis est."
 Hæc ille. Ecce adest calumniator, & feroculus à me rationem exigit, cur Gildas Arturii, si tum fuit, hic non meminerit? Ad hæc respondeo, me inferius de Gilda dicturum. Interea meminerit adversarius, Gildam tempore Badonici belli infantulum fuisse: quo nomine & ejus res gestæ aut non ab eo, aut leviter admodum intellectæ. Gulielmus à Meildulphi curia paullo superius ita honorificum contulit Arturio testimonium, ut parum abfuerit, quin, si non superiorem, æqualem cum Ambrosio statuerit. Nennius vero, non malæ fidei auctor, tantum præstitit in gratiam Aurelii Ambrosii, quantum Gildas in Arturii: nempe, ut, illius omisso nomine, huic, & merito, decus omne Badonici belli integre attribuat. Sed neque hi soli hoc præstant. Numerus est bonorum auctorum, qui idem auctoritate quadam justa confirmant: nisi interim tam iniquus sit censor, ut nihil admittat, quantumvis fidele, quod non spiret Ciceronianum, aut Livianum, quum ipse potius interim spiret nescio quid Æmilianum, id quod mihi non displicebit, ubi eum hoc ingenue fateri intellexero. Interea recitabo Joannis, qui auream scripsit historiam, de Arturio testimonium: "Hoc anno decimo Cerdicii, regis Vifixonum, surrexit apud Britones Arturius belliger."

Arturii in Gallos expeditio.

RITANNICÆ historiæ liber sextus fufe loquitur de rebus ab Arturio in Gallia gestis: quam non ante petiit, quam maturo, ut tum quidem videbatur, consilio Britanniae immunitati prospexerat. Erat ei nepos quidam Mordredus nomine, filius Lothonis, Pictorum regis, & Annæ, sororis Aurelii Ambrosii, regis Britanniae. Huic, quia ei sanguine & familiaritate miliaritate fuerat conjunctissimus, omne regnum suum, una cum Guenhera suavissima conjuge concredidit. Erat enim Mordredus fortitudinis nomine commendatissimus, tum præterea ingenio aeri, & gerendis rebus expedito: quas virtutes nisi libidine dominandi flagrantissima, sed interim principio ob metum tacita, & adulterii nota obscurasset, merito quidem inter clarissimos viros numerandus esset. Jam Galliam Arturius invaserat, &, debellatis regulis, virtutis suæ specimen vel illustre ostenderat. Ecce adfuit tyrannus immanis, truculentus, ferox, qui Helenam, neptem Hoëli Armorici raptam, & ex Britannia abductam, ad litus Gallicum vitiaverat, unde & obiit. Non tulit Arturius tam insignem Helenæ factam contumeliam, & statim tyranni jugulum petiit, ac monstrum ingens horrendumque è medio fustulit. Nec multo post ab Hoëlo erectus Helenæ sacer tumulus in insula qua periit, & Tumba Helenæ loco nomen apte inditum, quod vel hodie servat. Chronica Divionensis scriptoris magna Arturium laude in Gallia militantem hujusmodi verbis attollunt: “ Arturius per novem annos Galliam sibi subjugavit, commisso regno, & regina sua Mordredo nepoti suo, “ Ille vero regnare appetens, sed solum Cerdicium timens, “ dedit ei, ut sibi faveret, septem alias provincias, Sudosaxoni-am, Sudorheim, Berrochiam, Vilugiam, Duriam, Devoniam & Coriniam. Cerdicius autem his consentiens suas “ provincias accitis Anglis instauravit, & coronatus est more “ gentili apud Wintoniam. Mordredus vero super Britones

 “ apud Londoniam. Et ita Cerdicius quum regnasset tribus “ annis obiit, manente ad huc Arturio in Galliis. Cui suc-
 “ cessit Kinrichus, cujus anno septimo Arturius rediit.” Hæctus è Chronicis. Habent, quæ modo citavi, non solum suam antiquitatem, verum etiam fidem, & serie quadam historix consonant. Utque triumphis Arturii de Gallis aliquanto indulgentius faveam multa præterea sunt, quæ ego studio plane quodam omitto. Illud tamen tanquam in transcurso attingendum est, constare ex inscriptione sigilli Arturii magni, de qua nos suo loco accurate dicemus, eum aliquando Gallici cognomento insignitum fuisse. Neque enim hoc sine luculenta unquam factum causa. Nam de sigilli & antiquitate, & cognitione vel certissima, adeo plane non dubito, ut certè confidam, adfint modò judices candidi, & veterum monu-mentorum gnari, conspicuis probaturum me rationibus genui-num esse illud, & ab archetypo profectum. Quin hæc rectius suo loco. Tantum in præsentia adjiciam, Valerium quendam triginta regnorum ab Arturio victorum meminisse. Nam eo seculo ingens regulorum turba insulas una cum Gallia &
 Germania sub ditione tenebant.

XSPECTARET hic forsitan aliquis, ut & Arturii contra Romanos victorias, quarum & Britannica meminit historia, tuba magna personarem. Historici in hac parte certant, & ad huc sub iudice lis est. Ego vero temere nihil pronuntiabo: quandoquidem manifestissime constat, obscura & absurda inrepsisse in Arturii historiam: id quod a curiosis facile deprehenditur. At hæc non satis quidem justa causa est, ut quis historiam, alias luculentam & veram, negligat, abjiciat, proterat. Quanto rectius, abjectis nugis, relictis anilibus fabulis, & auctariis, in speciem vero magnificis, at nihil ad fidem pertinentibus, demptis, quæ ex auctoritate consonantia sunt legere, discutere, conservare? Nam, quod longo jam tempore à doctis receptum magno consensu est, non debet momento temporis, quocunque oblatrante, una cum fide è medio tolli. Aliter in tanto hæctenus non stetisset honore historia. Ergo, quia majoris operis est, quam in præsentia agimus, exquisitè, curiosè, & ad unguem facta Arturii omnia excutere, omittamus tantisper Romanos, & familiares illius calamo illustremus. Hoëlus, Armoricæ regulus, in hoc celebri nobilium choro proximum à primo locum jure quodam suo poscit, de cujus in Britanniam adventu, & virtute bellica superius in titulo de bellis. ab Arturio gestis scripsimus. Huc accedunt Mordredus & Gallovinus, germani fratres, Arturio sanguine & consuetudine conjuncti: quorum ille tandem veluti perfidus, atque idem desertor nunquam satis vituperandus, ut de nota adulterii nihil loquar, occisus est bello, Hectore parum vero teste, Abrino, at, ut ego cum judicio colligo, rectius Alaunico. Hic autem, perpetuo sui similis, fidelissimam operam præstitit cum bellis externis omnibus, tum præcipue in Dorensi conflictu, sub reditu Arturii ex Gallia in Britanniam, qui illi contra Mordredum supremus fuit. Melchinus, vates Britannicus, Gallouini celebrat nomen. Idem facit Joannes Annævillanus in suo Architrenio, non ineleganti opere, his versibus:

Fol. 7. a.

*Et Uualganus ego, qui nil reminiscor avara
Illoculasse manu: non hæc mea fulgurat auro,
Sed gladio, dextra: recipit quo spargat, & enses,
Non oculos, stringit, nec opes in carcere miles
Degener, & cupide cumulado rusticus ære.
Et me bella vocant, & te tua forsitan urget Sollicitudo. Vale.*

Historia

Historia quoque Arturii fabulosa quidem illa, quæ vulgo vernacula lingua scripta circumfertur, adfirmat, Gallouinum Dori in facello quodam sepultum fuisse. Qua parte qualiscunque liber adeo non omnino fallit, ut idem Scalæ-chronicon aperte referat; & castellani ejus ossa pene gigantea etiam nunc miraculi ostendent loco. Quodque olim tempore Lucii Magni facellum in Durenfi castro, prædicantibus Fugatio & Damiano Britannis evangelium, Servatori Christo optimo maximo positum sit, ex ejusdem urbis annalibus, venerandam antiquitatis præ se ferentibus imaginem, liquido apparet. Ut sit receptissimum, juxta ac verissimum, quod supra de Gallouini & cæde, & sepultura intuli; non tamen per me stabit, ut Gulielmi à Meildulphi curia judicium de morte & sepultura Gallouini, nunquam fatis à fortitudine collaudati, aut intercidat aut emoriatur. Quare operæ pretium duco illius verba ex tertio libro de regibus Anglicis hîc apponere, ut hinc prudens lector, veluti ad Lydium lapidem, veri fulgorem genuinum ab adulterino curiose excutiat.

“ Tunc in provincia Walliarum, quæ Rossia vocatur, inventum est Waluuii sepulchrum, qui fuit haud degener Arturii ex sore nepos. Regnavit in ea parte Britannia, quæ ad huc Waluithia vocatur, miles virtute nominatissimus, sed à fratre & nepote Hengisti, de quibus in primo libro dixi, regno expulsus, prius multo eorum detrimento exsilium compensans suum: communicans merito laudi avunculi, quod ruentis patriæ casum plures annos distulerit. Sed Arturii sepulchrum nusquam visitur, unde antiquitas Nænarum ad huc eum venturum fabulatur. Ceterum alterius bustum, ut præmisi, tempore Gulielmi primi, regis Angliæ, repertum est super oram maris quatuordecim pedes longum, ubi, à quibusdam ut asseritur, ab hostibus vulneratus, & naufragio ejectus; à quibusdam dicitur à civibus in publico epulo interfectus.” Sic Meildunensis de Gallouino. Ego vero, si mihi liceret tyroni cum Meildunensi veterano ad dandos repellendosque ictus exercitatisimo, his telis cominus cum eo periculum virium facerem. Non est verisimile, homines giganteæ altitudinis, ut ex sepulchro quatuordecim pedes longo colligo, fuisse seculo Gallouiniano. Quare, mea quidem sententia, credibile magis, sepulchrum alicujus gigantis indigenæ fuisse. Nanque taleis Albionem primum incoluisse & externorum & nostrorum scriptorum auctoritate constat. Quorum unius, Josephi scilicet Domnoniensis Britanni, poëtæ omnibus numeris elegantissimi, fidem secutus, desumptis his paucis versibus ex ejus Antiocheide, opere immortalis, testimonio brevitatis studio utar;

Architrenius libro sexto de gigantibus Albioniciis hæc refert :

Fol. 8. a.

Ilos avidum belli Corineus rebur Averno
Præcipites misit : cubitis ter quattuor altum
Gegmagog Herculeæ suspendit in aëre lucta,
Anthæumque suum scopulo detrusit in æquor.

Nec me fugit, castellum olim fuisse, nomine Gallouinum, in littore, de quo supra Meildunensis, cujus vel ad huc vestigia comparent. Sed illud non fuit sedes gigantis, ut neque forsan Gallouini Arturiani, sed recentioris alicujus subreguli ejusdem nominis. Quod autem refert de sepulchro Arturii eo tempore verissimum est. Nemo homo unquam curiosus illo excusserrat omnes bibliothecæ Glesfoburgensis thesauros. Hoc tantum hic defuit ei ad cognitionem, quod Arturii sepulchrum ignoraverit, moriens circa primos annos Henrici secundi, regis Angliæ, quum sepulchrum postea inventum sit principio imperii Richardi Leonii. Quin in gratiam, de qua nec adhuc aperte excidi, redeo cum Gulielmo Meildunensi, per quem, virum suo seculo in omni genere bonarum literarum plane eruditissimum, & in eruenda antiquitate ingenio, diligentia, cura singularem, fateor, & quidem ingenue, me in cognitione antiquitatis frequenter adjutum fuisse. Candoris plane est agnoscere per quem profeceris. Lubet hic ad coronidem addere notationem, quam ipse ex lingua Britannica colligo, nominis Gallouini. Walle Gallum significat, Guin album, perinde ac si quis hoc vocabulo virum bellum, elegantem, & forma conspicuum designaret, nisi quis rectius putet à Saxonica barbarie originem fumpsisse. Waulwine Gallus amicus, ut Leofwine charus amicus. Aldwine vetus amicus. Instat Augufellus, de quo pauca superius, qui in tam flagranti apud Arturium gratia fuit, ut merito Scottis regulus beneficiarius præfectus sit. Retulit ille par pari. Accitus inter alios multos principes, ut se Arturio comitem in expeditione Gallica præstaret, adco injectam sibi provinciam non recusavit, ut, magno virtutis exemplo ibi edito, majus multo in Rutupino littore domum rediens, bello civili Mordredo victo & fugato, ipse inter arma cadens, sanguine & vita exhiberet, ut testis minime malus est auctor Scalæ-chronicorum, uti ego arbitror, Graius. Et quoniam de evocatione principum, Arturio audientium, superius verba fecimus, juvat hic significare, multas & celebres ab eo fuisse indictas. At illa omnium celeberrima, quæ in Isca, alias urbe Legionum, num, enituit, quo tempore ad arma in Gallos conclamatum est. Quid Musis cum Marte? profecto aut partum, aut nihil. Si justa esset tamen inter eos consuetudo, exorarent Martem, ut sua causa magnas merito gratias agerent Arturio, qui mystarum chorum eruditum in Legionum urbe, si vera referunt Galfredus, Joannes Burgensis, & Rossus V. rouicensis, aut restauravit, aut instituit. Hoc interim constat ex anonymi historia, Amphibalum, Julium, & Arona martyres Christum; atque adeo literas, in urbe Legionum coluisse, & quibus & alios easdem per manus accepisse credibile est. Est in Archivis etiam Grantæ Giviorum tabula diplomatis ab Arturio aliquando erogati in gratiam studiolorum. Fidem tamen facti non dum satis excussi. Ideras, olim cultor Arturianæ aulæ maximus, ad pugilum numerum accedit. Ille Arturio sanguine conjunctus, virtutis fortia exempla multa exhibuit; & lateri Principis sui perpetuo adhæsit, ac demum, necio quo casu, moriens maximum sui desiderium Arturio reliquit, qui & ejus sollicitè funus Avaloniæ curavit. Legi Glessoburgi libellum de antiquitate ejusdem, à monacho quodam illius loci diligentissime collectum, in quo de officiis Arturii erga hunc mortuum, & munificentia ejusdem ob cognati causam in Eremitas monachos ibidem incolentis, multa explicat, Appendebat nuper tabula columnæ Glessoburgensis ecclesiæ, quæ Iderum inter patronos & restauratores Glessoburgensis ecclesiæ numerabat. Lancelotus, fama notissimus, locum inter Pugiles vel clarissimos sibi dari postulat: cui ego voto facile annuo, hoc in ejus dicturus præconium, quod insigni quodam candore erga Arturium adfectus sit. Virtus eius abunde enituit eo prælio, quod inter Mordredum proditorem & Arturium gestum est. Superfuit vero pugnæ, & ut semel atque iterum legi, transtulit Guenheræ, à morte Arturii velatæ, corpus ab Ambrosii curia ad Glessoburgum. Ceterum Giraldus uno aut altero loco videtur inegre ejus sepulturam, ut in Speculo ecclesiastico, & in opere de Institutione Principis, Glessoburgo attribuere. Quanquam magis mihi arridet, ut primum Ambrosiæ tumultum acceperit. Caradocus, nobile virtutis bellicæ nomen, Gallicana expeditione Arturium secutus est, & domum rediens in ora Rutupina h. l. o, ut videtur, civili interfectus est. Annales Durensis portus, opus antiquitatem redolens, meminere Caradoci. Castellani ibidem vel hodie Caradoci memoriam reficiunt. Jactantes penes se esse nescio quas ejus exuvias. Nec sic contenti, Arturii aulam & Guenheræ cubiculum depradicant. Jam illustrium bellatorum Arturianæ turmæ numerus se ingerit: sed ego, modo id fiat sine eorum offensa, quia præstantissimos tantum nominandos & collaudandos suscepi, reliquos, laudatos alio-

Titulorum sui Principis defensor sane acerrimus fuit, perpetuamque necessitudinem cum Britannis continentis habuit. Postremum, moriens filium reliquit Constantinum, qui, mortuo Arturio, Britanniae præficitur. Is ne Mordredi proditoris filii, alumni, & nepotes Gallouini aliquando, paternum imitati exemplum, regno aspirarent, gladio jugulandos curavit. Orbicularis Arturii mensa.

UNC locus est peropportunos pauca
 sed electa, splendida, denique magni-fica de orbiculari mensa & epulis Arturii in medium adferre. Non hæc patebat omnibus nobilibus, sed illis tantum,

*Lucida quos ardens evexit ad æthera
 virtus,
 Virtus sola virens nullis moritura
 diebus.*

Hanc, ut ferunt, pompam frequentiuscule celebravit, præcipue vero in urbe Legionum, quem locum insigniter coluit. Idem fecit Ventæ Simenorum, & Camaleti Murotrigum. Vulgus scriptorum indoctum illud arbitratur Ventam alio nomine Camaletum dici. Quin vulgi judicium non moror. Fama publica Murotrigum, radices Camaletici montis incolentium, prædicat, attollit, cantitat nomen Arturii, incolæ aliquando castri, quod idem olim, & magnificentissimum, & munitissimum, atque in editissima specula, ubi mons consurgit,

furgit, situm est. Dii boni, quantum hîc profundissimarum fossarum? Quot hîc egestæ terræ valla? Quæ demum præcipitia? Atque, ut paucis finiam, videtur mihi quidem esse & artis & naturæ miraculum.

*At seges est ubi Troja fuit, stabulantur in urbe
Et fossis pecudes altis, valloque tument
Taxis & astutæ posuere cubilia vulpes.*

Atque hæc quidem humanarum vicissitudo rerum est. Hanc calamitatem hinc Iſcalis urbs antiqua, hinc Clarus fons frequens emporium mœstis inspiciunt oculis, lachrimisque indugent. Incolæ interea loci solum aratro vertunt, & annis singulis numismata aurea, argentea, ærea, Romanorum imagines tantum non vivas exprimentia, quærentes inveniunt, ex quibus & ego pauca dono ab eis accepi. Franciscus Hastingsius comes Venantodunensis, nobilium juvenum regię Britannicę ornamentum egregium, & alumnus olim in bonis literis meus, Camaleti rudera una cum latifundiis vicinis, utpote heres Piperellorum, Boterellorum, & Hungrefordorum possidet. Joannes Annævillanus in Architreneo sphæricam pro dignitate sua collaudat mensam. Idem facit & Volateranus libro tertio Geographiæ his verbis: “ Domi quoque luculentus mensa inter proceres utebatur rotunda, “ ne quod his discrimen ex ambitione foret.” Ventæ Simenorum in castro, fama notissimo, appendet muro aulæ regię mensa, quam & rotundam à majestate Arturiana vocant. Quid quod nec memoria, nec societas Orbicularis chori recentioribus seculis ex animis nobilium excidit? Eadueardus Longus, ut fama refert, Orbicularem illam societatem plurimi fecit, fabricata in eos usus, si credere dignum est, tabula sphærica, & tripodibus ex auro solido. Sunt qui scribant Mortimarium quendam hos thesauros decoxisse. Illud interim certissimum ex historia Thomæ Vicanii, Rogerum Mortimarium celebrasse convivium maximum Kenel-uorti, quo pugiles præstantissimos, tanquam chorum Arturiani, ad sphæricum illud insigne magnanimus evocavit. Hinc virtutis signa equestris plurima quidem edita, quæ sedula posteritas chartis commissâ avide leget. Sed nunc tantisper ab armis ad pietatem transeo.

Pietas Arturii.

UANTA, & quam sincera religione adfectus sit erga rem publicam Christianam Arturius, auctoritate veterum scriptorum liquet. Usus est Dubritii, episcopi urbis Legionum, viri cum eruditione, tum vitæ continentia singularis, familiaritate, usque adeo, ut in bello Badonico ejus preces victor utilis persenserit. David præterea Menevensis, homo sanctitatis plane infinitæ, Arturii tum gratiam, tum munificentiam sensit, usque adeo, ut Menevenses translatam ad se ab urbe Legionum episcopalem sedem Arturio acceptam referant. Horum æqualis Illutus, vir vitæ incomparabilis, audita ejus singulari illa magnificentia, & in Deum pietate, ausus est, ut ejus vitæ illustrator scribit, præsens præsentem non modo invisere, verum etiam salutare, atque adeo convenire Arturium; quia pia plane audacia tantum abest, ut Principem offenderit, ut gratias abunde magnas, præmium me hercle candidum, retulerit. Deiparam virginem assidue coluit, cujus & imaginem, si vera antiqui scriptores, & fama constans referunt, depictam habuit Martio illo clypeo, quo multis in præliis, & maxime in Badonico usus est. In ejusmodi minutis non admodum laboro. Illud interim piis non indignum auribus, quod Samuel, scriptor Britannus, & Elbodi episcopi discipulus qui annis ab hinc pene nongentis floruit, expeditionis, aut peregrinationis potius Arturii sic meminerit: “Arturius Hierosolymam petiit, unde & crucis signum ex ligno secum tulit instar salutiferæ, cujus ad huc fragmenta servantur in Wedale, villa Lodoneiæ, sex millibus passuum à Mailros.” Denique Glessoburgenfes monachos heremitas illos infinitis excoluit modis, ut partim superius in Idero, & hinc fusius ostendam. Sylvester Giraldus in Principis institutione sic scribit: “Præ cunctis enim ecclesiis regni sui S. Dei genitricis Mariæ Glesconiensis ecclesiam plus dilexit, & præ ceteris longe majori devotione promovit.” Polydorus pro suo jure, atque adeo auctoritate pronunciat, non fuisse monasterium Avaloniæ tempore Arturii: tam exquisitus censor est antiquitatis, & maxime Britannicæ. Contendit etiam vel orbem universum hac lege, sed plane iniquissima, constringere, ut quod ab eo de antiquitate, tanquam è tripode dictum amplectantur, foveant, ac suspiciant. Ut vera dicat ac scribat ego facile assurgam, ense levis nudo, parmaque inglorius inglorius alba, illius & auctoritati & iudicio, utpote veterani. At ut falsa pronunciet, id quod frequentiuscule per omnes historiae suae partes facit, non feram, non sinam, non patiar, quin veritatem, rumpantur ut illa Codris omnibus, suo nitori, famae, gloriae alacer & intrepidus, quantum per me steterit, restituam. Nam me huic sententiae in hac parte honestissimae, ut fortiter inhæream gesta ab ipsis Britannorum apostolis, Fugatio & Damiano, & epistola Patricii Magni, quae penes me est, eadem confirmans, ut multorum aliorum testimonia brevitatis causa omittam, jubent, aut potius imperant. Henricus Plantagenista, Henrici Bellocerici, regis Angliae, ex Mathilde filia nepos, praescriptis & liquidis verbis adfirmat in donatione quadam, se vidisse, atque, ne quid ad fidem desit integram, legisse tabulas cuiusdam munificentiae Arturii erga monachos heremitas, Avaloniam incolentes. Quin ipsa Henricianae donationis verba ex archetypo subscribam. Fol. 12. a.

Sigillum Arturii.

Quoniam in sacrosanctae antiquitatis penetralia, recessus, ac viscera curiosus indagator descendi, lubet in lucem aliud proferre, videlicet sigillum Arturii, monumentum faberrime insculptum, antiquum, & venerandum, de quo Caxodunus, sed obiter & leviter, in praefatione historiae Arturianae, quam vulgus lingua Anglica impressam legit, mentionem facit. Motus qualicunque

Caxoduni testimonio Visimonasterium me contuli, ut, quae auritus testis audiveram, oculatus tandem cernerem, illud animo expendens meo. Pluris valet oculatus testis unus quam auriti decem. Rogatus Mythagogus, ut ostenderet monumentum, statim videndum & contingendum exhibuit. Fol. 12. b.

Perplacuit

Perplacuit spectaculum antiquitatis, & aliquandiu sua majestate non modo mihi attraxit, verum etiam detinuit oculos. Tanti momenti est commode incidisse in rem studio desideratam magno. Materia, quæ ipsissimam sigilli formam impressam accepit, & ad huc fideliter retinet, cera coloris rubri est, quæ violentia aliqua, vel temporis injuria longi comminute, in partes hinc inde diffinditur: ita tamen, ut nulla prorsum desideretur. Nam fragmenta, casu aliquo prius concussa, sic argentea lamina, quæ orbicularis figuræ, qualis & sigilli facies, est, undique concluduntur, ut eorum pars recidat nulla. Inscribitur enim his titulis in speciem brevibus, sed re ipsa splendidissimis, amplissimis, magnificentissimis: PATRICIUS ARTURIUS BRITANNIÆ, GALLIÆ, GERMANIÆ, DACIÆ IMPERATOR. Atque hæc quidem inscriptio sigilli orbem extimum circinat. Anterior ejus pars per circulum crystallinum pellucida est, quo remoto tangi se patitur cera jam præ antiquitate durissima. Effigies vero Arturii impressa refert nescio quam heroicam majestatem. Purpura enim regaliter indutus Princeps fedet super hemicirculum, qualem videmus pluvium arcum. Capite coronato fulget. In dextera confurgit sceptrum ipsum liliatum vertice. Sinistra vero orbem cruce insignitum complectitur. Barba quoque prominet, & illud etiam majestatis est. Pars altera orbiculari lamina argenti tota obducitur: unde & incertum cujus formæ sit. Appendet catenulæ ex argento intortæ. Dispercam lector, nisi vidisse velis: tanta est tum rei antiquitas, tum majestas. Rogatus tandem à me mystagogus, ut mihi significaret, si quid præterea didicisset de appenso sigillo, nam inter ornamenta, quæ plurima auro & gemmis micantia Eadueardi Simplicis, regis Angliæ, sepulchrum exornabant, & hoc quoque memorabile fuit. Ille autem ad hæc nihil, præterquam quod à rege aliquo putaret eo repositum loco in perpetuam Arturii, terque quaterque magni, memoriam. Certe si fas esset conjecturis ullis collineare verum, tantum non crederem, sigillum à Glessoburgo translatum fuisse, cui monasterio, casu per ignem foedissime deturpato, talia munificentissimus præmia contulit, qualia ille pietate sua insigni facilius dare, quam monachi sperare, potuit. Henricus ipse, ut supra retuli, fecit mentionem Arturianæ donationis, atque adeo eam vidisse, & legisse se. Unde & fieri quidem potuit, ut, exesa membrana à blattis & tineis longo temporis cursu, repertum tam illustre antiquitatis monumentum monasterio primi nominis conservandum, & à nobilitate perpetuo videndum traderit. Ut mea me fallat conjectura dispendium quidem leve, immo plane nullum. Hoc interim blanditur mihi, quod quod cum de Arturio agitur, & de rebus ab eo gestis, Glesoburgus semper instat, & operam ad certam cognitionem candidissime pollicetur suam. Unde quidem & nostri in præsentia laboris fructus omnis, tanquam è fonte profluentissimo, derivandus. Nec certe, quod ego sciam, exstat quicquam quod luculentius ipso sigillo comprobet Arturium fuisse: id quod, si diis placet, impudenter pernegare aliqui non dubitant, opinione, voluntate, temeritate denique potius quam ratione ulla iusta, nixi. Sed inferius deligemus locum, quo iustis argumentorum copiis hanc violentam calumniatorum turbam prosternamus. Interea sigilli inscriptio subtilius excutienda. Habet enim sua mysteria, quæ, ubi lucem receperint, majori cum voluptate, tum gratia aures candidorum lectorum imbuant, & imbutas mirifice delectent: id quod operis pretium & quidem amplum est. Patricius nomen à majestate Romana desumptum. Dicti sunt eo nomine Romani nobiles, qui à primis senatoribus oriundi. Id videtur Tacitus his verbis significare: "Iisdem diebus in numerum patriciorum ascivit Cæsar vetustissimum quemque ex senatu, aut quibus clari parentes fuerant." Livius hæc refert: "Romulus centum creat senatores, qui patres ab honore, patricii quoque progenies eorum appellati." Liqueat igitur, Arturium hanc nominis famam insignem illam à parentibus & maioribus suis accepisse. Unde etiam apparet, non dum id temporis Romanæ majestatis gloriam ad Britannos translata in titulis refrixisse. Crediderim, Arturii etiam nomen originem ab Arturiis Romanis accepisse. Juvenalis poëta Satyra tertia ita scribit:

Fol. 13. b.

*Cedamus patria, vivant Arturii istic
Et Catulus.*

Quamquam, redacta in provinciam à Claudio Britannia, familiarissimum erat Britannis nobilioribus Romanorum nomina sibi partim desumere, & filiis frequentissime indere, hoc, ut ego plane arbitror, consilio non inepto ductis, quod hinc & sibi suisque honorem simul & à Romanis gratiam facile compararent. Lucius, cui Britanni cognomen Magni attribuerunt, Constantinus, & ille quoque Magnus, Aurelius Ambrosius, & his Arturius non inferior meam vehementer comprobant sententiam. Idem quoque in nobilium nomenclatura feminarum factum est. Exemplo sunt Claudia Rufina, teste Martiali poëta, eruditissima, Helena sanctissima, & Ursula Cynofura illa. Quod autem inscriptio sigilli serie quadam eum Britannia, Gallia, Germania, Dacia denique imperatorem vocet, consuetudine & diligentia hoc quoque factum Romana, ut, una cum triumphis, & tituli devictarum gentium victori accrescerent.

Fol. 14. a.

creferent. Indicio sunt arcus triumphales Romæ, & numismata Cæsarum cura simili inscripta. Imperatoris vero nomen antiquitus, ut ex Cæsare, Cicerone, & Livio manifestum est, ad Duces pertinebat legionum: unde & Arturius imperator dictus est vocabulo apto, significanti, & pure pute Latino. Illud vero, quod inscriptio non Arturius, sed Arturus, amissa littera, habet, sculptoris tantum vel errori, vel incuriæ imputo. Propria Romanorum nomina compositione, & natura quadam sua mollius & consonantius desluunt & terminantur in ius quam us, ut Æmilius, Manilius, Claudius, Cornelius, Terentius, Vergilius, Horatius, Ovidius. Dixi superius de triumphis Arturii ob feliciter gesta contra Saxones & Gallos bella. Superest ut, inscriptione sigilli admonitus, de Germania & Dacia aliquid loquar. Sed hic expedito me ad tam honestum munus historiographorum veterum auctoritas non satis ex voto scripturienti mihi materiam subministrat. Causam vero interim susceptam non defendere religio plane esset. Audebo igitur, hoc tam certo & manifesto inscriptionis testimonio confirmatus, fidem lectori facere, Arturium, fuis memorabili aliqua clade Gallis, cum Germanis atque Dacis manus conferuisse. Nisi quis victoriam huc pertinere contendat, quod domestico bello Saxones & Cimbro gentes Germanicas & Dacicas, acriter castigaverit. Cimbrorum Chersonesus ea Germaniæ pars olim fuit, quæ nunc Dania & Noruegia recentioribus vocabulis. Harum gentium reges antiquiores in suis diplomatibus, ut ego accepi, non se Danorum, sed Dacorum gubernatores scribebant. Sunt tamen inter eruditos, qui adfirmant, Dacos inhabitasse eam regionem, quæ nunc Moldavia & Valachia dicitur. Volateranus libro 3. Geographiæ adfirmat, partem Galliæ, Noruegiæ, & Daciæ ab Arturio devictam fuisse. Trittemius quoque hæc scribit: "Quod quum reges Daciæ Noruegiæque audissent, Nitro venientes ejus se dominio subdiderunt." Hic mihi lector admonendus est, non solum Saxones, Anglos, & Jutas, alias Vitas soles venisse in Britanniam, verum etiam totius littoris Germanici accolæ. Alioqui tot bellis & cædibus impares fuissent. Sigillum jam una cum inscriptione suis uterque depinxi coloribus. Proxima cura erit Arturii rediit e Gallia, & cruentos conflictus inter eum & Mordrem chartis committere.

Ingenuit Arturius, percognita cæde duorum virorum tam eximie illustrium, & eorum manibus frequenti præce, altò corde dolorem premens, generosus, idemque pius parentavit. Deinde vero, justo exercitu incredibili cum celeritate refecto, statuit magnis itineribus hostem improbum persequi, & quasi ex improvviso fugitivum opprimere. Callidior erat Mordredus, quam fortior. Hinc illi methodus ad artes non infueras. Cognovit liquido per exploratores, adventare Arturium ad bellum instructissimum. Quare militem in terram utpote fessum, tum salis tædio, tum annonæ penuriâ, descendere iussit, ac reparatis industria, labore, diligentia, quanta potuit maxima, armis, per montana Coriniæ, qua spectat littora Sabrinaica non longe dissita, exercitum lentis itineribus ducit, & in loco, qui à vulgo scriptorum Camblan appellatur, ubi vasta, ac partim etiam uliginosa planities, & collectus in speculæ confurgens usum, castra metatus est. Hic meum cogor interponere iudicium de loco in quo depugnatum est, & ejus nomine, non quod hinc me in medium allaturum putem aliquid, tanquam è Jovis cerebro, sed ut, bona cum eruditorum gratia, conjecturam meam citra fumum, fastumque omnem, veluti in transcurso, paucis explicem. Qua parte ingenue fateor, ægre sentire me cum Hectore Boëthio Scotto, qui pro more suo illustrissima quæque in Britannia antiquitus facta præter modum & mensuram omnem in patrios deducit agros, atque hic audacter pronunciat, extremis Arturium depugnasse signis non procul ab Abro æstuario maximo, quod ille Humbrum barbare, ignota vocabuli notatione, appellat. At aliter sentit Britannica historia, & in Cornubia Fol. 17. a.

supremo conflixisse bello adfirmat: ita tamen ut meminerit Mordredi secundo ab Arturio victi, & fugati Ventæ Sime-norum. Graius hoc idem sentit, egregius profecto satelles, & Arturianæ assertor gloriæ rigidus. Nec aliter literatorum argutus chorus concinit. At nostra non est equidem de loco, sed de loci nomine conjectura. Ego certe pene adducor ut credam, Alaunum fluvium facile degenerasse vitio indocto- rum librariorum in Camblan. Oritur hic fluvius in Corinia paucis passuum millibus supra Athelstouam, alias Padeflow, oppidum piscatorium, non adeo procul à Sabrino æstu posi- tum, per quod, sed falsis mixtus aquis, delabitur. Circa fontes ejus originis in campestri, & vasta quadam planitie est locus fama celeberrimus, graminis, quam frumenti aliquanto fera- cior. Fama, tot seculis apud incolas conservata, prædicat, hoc hoc loco insignem olim pugnando stragem fuisse factam, sed historię veritas interim ignota vulgo. Multa quidem vel hac nostra ætate ibidem ab aratoribus & fossoribus ad ripam eruuntur: qualia sunt numismata antiquorum imperium ostentantia, annuli, fragmenta armorum, & ænea ornamenta inaurata ex frenis, phalerisque, & ephippiis equorum. Hęc mea est conjectura. tum propter loci situm, tum Alauni, fluminis vicini, nomen, non admodum, si quis penitus inspiciat, à Camblan dissonum. Artūrius instat, & trajecto per vada cognita Tamaro fluvio. multis alioqui in locis & rapidissimo & profundissimo, contempto hoste fugitivo, castra castris opponit. Ecce desperatio, ut fere sit, insolitani victis audaciam retulit: unde & pars utraque Martem provocat, ardens spe prædæ & victorię, & nihil minus quam mortem metuens.

Fol. 17. b.

*Quis cladem illius pugnæ, quis funera fando
Explicet? aut possit lacrimis equare labores?*

Mordredus commissa pugna malorum præcōtor omnium gladio confossus perfidię iustum tulit pretium. Exemplo sit ille, & perpetuo fidem violentibus ob imperii cupiditatem. Cecidit una cum tyranno ingens nobilium, & veteranorum militum numerus. Sed neque victoria Arturio inuenta fuit. Nam in illo strepitu & furore aut interfectus, aut ad desperationem vulneratus paullo post publico totius Britannię luctu, sed præcipue Pugilum mœrentium ob tam inclyti Principis casum, elatus est. Atque hęc quidem Arturii ter maximi finis erat.

Laus Arturii.

Fol. 18. a.

ARTURIUS mortuus est, si modo is recte mortuus dicendus, cujus fama, memoria, laudes toto vivunt & prænitent orbe. Fuerunt majores nostri, cum poëtæ tum historiographi, adeo erga Arturium faciles, candidi, grati, ut illius & nomen & facta celebraverint, & æternitate quoque donaverint. Theliesinus, Melchinus, qui & Mevinus, Ambrosius Maridunensis, ac Merlinus Caledonius, clarissima Britannicę sidera antiquitatis, hoc præstiterunt. Nennius & Samuel, Britanni historiographi, non minorum exhibuere memoriam, collatis laudum niveis calculis. De quibus atque aliis superius opportune & suis locis diximus, freti auctoritate Galfredi, Aluredi, Henrici Venantodunensis, Joannis Chrisistoriographi, Gulielmi & Meildulphi curia, Grali, & Boccatii. At si nunc quem juvat majus majus & luculentius adhuc aliquid cognoscere, non recusabo pauca, ex probatissimis desumpta auctoribus, luci, diligentia qua possum optima, restituere. Josephus, Iscæ Domnoniorum alumnus, & aureum suo seculo utriusque eloquentiæ flumen, sic Arturium in Antiocheide ab eximia fortitudine tantum non ad sidera ipsa attollit, ut ex his versibus, cum antiquitate Romana de palma contendentibus, liquet:

*Hinc celebri fato felici claruit ortu,
Flos regum, Arturus: cujus quum facta stupori,
Non micuere minus, quod totus in aure voluptas,
Et, populo narrante, favus. Quæcunque priorum
Inspice: Pellæum commendat fama tyrannum;
Pagina Cæsareos loquitur Romana triumphos;
Alciden domitis attollit gloria monstris;
Sed nec pinetum coryli, nec sidera solem
Æquant. Annales Latios Graiosque revolve;
Prisca parem nescit, æqualem postera nullum
Exhibitura dies. Reges supereminet omnes
Solus, præteritis melior, majorque futuris.*

Libellus rerum antiquarum Gleffoburgi nuper comparuit, collectus à quodam ejusdem cœnobii monacho studiosissimo, qui per occupationem colorem rhetoricum tanquam aliud agens Arturium his verbis celebrat: "Prætermitto & de inclyto Arturio, rege Britannorum, loqui, in cœmeterio monachorum inter duas pyramides cum sua conjuge tumulato, & multis etiam Britonum Principibus." Sylvester Giraldus Menevensis, cultor antiquitatis summus, hac oratione, in libro cui Principis institutio titulus, ejus famam illustrat: "Arturii quoque, Britonum regis inclyti, memoria non est superprimenda, quem monasterii Glesconiensis egregii, cujus & ipse patronus suis diebus fuerat præcipuus, & largitor, ac sublevator magnificus, historiæ multum extollunt." Joannes Annævillanus, poëta suis temporibus plane ingeniosus, nec minus elegans, carmina hæc cecinit in laudem Arturii, quæ vel nunc in ejus Architrenio comparent:

— Alter Achilles
*Arturus, teretis mensæ genitiva venustas,
A ramo Phrygius, dandi non unda, sed æquor.*

Hic vero si præterea studerem Arturium à multitudine auctorum, rectissime de eo & scribentium & consentientium, cumulate exornare facilius me copia eloquentiæ, quam materiæ, undecunque luculentæ, magnificentia defereret. Sit satis in præsentia paucis scriptorum, sed illustribus, suffragiis uti. Quid, obsecro, in causâ, quod Trittemius in Compendio annalium tam egregiam de Arturio mentionem faciat? Causa quidem quidem satis aperta est. Nam quod ab aliis bona fide didicit, eadem gratus posteritati tradidit, id quod plane fecisset nunquam, si de causæ veritate dubitasset. Quin præsens nunc loquatur ipse. "Qui Arturus multa probitate morum, prudentia, mansuetudine, simul & humanitate pollens, se cunctis amabilem venerandumque cunctis præstare omni studio curabat: quia cum virtute animi etiam mira liberalitate affuebat in omnes, & maxime in ecclesiasticos, quibus pro Christi amore plura conferebat munuscula, simul & donaria. Saxones & Pictos de Britannia expulit; Scottos Hibernicos & Orcades suo regno potenter subjecit." Volaterranus libro tertio Geographiæ assurgit famæ Arturii, & ejus facta fortia accurate celebrat. Porro & Jacobus Philippus Bergomas nono Chronicorum libro Arturii virtutem præconiis vel justissimis attollit. Sed nec minora ulla Naucerus eidem in sua contulit historia. Hæc plane fecissent nunquam viri cum doctissimi, tum in antiquitate exercitatissimi, nisi prius sibi persuassent, Arturium aliquando fuisse omnibus virtutum ornamentis abunde insignem. Sed quæ multorum est iniquitas, & animus contemptor, quæ statim ignorantia toti, & crassa quidem, obducti non liquido perspiciunt, stupide negligunt, contemnunt, ac prorsus rejiciunt. Valeant ejusmodi antiquæ censores historiæ, & sua perfruantur stultitia, ne dicam insania. Quid si nunc Hæctoris Boëthii, scriptoris nostræ ætatis, testimonium conspicuum de Arturii gloria immortalis in medium protulero? Certe nihil hoc calculo ejus dignitati decedet, accedet vero plurimum, hoc nomine, quod Scottos, instinctu nescio quo naturæ, Britannum odio, ut est in proverbio, Vatiniano prosequatur. Unde ab adversario, inimico, vel hoste laudari palmarii loco est. Hæc itaque sunt ejus verba: "Fuit rex Arturius rerum egregie gestarum gloria & amplitudine non minus quam Britannæ reges, qui ante eum vixere, insignis: unde opes & vires Britannis, eo regnante, plurimum crevere." Hactenus Boëthius. Quam hic vellem dari mihi occasionem à Polydoro Italo justam, ut

Fol. 19. a. "Arturio Britanno cristas erigerem ejus quoque suffragio memorabili aliquo? Agit ille causam Arturii, sed patronus interim tam languens, tepidus, & remissus, ut mihi non risum modo, verum etiam stomachum, dum falsus, & Italo perfusus aceto nescio an rideat, an stomachetur. Torquet enim se misere in historiæ concinnatione, quam ut interim aliquam faciat, cogitur, velit nolit, in gratiam redire cum Galfreſo Monemuthensi, quem ante, ut sibi videbatur, verbis multis, ex felle potius quam splene natis, magnifice & pro imperio castigaverat. Quem quia interpretem tantum semel atque iterum defendam in causa plane justissima, periculum, & quidem magnum, magnum, meo etiam capiti, quum sim ultra-montanus, imminet. Cavebo igitur, & rei veritate confusus una, eam pro vallo & fossa mecum vel perpetuo circumferam. Ut sileat Polydorus, non statim necesse est ut orbis sileat universus. Quanquam & Italia Arturium in pretio olim habuit, atque adeo jam habet: quando libri de ejus cum fortitudine, tum victoriis, impressi, ut ego didici, Italice legantur, Hispanice etiam, & Gallice. Unde & collectio Anglica, auctore Thoma Mailerio, prodit. Dixerit adversarius, in illos mendacia irrepsisse multa. Pernovi. Quare hoc aliud nihil quam edocum docere. Ut fabulas contemno, ita historiarum veritatem amplector & suavior. Nec hanc patiar, nisi cum vita, à me nunquam distrahi amicam. Ingratos refugio, & ad rupes, & faxa, testes nominis & majestatis Arturianæ, confugio. Hæc quoque parte venientem me Sylvester Giraldus Menevensis his verbis, ex Itinerario desumptis, accepit. “Montibus excelsis, præterquam à borea, hæc undique terra” (Brechaniam intelligit) “concluditur. Et quoniam in alto cathedra, & in arduo loco sita est, summo & maximo Britonum regi Arturio “vulgari nuncupatione est assignata.” Hæc ille. A montibus Brechanicis ad Balduinum nunc mihi commigrandum, urbem olim celebrem, quæ quadringentis ab hinc annis & amplius à Rogero, Montis Gomerici alumno, & Salopiæ comite, Mons Gomericus dicta est. Hic inter collapsa mœniorum rudera locus est, fama cognitus, quem civium reliquæ Portam Arturianam appellant. Fuit profecto semper, atque adeo nunc est, gens Cambrorum generoso quodam impetu erga Principum suorum laudes, quo titulo vel hodie elucet nomen una cum laude non vulgari Arturii, cognomento Magni, qui & Britannice Arture vaur dicitur. Avaloniæ antiquitas.

Fol. 20. b.

ERIES orationis hîc me admonet, ut de Arturii sepultura verba faciam, cujus, ut fatis jam memini, ita lucido ordini in primis convenire judico, ut loci prius antiquitatem, quo funus perlatum est, exquisita cura posteritati consecrem. Aval Britannice malum, vel, ut communiori vocabulo interpreter, pomum, significat, Avalon vero pomarium: unde & à Merlino Caledonio his versibus, interprete Galfredo Arturio Monæmuthensi, insula pomorum dicta est:

*Insula pomorum, quæ fortunata vocatur,
Ex re nomen habet, quia per se singula profert.
Non opus est illi sulcantibus arva colonis:
Omnis abest cultus, nisi quem natura ministrat.
Ultero sæcundas segetes producit, & uvas,
Nataque poma suis prætonso germine sylvis.*

Melchinus Britannus Avaloniæ, & sacri ibidem cœmeterii meminit. Sylvester Giraldus in libro de Institutione Principis sic loquitur: "Quæ nunc autem Glesconia dicitur, antiquitus insula Avalonia dicebatur. Est enim quasi insula tota paludibus obsita, unde dicta est Britannice Avalon, id est, insula pomifera. Pomis enim, quæ Aval Britannica lingua dicuntur, locus abundat." Patricius, Hiberorum apostolus, in quadam epistola mentionem hujus loci facit, sed alio nomine, cujus & verba subjiciam. "Hiberniam ad viam veritatis converti, & quum eos in fide solidassem catholica, tandem in Britanniam sum reversus, ac, ut credo, duce Deo, qui vita est & via, incidi in insulam Iniswitrine, in qua invenî locum sanctum, & vetustum, à Deo electum, & sanctificatum Mariæ: ibique quosdam fratres, rudimentis catholice fidei imbutos, qui successerunt discipulis sanctorum Fugatii & Damiani." Hactenus Patricius, qui & ibidem nomina recenset duodecim religiosorum, quorum & duo nobiles, quibus omnibus ipse præfuit, ut ex his verbis liquet: "Sic me, licet invitum, sibi prætulerunt." Et rursus in eadem epistola: "ostenderunt mihi fratres scripta sanctorum Fugatii & Damiani, in quibus continebatur, quod duodecim discipuli sanctorum Philippi & Jacobi ipsam vetustam ecclesiam construxerant, & quod tres reges pagani ipsis duodecim totidem terræ possessiones dederant. Postremo, ut Fugatius & Damianus facellum in Turrîto monte non

"procul ab Avalonia D. Michaëli posuerint." Satis est in præsentia vel leviter degustasse Patricii venerandi epistolam. Gulielmus Meildunensis in libro de antiquitate Glessoburgensis monasterii ad Henricum Blesensem, alias Soliacensem, episcopum Ventæ Simenorum, & libro de regibus primo non dissimilia scribit. Unde & conjectura justa, Gulielmum sua transtulisse ex Patricii epistola. Sylvester Giraldus in libro de Principis institutione etymon nominis non infeliciter aperit: "Dicta quoque quondam Britannice Iniswitrin fu-
"erat: ex quo vocabulo supervenientes postea Saxones lo-
"cum illum Glessenbury vocabant. Gles enim eorum lin-
"gua vitrum sonat, & bury castrum vel civitas appellatur."
Hæc ille, Mihi quidem mendum esse videtur librariorum, quod hic scribant byri pro burg aut berg. Byri Saxonice curia: unde Aldermanbyri, id est, seniorum curia, Litlebyri parva curia, Canonbyri, vulgo Canbyri, canonicorum curia. Burg, alias borow, montem denotat, & egestæ terræ tumulos. Berg denique castrum Latine dicitur. Unde sentio, rectius legendum Berg, aut Burg, ut castro, quo Giraldus vocabulo utitur, aut oppido subserviat. Quanquam ut ingenue fatear, nomen varie apud antiquos scriptum reperi, ut Glessenbyri, Glestonbyri, & Glessenburg. Sunt qui & pronuncient Glas pro Gles: quanquam Gles purius & antiquius, ut Fol. 21. b. ex Glessfariarum insularum nomine liquido apparet.

Funus Arturii.

EC possum, nec volo pronunciare num Arturius totus in bello Alaunico, quod vulgo Camblan, conciderit, an Avaloniæ inter curationem vulnerum. Britannici scriptores omnes contendunt uno ore, eum Avaloniæ ex dolore eorundem periisse. De loco autem sepulturæ conveniunt universi. Unum hoc ausim adfirmare, tam sollicitos fuisse Britannos de nece Domini sui, ut eam modis omnibus studuerint claram reddere, & nomen Ducis sui Saxonibus vel perpetuo tremendum relinquare; usque adeo, ut plausibili, & novo quodam commento sparserint rumores de eo cum redituro, tum iterum regnaturo. De Arturii vulnerati adventu in Avaloniam scripsere aliquot Britanni. At nullus vel fufius, vel lucidius, quam Merlinus Caledonius à Theliesino vate, ut quidam volunt, edoctus, cujus & hic versus ex prophetico libello, interprete Galfrido Arturio, delectos adfigam:

*Illuc post bellum Cambiani vulnere læsum
 Duximus Arturum, nos conducente Barincho,
 Æquora cui fuerant, & cæli sidera nota.
 Hoc rectore ratis cum Principe venimus illuc,
 Et nos quo decuit Morgan suscepit honore,
 Inque suis thalamis posuit super aurea regem
 Fulcra, manuque sibi detexit vulnus honesta,
 Inspexitque diu: tandemque redire salutem
 Posse sibi dixit, si secum tempore longo
 Effet, & ipsius vellet medicamine fungi.
 Gaudentes igitur regem commisimus illi,
 Et dedimus ventis redeundo vela secundis.*

Fol. 22. a.

Sylvester Giraldus in Speculo ecclesiastico scribit Morganen, illustrem feminam, curavisse funus Arturii. Et rursus in libro de institutione Principis hæc refert: "Unde & Morganis, nobilis matrona, & partium illarum dominatrix, & "patrona, nec non & Arturio sanguine propinqua, post bellum de Kemelen, Arturium ad sanandum ejus vulnera in "insulam, quæ nunc Glasconia dicitur, deportavit." Brian-nicæ interpretis historiæ libro sexto talia de morte Arturii scribit: "Arturius letaliter vulneratus in pugna ad Camblan "contulit se Avaloniam, relicto imperio Constantino, Cadorii, ducis Coriniæ, filio." Joannes Burgenfis abba in suis Annalibus hæc fides commisit chartis: "Oculum se rex Arturius moriturus, ne casui tanto insultarent inimici, amicique confusi molestarentur." Hactenus ille. Nunc de sacrosancto cœmeterio Avaloniæ, in quò Arturius sepultus est, dicendum, Melchinus in primis hujus meminit, & Arturii ibidem sepulti. Gulielmus à Meildulphi curia cum alibi, tum præcipue in libro de antiquitati Glessoburgensi sacrum hoc cœmeterium religiose celebrat. Idem facit & Giraldus Menevensis in speculo ecclesiastico, & libro de institutione Principis. Non erant eo seculo in Britannia tam frequentia, quam nunc sunt cœmeteria. Saxones nobiles, gens Christi ignara, in hortis amœnis, si domi forte ægroti moriebantur, si foris & bello occisi in egestis per campos terræ tumulis, quos burgos appellabant, juxta castra sepulti sunt: vulgus autem promiscuum etiam in pratis & apertis campis. Erat tunc temporis sacrum cœmeterium juxta veterem ecclesiâ in pretio maximo, quo titulo & à tota nobilitate occidentali-um Britanniae regiuncularum in sepulchri sortem cooptatum. Idem postea à Saxonibus, Servatorem agnoscentibus, factitatum est: ut Duroverni Cantiorum, Eboraci Brigantum, Lindisfarnæ, atque adeo alibi. De loco sepulturæ jam satis constat. Superest, ut & ritum, & sepulchri formam demonstræm. Adfuit, sed secreto, nobilium chorus Domini, tam iniquo iniquo fato sublato, funus perlugens. Curavit una funus Morganis, femina pietatis plane incomparabilis, & iuxta sepulchro, lachrimarum flumine irriguo, omnia anxie persolvebat. Mos ejus seculi fuit alnorum ingentis truncos, quarum partes Avaloniæ vicinæ feracissimæ erant, incavare, & in usus sepulchrorum dedolare. Habet enim Alnus nescio quid commune cum uliginoso solo, quale cœmeterium est: usque adeo, ut ejus materia, in terra hujusmodi altius posita, tantum non æterna censeatur. Corpus Arturii deplorati, fossa bene alta facta, robore alneo excavato conditum est. Et quoniam fama, factis, ditione magnificentissimus vixit, symbolum æternæ memoriæ, Christianorum in hoc sedulo tum consuetudinem tum candorem imitati, crucem videlicet, perpetuæ vitæ mnemosynen, sepulchro mortui intulerunt. Erat ex lamina plumbea confecta, longa plus minus pedem unum, quam & ego curiosissimis contemplatus sum oculis & follicitis contrectavi articulis, motus & antiquitate rei & dignitate. Literis Romanis majusculis illis, sed parum dextere insculptis, Fol. 23. a. hæc verba continet: HIC JACET SEPULTVS INCLYTVS REX ARTVRIVS IN INSVLA AVALONIA. Sed hic forsitan curiosus aliquis exquiret, quo consilio inscriptio laminæ plumbeæ commendata sit? Mos ejus ætatis erat receptissimus, & duravit usque ad recentiora secula, ut sepulchris nobilibus laminas plumbeas inscriptas includerent. Quorum non paucas vidi passim per universam Britanniam. Plumbum sua natura facile recipit sculpturam; & acceptam cum longissime, tum fidelissime, teste experientia, conservat. Montes minerarii, plumbi admodum fertiles, vix quinque passuum millibus ab Avalonia distant. Non puduit Romanos, rerum Dominos, trophæum ex oblonga plumbi tabula in ipsis pene eorundem montium radicibus ad fontes Ochidis fluvioli fabulosi ditionis episcopi Fontani Claudio Cæsari sic inscriptum erigere: TI. CLAVD. CÆSAR. AVG. P. M. TR. P. VIIIE. IMP. XVI. DE BRITAN. Hoc trophæum annis ab hinc paucis aratro erutum, & ad ædes Thomæ Houerti, Icenorum Ducis, Londinum translatum.

N sepulchreto, quod Avaloniæ sacrosanctum est, stant duæ pyramides antiquissimæ structuræ, imagines & literas præ se ferentes, sed venti, procellæ, tempus edax rerum, postremo invidiosa vetustas ita operum eximias olim figuras, & inscriptiones devenustaverunt, ut vix ullo laboreprehendi Fol. 23. b. vel à lynceò possint. Has frequens scriptorum pagina commemorat, memorat, & præcipue Gulielmi Meildunensis antiquarii curæ magni, quem & Silvester Giraldus, amator & ipse rerum veterum, subsequitur. Uterque equidem doctæ: ille quod labore exquisito imagines, & titulos ante quadringentos annos tantum non obliteratos, luci in pulcherrimo, juxta ac elegantissimo libello de antiquitate Glessoburgenſi reſtituerit; hic quod, juſtis fretus argumentis, & veterum relatione, ſepulchrum Arturii vel inter pyramides, aut loco ab eis non longe diſſito, aliquando poſitum fuiſſe probet. Plura de Giraldō in ſepulchro Arturii invento dicemus. Interea deſcriptionem pyramidum, ab ipsis Gulielmi penicillis graphice deſcriptam, velut in luculenta tabula, ſpectatorum oculis ſubjiciam. “ Illud, quod clam plane omnibus eſt, libenter prædicarem, ſi veritatem exſculpere poſſem, quid illæ pyramides ſibi velint, quæ aliquantis pedibus ab eccleſia vetuſta poſitæ cœmeterium monachorum prætexunt? Procerior ſane, & propinquior eccleſiæ habet quinque tabularum, & altitudinem viginti ſex pedum. Hæc præ nimia vetuſtate etſi ruinam minetur, habet tamen antiquitatis nonnulla ſpectacula, quæ plane poſſunt legi, licet non poſſint plene intelligi. In ſuperiori enim tabulatu eſt imago pontificali ſchemate facta. In ſecundo imago regiam prætendens pompam & literæ, Her. Sexi. & Bliswerth. In tertio nihilominus nomina, wemcreſte. Bantomp. winewegn. In quarto, Hate. wulfrede, & Eanſede. In quinto, qui & inferior eſt, imago & hæc ſcriptura, Logwor. weſlielas, & Bregdene. Swelwes Hwingendes berne. Altera vero pyramis habet octodecim pedes, & quatuor tabulatus, in quibus hæc leguntur: Hedde epiſcopus, & Bregorred, & Beorwalde. Quid hæc ſignificent non temere definiō, ſed ex ſuſpicionē colligo, eorum interius in cavitatis lapidibus contineri oſſa, quorum exterius leguntur nomina. Certe Logwor is pro certo aſſeritur eſſe, de cujus nomine quondam Logweresbeorh dicebatur, qui nunc Mons acutus dicitur. Beorwalde nihilominus abbas poſt Hemgiſelum.” Hæc Meildunensis, cui docti illuſtratas pyramides omnino acceptas fore debent. Nunc Guenhera ſe offert marito Arturio comitem.

Qualis Guenhera.

UENHERAM ex progenie regulorum Corinæ ortam facile crediderim, cum aliis argumentis innixus, tum hoc præcipue, quod Britannica referat hiſtoria, eam in palatio Cadōri Coriniani educatam fuiſſe, atque hinc ab Arturio in conjugem acceptam. Conjectura eſt, nec ea omnino incerta, certa. nomen id Britannice sonare, quod bella dona Italice, & Gallice belle dame. Indubie à fama nomen inditum, ut Guenllean, id est, alba Leonora, vel à conjectura Helena: ita ut albæ vocabulum pulchram, bellam, venustam exprimat. At ut de ejus venustate satis constat, ita de pudicitia dubitatum est. Parcerem ipse quidem pro meo candore heroinarum læso honori, & famæ: historiæ tamen veritas aurem vellit mihi, jubetque, & tantum non imperat, ut referam quid veteres de ea senserint. Tanto reluctari imperio mihi Fol. 24. b. quidem religio, & magna. Britannica historia adfirmat, eam non modo rem cum Mordredo Picto habuisse, verum etiam conjugio illi fuisse adjunctam. O scelera! ô mores! ô corrupta tempora! Vitæ scriptor Gildaicæ, auctor quidem antiquus, sed in meo exemplari anonymus, hæc de Guenhera adultera prædicat: "Arturius obsedit paludes vicinas Glesconiz in odium Meluæ reguli, qui eo Guenheram raptam & "perductam vitiaverat." Est hoc testimonium de regina, quavis raptam dicat, parum honorificum. Rapiuntur subinde ejusmodi formæ sua sponte. Utcunque fuerit, hoc certissimum, non longo superfuisse illam tempore à nece conjugis, & adulteri. At an morbo corporis aliquo, an animi iusto, quod ego facilius credo, mœrore obierit, non aperte constat. Scriptores referunt, pœnitudine ductam eam velum sacrum Ambrosiæ induisse, ibidemque mortuam ac sepultam, donec humanissimi Lanceloti Pugilis invictissimi cum cura tum pietas reliquias postea Avaloniam transtulisset. Scrupulus hic contra adulterii suspicionem suboritur: An commisisset tam insignis Arturii amator, atque idem cultor, ut adulteram in sacratissimo cœmeterio propter illius sepulchrum terræ committeret? Historia Glesfoburgensis cœnobii accurate collecta perdocet, Guenheram in sacro cœmeterio fuisse sepultam ad conjugis tumulum, & ejus reliquias eodem tempore inventas quo & mariti: Confirmat hoc Sylvester Giraldus Menevensis in Institutione Principis his verbis de Arturio loquens: "Habuerat enim uxores duas, quarum ultima scilicet cum "ipso sepulta fuerat, & ossa ipsius cum ossibus viri simul "inventa, sic distincta tamen, ut duæ partes sepulchri versus Fol. 25. a. "caput, scilicet ossibus viri continendis, deputatæ fuissent: "tertia vero ad pedes ossa seorsum muliebria contineret. Ubi " & trica comæ muliebris flava cum integritate pristina & "colore reperta fuit, quam ut monachus quidam avide manu "arripuit, & sublevavit, tota statim in pulverem decidit." Idem Giraldus similia refert in Speculo ecclesiastico. Potuit ille quidem cum auctoritate aliqua de hac re loqui, quandoquidem tum temporis in flagranti Richardi Leonii, regis Angliæ, gratia confirmatus, venit ipso tempore inventi sepulchri pulchri Glessoburgum, & oculatus testis, duce Henrico de Soliaco Henrici regis ex Adela nepote, & Richardi regis consanguineo, tunc Præsides Glessoburgensi, postea episcopo Ventæ Simenorum, omnia, quæ ad Arturium attinebant, perdidicit. Attamen si hic mihi liceret libere quæ sentio dicere, affirmarem profecto longe certioris esse fidei ea, quæ de Arturii quam Guenheræ sepultura traduntur. Nec tamen interim facio vim auctoritati veterum scriptorum, ut & meam aliquando non deteriori tractet posteritas modo. Leguntur Glessoburgi in tumulo Lydii marmoris fabre exsculpto, & Arturio, juxta ac Guenheræ, posito, hii duo versiculi, suum redolentes seculum :

Hic jacet Arturi conjunx tumulata secunda,

Quæ meruit cælos virtutem prole secunda.

Fol. 25. b.

Sunt qui dicant, Henricum Suinesium, abbatem Glessoburgensem, fuisse auctorem versiculorum : nisi quis putet, Henricum Blesensem, alias Soliacensem, in Suinesii degenerasse nomen, cujus tempore inventæ & Arturii & Guenheræ reliquæ. Quid autem sibi velint Giraldus & Henricus nomine uxoris secundæ non satis hercle intelligo, quando non alterius hætenus, quod meminerim, quam Guenheræ nomen aut memoriam audiverim. Sed sit fides penes auctores. Ex secundi versiculi hemistichio, virtutum prole secunda, meliorem fuisse Guenheram quam fecundiorum apparet. Neque hic melatet, Boëthium scribere, acriter aliquando depugnatum fuisse inter Arturium & Mordredum ad Humbrum fluvium, & Guenheram à Pictis in castris ibidem captam, ac postea mortuam, ac sepultam Horestiæ vico Angusiæ. Relinquo Hectorem Veremundi & Turgoti, obscurorum scriptorum, fidei. Et fieri potuit ut illic alteri Guenheræ tumulus, non reginæ, poneretur.

Inventum Arturii sepulchrum.

INVALESCENTE Saxonum à cæde Arturii potentia, & mox Pictis ac Scottis strenuissime profligatis, ac ultra vallum Severianum abactis, coeperunt Saxones devictorum Britannorum reliquias non adeo timere, & multo minus magnificere, contemnere aperte potius. Quare illorum gloria florere cœpit, Britannorum vero deflorescere. Ita tamen, ut nec Saxones amuliquicquam pene de rebus inter ipsos & Britannos eo tempore gestis scriptum posteritati reliquerint, (nam quæ post Christum Christum cognitum de primis Saxonum victoriis scripta sunt, ex historia per ora vulgi & accepta, & chartis tradita sunt) nec Britanni, tot bellis attriti, operam scribendi iustam ullam historiæ impenderint. Tantum exstant fragmenta quædam Gildæ, monachi Bannochorensis, Britannos potius velliantis, exagitantis, lancinantis, quam ullo virtutum calculo adprobantis, usque adeo ut conductus ad male dicendum rhetor videatur. Hoc pacto res Britannica obscura per calamitatem bellorum relicta est. Bardi soli musicis numeris, & illustri nobilium memoriæ conservandæ studebant. Canebant illi ad lyram heroum facta inclyta. Profuit hoc studium mirifice cognitioni, tanquam per manus posteritati traditæ. Unde equidem factum est, ut Arturii quoque maximi nomen, fama, gloria utrunque conservarentur. O factum bene!

Devicerat Anglorum gentem, Superis id permittentibus, Guilielmus Nortomannus, & jam imperium Angliæ pervenerat ad Henricum, ejus appellationis secundum, nepotem ex Matilde filia Henrici Belloclerici, filium vero Galfredi Plantagenistæ Andegavensis. Hic fines imperii prorogare modis omnibus studens ad Hiberniæ quoque regnum animum adjecerat. Richardus Claranus, Comes Strigulienfis, propter Vagam fluvium, vir & natalibus, fortunis, ac virtute splendidissimus, petierat ante, à Deronutio, Lageniæ regulo, rogatus, Hiberniam: qua expeditione tam fortiter se gessit, ut, proturbatis, fufis, ac victis regulo obaudientibus, famam & gloriam immortalem, ac, si hoc quicquam ad rem pertinet, Fol. 26. b. opes etiam sibi comparaverit, accepta in uxorem Eva, Deronicii filia, & ex asse herede. Senferat Henricus rex Richardi Strigulienfis successus, & sive ejus invidabat gloriæ, seu, quod verisimilius est, prædam tam opimi regni ambiebat, interdixit, proposito interim non contemnendo præmio, Richardum Hiberniæ imperio. Prudens ille, percognito Principis consilio, juri suo cedere. Interea Henricus, comparata exercitus parte non minima, in Cambriam pervenit reliquâ conscripturus, & inde recta à Menevia in Hiberniam, cujus spe potiundæ totus conflagrabat, navigare. Hæc dum agit, à Cambriæ regulis pro dignitate acceptus in convivii Bardos ad lyram concinenteis non sine voluptate, interprete usus, audit. Erat quidem unus inter reliquos cognitione antiqui-tatis doctissimus. Is laudes & inclyta Arturii facta, Henricum victorem futurum cum eo multis nominibus conferens, ita cecinit, ut aures regis mirifice & demulceret, & delectaret. Quo etiam tempore rex hoc præcipue à Bardo dedit, sepultum fuisse Arturium Avaloniæ in sacro cœmeterio. Unde munificentissime dimisso Bardo, tanti monumenti indice, egit cum Henrico Blesensi, alias Soliacensi, nepote suo, qui tum, aut paullo post ex abbate Bermundianæ insulæ Præfectus Glessoburgensis designatus est, ut diligentia exquisitissima sepulchrum in septo sacri cœmeterii perquireret. Tentatum est aliquoties, & tandem magna difficultate inventum, ultimis, ut quidam volunt, annis Henrici secundi, regis Angliæ, ut autem alii, quibus ego facile assentio, principio imperii Richardi primi, ejus filii. De hac reliquiarum cum indagatione, tum inventione scripsere inter ceteros multos duo præcipue, quorum unus erat monachus Glessoburgensis, sed nomine mihi ignotus: alter vero Sylvester Giraldus. Accessisset porro & Gulielmus Meildunensis, testis tertius utrisque conferendus, nisi mors eum de medio ante inventionem sepulchri senem abstulisset. Horum in primis testimonio utar, & in præsentia monachi anonymi verba huc adducam: “ Conditus hic fuit rex Arturius, sicut per regem Henricum secundum abbas Henricus didicerat, cujus consanguineus & dudum familiaris exstiterat. Rex autem hoc ex gestis Britonum, & eorum cantibus historicis frequenter audiverat, Arturium sepultum fuisse juxta vetustam ecclesiam in sacro cœmeterio inter duas pyramides quondam nobiliter sculptas ac in ejus memoriam, ut dicitur, erectas. Fuit autem rex Arturius sepultus valde profunde propter metum Saxonum, quos ipse frequenter expugnaverat, & quos ab insula Britannica prorsus ejecerat, & quos Mordredus, ejus nepos pessimus, contra ipsum primo revocaverat, ne in mortuum etiam vindicis animi vitio desævirent, qui totam jam insulam post mortem ipsius iterum occupare contenderant. Propter eundem etiam metum, in lapide quodam lato, tanquam ad sepulchrum, à fodientibus invento quasi pedum septem sub terra: quum tamen sepulchrum Arturii novem pedum inferius inventum fuerit. Reperta est etiam crux plumbea non superiori, sed potius inferiori parti lapidis inserta literas has inscriptas habens: HIC JACET SEPULTVS INCLYTVS REX ARTVRIVS IN INSVLA AVALONIA. Crucem autem extractam à lapide, dicto abbate Henrico ostendente, prospeximus, & has literas legimus. Sicut autem crux inferius lapidi inserta fuit; sic crucis literata pars, ut occultior esset, versus lapidem versa erat. Mira quidem industria & hominum tempestatis illius

 Imperatori, nos aliud sacrosanctæ doctorem memoriæ, & po-

Fol. 28. b. Nunc opportune prodit Sylvester Giraldus, ille oculatus inventarum reliquiarum Arturii testis, & calculum his verbis suum commode apponit: "Hujus autem corpus, quod quasi raldo, vel his non admodum dissimilia repetere, legat ejus librum, Speculum videlicet ecclesiasticum, ubi duo hujus ma-teriæ capita elucent. Interim hic habeo quod me tenet dubium. Nam Giraldus adfirmat, sepulchrum quercinum fuisse, quod ut falsum esse non statim pronuncio; ita insinuabo ea, quæ mihi contrarium vehementer suadeant. Primum al-norum ingentium numerus, ibidem soli propitia quadam natura excrescentium. Tum præterea Avalonianos tam ignaros rerum naturalium non fuisse puto, ut quercum crederent diuturniorem futuram in subhumida terra, quam alnum aquati-cam, & loci incolam. Qui de arboribus scripsere humidiuscula loca alnis & ulmis producendis lubenter attribuunt. Fol. 29. b, Superest & scrupulus alter, qui, si ego quicquam recte judico,

 excussas semel error potius, quam scrupulus plane videbitur.
 Confirmat Giraldus, inventum fuisse Arturii sepulchrum inter duas pyramides in sacro Avaloniæ cœmeterio, in qua opinione, utpote testimonio antiquorum scriptorum confirmatus, & ego quoque sum. At tantum abest ut credam, quicquam in illis exsculptum, quod sepulchrum Arturii, id quod
 agit Giraldus, indicet, exprimat, illustret, ut mihi nihil fiat minus verisimile. Si quicquam fuisset, quis illud quæso rectius aut plenius Gulielmo Meildunensi, cui uni elucubratas eorun-dem tum imagines, tum inscriptiones debet posteritas omnis, explicuisset? At ille ibi ne Gry quidem de Arturio, alias ab eo accurate collaudato. Est equidem conjectura probabilis, Giraldum penitus ignorasse quid inscriptionum pyramides
 continerint, quum dicat literas præ antiquitate deletas.
 Quin Giraldum, virum alioqui sane doctum, & magnum ve-tustæ cognitionis helluonem, omitto, alia, nec inutili provo-catus cura: nempe ut inventum Arturii sepulchrum non modo duorum, quos supra nominavi, suffragio, verum numero scriptorum justo confirmem, stabiliam, denique tanquam ratum persuadeam. Quoque id commodius fiat, puto conve-nire caussæ, ut singula illustrium virorum, serie quadam expedita & lucida, testimonia altius repetam. Qua parte Claudius, homo Gallus, ut lector intelligat fidem inventi sepul-chri vel ad externos integram pervenisse, abunde magnus testis erit.

Nam obiit Henricus secundus, rex Angliae, circa annum à Christo nato millesimum centesimum nonagesimum, & inventum est sepulchrum primis annis imperii Richardi ejus filii, Chronica Perforana hæc referunt: "Anno D. 1191. sepulchrum inclyti regis Arturii "apud Glasconiam, cruce plumbea super pectus nomen ejus "inscriptum declarante, repertum est." Joannes Fiberius, qui & vulgo Bever dictus, hæc brevissime, & in transcurso scribit: "Anno D. 1191. inventa sunt ossa Arturii Glesconiae." Matthæus Parisius, monachus Fani Albani ad ruinas Verolamii, urbis antiquissime Catieuchlanorum, sepulchri sic meminit: "Inventa sunt apud Glasconiam ossa famosissimi regis Arturii, "in quodam vetustissimo recondita sarcophago, circa quod "duæ antiquissimæ pyramides stabant erectæ, in quibus literæ "exaratæ erant, sed ob nimiam barbariem & deformitatem "legi non potuerunt. Inventa autem sunt hac occasione. Dum "enim ibi effoderent, ut quendam monachum sepelirent, qui "hunc locum sepulturæ vehementi in vita desiderio præoptaverat, quoddam reperiunt sarcophagum, cui crux plumbea "superposita fuerat in qua exaratum erat: HIC JACET INCLYTUS BRITONVM REX ARTVRIVS IN INSVLA AVALONIA SEPVLTVS. Locus autem ille, paludibus undique inclusus, olim insula Avalonis, id est, pomorum insula, est vocatus." Ut merito auctoritati Matthæi plurimum faveo, sic dolet, aliquot vuculas redundanteis ejus accessisse orationi in inscriptione. Illud certe, quod de monacho refert, audiui ante plane nunquam, nec usque adeo mihi fidem facit. Ranulphus Higedenus Castrensis meminit etiam Arturiani sepulchri. Alios data opera omitto, ne numerum testium in re tam liquido cognita, & recepta adfectasse videar.]

Translatio reliquiarum Arturii.

E M I N I, me in epistola dedicatoria de exuviis Arturii ter translatis locutum. Quarum quæ prima fuit, quia non satis perspicue per majus templum, quo scribunt principio traductas fuisse, apparet, aliquid apertius & lucidius lectori significabo. Didici à Glessoburgensibus monachis observatoribus antiquitatis sui cœnobii plane studio-studiosissimis, reliquias in magnam basilicam, quod opus in immensum beneficio Henrici Plantagenistæ excrevit, fuisse à sacro cœmeterio translatas; at non eo tunc loco, quo nunc sunt, positas. Porticus ad meridiem est, & sacellum, quo itur in gazophylacium, Hic affirmabant ossa aliquandiu quievissè. Deinde iterum translata fuisse in presbyterii sinus medios: qua temporis intercapedine novum, sublime, magnificum sepulchrum ex marmore nigro, quale Lydium esse videmus, insolita quidem arte, & ingenio tum excisum, tum compactum est, de quo una cum translatione jam scribere supervacaneum sane esset, quando capite præcedenti, de invento Arturii tumulo, ea comparent suo ordine omnia. Ad tertiam igitur nostra se convertat oratio, quæ tempore Eadueardi Longi, regis Angliæ, non modo maximi laudatoris, verum etiam admiratoris, peneque cultoris Arturianæ famæ, facta est, relictis in sepulchro magnificentissimo, in quo prius conquiescebant, exuviis omnibus præter Regis & Reginæ crania, quæ iussit foris servari, gratum profecto nobilitati eo confluenti antiquitatis spectaculum. Utque nunc tam nobile Eadueardi, nunquam satis laudati, facinus æternitate gaudeat, referam singula, huc pertinentia, ex archivis Glessoburgensis monasterii fidelissime desumpta, quorum & auctor fuit idem monachus Glessoburgensis, cui cura ardentissima inerat Arturium iustis celebrare præconiis, & res ab eo gestas fide integra posteritati commendare. Non defuit scriptori ordo lucidus, aut ingenium: sed ætas illa nec Græcam, nec Romanam familiarem habebat eloquentiam. Qualiacunque ea sunt, ut ipse scripsit, ita ego ordine recitabo, illud interim opportune expendens, non quam elegantia, sed quam digna, & quam vera referat.

“ Anno D. 1276. Eadueardus rex, Henrici tertii filius,
 “ venit cum regina sua Glesconiam. Die vero Martis proxima

*Convulsio calumniarum temere adfirmantium
 Arturium non fuisse.*

HISTORICI certant, & adhuc sub judice lis est, quo tempore Arturius floruerit. Atque hoc certamen ita ex crevit & invaluit, ut scrupuli de uni versa historiæ fide, quæ ejus res gestas prædicat, lectorum fibris nunc hære
 ant. Quin hæc tam imbecillis est ca lumnia, ut accurata non egeat respon sione ulla. Valerius eum floruisse di cit tempore Zenonis imperatoris.
 Hector vero Boëthius Justiniani tempore, barbaris Italiam occupantibus. Denique alii alia scribunt. De tempore non admodum laboro, fuerit modo. Quanquam vel hinc tempus facile colligitur, videlicet ab imperio Aureliani Ambrosii, cu jus

jus & Paulus Diaconus mentionem facit. Dixerit forsitan aduversariorum aliquis, Quî factum est, ut Arturii non meminerit Paulus? Respondeo, aliud egisse Paulum, quam ut Britannos, à Romanis tantum non derelictos, anxie celebraret. Nihil interim detrahit dignitati Arturii, aut historiæ, quod ab eo non nominetur; quum interim bona pars nobilium orbis totius silentio prematur ab eodem. Illud magnum plane videtur habere momentum, quod Gildas, scriptor Britannus, nihil prorsus de Arturio scribat. Sunt qui citent Gildæ testimonium in ejus tum gratiam, tum laudem. Sed ille quidem fictitius est Gildas, & blattis, & tineis ad Isidis vadium in bibliotheca Maridunensi prædæ expositus. Gildas, à Polydoro editus, fragmentum indubie Gildæ veteris, sed mancum, luxatum, & mutilum, usque adeo, ut, si jam vitæ restitueretur, vix foetum agnosceret parens. Scripsisse eum libros constat titulo Cambreidos, inventos octuaginta & amplius abhinc annis in Hibernicis insulis, & in Italiam traductos. Ut sit historia Gildæ integra, quî potuit de Arturio quicquam recte tanquam oculatus testis pronuciare, quum ipsemet dicat, se natum fuisse anno Badonici belli, quod Arturii victoria, & quidem clarissima, teste Nennio, fuit? Hostis colligit, Gildas nullam prorsus Arturii mentionem facit, ergo non fuit. Arguta plane collectio, qualis & hæc: Gildas non meminit Arviragi, Lucii, aut Constantini Magni, proinde non fuerunt. O novum dialectices acumen! Et tamen hoc tam infirmo corroboratus, ut sibi quidem videtur, argumento, palmarium facile se adeptum arbitratur. Hoccine est Italicum acumen? Profecto jam ægre ulterius non patiar dici Ultra-montanus. Et plane.

Fol. 31. b.

Cælum, non animum, mutant, qui trans mare currunt.

Scio interim, quid Cambrici scriptores de Gildæ silentio, quantum ad Arturium pertineat, sentiant; videlicet Hocælum, Gildæ consanguineum, ab Arturio occisum, causam neglecti ejus nominis fuisse. Sed nolo huic inniti præsidio, bellum potius cum eo gesturus, quod hac labe suos Britannos ingratus, ac idem parum prudens, ne dicam impius, asperferit, "Britanni nec in bello fortes, nec in pace fideles." Nisi profecto viderer adfectui, aut stomacho indulgere, ipse in Britannomastigem ferrum, & quidem acutum animose stringerem. Sed impetum temperabo meum, aliunde propugnatores in medium fortissimos adducturus, ne adfectus vim fecisse meus alicui videatur. Sylvester Giraldus in Topographia Cambriæ, promittit responsurum se huic Gildæ calumniæ in Britannica Topographia, quem librum eum olim scripsisse non dubito, sed nostris temporibus nullo, quod ego sciam, loco exstat. Quid interim scribat secundo libro de

Cambrizæ descriptione in medium proferam. Sed quando Julius Cæsar, qui tantus erat quantus & orbis, sub Cassivallano duce

Territa quasitis ostendit terga Britannis,
Nunquid non fortes fuere? Quid etiam quando Bellinus & Brennus Romanum imperium suis addidere victoriis? Quid Helenæ nostræ filii imperatoris tempore Constantini? Quid Aurelii Ambrosii regno, quem & laudibus Paulus Diaconus effert? Et Arturii nostri famosi tempore quanti fuere?

Josephus Iscæ Domnoniorum alumnus in Antiocheide sic canit:

————— Inclita fulsit
Posteritas ducibus tantis, tot dives alumnis,
Tot fœcunda viris, premerent qui viribus orbem,
Et fama veteres. Hinc Constantinus adeptus
Imperium, Romam tenuit, Byzantion auxit.
Hinc Senonum duxior captiva Brennius urbe,
Romuleas domuit flammis victricibus arces.
Hinc & Sava satus, pars non obscura tumultus
Civilis, magnum solus qui mole soluta
Obsedit, meliorque fletit pro Casare murus.
Hinc celebri fato felici steruit ortu
Flos regum Arturus, cujus quum facta stupori,
Non micuere minus, totus quod in aure voluptas,
Et populo plaudente favus. Quæcunque priorum
Inspice: Pellæum commendat fama tyrannum;
Pagina Cæsareos loquitur famosa triumphos;
Alciden domitis attollit gloria monstros;
Sed nec pinetum coryli, nec sidera solem
Æquant. Annales Latios Graiosque revolve,
Prisca parem nescit, æqualem postera nullum
Exhibitura dies. Reges supereminet omneis
Solus, præteritis melior, majorque futuris.

Fol. 33. b.

Quam hæc non respondeant Gildæ titulis prudens lector abunde videt, & sentit laudes Arturii prius in medium adductas huic loco tam bene convenire, ut necesse pene habeam eas repetere, nullo, ut spero, meo vitio, vestra, si vere judico, lectores, voluptate plurima. Habent enim versus præcedentes suum genium, victurum quidem illum. Tum præterea concinnitate quadam apta, elegantia pura, majestate justa, ita terfis adblandiuntur auribus, ut decies repetiti, nisi me vehementer fallit meus adfectus, perplacebunt. Ponticus Virunnius, homo Italus, philobritannus tamen, Polydoro Italo merito iratus, hæc intonat: "O admirabile tunc genus "Britonum, qui eum" (Cæsarem intelligit) "bis in fugam "expulerunt, qui totum orbem submiserat occidentis! cui quasi totus mundus postea nequivit resistere, illi etiam fugati resistunt, parati mortem pro patria & libertate subire. Hinc ad laudem eorum canit Lucanus de Cæsare :-

" quasi

Territa quasitis ostendit terga Britannis."

Fol. 34. a.

Hic si multitudine testimoniorum potius, quam solida rei eritate niterer, possem & Joannis Annævillani versiculos ex Architrenio, libello argute canoro, de fortitudine Britannorum desumere. Sic enim importune in Britannorum justas laudes obstrepentium os præstructo ocluderem vallo. Sed videor mihi pluris, quam convenit, oblocutores istos facere. Dispereant, & invidia rumpantur sua, quando Britannicus honor per hujusmodi tenebriones nec stat, nec cadit. At interim, ne non satis promissi memor videar, rursus repeto harenam, vim argumentorum ab adversariis comparatam infirmaturus. "Scriptores," inquiunt, "Romani non fecerunt mentionem Arturii, quare verisimile est eum non fuisse." Si nihil sit verum, nisi quod ex Romana constet auctoritate, male consultum esset historiæ universi orbis. Infinita vis rerum memorabilium & nobilitatis pendet potius ab incolis oculatis domi testibus, quam ex incerta exterorum relatione. Romani autem universum pene orbem servum reddiderunt, & scriptores apud eos nati & educati sua facta vel admirabilia eloquentiæ innixi studio fecerunt. Ceterorum vero facta vel ita obscurabant, vel elevabant, ut nulla pene facerent. Agebatur enim ut elegantissime non autem verissime causam dicerent. Talia pingebant in chartis, qualia sperare potius à prudentissimis Ducibus, quam facta videre liceat. Nec mirum plane est, quod de Arturio nihil memoriæ prodiderint. Gothi eo tempore Italiam invaserant, & barbaries pro eloquentia invecsta, usque adeo, ut literis honor rarus, præmia rarissima decernerentur. Et res non per scriptores, sed per bellatores agebatur. Quare si quid certi de Arturio, illud potius à Britannicis scriptoribus qualibuscunque, quam ab infantia & ignorantia Romanorum, eo tempore non modo à scribendi functione declinantium, verum etiam de sua, relictis aliis rebus omnibus, calamitate, multis quotidie modis, irruente, cogitantium. Subinfert alius, vaniora esse in historia Arturii, quam ut à maturo & sapiente facile admittantur. Si de illa sentit, quæ à vulgo Italice, Hispanice, Gallice, & Anglice legitur. non admodum contendo. Quanquam meminerit æquus lector, idem factitatum & in historia circumforanea Caroli, Rolandi, Gotthofridi, Guidonis, & Bellovesi, ut alios omittam multos. Nec inde tamen eorum nomina, aut veræ fides historiæ, sublata. culis. Sic Hercules, sic Alexander, sic Arturius, sic Carolus laudati. At alia longe ratio est Arturianæ, quam ego complector, historiæ. Nam quæ non constant ratione temporum, quæ non sunt probabilia, quæ non subsidiaria auctorum fide cohærent, quæ non longo seculorum usu, & doctorum suffragio sunt recepta, & comprobata, non temere admitto. Fuit multis ab hinc annis magna contentio Graio auctori, ut opinor, Scalæ chronicorum cum hac calumniatorum turba. Illi objectus Beda, qui silentio magno Arturium præterit. Cui ille sic argute, severe, prudentur respondet: "Forſitan reputavit homo ſanctulus Principem ex adulterio natum. Fieri etiam potuit, ut, auditis aliquot Bardorum de eo vaticiniis, animum ab univerſa deſlexerit hiſtoria. Sed illa nec fidem addunt, nec adiungunt. Illud veriſſimum, Bedam, virum alioqui bonum & doctum, gloriam Britannici nominis non ſolum levem facere, ſed & contemnere quoque. Nam inter illos & Saxones de imperio Britannię agebatur. Romanus pontifex Anglo-ſaxones in imperio peſſime parto conſervare ſtudebat. Britanni hoc nomine male ejus capiti precari. Ille Saxones odio quodam rurfus in eos armare. Quas igitur laudes potuerunt Britanni à Saxonibus ſperare ſcriptoribus? Frigida plane, aut nullas. Adde huc, quod & Beda rerum ante tempora Gildæ Britannicarum ignarus ut plurimum erat: adeo ut nec coronarii operis trophæum ſpectabile ad Ambroſiam vel de fama noverit. Credibile eſt, calamitatem bellicam, quæ eccleſias una cum bibliothecis exhauſerat infinitis, clara vetuſtatis monumenta abraſiſſe. Unde ſcripturienti de antiquitate Britannica occultiſſima pleraque omnia. Sunt qui putent, multa in Armoricam tranſlata, quanquam & ab illa pauciſſima hac ætate ſperanda, præterquam quod in exemplaribus vetuſtiſſimis de vitis ſanctorum è Britannia eo commiſſariorum pauca exſtent, ſed quæ lucem obſcuris adferant." Gulielmus Parvus Brillendunensis in prologo hiſtoriæ ſuæ ſic fulminat: "Gulfredus hic dictus eſt, cognomen habens Arturii qui divinationum illarum nænias ex Britannica lingua tranſtulit, quibus, ut non fruſtra creditur, ex proprio ſigmento multa adjecit." Hæc ille per ſtomachum, & contemptum. At ego illi fruſtra creditur occinam vel perpetuo, niſi id rationibus potius, quam nudis probet verbis. Satis ſuperque ſcio, multas fabulas & vanitates per univerſam ſparſas eſſe Britannicam hiſtoriam. Sunt ibi tamen, ſi quis penitus inſpiciat, talia, quallia magno deſiderarentur antiquæ cognitionis incommodo, & quæ à Gulielmo lecta, potius quam intellecta, nullum præ ſe tulerunt commodum.  "Arturio & Merlino ad pascendum minus prudentium curio-
 "sitate homo ille scribendo vulgavit." Ut sexcenties ob-ganniat, fuit quidem Merlinus vir in rerum naturalium cogni-tione, & præcipue in Mathesi, vel ad miraculum usque eruditus : quo nomine Principibus ejus ætatis merito gratissimus erat, longeque alius, quam ut se putaret subjiciendum judicio alicujus cucullati, & desidis monachi. Sed Arturium, & Merlinum, illum fortiozem, hunc eruditiozem, quam ut plebis vel dicacitatem, vel importunitatem curent, omittam. Illud, quod monachus monacho etiam mortuo invidet, mihi iniquissi-mum videtur. Poterat Gulielmus Parvus majorem à vivis, quam mortuis sperasse victoriam. Hoc interim in lucro esse deputabat ferire non percussurum. At si quicquam manes de humanis rebus sciunt, persenserit adeo se non reportasse victoriam à Galfredo, præter æquum & honestum exagitatq, ut ejus de vulnere sibi perpetuum vulnus contraxerit & san-guinem. Nec est quod Urbinatem medicum adfuturum spe-ret, quum & ipse interim languidus periti cura vehementer indigeat. Superest & aliud vulnus, quo Gulielmus putavit se Galfridum vel jugulasse. Sic enim insurgit : "Nec unum
 "quidem archiepiscopum unquam habuere Britones." Hoccine apud Brigantes didicisti? Afferius Menevensis, olim Al-fredus Magni, regis Angliæ, præceptor, aliud me docuit his verbis in libro Annalium suorum : "Qui sæpe deprædabatur" (Hemeidum regulum intelligit) "illud monasterium, & pa-
 "ræciam S. Degwi, id est, Davidis, aliquando expulsi-
 "onem antistitem, qui in eo præessent, sicut & nobis archiepisco-
 "pum propinquum meum, & me aliquando expulit sub ipsis." Giraldus refert, & fide optima, Dubricium Iscanum archiepiscopum fuisse. Est enim Isca Demetarum urbs nobilissima & antiquissima propter ripas fluminis ejusdem nominis sita, quæ & Legionum civitas à Romanis dicebatur. Translata inde Meneviam dignitas, ubi sanctissimus, atque idem doctissimus David archiepiscopi enituit auctoritate. Sampson, clarissimæ vir memoriæ, archiepiscopus Menevensis, istericiam pestem fugiens, Armoricam petiit : unde origo Dolensis archiepiscopatus. A tempore autem Sampsonis usque ad Nortomannorum de Cambria victorias, episcopi Transabrini omnes tanquam à suffragiis consecrati sunt à Menevensi primatu suo, qui mordicus jus omne suum, cessante pallio, retinuit. Apparet etiam ex Dialogo Sylvestri Giraldis, Canonicus Menevensis tempore Davidis episcopi, qui Bernhardo succcessit, egisse cum Richardo Magno, Cantiorum archi-episcopo, coram Hugutione Cardinale, de Metropolitano suæ ecclesiæ jure, de quo & ipse Giraldis postea electus in episcopum

Fol. 36. b. episcopum Menevensem Romæ sollicitè tractabat. Atque, ut antiquiora repetam, Ptolemæus Lucensis, qui vitas Romanorum pontificum scripsit, in Eleutherio narrat, ut tres Britanniae Protoflamines conversi sint in totidem archiepiscopos. Londinum Trenovantum & Eboracum Brigantum hac indubie splendebant dignitate. Ubi igitur sedes tertia? ubi, nisi in Cambria? Qua parte, ut ego sileam, testis & quidem luculentus est Trittemius in Compendio annalium. An non pudeat Gulielmum Parvum præceptorem tam vana Polydoro discipulo, longe eo eruditiori, inculcasse? Ecce autem aliud ex alio malum. Acceptus error usque adeo multos jam infecit, ut vix ullo helleboro, etiam si Anticyram peterent, malum medicabile. Et tamen interim coguntur, nescio qua violenta auctoritate, de præceptore bene sentire. Duras esse res partes ego prædico. Præceptoribus profecto meis omnia elicia opto. At quum de veritate & fide causæ agitur, adfectus erga illos plane nullus, non certe si mox scirem eos capiundos esse mihi vel hostes omneis.

Peroratio.

Fol. 37. b. ARTENUS, lectores humanissimi, Arturium suis expressi coloribus, non sine diligentia, labore, ac studio denique propenso: at interim an pari eloquentia, gratia, & felicitate, candidorum juxta ac eruditorum sit judicium. Nam ego probe novi, quam mihi sit curta domi supellex: quo nomine nihil quicquam mihi vendico, temerarius plane & parum prudens si id committerem. Tantum volui in re honesta periculum ingenii facere, historiæ laboranti opem ferre, gloriam patriæ, invidia interceptam, & servam insidiis malevolorum, libertati candidè restituere. Scio futurum, ut insultent adversarii potentissimi. Vincant potentia, modo veritas nostra sit. Imitabor generosam palmam, quæ oneri pressa cedit nunquam. Sed neque in præsentia pro munere quicquam ambio. Adsit vestra humanitas, benevolentia, gratia, certe omnia adesse merito crediderim. Accedet una quoque ad cumulum dextera promptitudo, expedita alacritas, ignescens etiam per virtutem impetus non solum ad similia, verum ad majora quoque exhibenda, quæ doctas excitent aures, excitas longum detineant, detentas veluti torrente quodam voluptatis secum ad amœna deducant. Et hæc mihi omnia, vestro fretus candore auxilioque, in spem plane erectissimus facile polliceor.

polliceor. Vestra quidem mea tota quanta est Musa, nec alio usquam quam ad vos & publicam tendit utilitatem. Absurdum plebi servire, at vobis perpetuam præstare operam non procul à regno est, quale merito vel Alexandrino præferam. Quid enim ille amplius ex tantis opibus, fortunis, ditionibus sibi moriens integrum conservavit præter famam? Hanc, licet multis calculis exemplo inferiorem, per vos partam tamen ita sollicitè promovebo, ut noctes atque dies vestræ invigilet commoditati, ac tandem, excussis tenebris ignorantiae crassissimis quidem illis, lumen antiquitatis Britannicæ diffusis late radiis eluceat. Vivite & valete bonarum literarum fautores candidissimi.

ARTURIUS REDIVIVUS.

Optima spes rerum, mæstos solata Britannos,
 Sorte revicturum promisit, & omine læto,
 Ariurum, obscuro lucem qui redderet orbi.

 Hoc quoque veridici vates cecinere futurum:
 Martia cæruleos repetit sic palma Britannos.

Æquora

- Æquora constituit vastas cingentia terras :
 Aëra diffudit, imm, qui supereminet, ignem.
 Terra suos fructus parit, admirabile munus,
 30 Et natura virens pictis colludit in hortis.
 Hinc pascunt oculos flores varoque nitore.
 Nec sic contenti tales emittere formas
 Spirant ambrosium quid nescio, nectar & illud.
 Spiritus exhalat, suavem quoque reddit odorem;
 35 Et bifores refovet confragrans gratia nâres.
 Quid nunc commemorem sylvas, saltusque ferarum,
 Insinuemve choros avium, quæ carmina fundunt ?
 Ista canet queruleis modulis philomela canora,
 Cujus in arguto sic adsonat ore Camœna,
 40 Mulceat ut sylvas resonas, cœlumque supremum.
 Ecquid pontus habet, salis qui perfluit undis ?
 Squamigeros pisces fovet arduus, inter & illos
 Corpora lunantem delphinum lubrica primum
 Constituit, merito, refluus quod concitus undis ?
 Pag. III. 45 Altius insultet, vivasque exhauriat auras,
 Et sit præterea puerorum notus amator,
 Denique quod melicos concentus diligit omneis.
 Forsitan Henricus tulit hinc Valesius ille
 Dulce decus Galli præclaræ insignia famæ,
 50 Egregilque sui titulum coghominis altum.
 Aër me repetit, liquido qui candet in orbe,
 Atque potens ignis, qui vitam, quique calorem
 Subsidio quodam confert sua munera largus.
 Hic mea non paritur jam longum caussa recessum:
 55 Et, quæ præcedunt, æterni dona Tonantis
 Magna fuere quidem, recteque monentia plebem,
 Ut memores illi complerent iussa Magistri,
 Ne majestatis læsæ per crimina nota
 Supplicium ingrueret, meriti quoque poena flagelli.
 60 At collata novis, quæ fulgent, quæque sequuntur
 Exemplis solidis, adsit modo censor acutus,
 Parva videbuntur. Divinus spiritus ultro
 Obtulit ingenium vivum, fontesque perennes,
 Unde & defluerent rationis commoda magna,
 65 Auxilio quorum virtus constaret amica.
 Ad cumulum rediit Divi indulgentia Patris,
 Promittitque suis amplissima munera Pacis,
 Dum recolunt terras, cœlumque deinde cunctis,
 Hac lege indicta acri, ut quilibet illius alma
 70 Mandata observet noctesque diesque fidelis.
 Quare tanta Dei quum sit clementia nostri,
 O memores niveo reddamus pectore grates,

Omneque fidereum pulset vox consona cœlum.
 Et quoniam Pax nunc, post tristia fulmina belli,
 Post tonitru horrifonum, quale ante hac audiit orbis
 Nullum, post miseras sedes, clademque frequentem
 Per mare, per terras factam, collucet abunde,
 Aureus ac tenebras veluti sol pellit iniquas,
 Conspicuumque refert divino numine lumen
 Optatum toties votis, & supplice mente,
 At vix speratum, contraria Marte parante :
 Mars periit victus, discedite tela cruenta ;
 Fulminei vomitus sileant, strepitusque sonori.
 In lucem rediit tandem Pax optima rerum.
 Salve festa dies, quo non illustrior ulla
 Splenduit à Christo nato, quo tempore fausto
 Angelicus cecinit chorus ille sua suavia plane
 Carmina, synceram bene constituentia Pacem.
 Queis ego jam niveis signem de more lapillis
 Nomina clara tui generis Virgo inclyta Virgo ?
 Aut quibus eximie vernis tua tempora fertis
 Festa modis multis iusta cum laude coronem ?
 Purpureæ, mea cura, rosæ lucere serena
 Fronte tua cupiunt, & lætos addere honores.
 Palladius ramus vehementer poscit id ipsum.
 Signa ferax præ se fert tutæ Pacis oliva.
 Illa triumphalis laurus, victoribus olim
 Cognita, rite tuum caput exornabit amœnum.
 Convicit rigidum tua sic præsentia Martem,
 10 Ut profugus tandem, spe nulla parte favente,
 Sarmaticam gentem, Geticamque reviseret illæ.
 Quam vellem nitidis tua pingere facta tabellis ?
 In medio Dea celsa foro vel tota niteres,
 Ut convecta suis pulcherrima Cynthia plaustris.
 15 Artificem sed me pictorem nulla venustas
 Constituit felix, vel docta Camœna poetam.
 Mellissimum ista perunt Nasōnem, gloria cujus
 Sidereis totum radiis dispersa per orbem.
 Hæc eadem poscunt Pontani lumina clari,
 20 Qui decus omne nitet Musarum dulce canentium.
 Hic ego nunc inter positus saxumque sacrumque
 Distineor, mea mens & pendula fluctuat usque.
 Ut desint iustæ vires, tamen ipsa voluntas
 Me jubet, hortatur, monitisque impellit amicis,
 25 Ne piger officii videar desertor honesti
 Accumulare tuas deducto carmine laudes.
 Non subterfugiam, lapis atque movebitur omnis,
 Ut tua laus vireat latæ per elimata terræ

Bacchylides cecinit sacer in Pœanibus ista:
"Maxima quæque refert mortalibus aurea Pacis
"Progenies." Pacem commendat Musa Philonis,
Hæc & commemorat: "Nunc id quod perplacet, ipsa 90 "Inveni. Confer quæ sunt tua munera large,
"Nuptiolas, prolem, cognatos, divitiasque,
"Corporis & sani vires, vinumque suave."
Hactenus Aonii celebrarunt carmine Pacem
Sideream vates. Succedent moxque Latini,
95 Officii memores, almæ & præconia Pacis
Candida mellifluis resonabunt vocibus apte.
Sulmonense decus Naso, (qui floruit illo
Tempore, quo vasti felix Octavius orbis
Imperium tenuit tranquilla pace quietum),
100 Hæc cecinit plane dignissima carmina cedro
Illic, tersa dies ubi fastos Musa celebrat:
"Frondebis Attiacis comptos redimita capillos
"Pax ades, & toto mitis in orbe mane.
"Dum defunt hostes, desit quoque causa triumphi:
205 "Tu ducibus bello gloria major eris."
Insuper hos versus vates meditarur ibidem:
"Sub iuga bos veniat, sub terras semen aratas:
"Pax Cererem nutrit, Pacis alumna Ceres."
Rurfus & in libris de arte hæc conscribit amandi:

Pag. IX.

- 210 " Candida Pax homines, trux decet ira feras."
 Ingerit & se nunc facunda Camæna Tibulli :
 " Interea Pax arva colat, Pax candida primum
 " Duxit araturos sub juga curva boves.
 " Pax aluit vites, & succos condidit uvæ, 215 " Funderet ut nato testa paterna merum.
 " Pace bidens vomerque vigent, at tristia duri
 " Militis in tenebris occupat arma situs."
 Sillius Italicus canit hæc : " Pax optima rerum
 " Quas homini novisse datum. Pax una triumphis 220 " Innumeris potior. Pax custodire salutem
 " Et cives æquare potens." Sic Sillius ille.
 Sunt oratorum etiam monumenta, venustant
 Quæ vel compositæ sublimia nomina Pacis.
 Isocrates rhetor, cum dulcis, tum bonus, acri
 225 Concussit bellum sceleratum fulmine linguæ.
 Causa quidem nota est. Pacis fuit ille patronus
 Innocuæ, didicit pius & servire clienti ;
 Quam sic à teneris dilexit gratior annis,
 Virginis ut coleret præsentia numina divæ.
 230 Alter & orator scripsit, fuit ille Latinus,
 Talia, vir totus prudens, de pace togata :
 " Parvæ res crescunt, modo sit concordia præfens.
 " Dissipat infelix discordia maxima quæque."
 Nil aliud verbis docuit concordibus istis,
 235 Munera quam Pacis mediis complectitur ulnis.
 Præterea & numerus doctorum applaudit amicæ
 Paci sed longo deducere singula filo
 Tempus non patitur breve nunc. Succinctius ergo
 Musa suas partes præstabit, nec tamen illa
 240 Transiliet temere synceræ pacis honores.
 Bellum tristis hyems, sit fas mihi dicere verum,
 Omnia corrumpit, veluti populator iniquus.
 Nec sperare finit quicquam, quod dulce futurum
 Utile quodve fiet. tanta indignatio crevit.
 245 Veris at effigies Pax est ipsissima læti,
 Ac sperare jubet felix felicia semper,
 Rebus & humanis affulget ut Hesperus illa.
 Cultores repetunt agros, hortique renident
 Floribus eximie pictis. Pecudes & opime
 250 Pascuntur. Villæ passim ædificantur in agris.
 Oppida mox instaurantur collapsa, suisque
 Hinc exstructa locis ornantur, & aucta profuse
 Infolitum ostentant per lumina clara nitorem,
 Visque salutaris legis viget undique tota.
 255 Cognitione valens vera respublica floret,

Religioquo

- Religioque suis innititur alta columnis.
 Urbibus in mediis ipsis æquumque bonumque
 Prævalet, ac morum candor generosior omnis.
 Porroque artificum prudens industria late
 10 Incalet, & tenuis paupertas sentit amicum
 Subsidium. Viduas defendit cura patroni,
 Splendidior solito & collucet divitis aula.
 Oria felicem reddent tranquilla senectam,
 Vilis & annonæ pretium non comprimet ullum.
 15 Gloria vera pios ornabit laudibus omnes
 Emeritis, pœnasque licentia prava malorum
 Sentiet illa graveis, scelera & deflebit amare.
 Amissus juvenum bello grex restituetur:
 Virgo frequens nubet delecto chara marito,
 20 Et numerosa cohors reparabit damna cadentum,
 Pacatusque maris refluui furor improbus ille
 Mercatoris opes domino sua scœnora reddet.
 Denique sedulitas studiorum clara bonorum,
 Eloquii decus fama super æthera notum,
 25 Ingenium quotquot felix ostendit & artes,
 Nunc depressa modis multis magnisque ruinis,
 Ad libertatem niveam spe freta redibunt.
 Annuat his votis Pax officiosa, benigna,
 Candida, & extollat nitidæ Virtutis alumnos.
- 80 Hæc ego concinui divinæ Pacis amator,
 Quali acunque mei commensurans gaudia cordis.
 Te Superi faciles conservent maxime Regum
 Henrice, Eduardumque tuum. Flos inclytus ille
 Nobilium decus & puerorum gloria prima.
 85 Conservent etiam Dii magni fœdera longum
 Pacis oliviferæ, ut tu clarissime Victor
 In terris vigeas Francisco junctus amico,
 Gallorum Domino summo, Regique potenti.
 Sic utriusque suis florebit fama nitelis,
 90 Lætus & applausum populus dabit ore canoro.

ILLUSTRIUM VIRORUM,
JOANNE LELANDO
Antiquario Auctore.

[Numeri in margine collocati Editionis primæ paginæ designant.]

Ad Illustrissimum Henricum Octavum, Regem Angliæ, Frantiæ, & Hiberniæ incomparabilem.

Pag. 1.

Egia quum lætis floreret Roma triumphis,
Esset & in pretio lingua Latina suo :
Lauriger Augustus Vates ornare studebat
(Ut decuit) Flaccum Virgiliumq; suos.
Illius hinc crevit spatiosum fama per orbem ;

Fama quidem nullo deperitura die.

Ergo si nomen valet immortale parare,

Officiis doctos excoluisse Viros :

Perge laboranti, Rex, nunc succurrere Musæ,

Quæ pleno laudes concinet ore tuas.

Ad Philomelam.

DUlcia quæ vasto meditaris carmina saltu
Vocibus argutis, huc, Philomela, veni.
Utque diem radiis Phœbus patefecerit alam,
Somnia nectareis discute vana modis.
Hic locus est inter densas gratissimus umbras,
Qui musco totus luxuriante viret.
Hunc cole, multifoni concentus nota magistra,
Auriculasque tuo carmine pascere meas.
Sic tibi contingant longæ solamina vitæ,
Et fœtus simileis gignere sæpe tui :
Sic pedicas auceps nullas tibi tendat avarus,
Viscoso pennas impediatur luto.

Synchrifis

Synchrisis cygnorum & poetarum.

CUM niveis ipsos cygnis conferre poetās
 Illum qui studuit digna notasse puto.
 Candidus est toto concentor corpore cygnus,
 Pectora sunt vasis candidiora nive.
 Lætus olor gelidis fluviis gaudere videtur,
 Gaudet & illimi fonte poeta suo.
 Dulcia Lædæus modulatur carmina cygnus,
 Quum flores Zephyri lenior aura fovet :
 Purpureo vates quum vere Favonius inflat,
 Arguto resonum fundit ab ore melos.
 Viminea cygnus casula contermina ripis
 Sæpe sub ardenti sidere testa petit :
 Frigora vicinæ sylvæ torrentibus undis
 Æstivo vates tempore captat ovans.
 Quis neget albenteis cygnos nunc atque poetās
 Convenisse suis undique nominibus ?

Pag. 2.

In effigiem Temporis.

Effigiem cujus referat, dic, ista tabella,
 Quam pinxit vivo docta colore manus ?
 Temporis. Occipiti cur calvo ? Certior ut sis,
 Prensandam frontem Temporis esse docet.
 Cur gerit has alas ? rapido fugit ocyor Euro,
 Ni caveas, rebus prospicialque tuis.
 Cur falcem dextra curvam gerit, oro, minaci ?
 Illa omneis hujus demetit orbis opes.
 Sola potest aciem divina retundere virtus :
 Hanc recolas, nec erit falx metuenda tibi.

Ad musicam testudinem.

TU mihi curarum testudo dulce levamen.
 Quum canis, articuli sollicitata meis :
 Tu mihi solamen studiorum suave meorum,
 Assiduo quoties lassâ Camœna libro.
 Tu mihi composito ad requiem bene dulce juvamen,
 Comprimat ut lenis lumina fessâ sopor.
 Perge, precor, dominum modulis mulcere canoris,
 Per me perpetuum sic tibi nomen erit.

Pag. 3.

Commigratio bonarum literarum in Britanniam.

CAna bonas passim cantavit fama Camœnas
 Alpinas nunquam transfiliisse nives.
 Ut Pandionias facundia liquit Athenas,
 Venit ad Italicos Musa polita lares.
 Fronte tamen salva dicam nunc, audiat ipsa
 Roma licet, Musas transfiliisse nives.

Nam penitus toto divisis orbe Britannis
Terfa Camœna dedit, verba rotunda loqui.
Illa vetus linguis florebat Roma duabus,
At linguis gaudet terra Britannia tribus.

Ad Cygnum, Joviani Pontani cultorem.

Pontani ingenium soles deferti,
Cygne, & ter nivea notare gemma.
Pontani numeros soles fluentem
Et venam nivea notare gemma.
Pontani hinc veneres, & hinc lepôres,
Gemma ter nivea soles notare.
Te gemma nivea notent venusti
Omnes, candiduli, elegantiores,
Cultorem refoni chori, meum qui Pontanum niveo notes lapillo.

Ad Auroram.

Purpureis venias invecsta Aurora quadrigis,
Cernere da vultus ô mihi Diva tuos:
Pescimur, & nos hîc studiorum commonet alma
Uranie, roseo tincta colore veni.

Instauratio Britannicæ antiquitatis.

Doctorum genitrix fœcunda Britannia, vatem
Ne te pœniteat me celebrare tuum.
Nam mihi si vitæ paucos produxerit annos
Juppiter, & dederit prosperitate frui;
Quæ modo sunt crassis monumenta obducta tenebris,
Restituam Phœbo lucidiora tibi.

Pag. 4.

In effigiem Thomæ Dunovedi, ad Brienum Tuccam, equitem Anglum, Serenissimo Regi, Henrico Octavo, à Thesauris.

Ingens gloria Martius Britannæ
Gentis Dunovedus, feræ cruento
Qui prôh! naumachiæ dolor tumultu
Inter fulmineos cadebat ignes,
Inter cœruleas peribat undas,
Spirat, Tucca, tua elegante villa,
Pictus dexteritate tam absoluta,
Vivo vertice ut invicem capillos
Discretos vigili putes labore;
Ut nunc hinc oculos putes & illinc
Alterna subito rota moveri;
Et plenas tepido cruore venas
Toto corpore fuscitare vitam.
Quid quod mirificis modis venustet

Illustrem tabulam coronis alma ?
 In qua tot veneres, tot & lepôres,
 Tot blandæ illecebræ, tot & colores,
 Cum grata novitate suave rident,
 Quot promittere noluisset unquam
 Clarus Parrhæsius, nec ipse Zeuxis.

Ad Zachariam jurisconsultum.

DOctis, Zacharia, artibus refulgens,
 Qui Mufas colis & levcis choreas,
 Parnassum celebrem tuum relinque,
 Nec spernas veteris casae amici :
 Sint quamvis humiles, tuæ tamen sunt,
 Virtutesque tuas canunt lubenter.
 Ad lusus tibi cognitos venito,
 Ornatus viridi caput corona,
 Ac dextra tremula lyram canoram
 Pulsa. Quis numeris neget valere
 Te, quem plectiger ipse Phœbus olim
 Omneis perdocuit modos canendi ?
 Sed tu desine plura nunc Thalia :
 Phœbi Zacharias alumnus intrat.

Pag. 5.

In effigiem Andreae Smythi, Christophorum filium complectentis.

Purpleis pinxit fucis quam clarus Apelles,
 Christophorum jungit viva tabella patri.
 Mollibus ingenuum puerum complectitur ulnis
 Smythus, Apollinei gloria nota gregis.
 Hoc quasi sentiret, radiantia lumina blande
 Volvit, amor patris delictumque, puer.
 Gaudet & amplexu chari puer ipse parentis,
 Cujus in optato luditur usque sinu.

Ad Cygnum judicem.

Stabit judicio cadetque semper
 Nostrium Cygne tuo diserte carmen.
 Quare si niteat suis figuris,
 Alma inter biferi roseta Pesti,
 Atque inter violas suaviores
 Felix perpetuo thoro fruatur.
 At si purpurco vacet colore,
 Pascat loripedis Dei caminos.

Votum ad Libertatem.

NON in Erythræo fulgentes littore conchas,
 Aut molleis Arabum postulo avarus opes.

Non ego monticulos argenti posco dolosi :
 Candida Libertas, tu Dea sola veni.
 Quid juvat aurata circumdare tempora mitra ?
 Quid Veneta corpus cingere veste juvat ?
 Puniceo vel quid caput insignire galero ?
 Candida Libertas, tu Dea sola veni.
 Sceptringeri valeant reges, gemmataque ferta,
 Et valeat splendor (nobilis Aula) tuus.
 Pictarum valeat Nympharum cultus adulter ;
 Candida Libertas, tu Dea sola veni.
 Quicquid habet rutila dives Pactolus arena,
 Cedat, & auriferi splendida ripa Tagi.
 Cedite telluris sudantia munera vastæ ;
 Candida Libertas, tu Dea sola veni.

Pag. 6.

Ad Stellam Virginem.

STella, serenato color est tibi talis in ore,
 Qualis mixta sient lilia quando rosis.
 Lumina sideribus certant, auroque capilli :
 Mollia puniceo murice labra rubent.
 Maxima naturæ possunt hæc munera dici,
 Casta tamen quiddam mens tua majus habet.
 Virgineum serva tam puræ mentis honorem,
 Sic niteas alto lucida stella polo.

Immortalis Linacrus.

DEferet ante suos modulos philomela canoros,
 Nullus & in vitreo flumine piscis erit :
 Nullus ager verno producet tempore flores,
 Quam pereat nomen, docte Linacre, tuum.

Natale solum.

MAntua Virgilium genuit, Verona Catullum,
 Patria Londinum est urbs generosa mihi.

Ad Mariam Henrici Octavi, regis Angliæ, filiam.

Quicquid habent Charites niveæ, Leneia proles,
 Musarum quicquid candida turba novem :
 Quicquid habet Pithô, quicquid fecunda Minerva,
 Denique virtutis femina quicquid habet :
 Non minus est in te (Maria illustrissima rerum)
 Conspicuum, quam sol, qui sine nube micat.

In reditum amici.

Pag. 71

SPargite formosas violas, mea cura, Napææ,
 Spargite Pestanis lilia mixta rosis.
 Vos lætæ choreas Charites jam ducite festas,
 Sollicitaque novo carmine Phœbe lyram.

Adfis

Adsis lætitiæ pater, & spumantia musta
 Quæ tua sunt larga munera funde manu.
 Namque domum rediit longum expectatus amicus :
 Fausta mihi numeris omnibus ista dies.

Ad Gulielmum Gunteriden, amicam fideliss:

O Quantum illa dies semper mihi fausta colenda,
 Quæ studio junxit pectora nostra pari !
 Nam tunc Pymplæum montem conscendere primum
 Conabar, sacris tingere & ora vadis.
 Tunc etiam Aonios montes lustrare parabam,
 Nominis ac urbem, Pallas, adire tui.
 Denique tunc doctum Phœbum, doctasque sorores
 Vidi Aganippææ margine lætus aquæ.
 Omnia quæ tibi nunc, Gulielme, accepta referre,
 Nostra cupit plena Calliopeia tuba.

Ad Cygnum, de commigratione Musarum ad Grantanam Academiam.

D Oſtiloquas constat peramœnum Heliconæ sorores
 Cum duce laurigeri deseruisse chori.
 Candide sed tandem scis quo nunc Cygne migrarint ?
 Recta ad Grantanas, tecta diferta, scholas.

Ad munificentissimum Henricum Octavum, Angliæ Regem.

D II tibi dent omnes, Rex illustrissime, parvum
 Henricum, referat qui patris ora sui.
 Dii tibi dent patri patriæ, feliciter illa
 Vivere Cecropii secula longa senis.
 Dii tibi dent fidei tutori, Maxime princeps,
 Ut faveant votis optima quæque tuis.
 Qui facis, ut faveant, fulvo regaliter auro,
 Assidue votis optima quæque meis.

Laus historiæ.

H istoriæ quicumque cupit cognoscere laudes
 Eximias, nostro carmine doctus erit.
 Quod sol æthereo præstat pulcherrimus orbi,
 Id nostris præstat usibus historia.

Ad Camœnam, ut Martialem salulet.

I Nunc Pegaseo gradu Camœna,
 Et docti pete tecta Martialis.
 Scis tu certo ubi sint ? viamque nosti ?
 Volsægi ædibus adjacent potentis,
 Qui nunc vel Tyrio relucet ostro.
 Illic tu facilis fores modesto
 Pulsabis digito, rogans, patronum

Ut paucis veterem cliens salutes,
 A curis modo pervacet severis
 Si tunc annuerit ferenus ille,
 Intrabis. Pudor invenustus absit :
 Ac de more statim meo salutem
 Dices nomine plurimam. Docebis
 Ultra, cur ego miserim te ad illum
 Plane magnificæ virum nitelæ :
 Nempe hinc ut liquido meos amores
 Erga tam veterem probarem amicum
 Integros, niveos fuisse semper.
 I nunc Pegaseo gradu Camœna,
 Et docti pete tecta Martialis.

E Græco epigrammate, in laudem Homeri.

Ignibus astra suis Lunamque obfuscant & ipsam
 Auricomus medio Phœbus in axe nitens.
 Non secus hymnisonos vates obscurat Homerus,
 Illustris claro lumine Pieridum.

Pag. 9.

In effigiem amoris.

Zeuxis in illustri tabula formabat Amorem
 Pictor, quo nullus clarior orbe fuit.
 Purpureique botri teretes superaddidit uvas,
 Aligeri nivea munera digna manu.
 In quibus ars sic est vivos imitata colores,
 Luserit ut corvum præda petita nigrum.
 Pinxisset puerum si quam feliciter uvas,
 Omni perfectum parte fuisset opus.

Ad Thomam Lupsetum.

SUNT qui pectore postulent avaro
 Thesauros Phrygii Midæ nitentes.
 Sunt qui Nirea maximis venustum.
 Votis ore petant referre pulchro.
 Sunt qui Cæsareum ambient favorem,
 Munus tam breve blandientis Aulæ.
 Sunt & qui ambrosiis gulæ placere
 Affectent dapibus, meroque dulci.
 Ast ter magnum ego deprecor Tonantem,
 Lupsete, ut liceat mihi petenti
 Tecum vivere, commorique tecum,
 Tam noto & niveo undecunque amico.
 Queis nunc si annuerit meis secunda
 Sors votis, titulum invidebo nulli
 Quantumvis (mihi credito) superbum.

Successus

Successus studiorum suorum.

ARtes me septem docuit celeberrima Granta,
 Et Schola quæ clarum de Isidæ nomen habet.
 Parhisi at Musas mihi persuasere colendas,
 Hinc variis cecini carmina mista modis.

Pag. 10.

Ad Thomam Houardum, Principis Icenorum filium.

QUI genus Herôo clarum de sanguine ducis,
 Hos lege versiculos, candide Thoma, meos.
 Alter ab undecimo postquam te viderat annus,
 Ingenium excoluit nostra Thalia tuum.
 Nomine quo faveam quantum tibi, nulla referre
 Lingua quidem, sed nec scribere arundo valet.
 O! utinam posses, diis concedentibus ipsis,
 Cernere, quæ nostro pectore clausa latent.
 Tunc recte scires, quo te præceptor alumnum
 Prosequar eximio semper amore meum.
 Pervia sed quoniam mortalia pectora non sunt,
 Sint animi testes hæc mea dicta pii.
 Siquid & officii nos te præstamus amando,
 Esse rogo tantum par in amore velis.

Ad Catullum.

SUNT qui admirantur, sunt qui venerantur, & usque
 Carmina suspiciunt, docte Catulle, tua.
 At mihi Musa quidem sic est blandita Marulli,
 Amplius ut dubitem num tuus esse velim :
 Et mihi sic placuit Pontani Musa disertis,
 Hic ego dispeream, si tuus esse velim.

Lucretiæ pudicitia.

QUUM foderet castum formosa Lucretia pectus,
 Telaque purpureus tingeret atra cruor :
 Tunc exempla dabat nullos moritura per annos,
 Quam non mens tacto corpore tacta fuit.

Ad Famam.

DIC tandem mihi, Fama, dic amâbo,
 Num donare velis meas Camœnas
 Grato munere longioris ævi.
 Non sum nescius hîc quidem venustas
 Illas esse parum : tuum favorem
 Qualescunque tamen petunt benigne.
 Quem si nunc dederis, novæ studebunt
 Formæ, ac purpureum induent colorem,
 Ut sint persimiles Catullianis,
 Ut sint persimiles Marullianis,

Pag. 11.

Ponta-

Pontanisque, fluentibus quidem illis
Musis, nostra quibus nihil videbit
Ætas pulchrius, elegantiusve.
Sed cur hæc ego curiosus inquam,
Quum sis diva satis tuapte sponte
Propensa hymnisonum beare vatem?

Applausus Posteritatis.

Aëra dum volucris, fluvios dum piscis amabit,
Applaudet numeris Musa Britanna meis.
Forsitan invidulis nimium sperasse videbor,
Opto candidulos inter habere locum.
Posteritas fileat, nullum sit in omine pondus,
Præsentī seculo mī placuisse fat est.

Ad Thomam Lupsetum.

Laus notissima temporum tuorum,
Lupsete, æquoreis frequens in ore
Facundo Venetis, & eruditis
Gallis, hic placidam parabis aurem
Dum scribit numeros tuus volanti
Lelandus calamo tibi dicatos:
Sint quamvis meritis tuis minores.
Tam sunt omnia, quæ facis, serena,
Ut nulla facula nitere nostra
Possint splendidiusve, fusiufve.
Artes in patriam bonas reducis,
Linguas restituis politiores,
Thesaurus veterum invehis librorum
Doctos, & recolis chorum disertum.
Interpres facilis Latina formas
Ex Græcis monumenta, & ex Latinis
Rursus Græca quidem labore grato,
Nec certe minus utili pioque.
Perge hac ire, precor, via, nec alto
Londino, patriæ tuæ, meæque
Clarus lumina tum feres minora,
Germano eloquii suo Novo quam
Como fulmine Plinius politus.

Pag. 12.

Ad Formosum, de liberalitate Nic. Odoualli.

Defuit ô! studiis nostris crescentibus aurum,
Munus at Odalli sustulit omne malum.
Ista prius faciles contemnent pectora Musas,
Et capient læto Gotthica verba sinu,
Illius hoc in me meritum quam oblivio magnum
Impia Lethæis mergere possit aquis:

Ad nobilem quandam juvenem.

CArmina bella canis, dulci fluitantia vena,
Quæ referunt dotes, ingeniumque tuum.
Fac simili pergas filo deducere versus,
Et lepidum cinget festa corona caput.

De Thermis Britannicis.

NOta Murotrigum calidis stat gloria thermis,
Quo nitet eximium flumen Avona loco.
Hic natura potens tepidos (miracula) fontes
Excitat, & quædam vis salientis aquæ est.
Crediderim venas vicinas sulphuris esse,
Nascitur unde latens perpetuusque tepor.
Et si quando latex ebulliat auctior, ater
Confurgit fumus, fœtor & inde gravis.
Tres numero fontes (memini si rectius) existant,
Regius, inter quos, nobile nomen habet.
Cinguntur muro: sedes quoque Regius offert
Excisas faxis sedulitate pia.
Calluit in medicis undis numerosa caterva,
Fracta salutifero & membra calore fovet.
Hic uranantum puerorum in margine fontis
Sperat denarios officiosa cohors,
Talia decantans: "Visne, hospes candide, nostra
" Uti nunc opera? turba parata sumus.
" Dives, & es largus, tua nunc patet atque crumena,
" Promittens nobis præmia læta mæcris;
" Hæc eadem poscunt fontes de more salubres,
" Hospitis extollunt munificamque manum.
" De meliore nota paucos nunc projice nummos,
" Undas in medias subsideantque graves;
" Nos tamen insultu facto scrutabimur ima:

Ad Musam suam, ut Christophorum Smythum salutet.

Christophoro multam Smytho dic, Musa, salutem,
 Quum dabis hos versus, munera grata, meos.
 Ille puer quamvis decimum vix computet annum,
 Exterfis loquitur verba Latina modis.

 Sic nostræ volui te commendare Camœnæ,
 Virtus laudata ut cresceret illa tua.

Ad Guilielmum Blondum, titulo Montjoii, illustrem.

Sequanicis mitto parvum tibi munus ab oris,
 Candida Pierii gratia, Blonde, chori.

Libertas placidæ mihi quietis:

Ad Justum, Paulinæ scholæ moderatorem.

Talis, qualis erat celebris illa
Olim quam extulit Hercules triumphans.

Ut se quisque putet sacri tulisse
Vatis nomina, gloriamque, & una

Lelandus multam mittit Ephœbe tibi.
Nec modo contentus solam misisse salutem,
Dona etiam studiis mittit & apta tuis :
Nempe hoc reticulum, nervoso stamine tensum,
Bissenas numero Sequanicasque pilas.
Tu, scio, gaudebis collato munere parvo,
Ac si misissem gemmea dona tibi.
Nec sine causâ equidem, si tandem judico recte,
Respondent annis munera nostra tuis.

Ad Briennum Tuccam, Equitem.

Virgilii carmen quod non violaverit ignis,

Hamis

Hamis prandiolum rotans aduncis,
 Aures lætus & arrigens acutum,
 Erectusque sedens statim reduxit
 Et caudam ad tremulum caput pilosam,
 Naturæ referens suæ latentem
 Certe nescio quam potentiam ; unde
 Et nomen proprium inditum eleganter.
 Illic scilicet oriens Pelasgo è
 Fonte, & significanter undecunque :
 Hinc exercet acutulos receptis
 Testis denticulos, opusque fervet :
 Fragmenta undique decidunt refracta,
 Testarum & cumulus cito fit ingens.
 Elugent sua præmia hæc puelli
 Sic sublata quidem, frequenter idque.
 Tunc viscum & pedicas, crucem tyranno
 Immiti, unanimes minantur omaes.
 Felix ille tamen fame repulsa
 Maturas coryli nuces recondit
 Cautus continuo horreis in ipsis :
 Illic arbor ubi incavata proffat,
 Securosque thoros suis alumnis
 Musco luxuriante præparavit.
 Libertatis erat sciurus iste
 Cultor perpetuus : sed (heu !) puellus
 Unus, fraudibus usus (heu !) malignis,
 Tam gratæ invidet illius quieti.
 Hic vero nemo omne curiosus
 Collustraverat, & dolo assuetus
 Compegit remoras, quibus miselli
 Vel collum implicet, aut pedes catenet.
 Ignarus laquei sciurus atri,
 Prædatum egreditur vagus per umbras
 Optatas, coryleta qua virescunt
 Et fructus reparant suos abunde.
 Nec quicquam timet : interim impeditus
 Et multum subito malo gravatus,
 Persentit pedicæ subesse fraudes.
 Contendit miseris modis retorta
 Vi dissolvere vincla, ibi tumultu
 At nil proficit, arctiusque tandem
 Irretitus & involutus omnem
 Servus spem projicit, doloque cedit.
 Præstructor videt, advenitque lætus,
 Et vinclis cito prædulam solutis
 Captæ colla feræ premit catena.

Hinc prudens animalculo puellus
 Tam molli & lepidò potitus, urbem
 Turritam repetit, sui & patroni
 Hæc munuscula deferens amicæ,
 Formosam Venerem salutat ore.
 Tunc illa, officii memor, puellum
 Laudatum aureolo venusta donat.
 Chrysis bella suis videns parata
 Dona hæc deliciis, comit fovetque,
 Cicurat quoque dextera sciorum
 Molli, ac ambrosios cibos ministrat.
 Nunc collum illius aurea catena
 Cingit, longius ille ne vagetur.
 Sic qui frondicola esse totus olim
 Assuevit, facile hac domesticus fit.
 Et non illepidos movere lusus
 Doctus, tum Dominæ suæ placere :
 Cujus tam bene cognitam ille frontem
 Observator habet, nuces amaræ
 Quam fuscas coryli : nigros ocellos
 Observat Dominæ, indices doloris
 Atri, lætitiæve : quos solo ipso
 Fixos quum videt, ô quot ille tristes
 Tum curas simulat ? severus aures
 Demittit teneras, gemenisque mœsta
 Claudit lumina, velat omne pansa
 Cauda corpus, & algida recumbit
 Terra, tristitiâ docente vultu.
 At quum Chrysidis aureæ micantes
 Cernit clare oculos, redit lubenter
 Ad lusus veteres, & ad cachinnos :
 Fulgentis Dominæ sinum tepentem
 Scandens, lacteolas premit papillas.
 Atque ut Chaoniæ solent columbæ,
 Jungit molliculis labella labris.
 Nunc tundit pedibus ferox protervis
 Pectus marmoreum suæ Dianæ.
 Iras & simulat graves receptas :
 Nunc & depositis minis ferenus
 Fingit ludicra blandulus faceta,
 Notum præmiolum petens nucellæ.

 Conchis innitet? Ecquis mihi fulgidus
 Ramus concrepitat frondibus aureis?
 Cum quo pectoris ingentia gaudia
 Plaudentis celebrem? Quæ mihi consonæ
 Musæ clara ferent carmina, queis ego
 Pacæo reduci gratuler intime?
 Quem absentem miseris vocibus ambiit
 Doctorum chorus, O sidera conquerens

 Nympharum numerus notus Apollini
 Absentem indoluit mirificis modis.
 Quem saluum ac reducem visere gestiens
 Grex natus studiis, plausibus assonat.
 Quem Musæ reducem denique splendide
 Vinctæ purpureis tempora floribus,

ELoquio juvenes ubi Lillius ille polivit,
 In statua spiras, magne Colete, tua.
 Quam si Praxiteles fecisset magnus & ille,
 Forsitan æquasset, non superasset opus.
 Hac salva statua, divini forma Coleti
 Temporibus longis non peritura manet.

Ad Joannem Diconum.

EXimius nostri cultor, Dicone, fuisti
 Nominis, eximius cultor & ipse tui.
 Sæpe tibi nugas nostras recitare solebam,
 Sæpe mihi nugas tu recitare tuas.
 Posteritas igitur merito testabitur ipsa,
 Numen amicitiae nos coluisse pium.

Ad Cygnum.

CYgne, coronasti viridi mea tempora cisso,
 Et mea sunt hederæ munera, Cygne, tibi.
 Crescite felices hederæ, felicia vatum
 Præmia, non ullo deperitura die.

Ad Thomam Milonem.

DIcerer à cunctis merito ingratiſſimus esse,
 Si non laudaret te mea Musa, Milo.
 Tu me vel teneris annis utroque parente
 Orbem accepisti, vel pietate mera.

Tu me informandum studiis melioribus usque
 Curasti: instructor Lillius ille fuit.
 Cujus ab industri cura didicere Britanni,
 Facunde pubes ingeniosa loqui.
 Tu me Socraticos juvenem post inter alumnos
 Qua nitet eximie Granta beata, locas.
 Deinde etiam Isiacam petii feliciter urbem,
 Exstincto Iceno Principe morte meo.
 Postremo Henrici regis mihi gratia multum
 Profuit octavi, munificæque manus.
 Hinc mihi facta domus studiosa Lutetia, ad unguem
 Doctos qua colui sedulus urbe viros:
 Budæum, Fabrum, Paulum Æmiliumque, Ruellumque,
 Æternis plane nomina digna cedris.
 Pro quibus ô meritis cessabit fundere summo
 Lucifer ante suum clarus ab axe jubar,
 Impiger & fluctus odio delphinus habebit,
 Equoreasque ferox ursus amabit aquas,
 Quam, Milo chare, tuum labatur pectore nostro
 Nomen, quod pietas perfovet ipsa sinu.

Ad Petrum Vannum.

Laudasti tenuem, doctissime Petre, Camœnam
 Qua cecini Tuccæ nomina clara mei.
 Ipse tuæ mentis niveum laudabo vicissim
 Candorem, simili non ratione tamen.
 Nam tuus ille meæ candor decus addere Musæ,
 Candori poterit nil mea Musa tuo.

Gratulatio ad amicum pro munere.

Temporibus duris quod certe defuit aurum,
 A famulo accepi, munera grata, tuo.
 Quid tibi nunc reddam tali pro munere munus,
 Mittere quum tenuis fors mea, magna vetet?
 Si præstare novem quicquam per carmina Musæ
 Possint, & si quid fautor Apollo meus,
 Deferet ante suas sylvas philomela canora,
 Quam non officii sim memor ipse tui.

Ad Gonellum, ut urbem relinquat.

 Dignis sat propriae modis studere
 Vitae, qui genium suum per urbis
 Cessator medias foveat popinas:
 Quin ultro ingenium colit qui amoenum
 Intento studio & quidem perenni.
 Hic forsitan videor tibi molestus,
 Dum totus cano cantilenam eandem:
 Certe candor, amor movent iubentque,
 Ac nunc ultra etiam imperant, ut audax
 Scribam, sustineamque constitutam
 Causam, sed ratione quadam honesta
 Hac, ut pervehemens velim videri
 Orator potius tibi, imperator
 Quam subdurus ego. Satis voluntas
 Est autem tua cognita, at laboro
 Currenti stimulum addere impetentem.
 Sic villam repetas tuam beatus,
 Commissamque tibi sacro patrono.
 Defendas querulos pius clientes.
 Te Grantania praedicabit illa,
 Qua floret Schola maxime diserta,
 Linguae & gloriola utriusque pollens.
 Venatoria te statim obviis

 Inunc, & dubites tecum, Fortuna proterva

Ad Gulielmum, Gunteri filium.

Herculis æterni celebrant præconia vates,
 Victor quod Cacus presserat ille tracem.
 Cecropius famæ tulit inclita præmia Theseus,
 Qui sævum rigido contudit ense Scynin.
 Nec minor ipsius crudelem fama latronem
 Quod Scyron ad Stygias miserit ultor aquas.
 Si tanta Alcidis debetur gloria factis,
 Si tanta Ægiden gloria jure manet:
 Quanta tuis merito accedant encomia factis,
 Quo duce piratæ, victa caterva, jacent?
 Quos neque Turcarum potuit convincere princeps,
 Armiferisve Rhodos insula clara viris.
 Quos neque visiferæ potuerunt agmina Cretæ
 Vincere, quos Veneti nec potuere duces.
 Macte animo, & monstis fac talibus æquora purges,
 Guntere, armisoni cura decusque Dei.

Ad Thomam Volvesegum, Archiepiscopum Ijurocanum.

Pag. 37.

SIC tuus Henricus, regum qui gloria florens,
 Perpetuo studio te colat, ornet, amet:
 Sic pia conjungat procures concordia magnos,
 Ut justo belli fulmine Turca ruat:
 Sic vastas operum tantorum denique moles
 Absolvat, summo templa dicata Deo.
 Sis bonus & felixque mihi: tutela Camcenæ
 Dicæis merito, præsidiumque meæ.

Ad Nicolaum Odouallum.

Oudoualle, novem comes sororum,
 Doctas pectore litteras benigno
 Qui totus deamas, sinistra plane
 Mæstus sidera nunc vocare possum,
 Quæ te tam niveum mihi sodalem,
 Quæ te tam veterem intimumque amicum

Fate

Fato non placido mihi abstulere,
 Translatum ad rigidos quidem Brigantes,
 Quo vix crediderim migrasse Musas.
 Nam Mavors ibi regnat, ac cruentos
 Exercet gladios, premens subinde
 Scottos, & valida manu Britanno.
 Quid Musis modo Marte cum furenti?
 At si fata negant, tuos penates
 Ut dulces repetas, precor deserto
 Te Septentrio barbarus patrono
 Linguis floreat undecunque doctis.

In naumachiam, à Gulielmo Guntero in mari Gallico commissam

Fulmineo hostilem premeret quum Marte carinam
 Gunterus, tumido victor in orbe potens,
 Occuluit pater Oceanus sua cana timore

Ad Joannem Barretum Jurisperitum.

Ad Briennm Tuccam, equitem.

Magnus Alexander fertur præclara poetis
 Grandisonis larga dona dedisse manu:
 Sed nec Tucca tulit meus ulla minora, Philippos
 Qui totidem, quot nos carmina læta dedit.
 Pierides tanto patrono assurgite vestro,
 Æquat Alexandrum munere Tucca suo.

Ad D. Quietem.

Salve læta Quies, venisti fidere fausto
 Ut vatem invisas Dia serena tuum?
 Te rogo per Phœbum mihi dicas perque sorores,
 Tam longæ fuerit quæ tibi caussa moræ.
 An te detinuit vates Hieronymus, an te Hæsus, an Ursinus, Borboniusve meus?
 Doctorum certe quisquis fuit ille virorum,
 Felicem multis credo fuisse modis.
 Ergo velis mecum longos habitare per annos,
 Et mea Musa tuum nomen ad astra feret.

Ad Arturium Arcium, nobiliss. Equitem.

Venit fama mihi frequens ad aures,
 Quæ te magniloquo ore prædicabat
 Doctrinæ eximium politionis
 Cultorem, obtigerat mihi priusquam
 Tecum notitia ulla luculenta:
 Quam me confiteor bono meo amplo
 Arci hic omnibus erudite veram
 Invenisse modis. Memor serenæ
 Frontis, qua me ita candidus beasti
 Vel tum quum Dominò tuo meoque
 Læta porrigerem manu Libellum:
 Ut certe mihi visus inde fautor
 Virtutis celeberrimus venustæ.
 Quare nunc calamo tibi volueri
 Nactus temporis otium quieti,
 Has transmittere litteris parabam.
 Crates, ne beneficium putares

Ad Nympham faciles, & ora læta
Lætæ solvite vocibus canoris.

Ad Mellitum.

Dignus es hoc dulci Melliti nomine, sic sunt,
Quæ scribis, quovis mellea melle magis.

Ad Rodolphum Bourcium.

DUM certas animo crescentem ornare poetam,
Candidulo nectens florida ferta mihi,
Munera pro tenui fortunâ maxima præbes,
Ut doceas Musis quæ tribuenda bonis.
Talibus officiis ego motus, arundine sumpta
Imparibus cupio nectere verba sonis.
Sed dare jam numeros paucos tibi, docte Rodolphe,
Est aquulam vastis fundere gurgitibus.

In effigiem Nymphæ.

Artifices talem vix potuisse manus.

Ad Richardum Tomionem.

AUT me destituet Clarius, Clariiue sorores,
Aut, Tomio, in nostro carmine primus eris.
Nam quamvis solido multos complectar amore,
Pectoris ipse tamen maxima cura mei.
Nota satis causa est, (nec enim manifesta negabo)
Me quoniam summe diligis atque colis.
O! mihi si linguæ centum sint, oraque centum,
Cresceret in laudes tunc mea Musa tuas.
Destitutor: tenuis certe facundia nostra:
Quanta tamen quanta est, serviet illa tibi.

Gratulatio in reditum Thomæ Lupseti.

Venisti incolumis jam mihi reddite
Lupsete? & Venetum linquere floridos

Vis campos, studiis mote Britannicis,
 Quæ sic auxilium concupiant tuum?
 Venisti ut veteres sospes amiculos
 Nunc tandem recolas? ô! niveam mihi
 Lucem, quæ potuit te modo reddere
 Optatum toties sollicita prece.
 Hæc festis radians frondibus est dies,
 Et fertis mihi signanda recentibus:
 Hæc votiva dies, hæc mihi calculo
 Ornanda est niveo: quæ simul expulit
 Curas è tremulo pectore lugubreis,
 Et te delictum reddit amabile.
 Non certe lyrico lauriger ille erat
 Flacco Virgilius gratior, Atticis
 Post longum rediens tempus ab intimis,
 Quam Lupsete mihi tu modo reddite:
 Quem longum cupiens cernere sæpius
 Lassabam Superos vocibus asperis.

Posteritatis amor dubius.

Posteritatis amor mihi perblanditur, & ultro
 Promittit libris secula multa meis.
 At non tam facile est oculato imponere, nosco
 Quam non sim tali dignus honore frui.
 Græcia magniloquos vates desiderat ipsa,
 Roma suos etiam disperiisse dolet.
 Exemplis quum sim claris edoctus ab istis,
 Qui sperem Musas vivere posse meas?
 Certe mihi sat erit præsentis scribere seculo,
 Auribus, & patriæ complacuisse meæ.

Ad Carolum Blondum, Guil. Blondi filium.

 Quam sit res gravis (ah!) te sine vivere ?
 Cum quo sæpe fui pectoris intima

 Cum quo sum solitus prata nitentia

 Mentem distraheret, quin tibi jungerem
 Me totum facili. At nunc prohibet mea
 Quum me fors miserum longius aspera,

Ad Briennum Tuccam.

TU mihi, tu fulvum magni das pignus amoris
 Aurum munificæ, splendide Tuccæ, manu.

Ad Jo. Clericum, Epif. Badunicum.

Clerice, facundos inter numerande patronos,
 Qui jus Cæsareum & Pontificale colunt :
 Te mea Musa studet modulis laudare canoris,
 Sit quamvis impar laudibus illa tuis.
 Sat scio Parrhisiis tua dicere facta solere,
 Et tua Romano gloria nota foro.
 Nec te sanctarum studiosa Bononia legum
 Desinit emeritis irradiare notis.
 Quid referam, quibus ipse modis utranque Minervam
 Exornes ? doctos qua ratione viros ?
 Pontifices claros Badunum reddidit olim,
 Urbem nunc claram clarior ipse facis.

Diligat

Diligat illa suum pastorem, pastor & urbem, Ingenii dotes ut mea Musa tai.

Ad R. Craifordum.

DUM me Sequanicus chorus benigne,
Craiforde, illecebris tenet quibusdam
Linguarum, & solidæ eruditionis,

Aulæ inter celebres viros Britannæ,
Et vultu frueris fereniori

Quam non ipse tamen tibi secundam
Fortunam invideo: mihi vicissim

Non plane tenues macroſve fructus
Contingat modo strenue parare,

Ad Cygnum de Thoma Linacro.

TE sæpe audiivi quærentem Græca Latine
Cujus adoptaret Pieris ore loqui.
Certior ut fieres super hac re, nuper adibam
Plectrigerum Phœbum, Thespiadasque Deas.
Ipse mihi Phœbus Linacrum, Linacrumque sorores,
Totaque Castalii turba diserta chori
Dixerunt uno consensu, verba Latina
Esse illum vellent cujus in ore loqui.

Laus Borbonii Vandoperani.

GAllia Borbonium celebrat facunda poetam,
Cujus nectareum spirat ab ore melos.
Non sum Borbonio par versibus, attamen olim
Cantabit Musas terra Britannia meas,

Solsequium.

Soluti amatores inter mihi perplacet omnes

Nomine vulgari Solsequiumque vocor.

Ad Musas, ut Henricum octavum concelebrent.

MUsæ dicite Iô & Iô nunc dicite Musæ,
Tempora Pestanis cingite festa rosis.

Totii

Totius Henricus rex illustrissimus orbis,
 Pectore ter niveo nos colit, ornat, amat.
 Nunc licet ô tali, tanto ac sub principe nobis
 Lumina Sequanicæ visere pulchrâ scholæ.
 Nunc licet Italiam nobis lustrare disertam,
 Condire & Græco verba Latina sale.

 Dicite, pro tali pectore dona mihi?
 Quæ? nisi dulcissui notissima munera vatis,
 Munera per longos non moritura dies.

Pag. 43.

In librum Th. Linacri de emendata structura.

NON Palamedæis opus impallescere chartis,
 Nec Diomedæis invigilare libris.
 Talia nam peperit Linacer monumenta politus,
 Longa dies rerum qualia nulla dedit.
 Hoc facile evincam sub quovis iudice recto,
 Dulcia præripuit præmia Grammaticis.
 Quicquid ab antiquis selegit & ipse Latinis,
 Seu Græcis, recitat fertilitate sua.
 Illeque cornicum tentabit figere ocellos,
 Edere qui tentat scripta polita magis.

Aliud carmen, de eodem Libro.

Virgineam, docti juvenes, celebrare catervam
 Quid juvat, aut nitidas Bellerophontis aquas?
 Quidve Heliconæ sacrum juvat, aut Permessidos amnes?
 Laurigero Cyrrhæ quid loca festa Deo?
 Huc potius lætis concurrite passibus omnes,
 Fingite victuris ora tenella libris.
 Somnia Parnassi valeant, Bœoticaque arva:
 Nunc Linacer nobis omnibus unus erit.

Ad Richardum Guntherum.

Purpurei ambrosios veris nova semina flores
 Tu mihi decerpens, munera grata paras.
 Sæpius hoc cures, quo certe nomine, multo
 Ingenium invenies mitius esse meum.

Ad Calliope, de Jo. Claimundo.

TE nunc, Calliope, colit politus
 Claimundus facilis, novem fororum
 Cui fert tot niveos chorus lapillos.
 Exornat quoque te frequenter ille
 Largo munere & ore perbenigno.
 Quare, Calliope, lyra resumpta

 Nomen Castalii ferens ad astra
 Claimundi aurea laudibus canoris.

Pag. 44.

Ad Richardum Hirtium.

Lumen Castalii chori serenum
 Hirti qui decoras tuo Britannos
 Doctos ingenio illo amœniori,
 Currenti calamo jubet notatos
 Hos me jam numeros Camœna dulcis
 Ad te mittere, cujus os replerunt
 Hyblææ ambrosio cibo volucres.
 Nam quum nectareis Latina verba
 E labris fluitant tuis renata,
 Tum plane videor mihi videre
 Facundi Ciceronis illa secla.
 Et quum mellifluos modos poëta
 Felix aggredieris favente Musa
 Bella scribere, tum meas fluenti
 Vena has auricolas styloque mulces.
 Plures dicere nunc Camœna versus
 Noli : nam dabis Hirtio canenti
 Nostro carmina, ut undulam tument
 Infusam pelago, & minuta ligna
 Denfis robore saltibus vetusto.

In pſtam Occasionis effigiem.

Quifquis in argutis tabulis te, Occasio, pinxit,
 Seu notus Coæ gentis alumnus erat,
 Seu multum toto cantatus Zeuxis in orbe,
 Naturam penitus sentiit ille tuam.
 Namque dedit fronti molleis gestare capillos,
 Occipiti prorsus crine vacante tuo.
 Fortunam arripiant præsentem : Occasio frontem
 Avertens, iterum non capienda, fugit.

Pag. 45.

Collatio Budæi & Cuthoberti Dunſtalli.

QUA te nostra canet, Dunſtalle, Britannia laude ?
 An qua Budæum Gallia docta suum ?
 Candidus ille studet Græcam celebrare Minervam,
 Græcorum celebras tu monumenta patrum.
 Ille colit veteres intento pectore leges,
 Sunt studii leges cura diserta tui.
 Ille rudes assis docuit cognoscere partes,
 Tu numeros primus verba Latina loqui.
 Gallia, caufidicum tecum dignare Britannum

In mortem Hyppolyti crudeliſſime interfecti.

Hippolytus quondam succinctæ cura Dianæ,
 Occidit, à sævis dilaceratus equis.

Noſter

Noster at Hippolytus periit, (quid non furor audet?)

Transfossus gladio pectora tincta fero.

Integer ille fuit liquidas revocatus in auras

Numine felici, Delia casta, tuo.

Hic melioris erat vitæ revocatus in auras,

Mortis & auctorem poena secuta fuit.

Nam misere periit serpentis fulmine diro,

Speñtat sanguineos exitus iste viros.

Tangunt ultores impia facta Deos.

De Zephyro & Cygno.

Ad Sequanam fluvium.

Fig. 46.

Sequana vitiferis crinem redimite corollis,

Gallica qui vitreo gurgite prata rigas :

Tu nostro præstas solamen dulce labori,

Et tetricum misces lufibus usque fophos.

Namque tuis ripis quum lentis passibus erro,

Flora quidem nares pascit odora meas.

Atque oculos eadem pictarum lumine rerum

Detinet insignis, vel sine fine, Dea.

Nominis illa tui cultrix, vicinaque felix

Hospitibusque tuis officiosa favet.

Tu quoque, quum salicis requiesco fessus in umbra,

Perstrepis arguto murmure, Somne Veni.

Audiit hæc Zephyrus genialis, flatque secundo

Intentus strepitu, ventilat atque salax.

Insuper illimi natito quum flumine nudus,

Lympha tua est votis candida tota meis.

Fac mihi, fac semper te talem, Sequana, præstes,

Et recinet numen Musa Britannia tuum.

Ad Grantanam Academiam, ut Jo. Redmanum celebret.

Si vis te facilem mihi nunc ostendere, Granta,

Et vatem officio demeruisse pium :

Quæ peto iusta, mea præstabis candida causa,

Ni causa mavis gratior esse tua.

Nominis en tuus est nostri studiosus alumnus

Redmannus, lingua doctus utraque probe.

Hunc ~~fama~~ studeo modo consecrare perenni,

Sed mea vix poterit Musula tanta dare.

Tu bene magna potes præstare, solesque disertis
 Discipulis semper grata favere tuis.
 Ergo bonas quoniam puris è fontibus hausit
 Artes, Cecropii quot docuere patres,
 Effice fama mei Redmanni ut floreat, utque
 Lethæas nunquam mortua gustet aquas.

Pag. 47.

In frontispicio libelli.

INtra laurigeros liber penates
 Henrici modo principis serenî :
 Intra, & pellito rusticum pudorem.
 Te rex accipiet manu benigna,
 Notus Pegafidum comes, canentisque
 Argutus Clarii piusque cultor.

Ad Thomam Viatum, Equitem clariss.

DUdlegus patrias suum hinc in oras
 Ornaturus iter, monebat ut te,
 Et notum & veterem mihi sodalem,
 Impertirem aliqua memor salute.
 Feci quod voluit, lubensque certe.
 Illum nam studiis tuis sciebam

 Conjunctum : ac etiam addo littèrarum

 Tu nunc fac animum rogo, Viate,
 Nostrum non Veneres styli fluentis
 Expendas propius nitentiores.
 Quas sic Castaliæ tibi puellæ
 Consensu facili simul dederunt,
 Ut vel montibus Aënis in ipsis
 Te natum chorus æstimet virorum
 Doctorum niveus fuisse plane.
 Tu nunc officium vides amici
 Qualecunque tui, proba & valeto.

Ad Briennum Tuccam Equitem.

MOS erat antiquis Jani celebrare Calendas
 Strenis, quem ritum secula nostra probant.
 Hinc est, quod mittam munus tibi, splendide Tucca,
 Officii ut videar commemorasse mei.
 Quod tibi dant alii gemmas, sat scimus, & aurum :
 Convenit ut magnis mittere magna viris.
 Pauca ego, at illa libens, antiqua numismata mitto,
 Exiguæ fortis munera parva meæ.
 Ille tamen qui quanta potest dat, maxima certe
 Non auro aut gemmis inferiora dedit.

Pag. 48.

Ad Janum Lascarim.

Nostrorum unice temporum polite
 Phœnix Lascari, qui tuis Athenas
 Musis Cecropias nitere totum
 Phœbi judicio facis per orbem :
 Jam longum mea gestit Camœna
 Longum intrare aliqua tuos penates,
 Et præfens oculis suis videre
 Præsentis numero novem sorores
 Cum cantato Helicone, cumque festis
 Parnassi Clario jugis favente.
 Quæ tu si nivea benignitate
 Commonstraveris, illa se putabit
 Multis & merito modis beatam.

Ad Gulielmum Guntherum.

Horrida præsignis victor Gunthere solebas
 Bella sequi, & magnos ense ferire duces.
 Post domitos Turcas, post Gallica prælia, tandem
 Te post naumachiam nunc habet alma quies.
 Fixisti galeam cristatam vertice plumis,
 Emeritus postem miles ad Herculeum.
 Pro niveis tantum castris, pro puppibus altis,
 Conjuge cum chara, civica testâ colis.
 Spirat Apellæ quorum penetralibus arte
 Principis Henrici lucida imago tui.

Ad S. Gardinerum.

Argutos resonæ modos Camœnæ
 Gardinere tibi meæ dicatos
 Facunde accipe dextera benigna.
 Certat quandoquidem nitentioris
 Virtutes animi tui probare
 Paucis hendecasyllabis libenter.
 Tu certe innumeris locis ad illum
 Leges vel veterem labore grato
 Splendorem revocas, docens vieta
 Tot glossæmata (opus recentiorum Scriptorum) ingeniis bopis obesse.
 Hinc monstras, Cicero ut, parens Latini

 Ut causas placide statim serener.
 Tu Plauti quoque fabulas poetæ
 Antiqui lepidas quidem & venustas
 Illas, conspicuo decore quodam

Pag. 49.

Felix

Felix actor & eloquens, vel usque
 Ad miracula, nunc suis theatris
 Pulchre restituis, nitesque facto.
 Miles lumina gloriosus ille
 Sic certe mea capta detinebat,
 Ut dum vixero, semper actionem
 Illam vel memori sinu recondam.
 Partes præstitit Hancuinus amplas,
 Achinus quoque tunc suæ decorum
 Personæ exhibuit: sed unus ille
 Fabrilegus erat puellus, instar
 Multorum lepidus, venustus, ardens,
 Cujus gloria crescet undecunque.
 Tu nunc denique juris utriusque
 Consultissimus hoc agis, prius quod
 (Quantum intelligo) præstiteri nulli,
 Nempe ut causidicus sacræ patronus
 Interpres vigeat scholæ beatus:
 Instrumenti etiam vetustioris
 Et mysteria magna dehinc novelli
 Tractet judicio valens secundo.
 Hæc Fortuna videns manu expedita
 Famæ ducet ovans gradus te ad altos,
 Perducetque, tuum caput degenter
 Donec præniteat mitra bicorni.

Pag. 50.

Ad Leonardum Coxum.

INclita Sarmaticæ Cracovia gloria gentis
 Virtutes novit, Coxe diserte, tuas.
 Novit & eloquii phoenix utriusque Melancthon,
 Quam te Phœbus amet, Pieriusque chorus,
 Praga tuas cecinit, cecinitque Lutetia laudes,
 Urbs erga doctos officiosa viros.
 Talia quum constent, genetrix tua propria debet
 Anglia te simili concelebrare modo.
 Et faciet, nam me cantantem nuper adorta,
 Hoc ipsum jussit significare tibi.

Ad Rosetum Gallum poetam.

CLarum Threicii, Rosete, vatis

 Quod sæpe Armenias tigres sonoro

Post hac grandiloquis tubis, secreta

Ad Philippum.

Ad Antonium Barkerum.

ANtoni, veteres qui nostros inter amicos,
Jure tuo loca non inferiora tenes,
Si potes à studiis tetricæ cessare Minervæ,
Paullulum ad has nugas lumina flecte meas:
Non facile hic credas quantum, Barkere polite,

Ergo adsis, chartas parvi & transcurrere libelli,
Qui Musæ servat pignora chara meæ.

Ad Borbonium Vandeperanum.

VAndoperane, mei censor tu carminis esto,
Quam vellem Nugis proximus esse tuis.

Filiæ Thomæ Mori. Charitæa corona.

TRES numero Charites Græci finxere poëtæ,
Æmula quas toties carmine Roma sonat.
Hactenus at nunquam res est hæc credita vera,
Ut neque de Musis fabula vana novem.
Nos tamen intrantes facundi limina Mori,
Attoniti Charites tres novitate rei
Vidimus. Et quid enim est oculis (rogo) certius? Ergo
Accipiat plenam fabula prisca fidem.

Ad Sereniss: Mariam, Reg: F.

CLarum virgineæ decus cohortis
Quæ nubes patriæ tenebricosas
Virtutis facibus tuæ ferenas:
En tectos Senecæ nitenti in horto
Flores attulimus suäviores,
Quam quos purpurei ferunt rosæta
Pesti. Nam hi perituro odore paucas
Post horas bifores foveant latebras
Nasi. Illi autem animi sacros recessus
Quam longum Ambrosio foveant odore.

Ad Nicolaum Uilfonum.

IRatas habeam novem sorores
Cum toto Clarii choro canente,
Si quicquam acciderit mihi petenti

Gratum

Gratum litterulis magis venustis,
 Quas nuper mihi reddidit disertus
 Lupsetus, solidum Britannicarum
 Musarum decus, addita tuo vel
 Multa nomine candido salute.
 Unde esse officium meum putavi
 Ad te scribere litteras vicissim,
 Et candorem animi parem referre;
 Non autem similem styli nitorem.
 Nam hoc præstare quibus modis, rogo te,
 Possim? pene reliqueris locum tu
 Quum nullum Veneri elegantiori.
 Sed tandem quid ego hæc tibi modesto,
 Qui præconia negligis faventis
 Linguae? Rectius obsecrem, erudite
 Uilfone, ut veteri colas amore
 Me, qui suspicio tui nitentis
 Virtutes animi, perenne lumen,
 Ut, quum occasio fulserit serena,
 Commendes Domino tuo meoque,

Ad Ambrosium.

Convenit Ambrosii pulchre tibi nomen amœnum;
 Moribus es dulci dulcior ambrosia.

Instauratio Britannicæ antiquitatis.

Quamvis Rhenano debet Germania docto,
 Tantum debebit terra Britannia mihi.
 Ille suæ gentis ritus & nomina prisca
 Æstivo fecit lucidiora die.
 Ipse antiquarum rerum quoque magnus amator,
 Ornabo patriæ lumina clara meæ.
 Quæ quum prodierint niveis inscripta tabellis,
 Testes tum nostræ sedulitatis erunt.

Ad Musam, de Henr: 8. Rege Angl:

Si tu post cineres meos secundo
 Fato vixeris, inter & Latinas
 Musas si poteris locum tenere,
 Fac ut præsidium tuum meumque,
 Fac ut dulce decus tuum meumque
 Henricum, patriæ patrem supremum,
 Doctorum resonet chorus disertus.

Ad Carolum Blondum, juvenem nobilem.

Tempus nostra suum Camœna nata
 Fufum mollibus otii amico
 Me tali alloquitur sono decora:

 Parendum monitis, Camœna, honestis,
 Bis pulchrum reputo tuam Minervam
 Insignem numeris meis probare.

Ad Rogerum Aschamum.

A Schamæ litterulas tam belle pingis, ut ipsa
 Græcia te scribam pervelit esse suum :
 Ut velit esse suum, rerum caput, inclyta Roma,
 Quamvis Italicos scribere docta modos.
 Sed calamos cur certo tuos attollere vates
 Carmine : sit virtus quum tua nota fatis ?

Ad Robertum Seuerum.

DUM tu declamas Grantæ, versasque beatus
 Aufoniæ facili tot monumenta manu :
 Græcorumque omnem lustras studiosior orbem,
 Bellerophonæis fontibus ora rigans :
 Ipse tuus, vetus ipse tuus Lelandus amicus
 Fato felici Gallica regna colo.
 Hic tibi si curæ est, quid agam, cognoscere, tandem
 Accipe, sed breviter facta relata mihi.
 Condo & compono quæ mox depromere possim,
 Ut resono Flacci carmine Musa canat.
 Præterea veterum multa exemplaria quæro,
 Exploro, crassis eruo & è tenebris.
 Ecce vides nostræ rationem (& certius) omnem
 Vitæ hinc transactæ : docte Severe vale.

Ad Valerium Martialem.

EGregii vates scripsere Epigrammata multi,
 Quæ canit in toto doctior orbe chorus.
 Iudicio nostro sed vivum solus acumen
 Vates tu semper Bilbilitane refers.
 Materiam Morus si pertractasset eandem,
 Certasset Musis æmula Musa tuis.

Ille

Ille quidem tantum voluit, parvoque labore,
 Monstrare ingenii lucida signa fui.
 Tu vastum pelagus penetrâsti : divide laudes,
 Gloria sic famæ crescet utrique sua.

Ad Desiderium Erasmus Roterodamum;

SI vis Castalio choro placere,
 I nunc, I mea sed gradu citato.
 Dulcis Pieri, gentis ad nitentes
 Agros Helveticæ, recurvus undis
 Qua Rhenus tumidis volat per arces
 Deffluxu Basilæias amœno.
 Illic invenies disertum Erasmus,
 Insigne eloquii decus Latini,
 Pulsantem querulo lyræ canoros
 Nervos pollice; subtimentibus cum
 Musis, tum Clariq.: inclytos honores
 Ne mons verticibus facer duobus
 Perdat, ne titulos suos Cytheron,
 Et dent Teutonico locum poëtæ.
 Cui si Pieri plurimam salutem
 Nostro nomine dixeris, statim ulnis
 Te amplexabitur obviis benignus.

Ad Musas, de Guilielmo Blondo, Barone Montjoie,

MUsæ, si Domino placere nostro
 Et rem ter facere hîc quaterque gratam
 Læto pectore concupiscitis : nunc
 Tandem ostendite vos meo obsequentes.
 Blondo, qui patriæ eruditionem
 Felix asseruit politiolem :
 Dum totus studiis dicatus ipse,
 Et virtutis amator eminentis,
 Exempli specimen tulit perenne,
 Mæcenatis erat loco probati,
 Cujus sedulo gloriam secutus
 Doctos muneribus beavit omnes
 Amplis, atque Scholæ Lutetianæ
 Cultor conspicuus, frequens, disertus.
 Imprimis sibi comparavit illum
 Torrentem eloquii, sodalem Erasmus :
 Crevit fructus & inde luculentus,
 Ac Desiderius novis adauctus
 (Blondo munifico faventa) amicis
 Ditefcit : niveus patronus unde
 Commendatus ad astra celsa scandit,
 Et facti pretium accipit supremum,

Quod nunquam morietar : enitebunt
Dum libri radiis suis politi.

In laudem atitis.

SÆpe sub exiguo virtus latet alta lapillo,
Judicio ætites omnibus esse proteſt.
Ipſe aderam in mediis paritura doloribus, eheu !
Quum clamaret, “ opem fer Dea caſta mihi” :

Ad Jo. Chæredamum.

MUltum magnificis diſerte verbis

Horti Guilielmi Guntheri, hyeme vernantes.

NUNC biſeri ſileant laudare roſaria Peſti,
Hortos nec jaſtet regia Roma ſuos.
Vidimus æquoreis hortum florere Britannis,
Quum premeret gelido frigore Janus agros.
Purpureas violas, ferrugineumque hyacinthum,
Luteolam caltham, Cecropiumque thymum,
Hinc Clyties florem mutatæ vidimus alnum,
Et Paphiæ ſuaveis, dona venuſta, roſas.
Atque alios, quorum mihi dicere nomina longum :
Vivite ſœcundi jugera picta ſoli.

In Borbonii laudem.

EST mihi Borbonius merito decorandus honore,
Qui valet ingenio, qui viget eloquio.
Cedite nunc Muſæ (Pympleia turba) canoræ,
Et tu cum reſona cantor Apollo lyra.

Talem

Talem ego delectum facio : meus ergo disertus
Borbonius nostro carmine clarus erit.

Insignia regis Henrici Octavi.

Lilia magnanimis conjuncta leonibus alma,
Regis ab Henrici numine lumen habent.

Insignia Eadueardi principis.

Aurea ter geminis ornata coronula plumis,
Sidereo Eduardi vertice celsa nitet.

Ad Cygnum, de Joanne Masono, Equ.

Cygne, decus montis Pymplæi, quæris amore
Masonum quali prosequar ipse meum.
Illud quandoquidem studio tu poscis amico,
Accipe syncera verba relata fide :
Tali Masonum fidum complector amore,
Qualem nulla tibi dicere lingua potest.

Eduardo principi Cambriæ illustrissimo, Duci Coriniæ, & Comiti Palatino.

EST mea Musa tuo vel devinctissima patri,
Cujus præcingit festa corona caput.
Omnibus ergo modis studet invigilatque modestis
Te talem ac tantum demeruisse sibi.
Ut desint vires, animo tamen ardet amico
Eximias dotes concelebrare tuas.
Præbuit exemplum nuper, cecinitque canoro
Natalem illa tuum carmine læta diem.
Prodiit in lucem tum qualiscunque libellus,
A doctis legitur, judiciumque subit.
Non majestatem potuit conferre Maronis,
Nasonis fontes sed nec adire sacros.
Candida follicite, potuit quod, præstitit omne
Musa per argutos officiosa modos.
Inque tua ditione frequens demonstrat aperte
Antiquas urbes, flumina, castra, sinus.
Quorum nigrarant ingrata silentia famam,
Quæ prius emicuit, lumine clara suo.
Nec contenta bonis studiis hanc addere metam,
Ad solitum felix Musa recurrit opus.
En liber hic prodit referens Encomia lætus
Inclita, Nobilibus dona parata viris.
Mirificeque tuum cupit ille extendere nomen,
Famem, virtutes, numen & omne deus :
Talia decantans de te, quæ concinat ætas
Præfens, quæ adveniens posteritasque canat.

Ad sereniss. Elisabetham, Virginem incomparabilem, Henrici octavi, regis Angliæ, &c. filiam.

SIC tua collucet virtus clarissima Virgo,
Fulget ut in nitidis vecta Diana rotis:
Atque sibi laudes merito deposcit opimas,
Præmia in æterna vivere digna cedro.
Quam vellem me posse tuas extendere dotes!
Luceres medio stella serena polo.
Si mihi Castalius fons ora rigasset abunde,
Fudisset liquidum tunc mea Musa melos.
Interea possum testis plus ista referre,
Quæ te commendent, perplaceantque mihi.
Ardenti studio conflagens ipse videndi
Illustrem Eduardum, qui decus omne meum,
Aunthullum petii felici sidere montem,
Hic vidi fratrem percoluique tuum.
Tempore quo Chæcus, Musarum cura, politus
Me commendavit voce favente tibi.
Utque salutare me tunc sermone Latino
Egit, ut hinc scirem quantus in ore lepos.
De te concepi certe vel maxima quæque,
Candida iudicium vineis at omne meum.
Quid referam hic aures quæ tu dulcedine nostras
Explêris, clare Gallica verba sonans?
Aut quid commemorem quos tu testudine sumpta
Concentus referas, mellifluosque modos?
Rectius insinuare tuium volo, Nympha, pudorem
Virgineum, mores ingenuosque tuos.
Ad cumulum accedet tua nota modestia laudis,
Fortunæ teres & circulus omnis erit.
Perge hac ire via precor Heroïna beata,
Virtutemque tuam suspice læta ducem.

Pag. 59.

Ad Joannem Pollardium, Equ.

QUAMVIS nominibus tu multis clarior exstes,
Utpote vir prudens, iudicioque valens,
Et patrocinii collucens munere claro,
Causidico fervet quum tua cura foro:
Attamen eluces mage nullo nomine, quam quod
Musarum fautor floridus ipse sies.
Inde tibi à doctis est gratia plena relata,
Perfruere hac grata commoditate tua.
Namque operis pretium memor illa extenderit omne,
Fulgebis medio Castalidumque choro.
Sim licet exiguus, Musas tamen excolo sacras,
Et dotes possum tollere præco tuas.

Interea

Interea tantum quod posco, candide præsta,
Mufæ & cantanti perge favere meæ.

Ad Jo. Brennum, Equ.

Splendida belligeri præluxit gloria Brenni,
Innotuit cujus nomen utrique polo.
Militiæ decus ille fuit, victorque triumphans
Romulidam pressit colla superba jugo.
Illius hinc laudes Græci & scripsere Latini,
Certantes talem concelebrare ducem.
Gallus erat, si Roma refert vera omnia vere,
Et Senonum ductor strenuus ipse fuit.
Illum ductorem Senonum cognosco fuisse,
Pernegat at Gallum Musa fuisse mea.
Notus erat Gallis per Martia facta, sed illum
Protulit in lucem terra Britannia parens.
Frater & hujus erat Bellinus natus ad arma,
Dulce Britannorum qui decus omne fuit.
Talibus intentum sic me docuere priores,
Contemptor patriæ non ego laudis ero.
Interea pergas exemplo assurgere claro,
Atque tui felix æmulus esse Ducis.
Sic decet ut Brenno Brennus subserviat alter,
Virtutis solidæ gloria calcar habet,
Ergo hîc quum referas nomen de nomine Brenni,
Exhibeas forti Brennica facta manu.
Italia edocuit te multa illustria felix,
Maxima pars famæ crevit & inde tuæ.
Marte Caledonios Scottos fusosque fugatosque
Aspexisti audax, tu quoque victor eras.
Quum caderet multa vi fracta Bononia, miles
Tunc atrox aderas, tela cruenta gerens.
Sed quid ego in bellis tantum nunc immoror istis?
Spes mea sunt Mufæ, deliciæque meæ.
Candida pax regnat: Deponas tela molesta,
Fac Mufas repetas impiger atque tuas.
Illæ te statuent felicem in vertice summo
Parnassi: pretium nobile laurus erit.

De Hectore Boethio.

Hectoris historici tot, quot mendacia scripsit,
Si vis ut numerem, lector amice, tibi:
Me jubeas etiam fluctus numerare marinos,
Et liquidi stellas connumerare poli.

De libro Hieronymi Vidæ de Scacchis.

Mæonides cecinit fera prælia, gessit Achivus
Quæ cum Dardanio milite miles atrox.

Ludicra sed Marcus cecinit Vida proelia, picti
Quæ gessere duces, albus & inde niger.
Ilias æternum sublimi nomen Homero
Contulit, at Marco ludicra bella ferent.

Ad Polydorum Virgilium.

Fig. 61.

PRImus ego asserui nostræ sua nomina gentis
Urbibus antiquis, ne Polydore neget.
Et quæ Cimmeriis obducta fuere tenebris,
Accepere novum (me referente) diem.

Ad Carolum Capellium, Oratorem Venetum.

IPse tuos legi sermones, docte Capelli,
Eloquio claros, religionem, fide.
Te quis in Hebræa sic profecisse putasset
Lingua? Rabbinos vel superare potes.
Expectare quidem potuisses talia Divo
Vel de Munstero, vel Capitone sacro.
Sed tu iudicium voluisti fallere nostrum:
Macte animo, ad Superos hæc via recta deos.

Ad Antonium Rossium.

SIC doctas habeam novem puellas
Fautrices mihi, Rosse, Apollinemque,
Ut te tanquam oculos amem meos, qui
Absentem studio colis sordalem
Nullo inquam penitus tuum minori,
Quam quo tempore singulis diebus
Præfens tecum ad agros amœniores
Iret, sumpto aliquo in manus libello,
Linguae non modo qui decus Latinæ,
Sed virtutem etiam doceret ipsam.

Ad Ludovicum Vivem.

GENtis rarus honor decusque Iberæ
Vives, qui patriam tuam serenas
Claris artibus eloquentiaque,
Auctores cupiens suo nitori
Doctos reddere, quos molesta valde
Illa injuria temporum repressit,
Aspira resonos modos canenti
Musæ, quæ vehementer ardet illas
Virtutis solidæ tuæ nitelas
Toto pectore consecrare famæ,
Ut te posteritas celebret omnis.
Marcus Tullius, utriusque linguæ
Fons vel perpetuus bonusque, poscit:
Orator Fabius minora nulla.

Fig. 62.

Illius

Illius quoniam discitis aptusque
 Interpres, ita Scipionis alti
 Somnum discutis, ut vel elegantis
 Commentaria Macrobi labors
 Pergrato superes, potens vel æque.
 Atque hujus recolis frequenter artes.
 Dicendi, probus artifex & ipse,
 Tantundem tribuit tibi severus
 Hispano Seneca eruditionis.
 Alnum lumen & interim libellos
 Illustri calamo tuo notatos
 Felices reputat suos : ovatque
 Augustinus Afer, sacrationis
 Scripturæ pius optimusque certe
 Doctor, gaudet alacritate motus
 Qua tu restituis Deo supremo,
 Obiitantibus impiis, coronam
 Festam, munera summa Civitatis
 Coelestis, scholla aspicitque lætus,
 Queis illum niveis modis beasti.
 Perge hac comprecor ire : sic micantes
 Conscentes nitidi ad choros Olympi.

In Flores Terentii, à Nic. Odouello illustratos.

Candidus eximiam monstrare Terentius artem
 Eloqui novit, Roma diserta, tui.
 Illius ex horto flores selegit amicos
 Odallus, cupidæ sedulus instar apis.
 Quoque labor pueris studiosis gratior esset,
 Transtulit in patrios, verba Latina, sonos.
 Insuper & scholion, facundæ munera linguae,
 Addidit, æterna vivere digna cedro.
 Vos igitur juvenes Odallum ornate Britanni,
 Sic fluat è vestro comicus ore lepos.

Ad Eadueardum Foxium.

Flores gratia patriæ Britannæ
 Foxi, inter celebres tenens Latini
 Sermonis merito locum patronos.
 Te bis terque tuus rogat benigne
 Lelandus, capias ut hæc amici
 Læta munera fronte, quæ notavit
 Currenti teneris manu papyris :
 Nondum cincta quidem Camæna pulchre
 Fulgentes hedera comas nitenti.
 Quod te non dubitat lubentiori
 Facturum studio, (vel hoc probato

Inquam nomine) principem eruditum,
Communem Dominum, favente sorte,
Quod tecum deamet, colatque felix.
Cujus gloria vera sic coruscat
Virtutum radijs, ut unus ille
Totum sol nitidus serenet orbem.

Ad Augustinum Paitonum medicum.

NON equidem possum satis admirarier, unde
Ista tibi in Musam laus sine fine meam.
Forsthan exspectas, alterno rursus amore
Prædicet ut laudes nostra Camœna tuas.
Rectius hoc facient Patavini, docta caterva,
Inter quos olim tu quoque talis eras,
Qualis erat Linacer, medica celeberrimus arte,
Judicio & lingua clarus utraque meo.
Des igitur veniam tenui, Augustine, Camœnæ,
Laudes si posset, diceret illa tuas.

In frontispicio Petronii Arbitri.

Fig. 64

ERUIT hic venas abstrusas divitis auri,
Quærit Erythræi littoris alter opes.
Nos veteres libros, linguæ monumenta Latinæ,
Sollicita asserimus terque quaterque manu.
Ecce tibi, lector studiose, Petronius ille
Prodit, & in nivea veste serenus ovat.
Aurum temporibus cedit, gemmæque, Petroni
Perpetuo docti fama superstes erit.

Ad N. Bissum, Fontanum.

EST tua perpetua probitas dignissima laude
Multis nominibus cognite Bisse mihi.
Et tua præclaros titulos doctrina meretur,
Seu te sacra vocet concio, sive forum.
Addo quod & niveus candor morum ille tuorum
Insignem ac merito postulet usque notam.
Ergo ego fortunas ut raras osculor istas,
Sic Fontanæ omnis te chorus urbis amet.

Calamus Niloticus, dono datus Guiljelmo Blondo.

QUAM mihi transmisit pro pignore Smythus amoris,
En ad te exiguum munus arundo venit.
Sic licet exiguum, ne spernas attamen : ingens
Gratia vel parvis rebus inesse solet.
Namque, aliâ hæc præter quæ secum plurima defert
Commoda, Niloticis venit arundo vadis.
O quoties volucris depinxit carmina cursu,
Officium præstans, nocte dieque suum !

Accola Niloticæ ripæ proferre fufurros
 Edidicit, Zephyro & flante canora fuit.
 At mihi mufæum poftquam excoluiffet amœnum
 Concinuit variis carmina mifta fonis.
 A dominoque ægre divelli paffa, penates,
 Quo fortuna vocat, fufpicit illa tuos.

Pag. 65.

Ad Thaliæ, ut Eadueardum Ododunum medicum invifet.

TU nunc auriculis ftudes placere
 Si terfis, pete candidum Ododunum,
 Quo felix apium loco caterva
 Flores excutit, at fuâviores,
 Et clarum celebra virum Thalia.
 Ille alto Siculi docet poëtæ
 Carmen iudicio. Explicat difertis
 Libros magniloqui modis Homeri.
 Tullî & Rhetoricos fui colores
 Orator vehemens venuftat ipfe.
 Cultor denique maximus Galeni
 Exercet medicas lubenter artes,
 Et noftris ftudiis favet ferenus.

Encomium Rosæ, ad Mariam, Regis F.

Rosâ loquitur.

GLoria quæ clari virgo ter maxima patris,
 Et patriæ à cunctis diceris effe tuæ :
 En rosâ florigero (formofum munus) ab horto
 Adfum, lacteolo gemma locanda finu.
 Id quod ut obtineam, paucis tibi, Nympha ferena,
 Narrabo generis nomina celfa mei.
 Eft mihi (Diva) pater Zephyrus, qui flamine leni
 Temperat hortenfis florida regna foli.
 Mater at eximia veniens ab origine Tellus,
 Omnifero cujus numine prata virent.
 Ubra prima mihi charæ præbebat alumnæ
 Flora, renâfcentis gratia veris ovans.
 Si patriam quæris, pulchra eft mihi patria Peftum,
 Appulicos inter fama fupërba lares.
 Si quoque fragrantem trivit quis cafus odorem
 Quæris, & unde mihi fanguinis ifte color :
 Expediam. Phrygius Ganymedes nectaris olim
 Forte miniftrabat pocula plena Jovi.
 Dumque miniftraret, ftellantis lumina cœli,
 Miratus, fudit nectara dulce puer.
 Quod liquidi ftillans finuofa per atria cœli,
 Suſceptum foliis diſſluit uſque meis.

Pag. 66.

Purpureum

Purpureum magnæ Veneri debemus honorem,
 Quæ me præ cunctis floribus alma fovet.
 Illa per Idalios lucos dum quærit Amorem,
 Sorte pedis dura vulnerat ima rubus.
 Unde ego præssa novos lacero de vulnere succos
 Imbibi, & ex albo facta colore rubens.
 Jam tibi si placeo Maria illustrissima, primum
 Basia da foliis terque quaterque meis.
 Tum quoque quum nares fragor demulserit ardens,
 Iste sinus niveus me gerat usque tuus.
 Sic decet ut foveas præstantior omnibus una
 Me florem, generis participemque tui.

Ad Antonium Cocum nobilem.

CURis tota mihi jacebat atris
 Languens Musa, lyrae nec ulla curvæ
 Mansit gratia, quum tua obseratas
 Pulsavit digito fores Thalia
 Nostras, puniceis decora fertis :
 Et docta citharam manu canoram
 Pulsans usque adeo suâviter, me
 Captum ut mirificis modis simulque
 Delectaverit, excitaveritque
 Desuetam ad resonas fides Camœnam.
 Nunc Amphionæ provocasse credo
 Dulci carmine saxa delibuta,
 Thebanas facili labore ad arces.
 Nunc Arioniam lyram secutum
 Credo pinnigerum fuisse piscem.
 Nam tu qui ad numeros vocare nostram
 Tam tardam potes erudite Musam
 Antoni, minimo labore, saxa, &
 Pisces æquoreos potes movere.

Ad Gloriam.

GLORIA, tu celebris semper stas vertice summo
 Parnassi, juvenes ad tua sacra vocans.
 Inter quos fateor quondam me thura dedisse,
 Votaque cum præculis ingeminasse piis.
 Gloria, vis veram dicam ? & quæ sentio ? vulgi
 Non moror applausus, judiciumve leve.
 Interea potero laudes agnoscere, sed quas
 Doctorum tribuet calculus ille virum.

Ad Thomam Roncornum.

FELIX quum teneas linguam, Roncorne, Latinam
 Judiciû rara dextera boni :

J. LELANDI ANTIQUARI

Cur sibi non partem studiorum vendicat unam
 Carmen, & effusis miscet amara jocis?
 Incipe Mœonio vates præludere versu:
 Adveniet cœptis dexter Apollo tuis.
 Ipse ego præterita peterem quum nocte cubile,
 Clausissetque mihi lumina fessa sopor,
 Laurigerum vidi Phœbum vidique sorores
 Ex hedera facili texere ferta manu.
 Cum quibus ornârant postquam tua tempora, dixit
 Delius: "Auspiciis cresce poeta bonis."
 Omnia ne spernas sacri felicia Phœbi:
 Est magnum, talem demeruisse deum.

Moriades. Charitæa corona.

Define facundas nimium laudare disertum
 Natas hortensî, maxima Roma, tui.
 Candida tres Charites nam Mori cura politi
 Obscurant multis nomina vestra modis.
 Non illis studium Miletia vellera dextra
 Carpere, non facili ducere fila manu.
 Sed juvat eloqui crebro monumenta Latini
 Versare, & doctis pingere verba notis.
 Nec minus auctores Græcos evolvere, Homerum
 Et quem dicendi gloria prima manet.
 Ut nec Aristotelis dicam quo pectore fibros
 Scrutentur, Sophiæ mytica dona deæ.
 Turpe viris posthac erit ignorare Minervæ
 Artes, grex adeo quas muliebris amet.

Pag. 68.

Ad Ludovicum Dubringum.

Carmen quo, Ludovice, me salutas
 Post longos reducem scholæ labores,
 Arridet varia mihi figura:
 Non tam quod facilem quorum fororum
 Secum magnifice afferat, dei que
 Sacrum Laurigeri gregem poetas,
 Quam quod sic animi ferat benigni
 Candorem niveum, fidemque certam
 Inter nos similes futuri amoris,
 Quam nunc accipio, lubensque: non quas
 Tu laudes calamo incalente scribis
 Accepturus: habent enim altiora
 Nostra hæc quam tenuis Minerva possit
 Fronte agnoscere maxime pudica:
 Sed tu, inquam, facile id facis, quod ultro
 Et semper facis illici favore:
 Hoc est, laudibus evehis frequenter

Omnes

Omnes magniloquis, Dubringe, faltem
Addictos sophiæ sacris severæ.
Ergo carmine reddimus Phaleuço
Laudem, quam tribuis canorus ipse
Præco. Sic etenim decet, juvatque
Par munus numeris tuis dedisse.

Ad illustrissimum Henricum, Ducem Richemontanum.

Q UO Romana modo majuscula littera pingi,
Pingi quo possit littera parva modo,
Hic liber ecce tibi signes monstrabit apertis,
Princeps, Aonii spes & alumne gregis.
Qui tibi si placeat, quod certe spero futurum,
Maxima pro parvo munere dona dabis.

Pag. 69.

Ad invictissimum Regem Henricum octavum, De Hippomachis.

S Plendida quis nescit veteris spectacula secli
Quot titulis vatum tollat in astra chorus?
Quæ collata tuis, Rex invictissime Regum,
Frigent: nunc liceat dicere vera mihi.
Præmia nam pugnae quoties decernis equestri,
Ipse sedens Scythico conspiciendus equo,
Flaminii longe vincis miracula circi,
Et quicquid campus Martius ille tulit.
Testis erit magnus Cæsar, mihi testis & ipse,
Gallica qui forti robore regna tenet.
Hi vel sæpe tuos coram videre triumphos,
Et visis palmam numen utrumque dedit.
Quis valet applausus hic connummare tuorum,
Quos dant quum sonipes verberet acer humum?
Quis valet insultus satis admirari altos,
Quum ferit alipedis calcar utrumque latus?
Artificesque manus, illos fortesque lacertos,
Quis valet emeritis condecorare notis?
Clamat iò populus, quoties cum laude reportas
Concusso fractam victor ab hoste trabem.
Scinditur interea procerum sententia lare,
De virtute ferunt iudiciumque tua.
Omnes magniloqui: certantes fortiter omnes,
Insignes titulos accumulare tibi.
Unus contendit, domitor quod Castor equorum
Talis erat, qualem te tua turba videt.
Alter, lætitia perfusus pectora dulci,
Hæc dicit: "Talis Troicus Hector erat."
Tertius, applaudens confert tibi nomen Achillis,
Virtutis similem sortem in utroque notans.

Denique

Denique, ut excrescat factorum fama tuorum,
 Non defunt, hac te qui ratione probant :
 “ Belliger horrifonis quantus Mars fertur in armis,
 “ Henricum tantum sentit arena ducem.”

In laudem Desiderii Erasmi.

O Ratore bono tumeat Demosthenes Græcus,
 Et celebret Mareum turba Latina suum :
 Dummodo collaudet magnum Germanus Erasmus,
 Eloquii cujus fons & in ore fluit.

Ad Rob. Aldrigum.

SI scires penitus meæ Camœnæ
 Erga te studium, benignis illam
 Ulnis acciperes, tuoque dignam
 (Ni fallor modo) diceres favore.
 At qui scire meæ (rogo) tacentis
 Affectum potes intimum Camœnæ ?
 (Ut sis ergo sciens) lubenter in te
 Testatos faciet suos amores,
 Attingetque tuas canora laudes
 Doctrinæ solidas, jubente Granta :
 Quæ te quæ juvenem bonas docebat
 Artes ingenuum, elegantiamque :
 Illo tempore, quo beata Erasmus
 Ingentis præstii virum fovebat,
 Non magno sine commodo suorum
 Omnium, & tulit ut quidem secundus
 Casus, præcipue tuo. Assidebas
 Nam Desiderio laboriose
 Exemplaria docta conferenti,
 Castæ reliquias Latinitatis.
 Nunc, Aldrige, tibi suas Camœna
 Partes præstitit, additura metam
 Succincti hendecasyllabis Phaleuci.

Acclamatio ad illustrissimum Henricum octi. Angliæ regem, Isidis vadium revisentem.

VEnisti princeps expectatissime rerum
 Ut tandem (radiis veluti sol aureus orbem)
 Isidis illustres sedem numerumque sophorum ?
 Ulnis te merito Charis & complectiter Isis,
 Quosque foveant placido gremio tua nomina, dulce
 Cantantes excelsa ferunt ad sidera Cygni.
 Perge precor doctis sua præmia reddere princeps,
 Qui te virtutesque tuas sic vasta per orbis
 Climata distendent, videaris ut omnibus instar
 Unus multorum victor ter maximus esse.

De quibusdam nostri seculi poetis.

HIC inter vates, quos secula nostra tulere,
 Si quæris, quis me iudice primus erit :
 Invidia dicam posita, quod sentio plane :
 Ungues nec metuet nostra Thalia nigros.
 Splendida collucet Pontani gloria primi,
 Nafonis cultor maximus ille fuit.
 Proximus à primo Græca de gente Marullus,
 Ad numeros natus mellifluosque modos.
 Actius, æterno Synceri nomine dignus,
 Florem virginei tollit ad astra chori :
 Mantua quem genuit Baptista canorus eandem
 Concinuit Mariam : clarus uterque nitet.
 Angelus ad numerum venit immortalis eorum :
 Divinus vates subsequiturque Vida.
 Nobilis est Hessi Musa, illustrissima testis
 Ilias in Latiis conspicienda scholis.
 Nicoleos noto dictus cognomine Valla,
 Candidus interpres hac quoque parte micat.
 Ætas nostra sales ac Mori laudat acumen,
 Gravior hæc eadem posteritasque canet.
 Borbonii Nugæ nostri vel seria ducunt.
 Sunt alii quorum carmina digna cedris.
 Non ego Sedigitus : mihi qui volet usque reclamet :
 Judicium per me stet modo cuique suum.
 At si nunc sciolus vel confidentior unus
 Pontani minuat dona beata mei :
 Præsto est quod referam (nec enim metuo mihi ab umbris)
 Unde operis pretium censor & ipse feret.
 Quicquid Cecropii procures docuere : Latini
 Quicquid & eloquii Roma diserta tulit :
 Eximium quicquid Dea prudentissima Pallas
 Præstitit ingenii fertilitate sui :
 Excoluit quicquid Phœbus, doctæque sorores,
 Quicquid in Aoniis prænitet atque jugis :
 Et Veneres quicquid, Charitesque, salesque, lepôresque
 Ac Pithô niveis exhibuere notis :
 Ut mittam Uranien, cœli stellasque micantes,
 Hesperidumque hortos, munera læta quidem :
 Adde antiquarum monumenta celebria rerum,
 In lucem è tenebris jam revocata novam :
 Omnino edidicit, mente atque recondidit alta,
 Intentus studiis nocte dieque bonis.
 Hæc me virtutis radiantia signa serenæ
 Tollere Pontanum sydera ad ipsa jubeant.

Pag. 72.

Ad Eadmundum Bonerum.

NON ego glandiferas possum deducere quercus
 Montibus aut dulci saxa movere sono :
 Non possum rapidos fluviorum sistere cursus :
 Sectantes prædam nec retinere feras.
 Parva loquor parvus : forsan mulcere Thalia
 Auriculas poterit nostra, Bonere, tuas.

Ad Lud: Bedellium.

Page 73.

SUPPETERET mihi si dicendi tanta facultas
 Olim quanta fuit Naso poëta tibi :
 Aut mihi si dives præstaret copia cornu,
 Virgilii quondam quale fuisse canunt :
 Te vel in illustri tabula depingere vellem,
 Bedelli, Aonii candida fama gregis.
 Sed quoniam non ista meo dat curta supellex
 Ingenio, vati sit voluisse satis.
 Nec voluisse satis, repetat nisi paucula, quæ te Commendent, laudes insinuantque tuas.
 Cantius ille suum te magni fecit alumnum
 Varramus, multæ nobilitatis homo.
 Omnibus hinc doctis cœpisti gratior esse,
 Præcipueque tuus magnus Erasmus erat.
 Qui fuit æqualis magno Grocinus Erasmo,
 Insigni coluit te pietate diu.
 Prima salutiferæ medicinæ gloria, Thomas
 Te Linacer noster fovit amore pari.
 Denique te longo dilexit tempore Morus,
 Morus amor Phœbi, delictumque fori.
 Hæc habui, cupidus te commendare perenni
 Famæ. Nunc votis annuat illa meis.

Ad Tho. Hardingum Theologum.

TALIS nuper erat tua certe oratio felix,
 Excoluit linguæ quæ decus omne sacræ,
 Qualis erat magni Demosthenis optima quondam,
 Atticus effluxit cujus ab ore lepos.
 Qualis & eximii Ciceronis floruit illa,
 Qua duce securus constitit ipse Milo.
 Unde hæc tam subito crevit facundia dives ?
 Aures quæ mentem detinuitque meam ?
 An dulcis Pithô rorem tibi nectaris illum
 Infudit ? vel apes mella dedere sua ?
 Intulerit quæcunque tuis sors fausta liquorem
 Labris mellissimum, profuit illa quidem.
 Denique si tua me posthac oratio lecta,
 Quantum audita semel, mulserit arte pari :

Confirmator

Confirmator ero vel maximus ipse tuarum
 Laudum ; præterea præco canorus ero,
 Et mea Musa tuum celebrabit carmine nomen,
 Cedro quo nullum dignius esse puto.

Pag. 74.

Liber Fr: Barbari, de re uxoria, D. Mariæ, Regis filia, datus.

BAbarus hoc parvo, quid res uxoria, Libro
 Explicat egregie (diva Maria) tibi.
 Accipies igitur plenis hæc nubilis annis
 Munera, ab officiis non aliena tuis,
 Sed qua fronte solet turbæ Regina pudicæ
 Quum vehitur niveis conspicienda rotis :
 Sic tibi contingat formosus (Nympha) maritus,
 Quem facias læta fertilitate patrem.

Instauratio bonarum literarum.

ECCE renascentis doctrinæ gloria floret,
 Linguarum floret cognitioque trium
 Migrat in Italiam Græcus thesaurus, & artes
 Se reparaturum prædicat usque bonas.
 Excolit eloquii vivos Hispania fontes,
 Gallia nunc studiis tota dicata nitet.
 Nutrit honorifice doctos Germania multos,
 Quorum sunt orbi nomina nota probe.
 Ingeniorum altrix & nostra Britannia, Phræum,
 Tiptotum, Viduum, Flaminiumque tulit.
 Lumina doctrinæ, Grocinus deinde secutus,
 Selligus, Linacer, Latimarusque pius,
 Dunstallus, Phoenix, Stocleius atque Coletus,
 Lilius & Paceus, festa corona virum.
 Omnes Italiam petierunt fidere fausto :
 Et nituit Latius Musa Britanna scholis.
 Omnes inque suam patriam rediere disertī,
 Secum thesauros & retulere suos :
 Namque antiquorum scripta exemplaria passim
 Græcorum, æternas quæ meruere cedros.
 Vivat doctorum felix industria, per quam
 Lux, pulsus tenebris, reddita clara nitet.

Pag. 75.

Ad Robertum Talbotum.

TU qui Castalio sitim liquore
 Musarum comes excutis beatus,
 Atque in verticibus sacri duobus
 Parnassi, placido sopore felix
 Languentis oculos subinde mulces :
 Tu qui nunc hederam geris sequacem,
 Clari præmia consueta vatis :

Argum

Arguta ad cythram canisque voce
 Centus melicos, Apollo quales,
 Quantumvis deus, ipse comprobaret :
 Adsis orationis modis Camœnæ,
 Talbote, Aœnii chori nitela,
 Quæ certe vehementer optat acre
 Istud iudicium tuum subire,
 Quo nil tersius, elegantiusve,
 Sed nec doctius, absolutiusve,
 Ut sic vel cadat impotenter acta,
 Aut stet candida, calculo notata
 Insigni, tereti, unionis instar :
 Et blattas timeat nihil, situmque.
 Jam tandem vidcor mihi videre
 Crescentes facie in tua favillas,
 Ignes quæ bene fuscitent amoris.
 Sic frons læta quidem serenat ora,
 Mentis sic oculi indices faventis
 Elucent radiis, benignus ipse
 Subrides etiam, titillat illud,
 Me tum commonet, ut putem Camœnæ
 Vel salva omnia jam esse, salva plane.
 Rumores igitur severiorum
 Omnes unius æstimabit assis,
 Et Codros (genus invidum) malignos,
 Picos obstreperos, loquaciorem
 Illum denique psittacum, sinistra
 Et corvos crocitate raucos
 Contemnet, clypeo valente freta :
 Ac rursus niveam benignitatem
 In charta memori tuam locabit.

Pag. 76.

Favonius, instructor musicus.

QUIS docuit Cygnum cantare? Favonius ille,
 Cujus ab occiduo spiritus orbe venit.

Ad Henricum octavum, Regem potentissimum:

ANTE suos Phœbus radios ostendere mundo
 Desinet & claras Cynthia pulchro faces :
 Ante fluet rapidum tacitis sine piscibus æquor,
 Spinifer & nullam sentis habebit avem :
 Ante sacræ quercus cessabunt spargere ramos,
 Floraque, sollicita pingere prata manu :
 Quam, Rex dive, tuum labatur pectore nostro
 Nomen, quod studiis portus & aura meis.

Ad Timotheum Lucium.

LUCI, Pieriæ decus cohortis,
 Cum quo sum solitus jocos severas
 Curas fallere maxime, obsecrator
 Ad te nunc venio: simulque caussa est,
 Ut Plauti numeros tui, fidesque,
 Deponas aliquot lubens ad horas:
 Noti & versiculos legas amici,
 Qui dotes faciles tuas celebrant:
 Qui te tam veterem mihi sodalem
 Cantant, suspiciunt, colunt, adornant
 Pro candore tuo: suas putantes
 Partes esse quidem, benignitatem
 Collatis meritis parem referre.

Ad Brienum Tuccam Equitem, quum ei Melam & Solinum offerret.

Pag. 77.

SI mores hominum multorum, urbesque videre
 Convenit ingenuo, Tucca diserte, viro:
 Si maris & terræ varios cognoscere tractus
 Tam gratam est, ut nil gratius esse queat:
 Occupet iste tuos oculos, animumque libellus,
 Qui tibi pro speculo totius orbis erit.

In reditum Guilielmi Guntheri.

PARVA remitte mihi nunc tempora, dia Thalia,
 Tempora nunc studiis parva remitte meis.
 Hæc modo festa dies, quæ lucem protulit almam,
 Cretenſi multum more notanda mihi.
 En meus en rediit Guntherus lætus ab urbe,
 Dulce decus, Musæ præsidiumque meæ.
 Digna Panomphœo reddentur vota Tonanti,
 Gaudia qui fausto fidere tanta dedit.

In frontispicio Libelli.

SI cupis antiquas rerum cognoscere causas,
 Quicquid & inscripti marmoris orbis habet:
 Huc mentem, huc oculos flectas, hic aurea pleno
 Ingentes cornu copia fundit opes.

Ad Franciscum Dinamum.

BELIſſoni doctum degustas carmen Homeri,
 Exsugens labris Attica mella tuis.
 Perge animo forti, cœptis audacibus olim
 Plenos successus pulchër Apollo dabit.
 Ipse sequar, mollis Zephyri quum lenior aura
 Extendet navis vela secunda meæ.

Interea utaris faustis, Franciscæ, diebus,
Nam sine litterulis, quæ fugit, hora perit.

Ad Cygnum, de Stella virgine.

Pag. 78.

O Qualis vultus, & quali dignus Apelle
Prænitet in Stella, candide Cygne, mea?
Rursus qui mores! animus quam candidus illi!
Pictor, qui formet talia, nullus erit.

In agilitatem schœnobatis.

Splendida famosum coluit dum Roma theatrum,
In pretioque stetit fabula docta suo:
Detinuit populi funambulus alipes usque
Defixos oculos, sit strepitusque frequens.
Præstitit artificis partes feliciter omnes,
Tensa levi doctus stringere lina pede.
Talia delectent sic quum spectacula plebem,
Ars pretium sperans exserit alta caput.
Venit ad æquoreos animosa virago Britannos,
Spectaculo certam præstituitque diem.
Et quia cudebat nummos, urbs inclita visa est
Londinum, cumulos posse referre novos.
Jamque dies aderat, numerus convenerat ingens;
Distenti funes, area tota calet:
Ludit in extensis agili pede Gallica virgo,
Nec timet occasum præcipitesve minas.
Sed quocunque parat sese transferre, volucris
Comprimat atque agitat lina retorta pede.
Mæandros populus dum suspicit, adsonat ore
Stentoreo, "temeros femina siste pedes."
Illa volat, cursuque novo perstringere lina
Perstat, sæstivis alloquiturque modis.
Alligat inde pilas teretes audacula plantis,
Et calcat celeri cognita lina gradu.
Mox spectatorum loculos ubi sentit apertos:
"O cadat in casses præda petita meos;"
Dixit. Et applaudens populus large erogat, atque
Virginis impigræ ludicra facta probat.
Secula quod retinent veterum, spectacula nostra
Collaudo plane, suspicioque lubens.
Adsit lætitiæ cumulus: crudelia prorsus
Damno, sanguineam, carnificemque manum.
Qualia multa quidem violenta potentia quondam
Urbis Romanæ tristitia sæpe tulit.

Ad Georgium Golduinum.

Pag. 79.

Communis studiorum amicus ille
Nostrorum Tomio, meis salutat

Te verbis, rogans tuæ ut Camœnæ
Carmen tam lepidum, elegans, venustum
Plene carminibus meis probarem.
Quod quanquam artificem petit peritum,
Fontem ac ingenii, tamen rogatus
Tali nec potui negare amico
Quicquam, nec volui. Ergo ut imperitæ
Ignoscas rogo, Goldüine, Musæ,
Quam nunc languidulam prope & jacentem
Hinc magnis Tomio excitavit ausis,
Illinc Lentulus excitavit ausis.

In laudem Gallesfridi Chauceri, Iſiaci.

DUM juga montis aper, frondes dum læta volucres,
Squamiger & liquidas piscis amabit aquas,
Mæonides Græcæ linguæ clarissimus auctor
Aonio primus carmine semper erit.
Altifonusque lyræ, Phœbo applaudente, Latinæ
Gloria Virgilius maxima semper erit.
Nec minus & noster Galfridus summa Britannæ
Chaucerus Musæ gratia semper erit.
Illos quis nescit felicia secla tulisse?
Hunc ætas tantum protulit illa rudis.
Tempora vidisset quod si florentia Musis,
Æquasset celebres vel superasset avos.

Ad H. Colum.

FELIX Theſpiadum comes diserte
Cole, illo ingenuo calore mentis
Linguæ qui recolis patres Latinæ,
Miscens apposite Latina Græcis;
Si nunc à tetrica vaces Minerva,
Et non detineant ter occupatum
Majores animum tuum labores,
Hoc carmen breve perlegas amici,
Quo monstrare cupit suum benignus
Erga te studium, elegantia at non Illa, qua niveus chorus repidet
Hinc illinc patavinus, atque dotes
Insignes celebrat tuas canorus:
Seq̃ qua principio sacram poësin
Crescentes juvenes solent adire,
Hoc est, pertenui & parum sonora.

Page 8a.

De Gallesfrido Chaucero, Equite.

PRædicat Aligerum merito Florentia Dantem,
Italia & numeros tota (Petrarcha) tuos:

Anglia

Anglia Chaucerum veneratur nostra poetam,
Cui verneris debet patria lingua suas.

Victoria Viennensis.

SIqua dies unquam, merito hæc te fausta canoram
Admonet ut sumas, Calliopæa, lyram.
Nam pater omnipotens gentem miseratus ab alto
Christicolûm, victo victor ab hoste redit.
Cinxerat innumeris peditumque equitumque catervis
Muros Turca ferox (pulchra Vienna) tuos.
Hunc sensisse putes immanem elementa tyrannum,
Illius inque sacrum tela vibrare caput.
Danubijs tumuit rapidis violentior undis,
Intentans Scythico funera iusta duci.
Toto (vera loquor) cecidit nix plurima cœlo,
Et gelidus cœpit stringere cuncta rigor.
Hinc etiam cives telorum grandine densa
Millia Turcarum multa dedere neci.
Barbarus hæc sensit Solymanus, & urbe relicta
Corripuit turpem turpior ipse fugam.

De munificentissimo rege Henrico octavo.

Pag. 81.

NON possum domino meo referre
Grates pro meritis pares suis: sed
Longam si dederint secunda nostris
Vitam fata libris; futura clare
Ætas sentiet, atque prædicabit
Demissum à Superis fuisse lumen
Illum conspicuum meis Camœnis.

Ad Richardum Ventamum Juridicum.

DEsieram plectron digitis aptare fuëtis,
Et chelys in theca condita nostra fuit:
Candida quum tua me virtus, Ventame, juberet
Argutæ nervis invigilare lyræ.
Quis mihi defueto dictabit carmina vati?
Quis? nisi præcipuus fautor Apollo meus?
Ille probe novit dotes quas sacra Minerva
Ingenii dederit judiciiue tibi.
Ille etiam novit tua sit facundia quanta,
Quæ vel dura quidem saxa movere solet.
Suppressat hæc Clarius: nos nulla minora canemus:
Sunt tua causidico fulmina nota foro.
Fulmina cordatos terrentia sæpe patronos,
Quum partes nequeunt constabilire suas.
Non ego nunc vanus jacto sine testibus ista,
Carnæus testes atque Ododunus erunt.

Qu

Quos habet in pretio querulorum turba clientum,
 Consilium quoties ardua causa petit.
 Sit satis hic laudum partem cecinisse tuarum :
 Oſſim forte meo carmine major eris.
 Tunc canet alma parens nostros tua Cambria versus,
 Et docti, quotquot terra Britannia fovet.

Ad Joannem Shepreuium.

INter candidulos meos amicos,
 Sheprevi, loca qui tenes suprema,
 Ob morum lepidam suavitatem,
 Et musas etiam elegantiores :
 En nomen placuit tuum libellis
 Nostris inferuisse : non quod ipse
 His unquam numeris putem futurum,
 Clara arrideat ut sereniori
 Vultu fama tibi, sed ut benigni
 Cognitionas animum & probes amici.

Pag. 82.

Ad Thomam Maronem.

QUAM bene cum Zephyro violetis convenit, & quam
 Melliferis apibus cum redolente thymo :
 Conjuge cum propria viti quam convenit ulmo,
 Tam mihi cum niveis moribus hercle tuis.
 Unanimes igitur synceri munus amoris
 Curemus, dextris candide utrinque datis.
 En mea dextra tuo prompte subscribit amori,
 Ne desit fidei syngrapha certa bonæ.
 Fac tua (quod superest) subscribat dextera nostro,
 Impleat ut gratas charta notata vices.
 Sic tibi, docte Maro, illustri virtutis alumno,
 Cum Musis faveat clarus Apollo novem.

Fama virtutis aterna.

QUAM parvo fragilis marcescit tempore forma ?
 Deferit & niveum corpora nostra decus ?
 Ille ego cognovi puerum, qui viderat annos
 Bissenos, (formæ gloria prima fuit.)
 Contigit hunc ipsam post paucos cernere menses,
 Heu nitidæ formæ gratia lapsa fuit.
 Virginei decor est oris (ni fallor) amœno
 Persimilis flori, nam cito uterque cadit.
 Retrogradi quum sol petit igneus atria Cancrī,
 Florida puniceo spirat odore rosa :
 Deficiente statim vitalis munere fucci,
 Purpureas moritur pallida facta comas.
 Sic modo quæ pulchra resplendet fronte venustas
 Languabit, spatio defluet atque brevi.

Fingite formam animi, virtutem, cordibus altis,
 Cultorem nunquam deferet illa suum.
 Conferet hæc vitæ fructus feliciter amplos
 Præsentî, pacem constituetque ratam.
 Et tandem à tenebris lucem perducet ad almam,
 Æternam ut videant atria celsa Dei.

De Jo: Tuino.

Incipe nunc, Erato, nostrum laudare Tuinum,
 Doctorum merito quem chorus omnis amat.
 Ille canit dextris Musis & Apolline versus,
 Quos habet in pretio Cantia tota suo.
 Insuper illustrat nostros ex ordine reges,
 Imperii sobolem, Dux Gulielme, tui,
 Denique scriptorum veterum monumenta polita
 Disquirît, studiis profit ut ille bonis.
 Invigilatque scholæ, Dorovernæ nomine, dictæ,
 Quæ servatori fana dicata tenet.
 Ista quidem si sunt minime laudanda, Tuinum
 Desine tunc, Erato, concelebrare meum.

Ad Thomam Eliotam, Equitem ornatiss:

Forsitan exspectans, Eliota diserte, venumtum
 Ut transmittam aliquod munus ab urbe tibi.
 Ut non exspectes, mentis tamen intimus in me
 Promeruit candor munus at omne tuæ.
 At ne quid temere mittam, vel quod sit ineptum,
 Restat in officiis unica cura meis.
 Non aurum mittam, longo nam temporis usu
 Fulgidus est auri deperiturus honor.
 Non in Erythræis crescentia munera conchis,
 Margaritarum gratia fluxa, brevis.
 Sed neque gemmarum radiantia sidera mittam :
 Tantum oculos pascunt, cetera nuda quidem.
 Excutienda mihi quare sunt munera, quæ non Corrumpant ullo secula longa modo.
 Talia sed magno quæruntur dona labore,
 Et poscunt animi fertilioris opem.
 Quum mea nil aliud possit præstare Camœna,
 Præter Castaliis carmina mista modis :
 Carmina fac igitur capias hæc fronte remissâ
 Munera, sed meritis inferiora tuis.
 Queis modo si annuerint stabilem fata optima vitam,
 Longe auro & gemmis splendidiora dedi.
 Sic te perpetuo victuros scribere libros,
 Edere me juvet & carmina digna cedro.

Ad Musam, de H. Dunovedo Equite.

Quantus erat, celebri quum Roma niteret honore
 Mæcenas Flacco Virgilioque suo :
 Quantus erat lepidio facundus Stella poetæ,
 Quem jactat civem Bilbilis alta suum :
 Quantus erat satyræ scriptori Caius ille
 Bassus : in Aufonia cognita fama chely :
 Tantus Dunovedus tibi sit, mea Musa canora,
 Quo solido propior nemo in amore mihi.

Ad Nic: Ododunum, Ecclesiæ Durovernenfis & Ifurovicanae Decanum.

FELIX Cæsarei fori Ododune
 Lumen conspicuum, sereniores
 Extende hic radios tuos : ocellis
 Lætis aspice candidum libellum
 In lucem modo prodeuntem apertam,
 Ut doctos celebret viros, tuasque
 Laudes eximias canat sonorus.
 Hoc unum rogitat, velis favere
 Nunc auctori operis laboriosi.
 Cujus sedulitate convalescens
 Tandem sic didicit loqui diserte.
 Fausto fidere prænitente primum
 Te gens libera Cantii videbant,
 Natum ex nobilium domo virorum,
 Divina indole præditumque, cujus
 Magno munere litteras politas
 Degustasti etiam domi forisque.
 Unde & Parrhisiis, chorum eloquentem,
 Germanosque, gregem venustiorum,
 Postremo ac Italos, decus Latinæ
 Linguae præcipuum, inclytamque Romam
 Invisisti alacer, tulisti & amplos
 Fructus, tunc pretium laboris altum.
 Sic tandem repetens tuos penates
 Intrasti medium forum, clientisque
 In rebus dubiis suum patronum
 Collaudant, recolunt, probant, amantque.
 Auctus denique Regio favore
 Legati officium omne præstitisti.
 Noster concinuit tuas libellus
 Laudes : concine tu illius vicissim,
 Alternos numeros amant Camœnæ.

Pag. 35.

Ad Thomam Motersbedum.

DOctorum niveum decus sororum,
 Mi Thoma, patriam tuam serenās
 Qui virtutibus undequaque claris :
 Ad te nunc properat gradu secundo
 Vel lætissima Musa nostra, sperans
 Pro candore tuo futurum id, optat
 Quod vel mirificis modis, benignum
 Nempe ut te sibi comparet patronum ;
 Quo tandem duce cognito, probatoque
 Insigni Clario, petat celebres
 Montes Aōnios, petatque festum
 Parnassum, ac Heliconios liquores
 Pleno combibat ore perbeata.
 Hanc tu si facili manu lubenter
 Nunc perduxeris usque eo venire
 Quo contendit, ita illa comprobabit
 Erga se beneficium tuum omne
 Collatum, ut resonet modis canoris
 Te natum studia ad politiora :
 Nam clarissima Cæsarum tuorum
 Facta & Laurigeros canet triumphos,
 Tum Mauros domitos, ferumque Turcā
 Devictum resonabit & fugatum.

Pag. 86.

In laudem Hugonis Visiduni.

Visidunus erit mea candida cura, celebris,
 Qui Christum, sacram personat atque fidem,
 Is quum suggestum conscendit candidus altum,
 Æterni ut referet mystica verba Dei,
 Docta caterva virū, fluvius qua labitur Isis,
 Convolat, ac aures arrigit usque silens.
 Edocet interea magni miracula Christi,
 Auditor solem justitiæque colit.
 Majori nullus studio pia Themata dicit :
 Orator dulcis, sedulus, atque sagax.
 Quam pius hic tractat partes feliciter omnes,
 Quas vel jure suo concio sacra petit ?
 Audivi claros dicendi sæpius arte,
 Eloquio quorum raptus & ipse fui :
 Hactenus at non est certe mihi cognitus alter,
 Qui, Visidunus fulget ut ille meus.
 Quid referam multis vultumque habitumque decorum
 Illius ? aut quod mel profluat ore merum ?
 Aut quibus exemplis divinæ lumina legis
 Illustret, rara dexteritate sua ?

Sedulitas

Sedulitatem apium prudens imitatus Hyblæam,
 Delibat veterum tot monumenta patrum.
 Quidve loquar morem quo, denique, numine fretus,
 Ad Christum alliciat mitia còrda suum?
 Hac recta pergat pius, &, duce flamine sancto,
 Conscendet magni culmina celsa dei.

Ad Richardum Schellægum.

Salve delictum merum Britannæ
 Gentis, qui celebres tuos parentes
 Virtute alta animi celebriores
 Reddis, restituisque utranque linguam
 Antiquo facilis suo nitore:
 Momentum breve temporis remitte,
 Excultis sphiæ libris severæ.
 Tulli & Rhetoricos tui colores
 Pone, hic dum Pharia notat papyro
 Dulcis versiculos Camæna paucos.
 Quæ stare in numero cupit tuorum,
 Si tu si modo splendida relucens
 Fortuna, tenuem benignitate
 Admittas solita, quod ipse non te
 Facturum dubito: vir es modestus,
 Candoris nivei, & lepôris almi.
 Nunc, Schellæge, vale, manuque fausta
 Artes asserere, litterasque doctas.

Pag. 87.

Causa Cygneæ cantionis non edita ab Erasmo.

Quid fuit in causâ moriens quod nuper Erasmus
 Cygneum tacito prefferit ore melos?
 Quæ solet argutos cantores reddere Cygnos,
 Non flavit zephyri lenior aura sui.

Ad eruditissimum virum D. Thomam Smythium, Equ.

Doctorum celebras (Smythi) monumenta virorum
 Ardenti studio & dexteritate pari.
 Unde tibi accrevit virtutis nomine fama,
 Judice me, nullo deperitura die.
 Granta venusta tuas collaudat, cantitat; ornat
 Eximias dotes, ingeniumque tuum.
 Quicquid in Aoniis speciosum montibus olim,
 Quicquid in Italicis prænitet atque jugis:
 Est tibi tam notum, quam quod notissimum: abundas
 Artibus, & rara cognitione vales.
 Fontibus eloquii sitientia labra rigâsti:
 Atticus ille tuo regnat in ore lepos.
 Instaurare bonas pergas feliciter artes,
 Laudabit factum posteritasque tuum.

Ad Thomam Tidringtonum.

TE nunc per Charites rogo benignas,
 Et te per faciles rogo Camœnas,
 Te per Castaliæ ducem catervæ,
 Et numen rogo per sacrum Minervæ,
 Quæso per Genium tuum, venustas
 Et per litterulas tuas quidem illas,
 Ut munus solide meum perornes
 Verbis ac stimulis novis subinde :
 Si torpet, memor excites Roæum.
 Quam tu sis probus artifex, simulque
 Novi quam vehemens fies Pericles.
 Extendas igitur velim valentes
 Nervos ingenii tui expediti.
 Sic stabit mea causâ te patrono,
 Tu laudem officii feres peregrinum.

In frontispicio libelli, cui titulus Antiphilarchia.

ME jussit pietas amorque veri,
 Jussit religio, fidesque pura,
 Christus denique jussit ipse, stricto ut
 Divini impeterem mucrone verbi
 Hostem Evangelii ferocientem.
 Lectores, mea cura, candidi, nunc
 Æquum si petimus, novo libello
 Linguis ac animis favete dextris.

Ad libellum de D. Jo: Checo.

SI vis Thespiadum choro probari,
 Fac ut consilio, libelle, nostro,
 Facundo studeas placere Checo,
 Quem Pandionis colunt Athenæ,
 Et quem Roma colit diserta multum.
 Quem Rex maximus omnium supremusque
 Henricus reputans virum probatum
 Spectatumque satis, reconditæque
 Censorem solidum eruditionis,
 Eduardum bene filium, suumque
 Heredem, puerum, illi ad alta natum,
 Sic concredidit, utriusque linguæ
 Flores ut legeret venustiores,
 Exercens facili manum labore,
 Et Christi imbiberet suâve nectar.
 Felicem arbitror hanc diem fuisse,
 Tanto discipulo dedit magistrum
 Quæ talem. Unde suo venusta alumno

Granta assurgit, & excitata plaudit.
 Quod jussi, facias velim, libelle,
 Checum concilies tibi que amicum.
 Is si te nivea manu tenebit,
 Perlustrans oculo tuos sereno
 Versus, ô facile inter eruditos
 Exspectare potes locum poëtas,
 Et famam domini tui per orbem
 Late extendere. Perge quo parabas.

Ad Thomam Leghum, Armigerum Adlingtonensem, de D. Richardi Coxii fide & integritate.

QUUM fucis adeo laboret orbis
 Totus, me rogitas, amice, narrem
 Ore ut veridico tibi petenti,
 Si dum reppererim, omnibus fidelem
 Quem possem numeris virum probare.
 Talem me volo repperisse credas :
 Albo rarior est ac ille corvo.
 Novisti bene Coxium pium illum,
 Sacri Evangelii tubam sonoram :
 Quem clarus patriæ pater Britannus
 Dilectum refovet, suoque nato
 Inservire jubet probum tenello.
 Is vir judicio omnium piorum
 Omni ex parte fidelis integerque.

In effigiem Henrici octi: Regis Angliæ.

Siqua manus pinxit vivos in imagine vultus,
 Hæc operis pretium verna tabella tulit.
 Sidereos sic rex oculos frontemque serenat
 Splendidus Henricus, sol sine nube micans.

Ad Thomam Cranmerum, Cantiorum Archiepiscopum.

EST congesta mihi domi supellex
 Ingens, aurea, nobilis, venusta,
 Qua totus studeo Britanniarum
 Vero reddere gloriam nitori.
 Sed fortuna meis noverca cœptis
 Jam felicibus invidet maligna.
 Quare, ne pereant brevi vel hora
 Multarum mihi noctium labores
 Omnes, & patriæ simul decora
 Ornamenta cadant, suusque splendor
 Antiquis male desit usque rebus,
 Cranmere, Eximium decus piorum,
 Implorare tuam benignitatem

Cogor :

Cogor : fac igitur tuo suëto
 Pro candore, meum decus, patronumque,
 Ut tantum faveat, roges, labori
 Incepto : pretium sequetur amplum.
 Sic nomen tibi litteræ elegantes
 Recte perpetuum dabunt, suosque
 Partim vel titulos tibi receptos
 Concedet memori Britannus ore.
 Sic te posteritas amabit omnis,
 Et fama super æthera innotesces.

Ad Henricum Houertum, illustriff: Regnorum Comitẽ.

Pag. 91.

QUOT sunt sidera candicante cœlo,
 Et quot saltibus arbores in ipsis,
 Quot sunt pinnigeri freto Britanno
 Pisces, & Lybicus lapilli arenis :
 Quot sunt collibus Italis racemi,
 Et quot Niliacis agris aristæ :
 Tot Lelandus agit tibi benigno,
 Toto pectore gratias amico
 Regnorum Comiti, tibi coronas
 Texens laurigeras, perenne munus,
 Quæ festum caput implicant triumphis.

Castos esse decet poëtas.

LEsbia lascivo placuit formosa Catullo,
 Lesbia fulgentes candida pexa comas.
 Collaudant alii teneros Varronis amores,
 Formosam & noto nomine Leucadium.
 Qui cecinit molles elegos resonante Camœna,
 Calvi Quintiliam tollit ad astra sui.
 Deliciæ Galli docti clarique poëtæ,
 Eximium nomen pulchra Lycoris habet.
 Lactea Peligni floret Nasonis amica,
 Materiem numeris sueta Corynna dare :
 Cynthia laudatur deterfi Nympha Propertii,
 Et Cynara est Flacco nota puella suo.
 Talia molliculi cantabant carmina vates,
 Ignari vitæ qui melioris erant.
 Christicola at castos castus decantet amores,
 Et sacros resonet Musa pudica thoros.
 Sic in fiderea cœli spatiaabitur aula,
 Lætitiæque novos concinet ille modos.

Ad libellum, de Jo: Becheniano.

TU quum prodieris pictus fuligine preli
 In lucem, doctos extulerisque viros :

Bechen.

Bechenſanus erit tibi vel tutela politus,
 Artes qui didicit perdocuitque bonas,
 Qua celer ancipiti decurſu proſluit amnis
 Iſis, dicta eſt urbs Iſidis unde Vadum :
 Et qua Parrhiſios collambit Sequana flumen,
 Valle vagus media, nobilis urbis honor.
 Te decet, excultum multa impertire ſalute
 Illum, nam ſtudiis annuit atque favet.
 Utpote qui cœtet præſtantes fortiter artes

Ad Helium Eobanum, Heſſum.

HEſſe tuos libros vatum celeberrime legi,
 Et lecti ſumme perplacuerè mihi :
 Sentio Naſonis venam facilemque fluentemque
 Ingenii fontes nunc ſubiſſe tui.
 Mentior, hæc eadem niſi tota Britannia noſtra
 Quanta eſt (& merito) prædicet atque canat.
 Non opus eſt in re manifeſta teſtibus ullis,
 Teſtibus hîc quanquam nec mea verba carent.

Ad Antonium Denegum, Equitem.

ANtoni, eximios qui flores inter amicos,
 Quos dedit Henrici regia clara mihi :
 Te mea contendit juſtis celebrare Camœna
 Laudibus, & nomen tollere ad aſtra tuum.
 In teneris annis junc̃ti conviximus ambo,
 Qua docuit terſus Lillius ipſe ſchola.
 O quoties audita mihi tua verba ferebant
 Aſſiduosque jocos, aſſiduosque ſales !
 Ingenio nec te quiſquam felicior acri,
 Perpetuusque tuo fluxit ab ore lepos.
 Tum deſiderio captus peregrina videndi,
 Acceleras votum, duxque Briennus erat.
 Cognitioque tibi linguarum hinc floruit alta,

Senſerat .

Senferat hoc regum qui prudentissimus unus,
 Te famulum fautor constituitque suum.
 Quanta apud illum sit tua nunc vel gratia flagrans,

 Illa quidem ut fileat, sum testis certior ipse :
 Commendas regi munera nostra tuo.
 Hinc me conspicuo collustrat lumine Phœbus,
 Promovet & causam gratia blanda meam.
 Quas tibi nunc referam pro tali pectore grates ?
 Dicêris Musæ gloria magna meæ.

De Gallofrido Chaucero.

QUUM vivum teres Atticus leporem
 Invenisset, & undecunque Græcam
 Linguam perpoliisset, insolenter
 Audebat reliquos, rudes vocare.
 Cujus judicium impiger Quirinus
 Intenso studio sequens, Latinum
 Sermonem quoque reddidit venustum,
 Et cum Græco, alios rudes vocavit.
 At quanto mihi rectius videtur
 Fecisse officium suum disertus
 Chaucerus, brevitate primus apta
 Linguam qui patriam redegit illam
 In formam, ut Venere & lepore multo,
 Ut multo sale, gratiæque multa,
 Luceret, velut hesperus minora
 Inter sidera ? nec tamen superbus
 Linguae barbariem exprobravit ulli
 Genti : tam facilis fuit, benignusque.
 Ergo vos juvenes manu Britanni
 Læta spargite nunc rosas suâve
 Spirantes, violasque molliores :
 Et vestro date candido poetæ
 Formosam ex hedera citi coronam.

TRADIDIT Isiacis tua carmina candidus hospes,
 Heroum iusto quæ pede facta canunt.
 Judiciumque meum quærebat sedulus idem,
 Ascribens Musis non tribuenda meis.
 Hæc cui pauca quidem dixi pro tempore : “ non sum

 Quin alacri potius testabar gaudia vultu,
 Ansam me numeris forte dedisse tuis.
 Unde quod ipse rudi cecinissem carmine, quodque

Ad Tho: Danetium.

C Andide noſtrarum Muſarum præco Daneti,
 Qui veteris ſeculi tempora docta refers:

 Nil prorſus poſſit charius eſſe modo.
 Cujus & indicium monſtrabo paratus amoris,

Ad Thomam Caium.

C Aius, imperii dum gloria floruit ampli,

De Georgio Daio, Episc: Geicastro:

DAius est Musis commendatissimus ipsis,
Nec calamo felix indiget ille meo.
Attamen hic cupio veteris meminisse sodalis,
Ingenuum juveni quem mihi Granta dedit.
Præcipue quum sit talis, qualem utraque Pallas
Approbat, & melicis tollit ad astra logis.

Ad D. Audoënum, medicum Regium.

MUSIS Iſiacis, Audoëne, notus

Intentus studio frequenter illo,
Fructum hinc inde refers opimiorum :

Pag. 97.

Tu puero in studiis mihi conjunctissimus: ipsos
 Suspexi mores, ingeniumque tuum.
 Et me felicem, fortunatumque putabam,
 Te socium nactus, praesidiumque mihi.
 A Superis petii supplex, votoque favebant,
 Nos ut perpetuus cresceret inter amor.
 Causidici tu jura fori celebrare parabas,
 Applausit studiis Granta beata meis.
 Tempore sic longo disjuncta ita corpora nostra:
 Praesentes animi, convaluere tamen.
 Confectis studiis affulsit laetior hora,
 Disjunctos rursus quæ sociare queat.
 Quid nunc commemorem, quo tu candore bea
 Exiguas Musas, vel sine fine, meas?
 Haftenus à te nil petii, quod non tuus in me
 Contulerit promptus munificusque favor.
 Testis erat factorum erga me Tucca tuorum,
 Legius, & testis, noster amicus erat.
 Coxius & superest æterno carmine dignus,
 Te qui patronum praedicat esse meum.
 Pingere si possem, vivisque coloribus uti,
 Effigiem exprimeret dextera nostra tuam.
 Splenderesque foro medio, velut hesperus
 Signaque justitiæ conspicienda dares.
 Hanc ego quum nequeam præstare venustit
 Id faciam certe quod mea cura monet.
 Nempe ut posteritas noscat, serique nepotes,
 Virtutes semper me coluisse tuas.

Ad Henr: 8. regem.

Quinti nunc opera locuens Latine

 Virtutes celeberrimas avorum.

Ad Guilielmum Henricum, nobilissimum Comitem Ostrofaxonum.

Pag. 98.

ME tua nobilitas, qua non illustrior ulla,
 Provocat ad cytharam, clarisonumque melos.
 Perge favere tuas laudes, Gulielme, canenti
 Vati, quo certe nomine major eris.
 Te genuit scitum borealis Avonia, tellus
 Eximie omnigena fertilitate scatens.
 Teque adolescentem facundo Pindarus ore,
 Ingenium docuit verba Latina loqui.

Mellissuos modulos quisquis fuit ille deorum
 Qui te perdocuit contremulosque tonos,
 A te discipulo præconia lucida sumpsit,
 Cujus concentus pulsat utrumque polum,
 Crediderim Phœbum sic te instruxisse canorum,
 Carmina tam melicis concinis usque sonis.
 Non te convincit fama celeberrimus Orpheus,
 Ut nec Arionæ stamina læta lyræ.
 Nec te convincit resonis philomela querelis,
 Nec qui, quum moritur, concinit albus olor.
 Fulmineo caderet quum fracta Bononia bello,
 Et Morinos premerent Martia tela truces,
 Talia personuit dulci tua cantio voce,
 Qualia vel Musæ concinuisse velint.
 Non meliora quidem Dantes dedit inclytus ille,
 Aut qui Petrarchæ nomine notus erat.
 Sed neque Chaucerus resonanti musicus ore,
 Aut meus, arguta voce, Viatus, amor.
 Sæpe es doctorum numeros laudare suetus,
 Emeritis tribuens præmia digna viris.
 Denique tu punctum facile hic sic omne tulisti,
 Impar ut videar laudibus esse tuis.

Ad Helium Eobanum Hessum.

Fig. 99.

EXiguos elegos nuper transmisimus ad te,
 Cultorem Phœbi Castalique chori.
 Reddita nulla tamen nobis pervenit ab Hesso
 Littera, quæ posset grata referre vices.

 Da veniam nugis, magne poëta, meis.

Ad Georgium Ferrarium.

SI modo Verlamum, vetus urbs victoribus olim
 Cognita Romanis, tota niteret ovans :
 Te niveis certe insigniret grata lapillis,
 Texeret ac facili florea sertâ manu :
 Queis tua congaudens redimiret tempora festa
 Quod Musas deamet, Castaliumque gregem.
 Concidit antiquæ sed gloria funditus urbis,
 Albani fanum quod reparavit opus.
 Fortunæ scandens alta ad fastigia summæ,
 Cromuellus sibi te vir catus asseruit.
 Deinde animo leges patrias evolvis, & illis
 Sedulus infervis, causidicoque foro,
 Patronum veterem repetis patronus & ipse,
 Ac lepidis dictis lætitiæque studes.

Gloria at illius cecidit, magnamque ruinam
 Passa est: sic versat fors male fida rotas.
 Antica vita tibi placuit, mox regia magni
 Te Henrici gremio foverat ampla suo.
 Horrida bella sonant, Martis scelerura coruscant,
 Et Scotti & Morini tela cruenta vibrant.
 Fortior occurris, gladio clypeoque resumpto,
 Bellator prodis Martius, atque minax.
 Vidisti Scottos victor Morinosque fugatos,
 Et patuit virtus amplior inde tua.
 Perge, ut cepisti, magnum te ostendere factis
 Ferrari, & nostro carmine major eris.

Ad Guilielmum Pagettium, Henrico oct: Regi à secretis.

Illustrare tuum, Pagetti candide, nomen
 Percupio, niveis & celebrare notis.
 Lucidus aspiret Phoebus mihi grata canenti,
 Inceptum facilis promoveatque meum.
 Sic ego magnificum potero deducere carmen,
 Et tua per resonos dicere facta modos.
 Sentio nunc venisse Deum: viresque ministrat,
 Perscribam laudes ingeniose tuas.
 Te puerum in lucem Londinum protulit almam,
 Est urbs hæc eadem, patria clara mihi.
 In qua tu studiis operam cum fruge dedisti,
 Sed nec ego à studiis tunc alienus eram.
 Grammatici enituit quo tempore gloria Lillii,
 Notior ille tibi, notior ille mihi.
 Cujus tu partes fautor, certante Gonello,
 Tutatus calamo es, non sine laude, tuo.
 Interea excrevit vitæ maturior ætas,
 Atque puellares præteriere dies.
 Ecce petis vivos fontes, Grantana fluenta,
 Nectareoque rigas labra liquore tua.
 Ast ego præcessi: nec segniter ipse secutus
 Vicisti fortis munera parva meæ.
 Tu Gardineri petiisti testæ, disertum
 Eloquii sedem, Pierique chori.
 Sors vel ad obstreperos me duxit iniqua sophistas,
 Tale quidem potui non ego ferre jugum.
 Suffugio quodam sed honesto Gallica regna
 Invisi, schola qua Parrhisiana viget.
 Quo magnis & tu properasti passibus, ardens
 Linguarum nitida cognitione frui.
 Confecta tandem causa feliciter omni,
 Tu patriam repetis civis amicus humum.

Principis Eduardi tollit ad astra caput.

Ad Gualterum Heueddunum, Ciceronianum.

Heueddune tibi favet caterva

 Lumen & ingenii tibi sic affulsit acuti,
 Tum virtus sic te condecoravit ovans,
 Unus multorum certe sis visus ut instar :
 Tu mihi mel fragrans delictumque merum.
 Quid nunc commemorem, quo te Comœdia Plauti
 Accepit plausu, miles & ille tumens ?
 Si mihi judicium solidum persfloruit unquam,
 Aures si aut oculi prævalere mei,
 Dispeream si non fueris tam lucidus actor,
 Quam qui maxime, & hic dicere vera libet :
 Sic oculos, sic ille manus, sic ora gerebat,
 Sic quoque personuit, quisquis & ille fuit,

Ut dici possit, Romani cura theatri,
 Atque operis pretium rettulit omne sui.
 Gardinerus, homo fortunas natus ad amplas,
 Se Uoluefego consecrat atque dicat.
 Maxima tu spirans, Grantana sorte relicta,
 Principis Henrici splendida testa petis.
 Thesaurosque manu nocturna, sæpe diurna
 Versas, & curis prospicis usque tuis.
 Pecchamus hæc cernens, sic ora resolvit amicus,
 Judicio crescet candidus iste meo.
 Legati munus tum Gardinerus obibat,
 Te comitem lateri junxerat atque suo.
 Hinc crevit magnis certa experientia rebus,
 Et fama enituit latius inde tua.
 Cromwellusque potens sic delectatus amœno est
 Floræ tui ingenii & dexteritate rata,
 Ut te crediderit naturæ dona sagacis
 Haussisse ex Sophiæ fontibus irriguis.
 Senserat hæc princeps, quo non cordatior alter,
 Hinc te sublimi collocat inque gradu.
 Orator celebris Batavos, Belgasque potentes
 Dum petis, eximie munere functus, ovas.
 Cæsaris inde tibi soror ac Regina beata
 Plausit, & officium comprobât omne tuum.

 Qui te pro meritis extulit usque tuis.

Imperique tui læta subibo jugum.
Paciferam dextra quoties gestabis olivam,

Impleat optato Zephyrus mea carbasa vento,
Sole sub ardenti tædia nulla feres.
Inclyta si laurus te forte ad bella vocarit,
In galeæ cono stabo superba tuæ.
Unica nobilium puerorum gloria, Princeps,
Vivas : perpetuum tu mihi numen eris.

Allusio ad etymon nominis Eadueardi.

QUisquis Eaduerdum Romano expresserit ore,
Custodem fidei dixerit esse sacræ.
Hoc ego crediderim puero feliciter orto
A superis nomen coelitus esse datum.

Applausus H. 8.

VIVE pater patriæ, rex invictissime : vivas
Ascaniusque tuus, phœnicis filius albæ.

Ad D. Guilielmum Seisfillium.

DICERIS merito gallinæ filius albæ,
Sic te suspiciunt fata, secunda suum.
Non modo suspiciunt, commendant rectius almo
Te Phœbo totum, Pierioque choro.
Provenit inde quidem successus lætus, & ille,
Qui tibi promittit præmia digna cedro.
Candidus erudit noster te Chæcus amicus,
Chæcus Cecropii gloria prima gregis.
Cognitione nites linguæ exuberante Pelasgæ,
Et misces Græcis verba Latina sonis.
Invigilas studiis felix noctesque diesque,
Sic quoque per musas parva corona tibi :
Illa dies niveo est semper signanda lapillo,
Quæ tibi Milaredam junxit amore pari.
Femina nulla magis doctas amplectitur artes,
Græcula te Græcum diligit illa suum,
Illa tibi vitis, tuque ulmus candidus illi,
Conjugia fausto gaudet uterque suo.
Vivite felices, Musarum cura perennis
Vos servet, summo constituatque loco.

Ad D. Harlegum.

Virtutes animi sic te redimire videntur,
 Ut redimit festum verna corona caput.
 Deposcunt igitur dignas sua præmia laudes,
 Præmia in æternis conspicienda libris.
 Fonte caballino si quando labella rigassem,
 Virtutes alacer tollerem ad astra sacras,
 Et te virtutis cultorem, Harlege, probatum
 Laudaret resonis hæc mea Musa modis.
 Repit humi tenuis, metuens & subsidet imo,
 (Absint ut vires) officiosa tamen.
 Nomine quo, strictim laudes attinget amica
 Qualiscunque tuas, sula canora movens.
 Omne genus sophiæ gustasti pervigil, atque
 Haussisti eloqui vina fluentia pii.
 Tu quoque facundi Ciceronis magnus amator:
 Et tibi majestas Virgiliana placet.
 Profluviumque colis Nalonis, versibus unde
 Illius assurgis gravior eximius.
 Nulla poetarum veterum monumenta supersunt,
 Florigero es quorum non spatiat ager.
 Hinc vates celebrer, lepidus, multumque venustus,
 Concinis argutis carmina læta sonis.
 Posteritati quæ te vel feliciter omni
 Commendent, nomen percelebrentque tuum.
 Ecce suum officium mea præstitit omne Camæna,
 Applausumque tuum vendicat illa sibi.

Ad Richardum Godericum.

Magnificum retines, Goderici candide, nomen,
 Quod vel Saxonicum recte idioma probat.
 Sic Bonus ac Dives dicæis jure Latino:
 Moribus hoc nomen convenit omne tuis.
 Nominis illa tui tam bella notatio non te Constituit ditem, constituere bonum.
 Splendida felicem te virtus reddidit una:
 Macte hac virtute, & dona beata feres:
 Causidico sic fama foro tua, lausque nitebit,
 Et te patronum percolet ipse cliens.
 Nec sic contentus virtuti imponere finem,
 Suspice doctrine lumina clata piæ.
 Illa tuas possunt ad coelum tollere laudes,
 Te quoque per nives conddecorare notas.

Prophætia Bononia expugnata.

ME Gessoriacum veteres dixere coloni,
 Raraque fors nostræ nobilitatis erat:
 Ast ubi Cæsareos subiissem victa triumphos,
 Romanas acies, imperiique jugum;
 Crevit ab Italica mihi voce Bononia nomen,
 Littora qua Morinûm turba refracta colit:
 O quoties cladem, & sum magnas passa ruinas!
 Me Francus domuit, Danus & Anglus atrox:
 Romani valeant, Franci, Daniq; valete,
 Anglus erit vitæ spesque salusque mea.
 Concussit (fateor) duro mea, moenia bello,
 Pectoris & medio viscera rupta mihi.
 Non secus ac terræ cum motu volvitur Ossa,
 Horrisonis crepitans dissiliensque minis.
 Quid tum? restituit mihi culmina Martius heros
 Henricus, Regum gloria, palma, decus.
 Nunc ego vicino discam servire Britanno,
 Et Rutupina frequens littora nota petam.
 Vos fugite interea Galli, nam fulminat Anglus,
 Victor & iratus fortia tela quatit.
 Gallia quid speres? fidei defensor avitæ,

 Floreat æternum felix victoria patris,

Nec scio, si coner, qua ratione queam.

Anno Dom. 1622.

E Codice MS. in Bibliotheca Viri Prænobilis
D. PHILIPPI SYDENHAMI de BRIM-
PTON D'EVERCY in agro Somersetenfi
Baronetti, descripsit ediditque THO.
HEARNIUS, A. M. Oxonienfis.

Dr. THOMAS FULLER's History of the Worthies of England, pag. 159. in CAM-BRIDGE-SHIRE.

R. PARKER, for so is his Christian name defectively written in my Book, was born in Ely, (therefore Place nameing himself Eliensis) was son (as I am confident) Master Parker Arch-deacon of Ely, to whom that Bishopric in the long vacancy (after the death of Bishop Cox) was preferred, and by him refused, tantum opum usuram iniquis conditionibus sibi oblatam respuens. Our Parker was bred in, became Fellow of Caius-colledge, an excellent Herauld, Historian, and Antiquary, Author of a short, plain, true, and useful Manuscript, called Sceletos Cantabrigiensis, and yet the Bones thereof are fleshed with much matter, and hath furnished me with the Nativities of severall Bishops who were Masters of Colledges.

I am not of the mind of the Italian, (from whose Em God deliver us) Polidore Virgil, who having first served his own turn with them, burnt all the rare English Manuscripts of History he could procure, so to raise the valuation of his own works. But from my heart I wish, some ingenious person would Print Mr. Parker's Book, for the use of Posterity. He was a melancholy man, neglecting all Preferment to enjoy himself, and died in the Place of his Nativity, as conjecture, about 1624.

HOSPITIA, DOMUS, AULÆ & DIVERSORIA in quibus Cantabrigienses Academici commorabantur, antequam moderna Collegia fuerint excitata. Quamquam, ut, quod res est, dicam, istorum ædificiorum plurima Collegiorum naturam & formam jam diu ab hinc induerunt; quia suos effectos & Scholares è propriis fundis & prædiis alendos habuerunt, antequam Collegii nomen invaluisset, ipsique Studentes, non singula Officia atque Dignitates in eadem adibant, ut te fuerant (si præcis Statutis credimus) de eodem corpore Academico. Quæ singula idcirco adjecerim, ut quasi per transennam videas (humanissime Lector) quæ fuerit Academia nostra cives præco illo ante Normannorum ingressum seculo. Hisce spiritibus, sicut itidem Cœnobiis, hodiernum, ut nunc sunt res, iam proprium (quatenus ex Asterismis conicere valui è tabula orographica edita 1572, curante Matthæo Parker Archiepiscopo Cantuar.) ideo indigitavimus, ut quicumque has plateas Cantabrigienses aut antehac calcarint, aut jam obambulant, Ærum illarum situm saltem cernant, in quibus Majores nostri idibus Academicis invigilarint: atque etiam ne quispiam Cantabrigiam in ipsa Cantabrigia requirat & difficulter inveniat, lumen hæc expectant. Sed contra leges mihi in Σκελετῷ fixas non est hic immorandum: avolandum potius, & invitus cogor, sed decimator in messe, rubum figere & properare.

Domus D. Petri 1280.

1. Hugo de Balsam, decimus Episcopus Eliensis, inter Collegiorum, quæ nunc videntur, Mæcenates significari nominandus, ut bonarum artium cognitionem promoveret, in hoc suæ Diocesis loco ad Cantabrigiensi hujus Academia incrementum istud Collegium fundavit an. Dom. 1280. & anno regni regis Edwardi primi nono in ipsis cineribus, in quibus prius duo antiquissima Scholarium Hospitia (nempe in Platea Trumpingtonensi extra portas Cantabrigienses sita) extiterunt intimæ antiquitatis monumenta, quæ dicta erant Hospitia Fratrum de Pœnitentia & Jesu Christi; & quo major esset Studentium numerus, Reverendus Pater Fratres Seculares Ordinis Sancti Joannis Evangelistæ ab Hospitio suo in Judaismo (sic enim vicus adhuc nominatur, ubi Judæi olim Cantabrigiæ habitaverunt) ad novum hoc suum Collegium, quia parum cum ejusdem loci Regularibus conveniebant, transfudit. Istud autem postquam ad umbilicum 12^o. Edwardi Primi anno Dom. 1284. biennio ante mortem perduxisset, & jus Patronatus de Thriplowe illi assignasset, ejusdem patronos nutritos, Episcopos Elienses constituit: ubi etiamnum ex veteri Fundatione aluntur Præfectus unus, Socii 14, Bibliotistæ 2, pauperesque Scholares octo. Atque iste numerus pro ratione census annualis Collegii & caritate victualium augeri minui potest. Illud autem cur Domus Divi Petri nominaretur, non est silentio transvolandum, utpote nomen acceperit ab Ecclesia Sancti Petri in cujus cœmiterio fundata fuit. Hæc Ecclesia sicut nomen suum amiserit, atque propter Orientalem partem sive Cancellam pulchram exædificatam, & B. Mariæ semper-virgini dedicatam, in B. Mariæ templum transiit circa 1352. ita consimilem fortunam Domus ista experta est, quia modo Collegium S. Mariæ, modo Aula B. Mariæ de Gratia, inde Domus S. Mariæ, quondam S. Petri, in ipsis Petrensiis scriptis publicis circa annos fere 50. post fundationem audiit. Sed ad Hugonem Fundatorem redeamus. Dedit Hugo suis Petrensiis dictam Ecclesiam S. Petri cum omnibus juribus & decimis ad eam spectantibus. Supremum vero spiritum ducens legavit 300 marcas ad ædificia de novo construenda, quibus quandam aream ex australi Ecclesiæ parte comparaverunt, & Aulam perpulchram condiderunt. Necnon libros quoque diversos illis contulit. Unde ob tantam Hugonis beneficentiam Galfredus de Packenham, Universitatis Cancellarius, atque omnes Magistri Regentes decreto suo in frequenti Senatu septimo Calend. Jun. 1291. concesserunt solennem congregationem omnium Regentium in habitu Magistrali quotannis in Vigilia Sanctorum Viti & Modesti post gradium prandium in Ecclesia domus Petri pro anima Domini Hugonis, qui se unum (ut Registrum Petrense refert) Scholaribus totaliter exhibebat, ac eorum promotioni, commodo, & honori charitatis oculis & animo pietatis viriliter insistebat, universos Regentes & pauperes Scholares in vita & post mortem beneficiis multipliciter visitans, ac Universitatem privilegiis multis insigniens. Hujus Domus prædia & facultates plurimum adauctæ sunt multorum Benefactorum munificentia. Inter quos Radulphus, Episcopus Nordoviænsis, dedit duo Messuagia Cantabrigiæ 1290. Mr. Thomas Pacching & Dominus Guilielmus Noyon, ultimus Rector de Hadenham, habiti inter præcipuos Benefactores in Archivis. Mr. Guilielmus Cavendish quondam Socius multa contulit. Dominus Thomas de Insula, Episcopus Eliensis 18^{vus}. plurima, & quæ ad Sacra celebranda inserviebant. Mr. Joannes Kelburne, hujus Domus Socius ante annum Dom. 1427. Mr. Guilielmus Rekyshawe Socius & S. Theol. Dr. 1492. Magister Walterus Lacy Socius & Dr. in Medicinis 1512. Hi scilicet tres supradicti argenti cœlati multas uncias contulere. Mr. Robertus Gilbert, Rector de Wing in Com. Buck: Lincoln: Diocesis 20. libras moriens concessit. Vidua Elizabetha de Cantabrigge 20. acras terræ, Jocalia. Vasa autem argentea dederunt Dr. Lancaster, Mr. Kukshall, Doctores Duhton & Carwen quondam Socii. Cur taceam Joannem de Hotham, Simonem Langham qui dedit Rectoriam de Cherry Hinton in Com: Cantabr: Joannem Fordham, omnes Episcopos Elienses: (quorum Joannes Fordham unam causam assignat, qua permotus est huic Domui appropriare Rectoriam prædictam, quia fundatio tunc temporis non sufficiebat alendis uno Magistro & 14. Sociis:) Rob. Shirton, S. Theologiæ Doctorem, Aulæ Penbrochianæ Custodem, Edmundum Hanson, S. Theologiæ Doctorem? Istos subsequuti sunt Simon de Monte-acuto 17^{mus}. Episcopus Eliensis, qui postquam Fundatoris Hugonis Statuta an: Dom. 1338. antiquasset & nova introduxisset, Rectoriam de Thripelowe in Com. Cantab. appropriavit, terrasque dictas Chewel in Hadenham in Insula Eliensi dedit: Edwardus Baro North de Katlidge in Com. Cantabr: sex Bibliotistas: Henricus Willshaw S. Theolog: Baccalaureus tres: Reverendissimus Pater Joannes Whitgift, nuper Archiepiscopus Cantuariensis, unum addidit; qui quum ad huc esset Rector Tevershamiensis in Com: Cantab: S. Theolog: Baccalaureus, ac hujus domus Socius, simul cum Margareta Folvetby, vidua Bartholomæi Folvetby de Teversham, ejus consanguinea, quatuor marcas annuales contulere ex illorum manerio de Curles in Essexia ad Bibliotistam fundandum. Quibus Benefactoribus nuper successit Domina Maria

Ramsey Londinensis vidua, quæ eximie pietatis femina pensionem annuum 40^{ta}. librarum dedit ad duos Socios & quatuor Bibliotistas sustentandos. Sunt præterea in ista Domo (sicut in reliquis omnibus hujus Academie Collegiis sive Aulis) tria alia Studioforum genera, quorum magna est multitudo. Illorum autem primum genus est Pensionariorum Majorum, quos vulgo Socio-Commensales vocamus, claris natalibus plerunque ortos. Secundum est Pensionariorum Minorum, qui Scholarium comœatu cibum capiunt, utrumque vero aut suis aut suorum sumptibus vivunt. Tertium & postremum genus est Sizatorum, ut dicimus, seu pauperum Scholarium, qui à parentibus pauxillum nescio quid recipiunt: sed quia Sociis, Scholaribus, & utriusque generis Pensionariis à cubiculis & à mensa sunt, illisque ibidem inserviunt, ab eisdem omnia fere sua esculenta & poculenta, aliaque nonnulla merito desumunt. Quod quidem triplex Scholarium præter Fundationem genus in isto, aliisque Collegiis de industria omittimus, quia illorum numerus incertus est & indefinitus.

Aula de Clare 1326.

2. DOmus ista, quæ jam Aula de Clare dicitur, primam suam originem debet Richardo de Badew Academiæ Cancellario an. Dom. 1338, qui ex Equestri Badeworum de Badew Magna prope Chensford in Essexia familia oriundus generis sui claritatem optimis institutis illustravit. Ille enim cum Magistris Regentibus quasdam Ædes Nigelli de Thornton Medici (cujus etiam Nigelli domus erant illæ, ubi jam magnæ scholæ, in quibus parvæ Capella designatur ad deprecandum pro illius anima) in platea molepudinaria tum dicta (inter Collegium Regale & Aulam Clarensem sita) conquirit 19. Edwardi 2^{di}. 1326, illudque ædificium Universitatis Aulam appellavit: ubi unum Principalem constituit, & Scholares tantummodo Pensionarios admisit, qui propriis sumptibus sine fundis per annos sexdecim victitabant. Verum quum

Domus ista igne confligente corruisset, Domina Elizabetha de Burgo, Comitissa de Clare in Suffolcia (soror tertia & coheres Gilberti de Clare, ultimi Comitis Claræ, Glocestriæ, & Hertfordiæ, uxor Joannis de Burgo, Domini Connachtis, & mater Guilielmi de Burgo, postremi Comitis Ultoniæ) manus suas auxiliatrices huic Aulæ laboranti porrexerat illamque, Regis Edwardi tertii venia impetrata, de integro construxit, fundis dotavit, & Aulam de Clare nominavit, postquam Gualterus Thaxsted, istius loci olim Magister, omne jus suum per prædicti Richardi de Badew & publicum totius Universitatis consensum in Comitissæ illius manus resignasset. Quibus tantæ Heroinæ vestigiis alii deinceps, licet non iisdem passibus, inceserunt, qui Sociorum & Scholarium numerum auxerunt. Illos inter, ne nominem Richardum Thaxton, Editham Greene, Guilielmum Ducket, Gualterum Worlegh, Magister Cave annum redditum duodecim librarum ad duos Scholares alendos concessit. Nec defuit Richardus Plantagenet, Dux Glocestriæ, qui purpuram regalem Richardi Tertii titulo indutus, tyrannidi suæ grassanti fucatum literarum patrocinium mendaci fronte obtenderit, dum hujus Aulæ jus ac titulum, tanquam à Majoribus suis Comitibus Claræ & Glocestriæ acceptum, sibi hereditarium, tempore Guilielmi Wilfleet Custodis vendicavit, magno sane Collegii bono. Sociorum enim & Scholarium numero adjecit, statuitque ut Custos unus, Socii 12, discipuli 4, & sex indigentiores Scholares ex Aulæ proventibus alerentur. Nuper vero Honoratissimus Heros Thomas Cecil, Comes Exoniæ, Divo Jacobo à Consiliis, & Ordinis Georgiani Eques, inter summos Benefactores merito relatus est, qui annum valorem centum & octo librarum in opimis prædiis Collegio munifice donavit, ad tres Socios & octo Scholares sustentandos. Postremi tempore sed non re nominandi sunt Joannes Freeman de Billing magna Armiger, & Guilielmus Butler Ipswicensis, hujus Aulæ olim Præses honorarius, Æsculapius noster Anglicanus, Curia, Urbi, Clero, Plebi, quanquam undique confluentibus in sempiternum nominis sui decorem, & futuri seculi stuporem, Archiater undequaque gratissimus: quorum hic non solum calicem ex auro solido Sacris destinatum, in Christianæ fidei testimonium, & splendidam Mensæ Sacramentalis stragulam in ulnis dedit, sed & duos alios cantharos egregios, cristallinum unum, serpentinum alterum, argento colligatos, & libros tot quot in folio omnes legavit: ille 2000. libras pro sustentatione duorum Sociorum & octo Scholarium singularis Musarum cultor donavit. Adeo ut hodierno die è Collegii redditibus enutrientur Mr. unus, Socii 16, Scholares 51, præter inferioris ordinis famulos.

Collegium Corporis Christi, vulgo Benedicti, 1344.

1. Confratres Gildæ, sive Societatis Corporis Christi, & Confratres Gildæ B. Mariæ Virginis, conjunctis opibus hoc Collegium extruere cœperunt 18^{vo}. Regis Edwardi Tertii an. 1344, atque illud nomini Corporis Christi & B. Mariæ Virginis consecrarunt, quanquam jam passim Benedicti Collegium appellatur, & in ejusdem nomen transiit circa an. 1380. ob templi S. Benedicti vicinitatem; atque an. Dom. 1353. Febr. tertio Collegii sui Confirmationem obtinuerunt à Thoma de Insula Episcopo Eliensi. Sed an. Dom. 1353. Custos & Socii istius loci Inclytissimum Heroem, Henricum Plantagenet, primum Ducem Lancastriæ, Comitem Arundel, Gloucestriæ, & Derbyæ, inter Angliæ Primores, Dominum de Monmouth & Pontfret, cognomen Animosum & Bonum Ducem, Summum Angliæ Seneschallum, Locum-tenentem Aquitaniam, & Ordinis Georgiani Equitem, in suæ fraternitatis patronum elegerunt; tandemque suæ Gildæ Seniores, id est, Aldermannum sive Præfectum constituerunt. Ita tanti Principis Fundatoris, sive Patroni patrocinio innixi, non solum Gildam hanc sitam prope Vicum Luthburnium in Collegium commutarunt, ac Manús-mortuæ (ut vocant Legulei) facultatem obtinuerunt, sed plurimas etiam & speciosissimas oppidanorum ædes aut prece aut pretio conquiſiverunt. Quinimo Illustrissimus Dux jus Patronatus vicinæ Ecclesiæ S. Benedicti illis in perpetuum concessit, & quia proventus hujus Domus fuerunt adeo tenues, ut Magistro & Scholaribus necessaria vix suppeditarent, à Thoma Arundel, Episcopo Eliensi, procuravit, ut dictus Thomas huic Domui appropriaret Ecclesiam suam de Grantefete. Atque licet à primo foundationis anno Sociorum & Scholarium numerus secundum annuos redditus Collegii diu fuerit arbitrarius, ideoque incertus; aliorum tamen Benefactorum liberalitate mirum in modum excrevit Studentium numerus. Nam Elizabetha Mowbray Ducissa Norfolciæ (soror prima & coheres Thomæ Fitzalan ultimi Comitis Arundeliæ, Warrenæ, & Surriæ, & uxor Thomæ Mowbray primi Ducis Norfolciæ) unum Socium, & Scholarem: Matthæus Parker nominatissimus inter Antiquarios Cantuariensis Metropolitani, hujus loci quondam Socius, ac postea Collegiarcha, duos Socios & quindecim Scholares, cum Bibliotheca antiquissimis manuscriptis instructissima: Rogerus Mannors Eques Auratus Divæ Elizabethæ à Cubiculis quatuor Scholaribus adjunxerunt. Nec minimum ædificiis incrementum præcis temporibus accessit, dum Joannes de Cantabrigge Miles, Domini Regis

RICHARDI PARKERI

Regis Justitiarius, ejusque filius Thomas de Cantabrigge Eques celeberrimus, istius Societatis olim Confratres, aulam lapideam, quam Stonehouse jam nuncupant, concesserint: & Nicholaus Bacon Eques Auratus, Nestor noster Britannicus, Magni Sigilli Custos, ac à Consiliis Divæ Elizabethæ, ut pii animi in hoc Collegium, ubi humaniores artes primum imbiberat, testimonium exhiberet, Sacellum nitidum extruxit (supra quod Bibliotheca ostenditur omnis Antiquitatis Armarium) & sex Scholarium stipendia legavit: necnou Rogerus Mannors, quintus Comes Rutlandiæ, hic olim Commensalis Honoratissimus, in Collegii & Sacelli ornamentum plurimâ contulerit. Alia item Sociorum & Scholarium Stipendia dederunt alii in Musarum filios optime animati. Unde ~~hodie~~ ^{hodie} die numerentur Præfectus unus, ~~Socii 10, Scholares 36~~ ^{Socii 10, Scholares 36}, præter Inferioris Ordinis ministros, qui omnes Collegii, ~~et~~ ^{et} tibus aluntur.

Ille temporibus Marianis in transmarinis Regionibus Confessor vixit, habens Successorem Dominum Guilielmum Whaley in Rectoria sua de Landbeach, & Joannem Long Aulæ Penbrochianæ Præfectum in sua Præbenda, at Elisabethiaco sole exoriente rediit, & ascendit Cathedram Cantuariensem. Hujus certe memoriæ sacrificemus Cantabrigiensis, quotquot sumus, omnes, qui in sua Chorographica Cantabrigiæ tabella, edita 1574, serio exoptavit, ut novus amnulus à fontibus prope montes Vandleburianos, vulgo Gogmagog-Hilles dictos, ad Oppidum Cantabrigiense juxta vadum Trumpingtoniæ incideretur & duceretur, qui ipsam Fossam Regiam maximam allueret. 5. HOC in loco antiquitus floruit Studentium Societas, in qua quisque propriis sumptibus victitabat. Quam quidem domum Joannes de Craudene, Prior Eliensis 22^{us}, suis nummulis acquisivit, Edwardi Tertio tum Regnante, & Monachis Eliensibus, huc ad literarum mercaturam in tanto suo otio accedentibus, quasi Hospitium esse voluit. Atque hisce primordiis Richardus Ling, Academiæ Cancellarius 1353, Archembaldus de Norwico, Simon de Rekenghall, & Gualterus

Gualterus Elveden, Rector de Snitterton in Norfolcia, quatuor tenementa adjecerunt. Necnon Robertus Stratton, Joannes Trunch, Gualterus Bakton, Gualterus de Aldeley, Petrusque Bittering dederunt septem particulas & duo Messuagia, quorum unum fuit Drakes-Entry dictum. Quanquam postea Guilielmus Bateman L. Dr, Episcopus Nordovicensis 18^{vus}, à Clemente sexto Papa constitutus, à Priore & Monachis prædictis, Rectoriarum quarundam permutatione facta, totum hoc Hospitium comparavit, ibique Aulam hanc suam, S. & Individuæ Trinitati consecratam, fundavit an. Nempe hic fuit ille Præful (ut Registri Nordovicensis verba audias) Auditor Papalis Palatii fatis famosus, qui Stephanum suum quondam Romæ familiarem, Papæ Innocentii Sexti nomine jamjam innotescentem, quia plurimos Cardinales creaturum audiverat, invisere se apud Regem simulavit, ex quo itinere hunc fructum accepit, quod Rectorias illas de Brington, Kimberley, Brimingham, Woodalling, Cowlidge & Stalling Nordovicensis Diœcesis, ad Magistri, Sociorum & Scholarium sustentationem ab eodem Papa aduniri procuraverit: Simone Islip, Metropolitano Cantuariensi, ad Papæ ejusdem mandatum, sub Sigillo in perpetuum confirmante. Sed Mæcenas iste, repentina morte à suo instituto avocatus, unum tantum Magistrum, Socios tres, totidemque Scholares ex fundatione sua reliquit. Verum, ut in opere pio & feliciter auspicato divinitus solet, aliorum tandem benignitate plurimum adaucta est res literaria. Adeo ut Roberti Goodknap, hic olim Socii, Laurentii Maptyd hic Socii, & Præfecti Collegii Benedicti, Gabrielis Duni Ecclesiæ Paulinæ Canonici, Richardi Nix Antistitis Nordovicensis, Matthæi Parker Archiantistitis Cantuariensis, Henrici Hervey L. Collegium de Gonevile & Caius 1348.

6. Sextum ſequitur Collegium de Gonvile & Caius dictum, cujus prima fundamenta eo in loco ubi nunc eſt Po-marium & Sphæriſterium Collegii Sancti Benedicti an. Dom. 1348. poſuit Edmundus Gonevile, Rector de Tirrington in Marſhland in Norf. & de Ruſhworſh in eodem Comitatu, qui cum aliis Vicarius Spiritualitatis ab Epifcopo conſtituebatur abſente. Hæc primordia ſic locavit Edmundus Gonevile (frater natu minor Nicholai Gonevile de Ruſhworſh prædict. Militis) celeberrimo illo Aulico Gualtero de Manney, Belga-Cambraenſi (qui Margaretam de Brotherton Duciffam Norfolciæ in uxorem duxerat) Georgiani Ordinis Sodali, licentiam ab Edwardo 3^{to}, an. Regni 22^{do}, 1347, impetrante, poſtquam dictus Edmundus Collegiatam Eccleſiolam S. Joannis Evangeliftæ apud Ruſhworſh fundaffeſſet. Atque quum Annuntiationi Beatæ Mariæ Virginis iſtud Collegium die Jovis in ſeptimana Pentecoſtes 23^{to}. Edwardi Terti 1348. dedicaſſet, Aula de Gonevile ſtatim appellari cæpit, ubi unum Cuſtodem & quatuor Socios ante mortem inſtituit, & vivens ſubſidio pecuniario aluit, ac Joannem Colton, Rectorem poſtea de Tirrington, primum hic Cuſtodem ordinavit, Statutis ſub Cancellarii ſigillo confirmatis, licet 20. Scholares, ut ex Statutis conſtat, fundare decreverat. Ille autem fato immaturo an. Dom. 1350. abreptus, & apud Tirrington ſepultus, grandem pecuniæ ſummam Guilielmo Bateman, Epifcopo Nordovicenſi 18^{vo}. per teſtamentum concedidit, ut Aulam, quam inchoaverat, abſolveret & fundis ditaret. Verum poſt Edmundi mortem dictus Guilielmus Bateman, quo Aulam hanc fuæ Aulæ Trinitatis, quam tum ædificare cœperat, viciniorem ac velut ſororiam redderet, Cuſtodi & Sociis ſuaſit, ut has ſuas priſtinas ædes permutarent pro aliis ædificiis in loco Henney dicto in Parochia S. Michaëlis (non procul à templo S. Joannis Zachariæ, ubi nunc ſtat Aula Collegii Regalis prope Hoſpitium B. Mariæ ex Auſtro) Collegio extruendo, votoque Epifcopi aptioribus. quidem duo Messuagia quum ad Gildam Corporis Christi & B. Mariæ postea pertinerent, ex conventionem facta inter Henricum Plantagenet, primum Ducem Lancastriæ, ejusdem Gildæ Aldermannum & Custodem, & Socios hujusce Aulæ, altera Societas alteri de Jure Soli & ædificiorum invicem cesserunt, & permutarunt an. Dom. 1353. Ita ex istis ædificiis sic transformatis Aula de Goneville constructa est eo loci, in quo Boreale hujusce Collegii latus longe procurrit. Ista Custodis & Sociorum translationem Guilielmus Bateman præ-nominatus an. Dom. 1353. confirmavit, atque redditibus Rectoriarum de Foulden & Wilton in Norf. & Mutford in Suff. ad unum Custodem & tres Socios sustentandos animare cepit. Ne autem nescias, quanto favore Pontifices Romani hanc Aulam statim respexerint, Custos Sociique tanta apud Bonifacium nonum gratia circa an. Dom. 1390. valuerunt, ut Rectoriam de Matsal magna in Norf. ad Aulæ alimoniam impropriari concesserit, missis ad Richardum le Scrope Episcopum Coventriæ & Lichfeildæ literis, ut dictam Ecclesiam Aulæ confirmaret. Cujus certe Rectoriæ patronatum Radulphus de Hemenhall Miles antea Aulæ concesserat, ut tres Socii Presbyteri meminerint Dominæ Mariæ de Pakenham, Dominæ de Pakenham, & Domini Thomæ de Pakenham Militis, filii Mariæ, & Domini Radulphi de Hemenhall Militis, & Catharinæ Aspal uxoris ejus. Quinimo quanquam à PP. Benedicto 11^{mo}. sancitum fuit circa an. Dom. 1300, ut omnes Monachi Benedictini in Academiæ Aula, sive Collegio in studiis versarentur, tamen per Papam Sixtum 4^{tum}. 1481, usque adeo ejusdem Ordinis Monachis Nordovicensis Diocesis indultum erat, ut in hac solum Aula de Goneville studere liceret. Atque quo lætius lautiusque literarum honori confuleretur, ab aliis benigne conferentibus adaucta sunt vectigalia, unde priori numero accesserunt septem alii Socii, & Scholares undecim. Adeo ut qua Sodalitia, qua ædificia, qua Scholarium stipendia spectemus, supra centenarium numerum Benefactores in Albo nostro Gonevilino recenseamus. Ante alios Guilielmus Phiswick, Academiæ Clavarius, sive Bedellus Armiger numerandus occurrit, qui ædes suas domesticas huic Aulæ de Goneville concessit, Collegiolumque 1393. instituit, ut esset tanquam Colonia juventuti dictæ Aulæ exuberanti sacra, ubi duo, ut vocant, Principales, alter ex Aula de Goneville, alter ex hoc Phiswici Hospitio eligendi præficerentur, non tam gubernandi, quam liberalium Artium gloria insignes. Unde per Gonevilinos Studentibus repletum fuit hoc Hospitium, sed ad eos spectantibus, sicut Aulæ Oxonienses pertinent ad Collegia. Quo autem arctiore fœdere hæ duæ ædes sese invicem constringerent, dictæ Aulæ Mr. & Socii locii ab Alexandro 5^{to}. Papa petierunt, ut Hospitii Phifwici Studentes in Sacello Gonevilino ad Sacrorum celebrationem, suosque mortuos ibidem sepeliendos, Papali hac licentia freti, sine Ordinarii autoritate accedere possent. Hæc uidem Phifwici Hospitii ædificia Guilielmus Renele, Aulæ legiæ quondam Socius, Rector de Tichwell in Norf. 1381. suis sumptibus fecit ampliora, atque in Parochia sua prædicta in illis prædiis, quæ huic Aulæ propria fuerant, varia cœnacula construxit, in quæ Socii & Scholares tam ex Aula quam ex Hospitio sese recipere possent, quando pestis, aut alicujus morbi gravior contagio Academiam invaderet. Hoc Hospitium, ubi fura 40. Commensales erant commorantes, ibidem olim steterit, ubi Collegii Trinitatis latus Australe nunc emergit, inque illius Collegii augmentum ab Augustissimo Rege Henrico 8^{vo}. assumptum fuit, tribus libris è Fisco Regio annuatim huic nostro Collegio persolutis, usque dum à Regia Majestate aliter satisfactum & provisum fuerit. Quos hic ego possum commemorare Smithos, Willowfios, Knights, Baileios, Willifonos, & Atkinfos, qui Nutritii fautores in hujus Aulæ Hemisphærio jam diu rutilarunt, ipsumque Papam Alexandrum 6^{tum}, qui an. Dom. 1502. liberam ad duos Prædicatores annuatim per totam Angliam emittendos potestatem vere Metropolitanicam antecessoribus nostris indulfit, fortunatis, credo, si temporibus illis Henricianis bono suo noverant uti? Invitus taceo Nicholam Shaxton Episcopum Sarisburiensem, hujus Aulæ Præsidentem, & Guardianum Hospitalis S. Ægidii Nordovici: Joannem Botlesham Antistitem Roffensem; Joannem Waking, Privati Sigilli sub Henrico 5^{to}. Edmundem de Hemegrave in Suff. Thomam Lovel de Harling in Norf. Robertum de Thorpe Summum Angliæ Cancellarium, singulos Equestri Ordine Claros; Humfredum De la Poole Clericum, & Edwardum De la Poole Archidiaconum Richmondiæ, Aulæ hujus Commensales, filios Joannis De la Poole 2^{di}. Ducis Suff. ipsumque Joannem

Joannem Le Strange de Massingham in Norf. Armigerum. Inter quos Guilielmum Lynwood debeamne negligere, * aut forsan non agnosco, utriusque Juris Doctorem, Curiae Cantuariensis Officiale, Episcopum Menevensem, privati Sigilli sub Henrico 5^{to}. Custodem, Constitutionum Provincialium Compilatorem, istius Aulæ de Gonevile olim Commensalem. Quos omnes Benefactores extitisse aut ipsa loquuntur mœnia, aut ærarium & Bibliotheca conclamant, aut ipsæ fenestæ testantur. Istos dum recolligo, vos pietatis flores & sanctioris orbis lumina, mihi ante oculos obversamini, Clementissimæ Dominae, Maria de Pakenham, Elizabetha Cleere, Anna Scroope, & Anna Drury, quia beneficentiæ vestræ flumina in Collegium nostrum immisistis, & hortum hunc Gonevilinum irrigastis. Nec te silentio involvimus (Domina Anna Scroope) filiam & heredem Roberti Harling de Harling in Norf. Militis ex uxore sua Joanna, filia & herede Joannis Gonevile Arm. qui Robertus fuit etiam filius Joannis Harling Militis & Ciciliæ uxoris suæ, filia & tandem coheredis Constantini de Mortuo-mari, vulgo Mortimere, de Attleborough in Norf. Postquam vero ex tribus hisce maritis nullam prolem suscepisset, Canonicorum Collegiolum, apud Rushworth in Norf. per Atavunculum suum Edmundum Gonevile fundatum, mirum in modum dilatavit, illique suum ibidem Dominium, antiquam Gonevilorum sedem, dedit: necnon Manerium suum de Mortimer, Cantabrigiæ situm, eximia pietatis heroina, à Gonevilis, ut supra patet, oriunda huic Aulæ Gonevilinæ regnante Henrico septimo largiebatur, hujus Gonevilinæ foundationis memor, ad unum Socium sustentandum: ad quod Manerium Aulæ per Manum-mortuam (ut

Illum, illum, inquam, intelligo doctissimum Caium, cujus pectus in Æsculapii Scholis quis non agnoscat omnis Phœbeæ artis conscium, ac velut βιβλιοθήκῳ ἐμψυχον qui varia ingenii sui inscriptis monumenta vel leviter attigerit? quam gratissimam Reginz Mariæ Apollinem! quem egregium per tot annos Medicinæ apud Patavenses in Italia Præfectorem Publicum! quantum hujus Academiæ ornamentum! qualem Cantabrigiensis Antiquitatis Assertorem! Ille enim vir ad Rempublicam literariam promovendam natus, amplissimis latifundiis & prædiis ad tres Socios, & viginti Scholares, unumque Janitorem alendos istud Musæum locupletavit, novis proventibus ærarium auxit, priori structuræ Quadrangularem novam suam fabricam perpulcherrimam adjunxit, Aulæque deleti nomine, Collegium de Goveville & Caius dignissimus Fundator nominavit, in cujus lapide angulari Occidentem versus hæc verba incidi curavit, JOANNES CAIUS POSUIT SAPIENTIÆ AN. Dorf. Rungton & Burnham-Thorp in Norf. cum Manerio de Crokeley apud Caxton Com. Cantab. Quinetiam in istius Collegii honorem insignia gentilitia comparavit: scilicet in campo aureo, purpureis amaranthi spiciis insperso, duos serpentes erectos, in quorum capita Semper Vivum incumbit, qui caudis inter se connexis supra quadratum lapidem marmoreum, sed coloris viridis, resident, atque in illorum medio liber niger minio cum fibulis aureis est variegatis. Quæ omnia, ut ex diplomate constat, Hieroglyphice innuunt per librum, literaturam: per Serpentes super marmoreo lapide residentes, prudentiam cum gratia fundatam supra stabilem virtutis petram: per amaranthos & Semper Vivum, immortalitatem, quasi quis dicat, (Autographi sunt verba) EX PRUDENTIA ET LITERIS VIRTUTIS PETRA FIRMATIS IMMORTALITAS. Ultra ne, & ultro, bona vestra cum venia liceat aliorum Benefactorum Calendarium aperire? Collegium Reginale 1448.

Domina Margareta Andegavenſis (filia Reineri Ducis Andegaviæ ac Regis titularis Siciliae, Neapolis, & Hieroſolymarum, uxor devotiſſimi Principis Henrici Sexti) uum videret ſanctiſſimam viri ſui pietatem in prædicto iſtri ac Regali poſitam eſſe monumento, in hoc Collegio reginali erigendo ad, ſi non ſupra, Conſinia Cœnobii Caruelitarum tota occupata eſt, Divæ Margaretæ & S. Bernardo a. Dom. 1448. dedicavit, ac ducentis libris annui valoris cupletavit, in cujus lapide angulari incidi voluit: ERIT OMINÆ NOSTRÆ REGINÆ MARGARETÆ DOMINUS N REFUGIUM, ET LAPIS ISTE IN SIGNUM. Quum ero inteſtinis diſſidiis omnia flagrarent, & Domina Margareta ad Lancaſtrenſes mariti ſui partes tuendas properaret, hinc inſigni operi aliquod Collegiſtitium (date veniam verbo) acceſſit. Nec tamen interea defuit divina providentia, quæ Dominam Reginam Elizabetham (filiam primam & oheredem Richardi Woodvile Comitſ Rivers, viduam Edwardi Grey de Grooby Militis, uxorem Regis Edwardi Quarti) cet adverſis Eboracenſis familiæ Signis faventem, ad hoc collegium promovendum excitavit: quæ an. Dom. 1465. elicioribus auſpiciis illud abſolvit, & plurima privilegia à lege marito Edwardo 4to Victore impetravit. Primus iſtius peris ſuaſor extitit Andreas Ducket, Frater antea Minorita, ir integerrimus & prudens: qui, dum eſſet Eccleſiæ S. Baulphi Cantabrigiæ Reſtor, à Domina Margareta ſui Collegii Juſtos conſtitutus eſt. Ille quum annos 40. huic loco præuiſſet, non ſolum grandem pecuniæ ſummam à quolibet generosioris animi Nobili in Collegii extruendi augmentum emendicaverat, sed etiam plurimos in has ædes surgentes propendens induxit: præsertim Georgium Plantagenet Ducem Clarentiæ, Dominam Ceciliam Ducissam Eboracensem, filiam Radulphi Nevile 1^{mi}. Comitis Westmorlandiæ, uxorem Richardi Plantagenet Ducis Eboracensis: Dominas illas clarissimas Margaretam Roos, Joannam Inglethorp, & Joannam Borough quæ istud Collegium candidiores respexerint, forte quia duas feminas Principissas anteambulones viderant. Sed in isto Benefactorum Calendario Januarius audit Marmaducus Lumley, ab antiqua Baronum Lumleiorum profapia egerminans, Academiae Cancellarius 1428. Episcopus primo Carleolensis 1430, dein Lincolnienfis Antistes 25^{tus}. 1450. qui præter ingentem librorum cumulum ducentas marcas dedit. Quin quo plus demirare, Richardus Plantagenet Dux Gloucestriæ, Regni Protector, qui Richardi tertii nomine inclauit, istis primordiis Lancastrensis (quanquam ipse Eboracensis signa sequutus) ad instantiam dicti Andree Duckett (ipse inquam, simul cum uxore Anna, filia 2^{da}. & coherede Richardi Nevile Comitis Warwici & Sarisburiae Inclutissimi) in tantum indulgens erat, ut Presbyteros, Socios, possessiones adjecerit. Nec his contentus, ut aliquo sanctitatis artificio crudelitatis suæ maculam expungeret, prægrande illud ac Honorarium Joannis Vere 13^{tii} Comitis Oxonii patrimonium cum omnibus Dominiis, Maneriis, Castris & Feodis, quia S. Michaelis montem in Cornwallia contra Edwardum 4^{tum}. in belli sedem elegerit, ac Lancastrensi familiæ semper tenaciter adhæserat, Collegio huic donavit. Quod tamen Henricus Septimus Regale Solium repetens, quasi hereditarium Comiti restituit. Longum esset omnium Catalogum attexere, qui alios centum quinquaginta quatuor plus minus Benefactores, eosque omnes Magnates, Milites, Armigeros connumerat. Inter quos postremus, ni fallor, surrexit, qui poculum charitatis porrigit, Georgius Montague, in Com. Eboracensi natus, Collegii Socius, Academiae Procurator 1600. Decanus Westmonasteriensis, Episcopus Lincolnienfis, Divoque Jacobo Eleemosynarius 1617, ac jam Antistes noster Londinensis apprime colendissimus. Illud tandem bona vestra cum venialeat recensere, Magnum illum Desiderium Erasum Rotodamum, quum jam tæderet in Germanico Musarum æquore tantummodo consensescere, velitque sui ultra periculum facere, dum vasto literarum pelago sese committeret, Cantabrigiam nostram, quasi spatiosum & profundum quoddam eruditionis mare, accessisse, atque Collegium hoc peregrinationis suæ asylum elegisse: cui quam honorificum & æternum decus effulserit, quum an. Dom. 1596. gratia incipiendi n Theologia illi ab Academia concessa sit, videat & invileat, rumpantur ut illa Codro, quisquis obliquis oculis Academiae nostrae splendorem intuetur. Scilicet à singulis prædictis Fundatoribus aliisque Fautoribus facultates Collegii ita

10. NE novum fortasſe putemus Monaſteria in Collegia

num S. Radegundis, Ordinis S. Benedicti, quod, regnante Rege Stephano, Malcolmus 4^{tus}. Scotorum Rex nonageſi-mus primus, dictus Virgo. Comes Cantabrigiæ & Hunting-

(ab ipsis Caroli Magni & Achaii Scotorum Regis temporibus jūgiter continuati) non immemor, S. Radegundis nomen in Angliam primus, quod sciam, detulit. Cujus originem ne forte ignores, eccum tibi Galliæ Reginam, filiam Berthrami, Thuringiæ inter Germanos Reguli, & uxorem potentissimi illius Lotharii, Francorum Regis (filii Clodovei Magni, primi apud Gallos Regis Christiani) quæ circa an. Dom. 560, marito deserto, in Monasterium quoddam inter Galliæ Pictones secessit, & S. Crucis Abbatiam in eadem Regione fundabat, in qua ejus tumulum adhuc jactitant. Nempe statim post Normannorum ingressum, Cellula, nescio quæ, Sanctimonialium paupertina circa hæc loca tantum anhelasse videtur, quibus P. P. Honorius 2^{us}, vitam aliquam indidit, dum quinto Pontificatus sui anno Rectoriam S. Clementis apud nos Cantabrigas impropriatam illis concefferit an. Dom. 1133. 33^{tio}. Regni Regis Henrici Primi, & primo Nigelli Episcopi Eliensis. Ac circa hujus temporis periodum Dominam Constantiam, Comitissam Bononiensem, (filiam Lodovici Crassi Gallorum Regis, uxorem Eustachii Bononiæ Comititis, filii & heredis Stephani Regis Angliæ) Benefactricem emeruisse legimus, quæ totam piscaturam à ponte Cantabrico ad Abbatiam Barnwellensem hisce ædibus Radegundinis plena manu impartebatur. Sed ante alios eminent prædictus Malcolmus, qui terram illis dedit, supra quam templum erexit, atque ad eam meliorem (ut è Collegii Archivis loquar) sustentationem decem terræ acras Prioratui contiguas donavit, utpote totius hujus Oppidi Dominus, quique tertium Comitatus Cantabrigiensis denarium jure hereditario accepit. Pater enim ejus Henricus (filius & heres Davidis Scotorum Regis) à Rege Stephano creatus Comes Cantabrigiæ & Huntingdoniæ, qui ante patrem Davidem expirans tres reliquit filios, 1^{mo}. Malcolmum supranominatum, sine prole defunctum; 2^{do}. Guilielmum Scotorum Regem, Comitem Cantabrigiæ & Huntingdoniæ, cujus filius Alexander 2^{us}. patri in singulis honoribus succedens, filium reliquit Alexandrum 3^{tium}, Scotorum Regem, qui ἀπαίς obiit; 3^{tio}. Davidem Comitem Cantabrigiæ & Huntingdoniæ, Regii stemmatis propagatorem, qui duxit Matildem Sororem primam & coheredem Ranulphi de Meschines, ultimi Comititis Palatini Cestriæ: è quo conjugio unicus tantum filius & heres exitit, Joannes scilicet, cognomento Scotus, Comes Palatinus Cestriæ, qui sine prole mortuus est. Tres tamen filii ejusdem Davidis, & tandem coheredes fratris Joannis progenerunt. Istarum tertia Ada (condonabis mihi, Lector, ordinem invertenti) foror tertia & coheres dicti Joannis, uxor Henrici de Hastings Militis, fuit avia Domini Joannis Hastings, Rings, qui erat unus Competitorum pro Regno Scotiæ sub Edwardo primo jure aviæ suæ Adæ : 1^{ma}. Margareta, Soror 1^{ma}. & coheres Joannis, uxor Alani Domini Gallovidiæ & Constabularii Scotiæ, fuit avia Joannis Balliol Scotorum Regis jure aviæ Margaretæ : 2^{da}. Isabella, Soror 2^{da}. & coheres Joannis, per maritum Robertum Brus Dominum Anandalæ in Scotia (oriundum è Roberto Brus, filio juniore Roberti Brus Domini Clivelandiæ in agro Eboracensi) mater fuit Roberti Brus, cognomento Nobilis Comitis Carriæ, qui non solum lautissimum illud utriusque Comitatus Cantabrigiæ & Huntingdoniæ heredium jure matris Isabellæ adibat, ac prænominati Malcolmi donationem Sanctimonialibus Rade-gundinis confirmavit; sed etiam coram Rege Edwardo Primo, quasi Honorario arbitro, Regnum Scotiæ Jure matris Isabellæ contra Joannem Balliol, tanquam in gradu proximior Alexandri tertii heres vendicavit. Verum illius filius Robertus Brus in bello Brusi-Balliolano propria virtute, titulo per aviam ejus Isabellam prædictam à præfatis Scotiæ Regibus transmissio, Regnum Scotiæ sibi affruit, & posteris firmavit. Marjoria enim illius filia (soror unica & heres Davidis Brus Regis) uxor Gualteri Stewart, Summi Scotiæ Seneschalli, mater fuit Roberti Stewart, materno jure Scotorum Regis, cui sacram Divi Caroli Majestatem Britanni debemus, acclamantes, VIVAT, VINCAT, VALEAT. In isto autem Cœnobio diu floruerunt Priorissæ cum suis Vestalibus, donec tandem, nescio cujus incuria, bonis omnibus dissipatis, & ornamenti sublati, omnes, una vel altera excepta, prægnantes avolaverint, ac has Ædes desertas reliquerunt. Quod quum Reverendissimus in Christo Pater Joannes Alcock, 28^{vus}. antistes Eliensis, persentisceret, novam rerum faciem hîc inducere meditatus est. Is enim vir admirandæ sanctitatis, magnæ fidei, summæque imprimis gratiæ apud Regem Henricum Septimum (qui hanc ob causam eum omnibus suis fabricis ac structuris, ipsisque præcipue Richmondianis, velut Magistrum Rationarium præfecerat, atque è Magistro Rotulorum Summum Angliæ Cancellarium constituerat) à dicto Rege necnon à Papa Alexandro Sexto, Borgia, facultatem impetravit, qua Cœnobium istud desolatum in Collegium converteret, Julio 2^{do}. Papa ad instantiam Henrici Septimi hanc commutationem nova ratihabitatione confirmante. Atque quidem istud perfecit anno Regni Henrici Septimi undecimo, an. Dom. 1496, ubi Præfectum unum, Socios 6, totidemque Scholares instituit in honorem Beatæ Mariæ Virginis ac Sanctorum Joannis Evangelistæ & Gloriosæ Virginis S. Radegundis. Quod Collegium, licet Jesu titulo jam innotescit, eadem Structuræ elegantia, qua Palatium suum Eliense, ense, excitavit, inque perpetuam Præfulum Eliensium tutelam commisit, in quorum patronatu hic locus antea extiterat. Unde non ineptum, credo, erit illud recensere, quod Episcopi Elienses, quando huc accedebant, in Registro Eliensi dicantur in ædibus suis, & in domo Residentiæ suæ infra Collegium Jesu annis Dom. 1556. & 1557. remanere. Postea vero alii Literarum patroni suam beneficentiam erogarunt: nimirum Jacobus Stanley, 30^{mus}. Episcopus Eliensis, (frater natu minor Thomæ Stanley primi comitis Derbiæ) qui Rectoriæ de Shelford magna in Comitatu Cantabr. 22^{do}. Henrici Septimi impropriavit in hujus Collegii usum. Thomas Thirlby Antistes Eliensis, qui Vicarias de Fordham, Gildenmorden, Wichford, Hengston, Swasey, & Cumberton in Comit. Cantab. huic Collegio concessit: Mr. Roberts, Mr. Thorne, Dr. Andrews, Mr. Gaynsford, Mr. Foliambe, Thomas Sutton de Balsam in Comit. Cantab. inter Angliæ Armigeros Crassus alter nominandus, Mr. Vaughan & alii. Istos inter sit piaculi instar non meminisse Richardi Reade de Bore-place in Cantio Militis, qui primo Socius Collegii Regalis, ac postea Summus Communium Placitorum Dominus Justitiarius per amplam illam Officinam Cerevisiarum juxta pontem Cantabricum ex Australi parte Collegii S. Magdalenz, non contemnendum Auctuarium, huic Musarum Sacrarum largitus est, atque moriens Guilielmi Capon Præfecti & M^{ri}. Bland ejus Executorum fidei commisit, ut quatuor annua librarum stipendia Publicis Philosophiæ ac Dialecticæ Prælectoribus quotannis singulatim perfolverentur. Nimirum ex istis incunabulis statim in Theatrum prodierunt Galfredus Down's Theologus eximius, Joannes Bales in pago de S. Cove haud tribus à Sowldia in Suffolcia milliaribus natus, Sodorensis, vulgo Insulæ-Manniæ, Præsul, Evangelicus Centuriarum Scriptor, ipseque potissimum ante alios nominandus Thomas Cranmerus, Collegii Socius, è Comitatu Notinghamiensi prodians, qui illustre aliquando Academiæ jubar hoc titulo exortus est, quod per totum Christianum orbem in Celeberrimis Theologorum Gymnasiis Henricianum - illud à Catharina divortium invictissimum contra Pontificios Christi Pugil, favente viri tum causa, tum doctrina, facile propugnavit. Unde illico ad Cantuariensem Primatum à Rege Henrico 8^{vo}. evocatur: cujus mite ingenium adeoque columbinum pectus, injuriarum non reminiscens, quis non admiretur? Ille vero inter medias flammæ Marianas in curru igneo, tanquam alter Elias, in Abrahami sinum sanctissimus Coelicola transfertur. Ita prædictorum Benefactorum ac aliorum quorundam bonitate in tantum excredebant hujus Collegii prædia, facultates, resque pecuniaria, ut nunc numeremus nunc Præfectum, Præfectum, Socios sexdecim, Scholares viginti duos, qui Collegii impensis vivunt.

Hic Joannes fuit primum Socius istius Collegii, sed Sodalitium ita dimiserat, ut Episcopus per viam lapsus sufficeret ei Joannem Ramesey in Artibus Magistrum 16^{to}. Decemb. Iste Joannes Royston fundabat postea Sodalitium, quod, quantum colligo, Richardus Armistead primus tenuit, & Gabriel Bristoo (ad Penbrochianos mox remotus) secundus successit, an. 1554.

11. CUM Rex Henricus Sextus de Collegio suo Regali fundando cogitasset, ejusque fines & limites propagare studeret, Hospitium quoddam juxta Aulam Clarensem, Domum Dei dictum, quod Guilielmus Bingham Rector Ecclesiæ S. Joannis Zachariæ Londini an. Dom. 1442. ædificarat in Grammaticorum gratiam cum uno Procuratore, Sociis quatuor & Scholaribus huc transtulit, & ædes quasdam Monachorum de Tiltey & Denney, extra portam Barnwellensem sitas, istuc studendi ergo confluentium, hisce Grammaticis commutationis jure assignavit, Domumque Dei appellavit. Hujusce Domus sive Collegii Custos & Scholares præstantur ad Fendrayton in Com. Cantabr. titulo Collegii Domus

Dei,

Dei, atque prior ille locus Domus Dei cessit in spatia Collegii nunc Regalis. Istam sexagenario Studentium numero ob sedes permutatas auxisset Rex Henricus Sextus, nisi funestum illud inter Eboracensium & Lancastrensiū familiis bellum, diro Marte totam Angliam tum concutiente, in tam Religioso instituto præpedisset. Quo vero quisque sciat, quantum semper in deliriis fuerit hujus loci Genius, ecce pietissima Princeps Domina Margareta Comitissa Richmondiæ & Derbiæ (filia & heres Joannis Beaufort primi Ducis Somersettensis, uxor Edmundi de Hadham Comitis Richmondiæ, fratris uterini Henrici Sexti, mater prudentissimi Regis Henrici Septimi, adeoque ortu magna, viro major, sed maxima prole) hisce ædibus Diva Tutelaris effulsit. Illa enim, obtenta prius venia à filio Rege Henrico 7^{mo}, spem in rem perduxit, & quod Henricus sextus proposuit, disposuit, deque propriis Dominiis & Prædiis Collegium adeo benigne ditavit, ut ejus solius redditus Magistrum unum, Socios 12, Scholares 47. satis opipare refocillent, qui omnes tandem à Julio 2^{do}, Papa, hoc Collegium sic extructum, ejus autoritate stabilitum impetrarunt. Sed benignitas Domini Regis Edwardi Sexti unum Socium & tres Scholares; Magistri Bunting tres Scholares; Edmundi Grindal Archiantistitis Cantuariensis, Walteri Mildmay Equitis Aurati, Scaccarii Cancellarii, Divæ Elizabethæ à Consiliis, M^{ri}. Risley, D^{ris}. Patenson, M^{ri}. Rawlin, M^{ri}. Culverwell aliqua necessaria adjecerit. Quorum munificentia ita comparatum est, ut Præfectus unus, Socii 13, Scholares 55, præter duodecim minoris pensionis Studentes, ac quotidianos Officiarios ex publicis Collegii facultatibus commeatum depromant.

12. Primum huic loco splendorem dedit Nigellus, 2^{dus}. Episcopus Eliensis & Regis Henrici Primi Thesaurarius; qui circa an. Dom. 1134, & penultimo ejusdem Regis, quando statim sub Maltide Augusta & Stephano Rege orbis noster Britannicus infestis signis concurreret, Hospitium Prioris & Fratrum Regularium ordinis S. Joannis Evangelistæ, secundum Regulam atque institutum S. Augustini, in Judaïsimo, loco nempe sic dicto ob Judæos ibidem undique incolentes, excitavit, & annuis 140. librarum redditibus locupletavit. Quinetiam, præter Eustachii 5^{ti}. Episcopi Eliensis donationem, qui Ecclesiam de Horningsey in Com. Cantab. istis Regularibus impropiatam dedit tempore Richardi Primi, incalescentes Regum radii istam Religiosorum domum adeo fovērunt, ut plurimas multas, seu, ut Leguleii loquuntur, forisfacturas de victualium pretio & ratione à Judicibus irrogatas huic Hospitali concefferint. In hoc Hospitium literarium Hugo de Northwold, abbas primum Burgi S. Edmundi in Suff. quum esset 8^{vus}. Antistes Eliensis, Henrico 3^{tio}. tum regnante, circa an. Dom. 1240. introduxit Fratres Seculares ejusdem Ordinis, non tam precibus, quam literis Academicis vacantes. Sed quia cum supradictis Regularibus parum conveniebant, Hugo de Balsam decimus Præsul Eliensis hos fratres Seculares ad Domum suam Divi Petri augendam transtulit. Fratres vero Regulares cum suo Priore (quibus dictus Hugo de Balsam an. Dom. 1283. Ruddi * Hospitium, ubi nunc est Diversorium sub insigni Castelli à parte Occidentali Collegii Emanuelis) in hisce antiquis sedibus: quas Papa Innocentius 4^{tus}, anno Pontificatus 9^{no}, diplomate an. Dom. 1250. stabilivit, remanserunt usque ad terminum Imperii Henrici Septimi. Tunc enim temporis ad tantam ruinam, (antiqui Registri verba audis) inopiam, paucitatemque re-daſtus erat hic Prioratus, ut ex florenti quondam copioſoque numero ipſe Prior cum duobus tantummodo Fratribus ſuperfuerint: bonaque mobilia ac immobilia ita conſumpta atque extenuata fuerunt, ut ex 140. libris annui cenſus, quibus à prædicto Nigello dotati eſſent, triginta tantum reliquæ extiterint. Sed Diva Margareta Comitiſſa Richmondiæ (prædicta Fundatrix Collegii Chriſti) ſalutare Sydus hic exoriebatur, quæ poſtquam illud Collegium poſuiſſet, ſecundum hoc illuſtriſſimum pietatis ſuæ monumentum hoc in loco erigebat, quem ex privato publicum, ex Hoſpicio Collegium, ex lateritio (ſi Muſas attendis) marmoreum æternumque reddidit. Illa enim indulgentiſſima Muſarum mater ampliſſimum hoc Collegium in priſtinum honorem S. Joannis Evangeliftæ an. Dom. 1508. fundavit, adeoque opimis terris, maneriis, fundiſque accumulavit, ut Præfectus unus, Socii 50, totidemque Scholares pro Domina Margareta Deo quotidie gratias agant. Atque licet immaturo fato cum ſummo etiam Academicorum damno præcepta fuerit, antequam tanti ædificii primordia vix jecerit: illos tamen teſtamenti ſui Executores conſtituit ſcilicet Richardum Fox Episcopum Wintonienſem & Aulæ Penbrochianæ Cuſtodem, Joannem Fiſher Præſulem Roſſenſem, (qui, ut obiter adnotem, Sanſtimonia- lium Cœnobium apud Higeſham in Cantio ſuppreſſit & huic Collegio dedit) Carolum Somerſet Baronem Herbert de Gower in Comitatu Glamorganæ, poſtea Comitem Wigorniz, Thomam Lovell Ordinis Georgiani Equitem, Henricum Marney de Laer-Marney in Eſſexia, & Joannem St. John de Bletſo in Comitatu Bedford Milites celeberrimos: Robertum Shirton Aulæ Penbr: Socium, & hic Cuſtodem, Hugonem Aſhton Archidiaconum Eboracenſem, & Henricum Hornby Clericum, qui quidem omnes tantum abſuerunt, ut fidem ſibi concreditam non liberarint, ut potius Collegium longe pulcherrimum condiderint, illud in omnibus ejus terris infeoffarint, in aliis fidei ſibi commiſſæ reſponderint, ac Alanum Percy, filium juniorem Henrici Percy 4^{ti}. Comitſ Northumbriæ, Magiſtrum ordinarint, ratificante ſecundum eorum libellos ſupplices Papa Julio 2^{do}, 1510, circa primum annum Regni Henrici 8^{vi}, ut diſſoluto extinctoque Prioratû prædicto Collegium hoc extruerent. Quum vero Priores & Fratres Cœnobiorum de Bromhall & Higeſham Henricus 8^{vus}. expuliſſet, eorumque prædia fiſco Regio adjudicaſſet, Magiſter & Socii an. Dom. 1524. & 15^{to}. Henrici 8^{vi}. à dicto Rege & Clemente 7^{mo}. tum Papante, iſtos Prioratus cum pertinentiis huic Collegio transferri ac in perpetuum confirmari impetrarunt. Nec minimum momenti huic rei literariæ acceſſit, dum Joannes Morton Archiepiſcopus Cantua-

Cantuariensis quatuor Scholariatus, Domina Catharina Willoughby Ducissa Suffolciæ (cujus liberi Henricus & Carolus Brandon Duces Suffolciæ hujus Collegii Socio-Commensales floruerunt) annuum Stipendium sex librarum plus minus donaverit: Domina Mildreda Cecill (filia Antonii Cooke de Giddy-hall apud Ramford in Essex Equitis Aurati, uxor Guilielmi Cecill Baronis Burghley, Summi Angliæ Thesaurarii) annuum redditum triginta librarum, ad sex Scholares victitandos assignaverit: Domina Elizabetha Talbot Comitissa Salopiæ (filia & coheres Joannis Hardwick de Hardwick in Com. Derbiæ Armigeri, mater per maritum priorem Will: Cavendish Militem, Caroli Cavendish Equitis Aurati, & Guilielmi Baronis Cavendish de Hardwick, Comitisque nuper per Divum Jacobum Devonienſis, vidua Georgii Talbot sexti Comitiss Salopiæ) sua insigni ad novam structuram illustrandam munificentia beaverit: Domina Anna Rokesley, Dr. Felton, Hugo Ashton Archidiaconus Eboracensis prædictus, qui summæ pietatis vir hic in exteriori Capella, in tumulo undique ornato intra parietem requiescit: Rogerus Laxton Præpositus Ætonensis, Robertus Duckett, Thomas Lane, Henricus Billingsley Miles, Francisca Jermin, plurimique alii Proceres, Equites, Doctores & Cives manus suas opitulatorias admoverint. Quorum omnium liberalitate non solum Præfectus unus, Socii 54, Scholares 84, numerentur; sed etiam ipsa Collegii fabrica ad tantam elegantiam devenit, ut vix agnoscas æmulum.

13. HIC locus tum primum facer emicuisse videtur, quum celeberrima illa Monasteria Ordinis Benedictini, Eliense, Ramifiense, & Waldense, tria hic ædificia, ubi antea S. Ægidii Prioratus effloruit, suo instituto satis commoda, pecuniis propriis compararunt, ut suorum Monachorum, sicut Benedictus 11^{mus}, P.P. 1300. per diploma conceſſit, eſſent receptaculum, (unde Monachorum angulus etiamnum appellatur) qui huc pro more illius Seculi, sicut olim Monachi Croylandenses, ad sacros literarum fontes imbibendos convenerant. Sacratior vero eſſe cœpit postquam Edwardus Stafford 3^{tus}. Dux Buckinghamiæ, Comes Staffordiæ, Herefordiæ, & Northamptoniæ, Dominus Brechinæ & Hordenessæ, Ordinis Georgiani Sodalis, & Henrico 7^{mo}. à Consiliis, Heros longe Honoratissimus, hæc tria ædificia pretio indicto acquisiverit, in Academicorum gratiam construxerit, Aulamque Buckinghamiensem dixerit an. Dom. 1519. & anno Regni Regis Henrici Octavi undecimo. Posthac Thomas Baro Audley de Walden, Summus Angliæ Cancellarius, Regi Henrico Octavo à Consiliis, Ordinis Gartherii Eques, hujus Aulae patrocinium ac Fundationem autoritate tum Regia, tum Parliamentaria munitus accepit, Collegiumque S. Mariæ Magdalene an. Dom. 1542. nominavit, necnon terras ac tenementa, parcelas Prioratus S. Trinitatis Londini, dedit: quod scilicet Magdalene nomen (Anglice M-AUDLEY-N) fundatoris nomen continet, duabus à fronte & à tergo literis adjectis. Atque hoc unicum est Gymnasium Transcantanum, id est, à Cantæ fluminis ripa Boreali situm: circa quem locum prisce Urbis Cantabricæ vestigia libenter agnosceremus, si monumenta indies effossa, ossa, inquam, quæ vidi, quasi Giganteæ, & Romanorum nummos magna copia ibidem inventos serio contempleremur. Sed hujus Mæcenatis mors inopinata in tantum Collegii incommodum redundavit, ut nisi Socios quatuor, unumque unumque Bibliotistam, reliquerit. Verum Dominus Rex Henricus Octavus duos alios Socios addidit, & Collegii ærario viginti libras annuas in perpetuum largitus est. Tandem autem (ut præteream Thomam Parkinson Rectorem de Wyvelingham in Com. Cantab. dignum quidem, qui laudis suæ inter Benefactores buccinatorem inveniat) an. Dom. 1582. Christophorus Wrey Miles, & Angliæ Justitiarius Capitalis opus illud impolitum suis ædificiis cum Vestibulo perpulchro absolvit, atque Collegio terras donavit ad tres Socios, & quatuor Scholares sustinendos. Quibus præcedentibus, vidua ejus, Domina Anna Wrey duos Scholares, Edmundus Grindal Archiepiscopus Cantuariens. unum, Mr. Roberts Norfolciensis tres largiti sunt. Nuper autem Mr. Spenloffe Lincolnienfis terras annualis valoris 40^l. librarum huic Musæo assignavit ad unum Socium, duos Scholares, unumque Alfordiæ in Com. Linc. Concionatorem alendos. Unde hodie hic sustentantur Mr. unus, Socii 10, Scholares 14. Cujus Collegii felicitati Maximus hic accedit honoris cumulus, quod Domina Margareta Ducissa Norfolciæ (filia & heres præfati Thomæ Baronis Audley de Walden) uxor 2^{da}. Illustrissimi Principis Thomæ Howard 4^{ti}. Ducis Norfolciæ illi pepererit Inclutissimum illum Heroem, Thomam Comitem Suffolciæ, Baronem Howard Honoris de Walden, Divo Jacobo à Consiliis, unum Commissionariorum pro Mareschallia Angliæ, Ordinis Periscelidis Sodalem, Academiæ Cantabrigienfis Cancellarium Clementissimum, ac Comitatus Cantabr. & Dorset: Dominum Locum-tenentem, in cujus patronatû vere hereditario & honorario hoc Collegium, velut in portu placidissimo, tuto conquiescit.

Scilicet ex hisce tribus litterariis S. Michaëlis, Aula Regia, Coll. Trinit. & Phiswici Sacrariis Augustissimus felicissimæ memoriæ Rex Henricus Octavus, vere Octavius, hoc suum splendidissimum Collegium composuit, Sanctæ & Individuæ Trinitati consecravit, tantisque redditibus, terris, privilegiis & Regalitatibus præter possessiones antiquas cumulavit, ut annum censum 1300. librarum munificentissimus reliquerit, ex quibus Præfatus unus, Socii 60, Scholares 40, decem Oratores ab Eleemosynis viventes, Dominum Regem Henricum Octavum, solum Patronum conclament: hac tamen sibi suisque Successoribus semper reservata prærogativa Regia, ut Custodis electio penes Regum Angliæ beneplacitum (sicut in Aula Regia antiquitus solet) designaretur. Quod quidem eximium patris sui exemplum filia ejus Domina Maria Regina iisdem vestigiis pergebat premere, & Collegium hoc paternum non solum Sacello elegantissimo honoravit, sed annuali redditu 338. librarum ex opimis prædiis redundante, quo Discipuli 20, Choristæ 10, eorum Mr. unus, Sacellani quatuor, pauperes Scholares 13, & Subsizatores duo alerentur, tanto patre digna auxerit. Usque adeo de Ecclesiæ accessorio sic olim verissimæ præcinit Esaias: "Reges erunt Nutritii tui, & Reginae Nutrices tuæ." Huic successit Thomas Allen, Ecclesiæ Parochialis de Steven haugh in Com. Hartf. Rector, qui duos Discipulos addidit cum sustentatione trium Scholarum Grammaticalium, quatuorque pauperum, ac terras 75. librarum per annum. Inter hos commemorandam sese offert Francisca Jermin, soror Roberti Jermin de Rushbrooke in Suff. Militis, filia Ambrosii Jermin Equitis, quæ unum Scholarem, cum annuo redditu 7^{tem}. librarum & decem solidorum, contulit. Isthis adjiciendi sunt Reverendissimus Joannes Whitgift, Archiantistes Cantuariensis, ibidem olim Præfatus: Illusterrimus Robertus Devereux, 2^{dus}. Comes Essexiæ, hujus Collegii Commensalis, ac florentissimus Academiae Cancellarius,

Hoc Musæum, ut Musarum filii amœnius habitarent, nunc reconcinatum & quasi de novo conditum assurgit, curante Thoma Neville, ejusdem nuper Præfecto & Ecclesiæ Cantuariensis Decano dignissimo: qui ex Nevillorum familia, illa quidem prius non solum Anglo-Saxonica, ideoque antiqua, sed & si qua alia, inter ceteras nobilissima (tot Procerum, nimirum unius Ducis & Marchionis, Comitum 14, Baronum 24, feracissima) oriundus gentis suæ claritatem egregiis virtutibus adæquavit, & cujus munificentia hanc tantam suam magnificentiam istud Collegium debet, ut alteri in Orbe Christiano non cedat. Ipseque inprimis venerandus senex, vere μεγαλοπρεπής, vel maximo Philosopho judice, censendus est, quum in novis ædificiis Occidentem versus adeo speciose & spatiose excitandis senectutem suam exercuerit, ut super tria librarum millia in hac ejus Curia, non tam recte, quam honorifice, Nevilliana dicta, erigenda impenderit. Vos interim (subsequentes Nepotuli) hujus Collegii decus & gloriam nunquam intermorituram posteris narrate, dum intra triennium Potentissimi illi Principes, Carolus Princeps Walliæ, & Fredericus 5^{tus}, Princeps Elector Palatinus Rheni Serenissima sua luce illud collustrarint, ipseque demum Divus Jacobus in his ædibus Curiam suam Regalem non solum bis eodem anno, scilicet mensibus Martii & Maii, sed & an. 15. Proximus fundati Collegii numerus nos in Prædicatorum vicum ducit, sic dictum à Cœnobio Fratrum Prædicantium (Ordinis Dominicani) quos Nigros vocarunt, primum fundato & dotato circa an. Sed quum fatalis illa Monasteriorum perodus volveretur, exturbatis illis Nigris, qui niveam veritatem obfuscarunt, candidior successit Evangelizantium turba. Quo titulo quis obstar, quo minus applaudam publico Academiz fato, quæ Dominum Waltherum Mildmay, Equitem Auratum, Regii Scaccarii Cancellarium & Thesaurarium, Divæ Elizabethæ à Consiliis, inter Collegiorum fundatores agnoscit? Ille enim vir prudentissimus, & egregius literarum patronus, non tam in privata sua apud Apthorpe in Comitatu Northampt. quam in hac publica Musarum familia fundanda occupatus, hoc in loco Collegium Emmanuelis ad Immortalis Dei gloriam an. EPISCOPI EX ACADEMIA CANTABRIGIENSI

Efflorescentes ab An. Dom. MD. ad An. MDCXXII.

QUI licet in nonnullis sedibus ante annum centenarium collocati essent, tamen quia ad alias Dioeceses translati ibidem hoc anno, vel, circiter mortui sunt, ideo illos in ista tabula recensemus. Inter hos occurrent illi, quos in Oxoniensis Sororis Gymnasii Socios & Custodes lubens agnosco: verum quia suum apud nos tyrocinium exercebant, atque lac maternum hic primo infuxerint, dabit mihi, spero, hanc veniam amor Sororius, si huic Catalogo inseram. In hac συναγραφῇ mihi præluxit Matthæus Parker Archiepiscopus Cantuariensis (neque enim pudet profiteri, per quem profecerim) qui ab an. Dom. 1500. ad ann. 1572. hos Episcopos sic nominatim collegit, ut apparet in memorabili ejus Appendice ad Florilegium Westmonasteriensem. Hujus vestigia cur non premam? atque in illius fidem in toto & in solido me tradam, hanc tabulam editurus, quum plurimorum istorum Antistitum fuerit propemodum contemporaneus, nqueritque veritatem seræ posteritati transmittere? Hæc ille præclare, nisi quod illorum Collegia omiserit, quæ nos singulis, quatenus per auditum, disciplinæ sensum, hausimus, adfigere tentavimus. Sin qui hiatus apparent, exorandus es (Benevole Lector) ut amoris tui struem seu fasciculum in ruptura figas, quia, quum auctiora dies dabit, ἐὰν ὁ Κύριος θελήσῃ, perfectiora reponam & melius resipiam.

Idem tuus in Χριστῷ

Corcagiensis & Rossensis.

Julii 30°. 1632.

POST mille quingentos & octies decem
Annos, secundus orbi me dedit, luci dies
Decimus Decembris, quintus hinc fonti Sacro.
Hic mergor ut nostro paracho mos erat,
Hinc & renascor. O Jesu tibi gratiæ!

Annos duos natum adoriuntur pustulæ,
Penissimeque exstinxerant. Non sic tamen
Vifum est Deo, à quo vitam habeo novâ hac vice:
Exspecto tertiâ coronam gloriæ.

Ut revalui, patris domum bono meo
Magno reliqui, acceptus Aviæ & Avunculo.
Septennis operam literis cœpi dare.

Septendecim annos natus eo Cantabrigiam,
Pembrokiam parens, avunculus domum
Christi eligit, Christoque duce figo hinc pedem.
Christus tuetur, & Scholarem me facit.
Binos gradus fuscipio. Verum quid agere
Incertus hæsi: monet abire tenuitas
Parentum; at idem Christus hinc Spem mihi facit
Sodalitii, & anno sequenti perficit.

Mihi fausta Julii dies penultima
Aperuit angustum hunc locum pauperculo;
Non clave munerum aut Potentum litteris,
Sed (gratiæ Christo) Statutorum viâ.
Ætatis annus hic erat vigessimus
Et quintus, annusque Domini Jesu mei
Post mille sextiesque centum septimus.
Ex illo, iis quæ ad utramque vitam sunt opus
Circumfluo, qua officia, qua beneficia.

Supreme

VITA GUIL. CHAPPEL

Supreme iudex, corda renesque intuens,
Pectora nostri solus, eaque singula
Quidve boni omisi, quidve patravi mali;
Nedum quid egi bene latet oculum tuum.
Ignosce fervo, ignosce inutilissimo!

Lava, Lavare multiplica animam meam
Unigeniti sanguine, Misericordissime!
Quin & bene quid egi Tuam per gratiam,
Quod heu! parum est, id ut æstimes in Filio
Humillime peto, meque totum ut operias
In ipso, in ipso solo, in ipso perpetim!

Linguas malevolorum, hæresin crepantium,
Et nescio quid monstri ali in sinu meo,
Nosti, Domine, quam non meruerim. Haud imputes
Ipsis calumniam suam aut incitiam!

Jam quindecim annos corpus ægrum vix traho,
Estque Jubilæus hic annus ætatis meæ.
Clange, Domine, tubâ, eripe famulum ab animæ hostibus,
Mundo, Diabolo, carne, necnon corporis!
Aut, si tibi visum, benignus accipe
Animam meam; melior enim haud sum patribus.
Utcunque (quod toties precatus sum die
Et nocte, quod & usque precor) haud unquam sinas,
Ut sive vivam, sive moriar, scandalo
Sim veritati, cœlitus mihi datæ!

Ecclesiam serva Catholicam, hanc Anglicam, Fatumque, Papatumque, Schismaque remove!
Amen. Jube hæc ut sint, eruntque. Amen! Amen!

1633. Anno secundo Braius ad me literas
Dat nomine Domini sui, qui Episcopus
Londinensis tunc erat. Casselliæ
Offert Decanatum: regero mihi celebrem
Minime placere locum, minime & Hiberniam:
Me matris amplexus senis & Avunculi,
Nataleque solum jam petere silicernium,
Privata ubi in parœciâ, secessui
Litem pio, pacique mihi charissimis.
Ille instat, urgetque fore Dominus ut suos
Nec mihi faveret, nec meis in posterum. Hoc,
Hoc vincor. O chara mihi pignora! Quid? Egon?
Illis ut obsum, queis ne homo vix proderit?
Quod restat ætatis futuræ breviculæ
Illis negabo? Vicerint! Accipio. Eo.
Augusti initio Hiberniam peto; Literas
Nactus, Casselliam. Inauguror. Quid egerim

Passusve

Passusve fuerim illic, Deus novit, egoque
Sensi, & loquetur, me tacente, Ecclesia.

Post quatuor menses recipio literas
Collegii Dubliniensis, quæ statum
Narrant dolendum, meque propositum fore
Id ut reformem. Deprecor acerbissime,
Ut qui probe nôrim, quam ineptus Curia
Essem; idque viribus quam impar onus meis,
Quantoque præjudicio onustus tunc eram.
Quanta undique odia in me excitavero miser,
Illic pedem si posuero? O zelus! furor!
O ignis infernalis! O Collegium!
Neque vulnera tua pati pote, neque remedia.

Maio sequente revertor ad charam Angliam,
Visurus an possem effugere Collegium,
Virtute Regis optimi, & merito suo
In sede prima reperio patronum meum,
Reperio Cancellarium Collegii.
Frustra laboro. Præpositus ut sim juber.
Eo Cantabrigiam Socius, & post Comitia
Rus, matrem ubi ultimus video. Cujus domo
Die eadem & hora, quibus ante acceperam,
Post ter novem annos, tunc fodalitium exuo,
Dulcissimum terrestrium beneficium.

Exinde tristis æquor itero Hibernicum,
Augusti initio deferor Dublinium.
Præpositus eligor: nec admittor tamen
Ad regimen. Ita quidam voluit. Injuriam
Ignoscat ipsi hanc Deus, & innumerabiles!
Nono sequentis Februarii die
(Tandem expiato crimine haud visendi eum Quum rus abiret) recipior. Recolligo
Me: tum minime omisso esse oportebat animo,
Deum precor, ut & agere fortia & pati
Possim per ejus gratiam. Optimus annuit.

Exinde me Collegio totus dico
In ordinem ut redigam. Redigo per gratiam
Dei mei, cui laus & honor in seculum!
Quid non patior, hoc dum ago? Ruunt, facto agmine,
In me profana turba, Roma, Gevennaque.
Experior hîc illud Redemptoris; "odio
"Habebimini ab omnibus, & adducemini
"Ad præsides." Sed & hoc (tibi, Domine, gratiæ!)
"Dabo quid loquamini." Dedit certe Deus, Opusque promovit reformandi pius.

Subinde

1638.

Subinde climactera nova vitæ meæ
 Famosa morte Heroum, ut heroica cluet,
 Incipit, & excutit reliquias dentium
 Ante putrium, monetque mortis sim memor.
 Istius anni sub fine tamen eligor
 Episcopus Corcagii & Ross-cervicæ,
 Et consecror Novembris undecimo die.
 Hoc Cantuariensis, hoc Wentworthius
 Heros voluit; hoc (tunc meus) Radcliffius.
 Utrumque frustra sæpe sæpeque deprecor.
 Hinc utique decollavit omnis spes mea
 Desideratæ solitudinis diu.

Neque sic tamen abire licuit. Quin Rex jubet
 Collegio ut præsim. Obsequor. Et hîc hæreo
 Distractus inter loca remota & litibus
 Referta, quas, corpus ut itinera, odit anima.

Sollicito Cantuariensem literis,
 Sed frustra, ut his eripiar ex angustiis.
 Quumque mihi jam haud exuere liceat Episcopum,
 Peto Episcopatum tenuiorem in Anglia,
 Chara Anglia, cui sub Deo me debeo.
 Quid referet animi pendeo plenus metu.

Heroicum transcendendo climactera inops,
 Pusillanimus, heroicum fatum haud timens;
 Corpus licet nôrim esse debilissimum,
 Mirumque quod duraverit ad usque hunc diem.

Quoties remetior animo hoc septennium,
 Corripior admiratione & cantito:

“Mirabilia sunt opera Tua, Domine Deus!

“Panduntur utique in me inferorum januæ,

“Operta fervet, aperta furit hostilitas.

“Amicitia vera nequit obtinerier,

“Aut falsa cum potentibus vitariet.”

Revolvo decimum tertium Siracidæ,

Hinc magna nomina fugio. Verum urgeor,

Et vincor, hæc dicta ὡς ἐπὶ τὸ πολὺ cogitans

Tenere, meque repperisse quem eximam.

Fallor miser, plusque valuit adulatio

Unius, obsequio meo fidissimo,

Parique Tutoris merentis optime,

Habituque pessime. Illud Poëtæ suggerit mens: “Heu fuge

“Terrasque crudeles, avaraque litora!”

At enim lupum auribus teneo. Nisi ad Deum

Ubique præsentem fuga est frustranea.

Soli huic itaque committo vitam, rem, decus,

Hunc jadicem, hunc appello litium arbitrum

Causſæque vindicem, & innocentia meæ.
Sane utque vadam, vado plane, artem Aulicam
Aliis relinquens, ſemper exoſam mihi.

Præmiſſa quum puto; quamque nihili ſiem homulus,
Quantisque preſſus mentis, animi, & corporis
Infirmiſſimis; Quid eſt homo? Quis ego
Inter homines? (inquam) ut labores tot adeam,
Tantoque cum ſucceſſu? Equidem homo eſt vanitas,
Vaniffimæque ego vanitas: Tibi, Domine,
Sit laus, honor, gloria, poteſtas, dominium,
In ſecula! Mihi mea remitte debita!

Neque, Laude reverendiſſime, meritiſſima &
Laude ſpoliandus, ſub Deo, & propter Deum:
Neque vos mihi fideliffimi & chariffimi
Braie & Bakere ſcippo Senectæ meæ!
A patre miſericordiarum in Filio
Per Spiritum vobis rependitor bona Meſura, Coagitata ſuper, & effluens!

Jamque intro periodum ultimam vitæ meæ,
Compleſtur annus; alterum ut ſperem haud finit
Corpus. Deus vero tot annos addidit
Præter ſpem, ut haud liceat penitus eſſe ſine ſpe.
Utunque fiet id, quæve me cunque maneat,
Ad huc moleſtiæ, labores, miſeriæ;
Ipſe Tibi me, Domine Deus, meaque omnia
Quæ ſum, habeo, poſſum, Tibi dedi, do, dabo. Tua
Sunt, Tua & erunt. Dignare modo diſponere
Pro miſericordia tua, quæ maxima
Ad gloriam ejusdem, ſalutemque miſeri,
Ut ſive vivam ſive moriar ſim tuus,
In paceque ſineque ſcandalo claudam ultimum
Diem; ſepulturaque honeſta haud caream! Amen!

Collegium exuo Julii vigeſſimo.

Dr. Langbaine to Mr. Selden.

S I R,

I Give yow many thanks for imparting so much (as I earnestly desired to know) of that Scotch Copy of Chaucer, and am glad to hear that Georgius Syncellus is at last arriv'd. The reason, why I inseried in my last that passage concerning the judgement of Cambridge in the case of Fryer Russel, was not any concurrence or approbation of my own, as to the jus divinum: but in regard yow had in yowr History of tythes printed the like letters of this University, I conceiv'd, yow might not be unwilling to know, (as matter of fact) what Cambridge had done at the same time, and upon the same occasion. I might add upon the same account, what I have mett with in our old Registers, that when that controversie was so carried, the University requir'd by a special statute of Proceeders here an abjuration of the opinion of Russel; which statute and oath was afterwards in Edw. 6th's time expressly abrogated.

I am very sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Patrick Young, in whom I have not onely lost a friend, whom I highly valued, but the publick more. It is not unknown to yowrself, that he had for many years been a gatherer (especially out of Greek MSS.) and had transcrib'd many things not fitt to be lost. He had almost promised me to settle himself here at Oxford, and to set about the printing of the rest, after he had finish'd his LXX. and it grieves me to thinke,

— tot congestos noctesque diesque labores
Hauferit una dies.

He has told me some times, that his Various Lectiōs and Notes upon the LXX. would rife to as great a bulk, as the Text it self. I beseech yow, Sir, by the love of Learning to be a means, that they may not all dye with him.

I send now the product of two weeks, the sheets K and L of Eutychius, with my service.

Yowr most humble servant

Ger. Langbaine.

Dr. Langbaine to Mr. Selden. p. 17.

Most Hon^d. Sir,

NOTwithstanding those common endearments, by which yow have purchased so great an interest in this disconsolate University, and those multiplied favours, which yow have been pleased to heap upon myself, the meanest of yowr servants, I could have been content to hugg myself in the tacit recordation of both, had not that kind remembrance, which I received from yow by Mr. Palmer, some few minutes since, seconded by the present opportunity of safe conveyance by Mr. Patr. Young, invited, or indeed extorted from me this acknowledgement, which is no more mine, than the voyce of the publick, so far as discretion will permit us to make it publick: that however the condition of this place be now so desperate, that salus ipsa servare non potest, yet are we all abundantly satisfied in yowr unwearied care and passionate endeavours for our preservation. We know and confels,

— *si Pergama dextra
Defendi poterant, etiam hac defensa fuissent.*

Whether it be our unworthiness, as it is our unhappyness, to fall at last, others may better judge: but of this we are confident, that (next under God's) it must be imputed to yowr extraordinary providence, that we have stood thus long: yow have been the only belli mora, and

Quicquid apud nostræ cessatum est mœnia Trojæ,

Hectoris (I cannot add, Æneæque, for yow had no second) manu victoria Graiûm

Hæsit. ———

By yowr good acts and prudent manage, our six months have been spun into two years, and it has been thus far verified upon us by yowr means, nec capti potuerunt capi. But now the decretory day is come, Fuimus. That tempest, which so long hover'd, has now fallen so heavy upon our heads, that all our pilots have forsaken the helm, and let the ship drive. The Pro-Vice-Chancellors, Proctors, and other Officers and Ministers of the University have withdrawn themselves. I might add much (but I fear this may be too much) of this kind, as the sense of the most and best in this place, who fly so high upon the point of loyalty and privilege, as if they were ambitious of suffering. For my selfe, (and thô I have little correspondence with particulars, I believe I am not singular) I could be well enough contented to sit down with a Confessour's place, and not envy my betters the glory of this martyrdom. I cannot think, that we are bound by any obligation of law or conscience from acknowledging my Lord of Pembroke for our Chancellour. But for the new design'd Proctors and Heads of Houses (Christ-Church excepted) we do not see, (with submission be it spoken) why those Colleges, to whom the right of election regularly belongs, may not challenge it by vertue of the articles, by which the rights of all and every of them is promised to be saved. And thô we know the practise of former times is no rule for the present, nor the actions of Kings any laws of Parliaments; yet we cannot choose but observe the difference. Heretofore, when upon occasion Princes have sometimes depos'd the Proctors, sometimes preferr'd Heads of Houses to Bishopricks; yet they alwaies left the election of their Successors free, according to the respective Statutes of the University and Colleges, and did not otherwise interpose, (tho' it was thought a point of their prerogative) than at most by letters of recommendation, which were many times not obey'd, and that with impunity. But whatsoever yow please to command, we must now obey; and it will perhaps not at all offend our most eager Adversaries, if we choose to do it, rather by sufferance than compliance, which is already the resolution of a good many; and perhaps his Turn is not farr of, who, thô he would not be over hasty to offer the Sacrifice of fools by a peremptory opposition to an extraordinary and irresistible power, so long as nothing is commanded, which he conceives in it's own nature simply unlawfull; yet he hopes he shall never prostitute his innocency to purchase the short enjoyment of a slight preferment, which he values for nothing more, than the opportunity it affords him of freedom in his studies, and thereby (if yow shall at any time do him the honour to command him) of putting himselfe in a capacity to be reputed,

S I R,

I Am desired by the Delegacy of this place to give you notice, that as soon as a Convocation can be call'd (perhaps to morrow) it is intended to send letters from the University either to both Houses, or to the Speakers, with others to the Oxford Committee, and particularly to your self, to intreat that some provision may be inserted in the Ordinance now passing concerning Deans and Chapters, whereby the Right of the University to such Prebends as have been annexed by ancient grants to the Professours and places may be conserv'd.

Of this kind are,

1. A Prebend in Christ-Ch. Oxon. annexed to the Regius Professour in Divinity by K. James 26^{to}. Aug. anno regni 3^{tio}.
2. A lay Prebend at Shipton belonging to the Ch. of Sarum, annexed to the Professour of Civil Law by K. James 20^{mo}. Martii 15^{to}. Jacobi.
3. A Prebend in the Ch. of Worcester, annex'd to the L. Margaret's Lecture by K. Charles 5^{to}. Julii anno regni 3^{tio}.
4. A Prebend in Christ-Ch. Oxon. annex'd to the Hebrew Reader by King Charles 19^o. Junii anno regni 6^{to}.
5. A Prebend in Christ-Ch. annex'd to the University Reader's place by King Charles 21^o. Decembris 11^{mo}. Caroli.

The Originals of these grants, under the broad Seals of K. James and K. Charles, are by this Bearer Mr. Blagrove to be brought to you, which it was thought fit to dispatch before hand, not knowing how soon there may be use of them.

Besides these latter Augmentations made to the Professours, their ancient Salary of 40*l.* per annum was at first charg'd upon the Dean and Chap. of Westminster; but afterwards wards W. Benson Dean, and the Chap. of Westminster by their deed dat. 24^{to}. Julii anno Regni Hen. 8^{vi}. 38^o. made over to the King Lands of the said Church to the yearly value of 400*l*. on condition the K. shou'd free them, the D. and Chapt. from the perpetuall maintenance of ten Lecturers (viz. five in Oxon, and five in Cambridge) one of Divinity, Civil Law, Physick, Hebrew and Greek, in each University. This the King did in this University by charging the D. and Chapt. of Christ-Ch. in Oxford of his last foundation with the payment of those yearly Salaries to the Professours.

This University have right to present to a Chantry in the free Chappel at Windfore. Mr. Twine (in Apolog. Antiqu. Oxon. l. 3. p. 320.) relates, that when the D. and Chapt. of Windfore refus'd to admit the Univerſitie's Clerk Christ. Yonge, upon a tryal thereupon had 1568. (which must be about 10^{mo}. Elizabethæ) judgment was given for the Univerſitie.

I have not yet seen any Records of that Judgment; but if it be thought fit not to continue that title to the University, yet some allowance may be made for it by Commutation to the maintenance of any Actuary to be perpetually employed to transcribe such rarities for the use of the Library, whereof we cannot obtain the Originals. But this is only my private fancy and stole upon me unawares.

I neither dare nor need to advise any thing about the manner of passing the Salvo in the Ordinance, whether with speciall mention of all the particulars &c. then I fear whether somewhat may not be omitted that may concern either the University or particular Colleges, tho' at present I remember no more.

While I am writing I receiv'd a note from some of the new Prebends of Christ-Ch. desiring that you wou'd please to procure that there may be a speciall reservation for the Lands &c. of that Ch. in the Ordinance. They intend to make a particular application to you for that House, but by reason of their Dean's absence (whom they expect this night) they cannot yet conveniently do it.

I did observe upon the perusal of our ordinary Gazettes about a fortnight since, that there was some controversie betwixt my L^d. of Cherbury's yonger Son and Mr. Whitaker the Stationer, about the right of imprinting my Lord's Hist. of Hen. 8. and that it was referred by the Lords to the Lord North to determine. Truly, S^r, I see not but that the University may put in a claim, and perhaps the best, my L^d. Cherbury in his life time having left the most corrected Copy to the University Library, where it yet remains.

When

Epistola quædam cl. Langbainii.

When I say most corrected, I have this Inducement to persuade me. He left it to be kept under lock and key, and Mr. Whitaker has since employed his Son in Law Mr. Bowman a Stationer of this Towne, to procure some collation or transcript to be made out of our Copy, I mean some part of it.

I am not to mingle my private Relations with the business of the publick, otherwise (if the time would permit) I should presume to say somewhat more than barely to thank you for your many kind remembrances, and desire to continue in your good Graces, and beg that honour from you, that you would employ in any services

Most honoured S^r.

IN pursuance of those Injunctions (for such to me are all which you call requests) which your last of the sixth instant layd upon me, I have made Search into such Greek Manuscripts as our publick Library affords of the 1. Epistle of John, which are not many. We are better stored with Gospells than Epistles. Of these latter we have onely three Copyes, and one of them defective at the end, and so wanting some of those Canonical Epistles. The other two read that place chap 5. thus: "Ὅτι τρεῖς εἰσιν οἱ μαρτυροῦντες ἐν τῇ γῇ, τὸ πνεῦμα, καὶ τὸ ὕδωρ, καὶ τὸ αἷμα καὶ ἔτι οἱ τρεῖς ἐν εἰσι." without any vestigium of that, which usually passeth for the 7th. verse. You know what Beza has noted upon the place; to which I may add, that in the interlineary of Raphelengius in 8°. 1612. those words, εἰς τὸ ἐν εἰσι, make the close as of the 7th. verse, and are totally wanting as in the 8th. with which agrees the Geneva Edition in 4^{to}. 1620. But I suppose it was not your purpose to enquire after the varieties of Editions, but MSS. and whether you meant only Greek, or Latin too, I cannot tell, and therefore doe yet forbear to trouble you with the severall lections in our Latin Copyes; some having nothing of the 7th. verse, some putting it in the margin, some placing it after what we ordinarily account for the eighth, and those that have both varying diversly: which if it may be usefull to you any way, I shall, upon the first notice, more methodically digest and more particularly certifie.

I have herewith sent you so many of those Authors lives you writ for as are to be found in Leland, which was given to

to our Library not by Mr. Allen, but by Mr. William Burton of Leicestershire: he that is the Author of the Description of that County. The book was the Author's Originall, and this transcript is by John Hall, which I have this morning collated.

I conceive you desired these in order to the Edition of those Historians by Mr. Bee; and am sorry you have altered your resolution of adding Wick of Osney and Rosse of Warwick: nor do I meet with Turgot of Durham in your Catalogue: all which I should be glad to see published, because each of them has somewhat singular concerning this University.

I remember you once were minded too of adding the Provisiones Oxon. (wanting in the Additamenta of Matthew Paris) which I could supply from hence out of some excerpts wee have of the Chronicle of Hyde, and Favent's Roll of the Parliament 11^o. Ric. 2^{di}. and if you think fitt, an extract might be taken of all the Historicall passages in Dr. Gafcoigne's Dictionarium Theologicum, which do (in my opinion) as well deserve to be published as the rest of that great work does scarce (but for them) deserve the reading, being otherwise but as a Common place book out of the Fathers and other ordinary Ecclesiasticall Authors.

Touching Ailredus Rievallensis wee have severall pieces of him, and some historicall, as besides that de Regibus Anglorum (which I suppose is the piece you onely now set forth: for the life of Edward the Confessor is extant already) that de miraculis Hagustaldensis Ecclesiæ of no great value, and that de bello Standardi, or the life of Walter Espee is in Bennet Colledge Cambridge. Wee have likewise of the same Author one piece not mentioned in the Catalogue of his works either by Bale, or Leland, or Pits, or any other that I remember, titled De vinculo Perfectionis. When Jacob Merlo Horstius was to sett out Bernard's works at Colon, about ten years since there passed severall Letters betwixt him and me upon that occasion: and I furnished him with some Supplements to Bernard, and the transcript of the Epistles of Gilbertus de Hoylandia, and gave him notice (for he certified me his purpose was to publish what he could meet with of Guerricus Gillebertus and Ailredus Rievallensis, as being Bernard's Schollers) that besides what our Countreyman Gibbons had already set forth of this last, wee had two pieces not yet extant, that De institutione Inclufarum, and De vinculo Perfectionis; which (as he directed) I sent to Bleaw at Amsterdam (by James Lydius the Minister of Dort, and Chapleine to the Dutch Ambassadors then here) in the beginning

ginning of 45. to be by him transmitted to Kinkius the printer at Colon : but could never yet learne what became of them. But all this is nothing to your purpose. I pray you to pardon the impertinency of

Most Hon^d. Sir,

HAVING the opportunity of this bearer, Mr. Patrick Young, I presume to trouble yow : (as I have done so often with impunity that I begin to think I may do it lawfully.) Mr. Pocock intends shortly to publish some pieces of Maimonides in Arabick, with his translation. For my self, I have engaged a matter of a score of our ablest men in that kind, to undertake a thorough Survey of our Publick Library, intending to make a perfect Catalogue of all the books according to their severall Subjects in severall kinds; and when that's done to incorporate in it all the Authors in any of our private College Libraries, which are wanting in the Publick, so as he that desires to know, may see at one view, what we have upon any subject. Dr. James made some beginning in this kind; but none yet has ventur'd either to perfect his or begin anew. His Successor Mr. Rouse, I fear, and so doe his Physicians, will not be long liv'd. Sir Thomas Bodley requires a single man for the place; and my thoughts have run much upon Mr. Young. If the election be left to the University, I presume, he might with ease (if he would be willing to accept of it) obtain the place. But I find him not inclinable. However, Sir, I thought fitt to give yow thus much notice, as of a thing, in which yow are not unconcern'd: (for I cannot think but yow passionately affect the prosperity of all good letters, and the choice of a fitt man for that place will have no small influence that way.) If the Committee do take upon them to dispose of it, I could heartily heartily wish, Mr. Young might be thought upon, tho' himself will not appear for it. If not he, I know not, but by all I have heard Mr. Bunkley may do as real service in the place, as Mr. Hartlib. And if an English-man be as fitt, what reason there may be to preferre a stranger, I am some what to seek. Sir, I wish yow all health and happinesse, I am

Sir,

YOur last direction, wherein you instance in the names of Abel and Caine's wives, gives me occasion to impart, what has fallen in my way to observe, tho' it be below you to take notice of it, out of a MS. or two in the Public Library. I met there with a Greeke copy, in which were some historical excerpts ἐκ τῶν χρονικῶν Γεωργίου. Thinking, what George this might bee, I presently found, tho' hee had many things common, it was not Cedrenus: and I have not yet seen Syncellus. Then remembring, that I had read in Rader's preface to the Chronic. Alexandrinum, that Georgius Pisidas had wrote a Chronicle ab orbe condito, as that is, and therein had made mention of Adam's two daughters, Azura and Suam, as this did, but with some variations, I enclined to believe, that these excerpts were gathered out of him, 'til I afterwards met with another Chronicle (but imperfect and without any name) with whom I find those excerpts to agree ad verbum: and perceiving the Author in his preface to promise to deduce his Chronicle ἕως τῆς τελευτῆς Μιχαὴλ ὑἱὸς Θεοφίλου, and concluding that preface thus, ἐκλιπαρῶ δὲ τὰς ἐντευξομένους φιλοθεῖς καὶ φιλόλογους ὑπερευχεσθαι μὴ διὰ τὸν κύριον, τοῦ ταπεινῆς καὶ ὑπερλίαν ἀμαρτωλῆς &c. and considering that Leo Allatius in his Apes Romanæ de viris illustribus p. 177. had long since promised the edition of the Chronicle of Georgius abbas Hamartolus from the beginning of the world 'til the end of Michael, the son of Theophilus, I thence presumed to conclude both those excerpts in the one, and the imperfect Chronicle in the other copy, must be of the same Author.

Immediately upon my return hither, upon the 7th. present, I sent up Ovid de vetula, which I presume yow have received
VOL. V. O O

ceived from Mr. Robinson, together with my letters wherein was an account of that place of Holcot which yow desired. I forgott to mention that the Author by him quoted under the name of Willielmus de Nangis, is by Vossius (as I take it) called Willielmus de Nangiaco. I sent at the same time out of a later MS. copy so much as was in Albumazar in the chapter de virgine. Somewhat to the same purpose as yow were speaking concerning those traditional conceits of the ancients, seems to be this piece, which I have mett with in one of our Greek MSS. The title of the whole is, Χρησμοὶ καὶ Θεολογίαι Ἑλλήνων φιλοσόφων in which are severall short fragments, pretended to be of Hermes, Plato, and several other Greek Philosophers, (all which I account spurious) relating to the birth, incarnation, passion, &c. of Christ, and to the doctrine of the Trinity. Among them one with this title, Ἐρώτησις Ἰάσωνος βασιλέως τῶν Ἀργοναυτῶν εἰς τὸ πυθεῖον τοῦ Ἀ-

Ever Hon^d. Sir,

Since yow are pleased to admit, I am content to use the liberty now and then to trouble yow with some petty observations, not out of any hopes or ambition to instruct yow in any thing, (as yow are pleas'd to speak;) I am not so much a stranger to yowr vast abilities and my own infirmities:
but of a sincere desire to testifie my readinesse to serve yow.
I cannot tell, whether it may be any thing to yowr purpose to note, what yowr learned Friend Nic. Fabricius observ'd of Abraxas, which is related by Gassendus in his life. Lib. i.
pag. 35.

To what yow have learn'dly discours'd of κομασῆρια and κομασαι &c. give me leave to desire yow to take into yowr consideration those words of Aristides the Orator upon Serapis (pag. 98. edit. in 8vo. 1604.) καὶ καλῶν ὡς αὐτὸν κομασαι &c.

That

That he was a diligent enquirer after Egyptian antiquities, and had severall conferences with the Priests, is cleare by severall passages in his Niliaca (or Egyptiaca,) the conclusion of which (as much besides) does confirm (if there were any need) what yow have sufficiently prov'd from others as good Authors.

With the like boldness, (which I referr to yowr De Diis Syris pag. 239.) I presume to mind yow of a place in Ammonius's comment on Aristotle περὶ ἐρμηνείας (edit. Ven. in 8^{vo}. anno 1545. fol. 30.) where he labours to give a philosophical reason for the diversity of genders in the imposition of names, and why the moon is ἀρρενοθυλός.

Pag. 258. if yow please to substitute Westmoreland for Cumbria. Lowther is in that county. Yowr rare discovery of Succoth Benoth, with the explication of that passage in Jeremy's epistle, did put me in mind of our old English custome of Hocking, and I thought it would not offend yow to look upon what I here send yow transcribed out of a book of John Lawarne, Monke of Worcester, of his own hand. The book contains severall pieces, some Sermons of his, some Lectures, upon the Sentences, upon the Bible, his Exercise at Oxford for his degrees in Divinity where he proceeded Dr. 9. Apr. 1448.

Tho' it needs not, yet yow may please ad pag. 326. to take in the testimony of Porphyry, concerning the placing of their Images in the Heathen temples (and their Shekinah) in his de antro Nympharum in Odyssea, where (in the first page of the sheete) he makes the question, why the Poët in that place should assigne the north gate to men, and the south to the gods, and did not rather in that case make use of the east and west, ὡς ἂν σχεδὸν πάντων &c. Hon^d. Sir,

UPON occasion of the businesse of Tythes now under consideration, some, whom it more nearly concerns, have been pleased to enquire of me, what might be said, as to the civil right of them, to whom I was not able to give any better direction, than by sending them to yowr History. Happily it may seem strange to them; yet I am not out of hopes, but that work, (like Pelias hasta) which was lookt upon as a piece, that struck deepest against the divine, will afford the strongest arguments for the civil right; and if that be made the issue, I do not despair of the cause. The Vice-Chancellour writes to me to look into a MS. of Mr. Rily's sent to our publick Library by my Lord of Canterbury, being a collection of such records, as concern'd the interests of the Clergy, and to certifie, whether that affords any thing of present use. I am confident he has been misinform'd, and that the book he means was never sent nor intended for this place, but was left by the Archbishop in the Library at Lambeth. When that was design'd and given to Cambridge, I was told, that book was missing; but if it were extant, I do not know what might be expected from it. It is a matter of more difficulty to me to imagine, what argument (as the law now stands) can be brought against the Ministers title and propriety, than for it; but of this we shall hear (I doubt not) soon enough. Ever Hon^d. Sir,

I Shall only in this performe, (I may not say make good) what I promis'd in my last, say somewhat, tho' little to the purpose, of those things mention'd in yowr's of the 7th, 12th, and (which I receiv'd yesterday) 16th. instant.

Touching the abolition or continuance of the Judiciall law either to the Jews or Christians, I do not remember to have seen any peculiar tract; but concerning the thing it self, if another man had ask'd the question, I should have thought it no hard matter to have return'd somewhat towards his satisfaction, and that out of the common road, by remitting him to what yow have published in that way: to whose incomparable works, I believe, many others, besides myselfe, are indebted for the most and best part of what they can pretend to of Jewish Learning. But since it is absurd to return yow nothing more, (better I cannot) then a pig of yowr own sow, I am encourag'd (since yow give me the liberty) to vent my conjectures. With submission to yowr Judgment, I should think these two propositions no paradoxes:

1. That the Judiciall law of Moses, as such, (abstracting from what in it is of the law of nature and nations &c) was never binding to Christians, as Christians.

2. That to the Jews, as Jews, it never ceas'd to be so, save only by accident, as countermanded by the civil sanctions of those those Princes and States, in whose dominions their lot of residence has fallen, since their final dispersion: with what variety and temperament, both in the Roman Empire and other nations, no man knows better than yourself.

I find in St. Austin (epistola 49.) out of Porphyry, of their law in generall affirm'd: "Prorepsit in fines Italos post Caium Cæsarem, aut certe illo imperante." Those severall laws in both Codes, concerning sometimes the restraint, sometimes the toleration of it, I need not mention. For matter of fact, I know not, whether it be worth the while to take notice of that passage in Theodorus (or rather Diodorus) Tarsensis (apud Photium in Bibl. Cod. 223. ex lib. 6. de fato) who gives this testimony of the Jewish nation, that as formerly, so since their universall dispersion till that time, (about 400. years after Christ) they never apostatiz'd from their ancient laws. And tho' that were a time, when the Jews (if ever) were in most flagrant favour with the Emperours; yet that the Christians of those days did not conceive themselves oblig'd by the Jewish Judicalls, may be collected from that return of Basil to (as I suppose the same Diodorus, Bishop of Tarsus, touching the case of a man's marrying the sister of his deceased wife) Basil Ep. 197 & vid. Balsamon in eandem) where he waves the authority of the Mosaical law with ὅσα ὁ νόμος λέγει, τοῖς ἐν τῷ νόμῳ λέγει. &c.

We have in our Publick Library amongst the Greek MSS. given by Sir Tho. Roe, a great volume containing, inter alia, several Collections of laws both Civil and Ecclesiastical, many of those already extant in the Basilica and Jus Græco-Romanum, with others (for ought I know,) not yet in print: in which book betwixt some Novells of Basilius and some others of Leo Imp. comes in a piece of about six leaves in quantity with this title in rubrick: Ἐκλογὴ ἐν ἐπιτομῇ τῶ παρα τοῦ Θεοῦ διὰ Μωϋσέως δοθέντος νόμου τοῖς Ἰσραηλítais The first title thus: περὶ κρίματος καὶ δικαιοσύνης ἐκ τῆς Εξόδου κεφ. ιβ. The beginning thus: Οὐ παραλήψῃ ἀκρὴν ματαίαν, ἐ συνεκαθήσθη μετὰ τοῦ ἀδίκου γενέσθαι μάρτυρος ἀδίκου. &c. In the margin over right against the title, there is this note in the rubrick, of the same hand with the rest, πῶς συμβάλλουσι ταῦτα πάντα τοῖς εἰς ἡμᾶς ποιοθημένοις; by which, as it is apparent at the time of the transcript, it was otherwise, so it may be doubted, whether, in the first design of the Collector, those laws were not supposed to concern the Christians of those times, as rules of life. The method of the Collection is not much unlike that in the Collatio legum Mosaicarum & Romanorum, set out by Pithæus, of which, I think, you make Licinius Rufinus to have been the Author. The whole volume was writ above

300. years since, by one Constantinus Sapiens. For so I read in the close of the book, and did sometime belong to the Monastery τῆς Ἑσόπτης in insula Chalce.

I cannot tell whether any of latter times, Carolostadius and the Anabaptists excepted, have maintain'd the Jewish Judicials to be universally and indispensible binding to Christians. How our ordinary method is to have stated the controversy, I know is below yow to take notice of.

In the solving of that question in yowr 2^d. letter, concerning that passage in Photius's Epistles of ῥῶς, the founder of the Romish name and nation, I fear I shall do yow but little service. I read over that whole book in MS. several years before it came forth in print, and took some notes thence, but none to this purpose. When upon the receipt of yowr's I review'd the place, and found the Translatour complain of the scribe's negligence, I had recourse to the original MS. where tho' I found the complaint not altogether causeless, yet to the matter in question that recherche was useless. Only it serv'd to excuse the Author from that σολοικοφανὲς in the narration: for where the printed copy read ἱστορίας &c. ἀντιγμίν@, the MS. hath it λόγος ἀντιγμίν@ so as there is no need to justify the Solœcisme by other parallels, such as Hœschelius in the beginning of his notes upon Photius's Bibl. hath observ'd both in him and other Authors. Besides, this did a little more confirm me in the opinion that this tale of ῥῶς came to Photius only by hearsay, and that he had it not from any written story: for so λέγεται λόγος here, and οἱ ταῦτα λέγοντες after, seem to imply. And that he must have it from some Jew, seems most credible, because he says, the Reporters of it were such, as set light by all the Greek relations (and many of those are consonant to the Roman stories) concerning that matter. But yow will say, "jam dic, Pontice, de tribus capellis." Truly, Sir, tho' I give no great faith to any of them, yet I shall venture to set down my conjectures, which (bating that circumstance of the tribe of Benjamin) tho' they come not home, yet may look towards the mark.

1. What if the Relater mistook ῥῶς for ῥῶμ? You know the resemblance of the Ϟ to the Ϟ clausum (or finale) is so great, as hath impos'd upon the Readers, and given occasion to mistakes in greater matters. And if it be admitted here, it will (I think) be no hard matter to fetch in some one, either of those men or women, Rhomus or Rhoma in Festus and elsewhere, from whence Rome is said to have had it's first denomination.

2. But if ῥῶς were the word, then since Tzetzes (chil. XI. hist. 393.) makes ταυρογλυφῆς and ῥωσαγλυφῆς, and so ταῦτα

and

and ῥῶς, to be synonyma, will not that of Helanicus in Dionys. Halicarn. ἀπὸ τοῦ ταύρου τὴν ὀνομασίαν ταύτην ἔχεν [Ἰταλία,] or that Etymon in Festus, "Italia dicta, quod magnos italos, i. e. boves, habeat," thus far fit with this tale in Photius of Rhos his coming into Italy?

3. Or rather, may not that Ῥασέναις in the same Author (Dion, Halic. L. 1.) from whom he affirms the Tuscans to have call'd themselves, without any great violence be capable of application to this ῥῶς?

I am loath to omit a conceit, which our common friend Mr. Pocock suggested. this it was. As rosso in Italian signifies red, so (he says) it is ordinary with the Jews and Arabs to call the Romans Edomites with an epithet (but he did not remember the word) signifying rufus, yellow, or red hair'd. If this make nothing to ῥῶς, will it not fit with what yow have elsewhere observ'd out of Petrus Riga of the golden beards of those, that worshipp'd the calf, or direct to some conjecture of the ground of the common practice of the painters in representing Judas the traytor (as they do constantly) with a red head? But I have already too much abus'd yowr time and patience in this point.

To yowr 3^d. letter. 1. for Zonaras's Epistles, I never before heard of any such book, and am confident enough it is not to be found here. Then for the title of μελανθρόος in Gruter, I make some doubt, whether the word do signifie a dignity or no. We have not those Epistles of Bembus, whence that inscription was taken; but the escapes in it may be corrected by that other copy of it, express'd from the originall in brass by Pignorius in his explicatio mensæ Isiacæ (fol. 32. b.) and having not yet met with any thing on which to build a certainty, I adventure from the consideration of the subject matter of the inscription it selfe to make the conjecture.

Seeing the dedication of the Pastophorion, there spoken of, was intended to the honour of Isis, and those other, there mention'd, her cognate Gods of Egypt, I should think, that Theophilus the founder was a Fellow of the College; or to give yow my sense in the words of Apuleius (Milefia 11^{ma}.) one, "è cœtu Pastophorûm, quod sacrosancti collegii nomen est;" one that bore a part in those solemnities: and that μελανθρόος was intended to expresse his particular office, viz. in the pompe and procession of the Goddesses; he bore her black pall. For yow know, that the Priests, who in those "sacra" "potentissimorum Deûm proferebant insignes exuvias," (as the same Author speaks) were called Pastophori; and such as call them so, "quod ferrent pallium Veneris, cui nomen Pastos."

Pastos," say but the same thing; since Isis and Venus (by the known πολυωνυμία among the Gods) are the same person. And seeing in the description of Isis there is assign'd to her "palla nigerrima (Apul. ibid.) splendescens atro nitore;" hence it is, that I conceiv'd, to avoid that κακὲς μίαν or tautology, which the inscription had been guilty of, had it run thus, Θεοφίλῳ Θεόφιλος Αντιοχεὺς παστοφόρος τὴν κοινίαν τοῦ παστοφορίου &c. he chose rather in the first place to substitute μελανήφορος, as a word more particularly denoting the colour of the pall, which in those pompes it was his peculiar office to carry.

The consideration of this and the neighbouring places in Apuleius reminded me of that in Synesius concerning the Egyptian κωμαστήρια, which yow have so well vindicated from former misinterpretation, whether it might not be capable of some farther illustration from hence. The κισώτια there are so like the "cista secretorum capax" here, and some other particulars so much of kin, as made me think, whether the κωμασταὶ and κωμαστήριον were not all one with the Pastophori, Priests, and Pastophorion, that part of the temple, where they lodg'd and kept their solemn feasts; and the κωμάσεις, if not those feasts, then the antecedent processions or initiations: as also whether the Grammateus in Apuleius and Lucian (de sacrificiis) do not referre to that third rank of Priests, whom (as yow have observ'd) Synesius styles ζακόνες: and whether in that place of Lucian, σοφιστῶν be not put for κωμαστῶν by mistake: for both agree in the number of three sorts, and the Prophets make one in both. Sir, yow see the effects of yowr known affections towards me &c. I am

Most Hon^d. Sir,

I Return yow hearty thanks for imparting that new discovery of the ταυροκαβάβια. Tho' I have not mett or remembred any thing in Antiquity to confirm it, the thing it selfe speaks as much, as will put the conjecture out of doubt; and it may probably relate to that yow mention of Hefychius's ταυρεῖνδα, which I would rather read ταυρεῖνδα. For that yow know is the most usuall termination of the names of such games. I did not before dream, that our minstrells about Tame-worth had a precedent of that age, and so near of kin, for their bull-catching. 'Tis true, the probleme might suit

saît very well for the fire's side in a winter night; but I am sorry I have occasion to say that I fear we must be forc'd ere long to bid good night to our Noctes Atticæ. I was not so much troubled to hear of that fellow, who lately in London maintain'd in publick that learning is a sin, as to see some men (who would be accounted none of the meanest amongst our selves here at home) under pretence of piety go about to banish it the University. I cannot make any better construction of a late order, made by those, whom we call Visitors, upon occasion of an election last week at All-Souls Coll: to this effect, that for the future no Scholar be chosen into any place in any College, unlesse he bring a testimony under the hands of four persons at the least, (not electours) known to these Visitours to be truly godly men, that he who stands for such a place is himselfe truly Godly: and by arrogating to themselves this power, they sit Judges of all mens consciences, and have rejected some, against whom they had no other exceptions (being certified by such, to whom their conversations were best known, to be unblameable, and statuteably elected after due examination and approbation of their sufficiency by that society) meerly upon this account, that the persons, who testified in their behalfe, are not known to these Visitours to be regenerate. I intend (God willing) ere long to have an election in our College, and have profess'd, that I will not submit to this order. Now I shall spee'd in it, I do not pretend to foresee; but if I be baffled, I shall hardly be silent. Sir, excuse this passion of

Yowr most humble servant

Entry of the Marriage of the Count Palatine. This Defect however may be supplied by several Particulars, whereof some are preserved in Manuscripts, others published by Stow in his Annals, P. 1005; by Sir John Finet in his Observations concerning Ambassadors, P. 10; as also by the Relations contained in a Pamphlet printed for William Barclay at London, 1613; and in Sandford's Genealogical History, P. 564, which are all in English: And in the French Language in Mercure François, Tom. III. C. 2. Contin. P. 71; for the Collector of these Notes hath not had the Fortune to meet with a printed Narrative of this Marriage in Dutch, at Frankendal, with Cuts, Folio, in 1613, and another in French, printed at Heidelberg. The Description of the Marriage of the Young Prince of Orange remains in several loose Papers, and from them a Collection hath been made of the Rites observed, with the Addition of some brief supplemental Notes.

CEREMONY OF THE MARRIAGE

B E T W E E N

*Frederick Count Palatine of the Rhine and the Princess Elizabeth eldest Daughter of King James the First,
on St. Valentine's Day 1613.*

FREDERICK the Vth, Count Palatine, landing at Gravesend on the 16th of October 1612, was with great State conducted to Whitehall; but the Celebration of the Marriage was deferred because Prince Henry was soon after seized with a Fever, whereof he died upon the Sixth of November. The Palatine was elected into the Order of the Garter, together with Prince Maurice Count of Nassau, (afterwards Prince of Orange) upon the 19th of December; and on the 27th of that Month the Conditions and Articles of Settlements for this Marriage were executed, wherein is this express Clause, "Quod Matrimonium verum et legitimum contrahatur inter eos in Anglia ante Initium Mensis Maij et interim Sponsalia legitima de presenti," &c. ^a And accordingly he was then affianced to the Princeesse in the then Banqueting-house at Whitehall in this Manner: About Two Yards below the Degrees of Estate a large Turkey Carpet was spread, whereon the Count Palatine and the Princeesse stood; to which Place the Nobility and Prince Charles conducted the Palatine apparelled in a black Velvet Cloak caped with Gold Lace, and the Princeesse followed in a black Velvet Gown, Semee of Croffets or Quarterfoils Silver ^a, having a small white Feather on her Head, and accompanied with Ladies.

The King, after a short Space, came into the Room, and fate under the State; and then Sir Thomas Lake (who was, as is suppos'd) Secretary of State and a Layman, read the precise Words for the Stipulation of the Marriage Contract itself, according to the Form settled in the Common Prayer Book, turned only into the French Language, viz. "I Frederick take thee Elizabeth to my wedded Wife," &c. which he repeated verbatim; and then the Princess did the same, "I Elizabeth take thee Frederick to my wedded Husband," &c.

The Archbishop of Canterbury (Dr. Abbot) however gave a Benediction by varying the Words in the Common Prayer in this Manner: The God of Abraham, God of Isaac, God of Jacob bleſs theſe ESPOUSED thy Servants, &c.

The Count Palatine and Prince Maurice were installed Knights of the Garter on the 7th of February, the later being invested by Garter King of Armes on the 4th of that Month at the Hague.

The Apparatus for the Count Palatine's Marriage.

Sunday the 14th of February 1613 (St. Valentine's Day) being appointed for this Solemnity, the Chapell of Whitehall was in Royall Sort adorned; the upper End of it was hung with very rich Hangings, containing Part of the History of the Acts of the Apostles, and the Communion Table was furnished with rich Plate.

A stately Throne or Seat was raised in the Midst of the Chapel, about Five Foot in Height and about XX Foot in Length, having Six or Seven Stairs to ascend and descend at each End of it; the same was spread underneath with rich Carpets, and rayled on both Sides; the Rayles being covered with Cloth of Tissue, but open at the Top, that the whole Assembly might the better see all the Ceremonies: Upon the Sides of the Chapel, from the Stalls up to the Communion

a I here may take Notice that this black Habit was doubtlesse then worn as Mourning for Prince Henry; however it is remarked that the Princess had Flowers of Silver in her Gown, because, as it will be shewn hereafter, White, the Colour of Virgins, was appropriated to Marriages. In the Additions to Montfretet we are informed that Lewis xii. upon the Death of Anne de Bretagne his Queen, commanded, that nul ne parlaſt a luy s'il n'estoit vestu de Drap noir; et adonques fut le Mariage du Monſ. Le Duc de Valois [afterwards King Francis I.] avec la Fille du Roy, et eponſerint tous en Deuil vestus de Drap noir, &c.—Chroniques Additionnées au Montfretet, P. 116, 117.

In the solemnizing of Espousalls and Matrimony this Circumstance was generally observed, that nothing should occur which could refresh Mourning and Misfortune at Festivals, where only the Marks of Satisfaction and Pleasure should be seen: But this Rule had some Exceptions.

Communion Table, there had been a double Row of Seats made for the Gentlemen of the Chapel, arraid with Tapestry.

The Proceſſion to the Count Palatine's Marriage.

Between Eleven and Twelve of the Clock, his Maſteſty, to make the Proceſſion more ſolemn, and in order that it might be ſeen by more People, proceeded from his Privy Chamber through the Prefence, and Guard Chamber, and through the new Banqueting-houſe erected of purpoſe to ſolemnize this Feaſt, and ſo down a Pair of Stairs at the upper End thereof by the Court Gate, and went along upon a ſtately Scaffold to the Great Chamber Stairs, and through the Great Chamber and Lobby to the Cloſet down the Staires to the Chapel, into which the Entry was made in this Manner :

Fiſt, the Trumpets.

Then the Bridegroom, who was dreſſed, as ſome Perſons who have given us the Narratives ſay, in a rich Cloth of Silver richly embroidered ; or, according to others, in a white Satin richly beſet with Pearls and Gold, going between the Duke of Lennox and the Earl of Nottingham (who were both married Lords, which ſeems to be a Difference from the antient Method, where the Paranympths were unmarried) ; however he was followed immediately by the young gallant Courtiers, Engliſh, Scottiſh, and Dutch, whom Finet ſtiles, The Batchelery of the Nation : But there entred into the Chappel only Sixteen Noble young Men Batchelors, being ſo many as the Bridegroom was years of Age ; the Reſt, by the expreſs Command of his Maſteſty, did not enter the Chapel, and the Bridegroom was conducted to his Seat.

Next before the Bride proceeded the Lord Harrington of Exton (who, as Camden acquaints us, had the Tuition of her) : She was ſupported on the Right Hand by the Prince of Wales, and on the left by the Earl of Northampton, Lord Privy Seal, both Batchelors, attended, as Stow and Sandford relate, with Twelve young Ladies, Fourteen according to Mercure Francois, but according to a Manuſcript Narrative with Sixteen, which ſeems to be right ; and that Number might be fixed upon for the ſame Reaſon that the Bridegroom had ſo many Batchelors attending upon him. Theſe young Ladies bore her Train, all clothed in white Veſtments, being Cloth of Silver ; and immediately after theſe young Ladies came the Lady Harrington, Wife to that Lord who had been the Lady Elizabeth's Gouvernesse for the Space of Ten Years; after her came all the great married Ladies of the Court; with which Train she ascended the Hautpas, and took her Place.

Her Habit is thus, with some Varieties in the Words, described by several Writers who observed it. Finet saith, She was apparrelled in White, her Hair laid out at Length in Curls overspreading her Shoulders, and crowned with a Coronet of rich Pearls and Diamonds. Stow writes, that she was attired all in White, having a rich Crown of Gold upon her Head, her Hair hanging down at Length in fair and seemly Tresses, plentifully beset with rich Pearls and precious Stones. Mercure Francois's Words, "Vestue d'une grande Robe de Toille d'Argent en Broderie d'Or toute couverte de Dyamants, ayant une Couronne Ducale^a sur la teste fait de Pierrieres." And the Pamphlet printed in that Year assures

^a Calling this Coronet a Ducal one must be a Mistake; for, exclusive of what Stow and the Pamphlet above-mentioned tells us, it is evident that Princesses and other great Ladies of the Blood-Royal at the Time of their Marriages wore Coronets or Crowns. Of all Distinctions none are more visibly adapted and universally understood to represent or signify what is intended by them, than those which are known by the Habits and external Ornaments; especially when the particular Reasons of the Appropriations of such Marks are evident. There are several such Particularities in this Description; and first, as to the Crown, wherein there will be no Occasion to run back to the Custom of the Jews, the Romans, and of the Primitive Christians, by all whom Crowns were used upon these Occasions, it being my only Design in this Place to produce Instances of the Daughters of the Crown, or the near Relations of the Kings and Queens of England, wearing Crowns on the Celebration of their Nuptials. On the Marriage of Adeleydis, or Alice, Daughter of the then Marquis of Montferrat, and Niece to the then Queen of England, with Albert the Great, Duke of Brunswick, which Marriage was celebrated at London in the Quindenes of Easter 1263, is this Entry in Rot. Pat. 47 Hen. III. P. 2. M. 3, Pro Garlanda aurea ad Opus Markeſie Neptis Regis, quam Dux Brunſwike ducturus eſt. The Word Garlanda here signifies a Crown, not a Garland; for in that Age the Word Garlanda was attributed even to the Crown worn by that King, as we find in Mat. Paris, P. 736. where speaking of Henry III. he says, Coronula aurea, que vulgariter Garlanda dicitur, redemitus. In Lib. Garderobæ, 25 E. I. in Custodia Rem. Regis.—Pro una magna Ruſetta et una magna Ameraunda empt. ad ponend. in quadam Coronella Comitisse Holland. filie Regis in die Nuptiarum.—Ad quandam Coronam Auri pro Ducissa Brabantie filie Regis, &c. John Harding, describing the Marriage of King Edw. III. says,

And sone thereafter the Erles Daughter Henalde,
 Dame Philip bight, that was both fayre and gode,
 He wed to Wyſe, and crownde as he walde
 With hiegh Honour, according to her Blode;
 All dyschevely in her Heer ſhe ſtoode;
 The Crown of Golde above in ryal Wyſe,
 A fayrer Wyght might no Man than deuyſe.

assures us, that this princely Bride was in her Virgin Robes, cloathed in a Gown of white Satin richly embroidered (with Silver); upon her Head a Crown of refined Gold, made imperial by the Pearls and Diamonds thereupon placed, which were so thick beset that they stood like shining Pinnacles upon her Amber-coloured Hair dependantly hanging, plaited down over her Shoulders to her Waist; between every Plait a Role or List of Gold Spangles, Pearls, rich Stones, and Diamonds of inestimable Value, imbroidered upon her Sleeves.

Immediately after the Lady Harrington came the Purfuivants and Heralds. Then Privy Counsellors, Barons, and Four Bishoppes in their Habits, and the superior Degrees of the Nobility, the Provincial Kings proceeding before the great Officers of State. Then Garter. Then the Earl of Arundell carrying the Sword of State. The King in a most sumptuous black Suit, with a Diamond in his Hat.

Then

In a Privy Seal, dated the 8th of June, 40th Edw. III. 1365. are the Words, Comme nous eussions fait acheter pour nostre tres chere Fille Isabelle Contesse de Bedford, par son Mariage au Corone d'Or, ove blanks Saphyrs, Dyamantz, grosses Perles, et Emeraüdes, du Pris de mille Marcs. On the Marriage of John of Gaunt to Blanche Daughter of the Duke of Lancaster in 1359, there was provided at the King's Expence a Ring, with a Ruby and a Cercle (as it is termed) garnished with Rubies, Emeralds, and Pearls. Exit. Fell. P. 33, E. III. Catherine of Spain, at her Marriage with Prince Arthur, wore upon her Head a Coif of Gold, Pearl, and precious Stones, an Inch and Half broad. Ann of Cleves, on her Marriage to Henry VIII. had a Coronet of Gold replenished with great Stones, and set about full with Branches of Rosemary. Olivier de la Marthe in his Memoirs, P. 520. describing the Ceremonial of the Marriage of the Duke of Burgundy with Margaret Sister of King Edward the IVth, speaking of the Bride's Dress, says, Sur ces Cheveux une riche Coronne. And Modius in his Pandectæ, P. 213. speaking of the same Marriage, says of the Bride, that Valde grantiter accepit sertum rosaceum quod vestales vinie Brugenfis illi donaverunt illutque mox suo imposuit Capiti super Sponsalem Coronam. Another French Account of this Ceremonial says of the Bride, Coronnee d'Or en Teste. And another in English says, She was richly crowned. And Margaret eldest Daughter of Henry VII. at the Celebration of her Marriage with James King of Scotland wore a Crown upon her Head. At the Marriage of Mary de Medicis to Henry IV. King of France in 1600, La Reyne estoit vestue d'un Manteau royal, &c. portant une Coronne a l'Imperiale. Mart. Franc. Tom. II. P. 51. Elizabeth Daughter of the Emperor Maximilian the 1st, when married to Charles the IXth, fut habillée, &c. dessus sa Teste ayant une Corone a l'Imperiale ornée de grands Dyamantz, &c. Cerem. Franc. Vol. II. Pag. 37. The like was likewise observed at the Marriage of Lewis XIII. with the Infanta of Spain 1615, L'Eponse estoit vestue en Majesté La Corone d'Or en Teste. Merc. Franc. Tom. IV. P. 339. Francoisfe de Lorrain, on her Marriage with Cæsar Duke of Vendosme, natural Son of Henry IV. wore a Crown enriched with precious Stones. Cerem. Franc. Vol. II. P. 58.—But it is needless to produce further Instances.

For the Manner of crowning Brides in the Eastern Churches, see Selden's Uxor Hebraica, and Zimmermanni Analesta, P. 86, &c.

Then the Queen in white Satin ^b, with much Embroidery and Diamonds, attended by a Number of married Ladies, Countesses and Baronesses, having her Train born by the Countesse of Arundell.

In this Order they ascended into the Chapel, where the King fate in the Chair upon the Right Hand most richly arraised, his Jewells being esteemed not to be less worth then Six Hundred Thousand Pounds. The Earl of Arundell, bearing the Sword, stood close by the Chair. Next below the Sword fate the Bridegroom upon a Stool; and after him Prince Charles upon another Stool; and by him stood Prince Henry, who was Brother to Count Maurice of Nassau, and Uncle to the Palatine. On the other opposite Side fate the Queen in a Chair most gloriously attired: Her Jewells were valued at Four Hundred Thousand Pounds. Near unto her fate the Bride on a Stool: The Lady Harrington her Governesse stood by her, bearing up her Train; and no others ascended this Place.

The Lord Chamberlain to the King stood at the End next to the Altar, and the Queen's Lord Chamberlain at the other End. The Lord Privy Seal stood upon the Stairs of this Hautpas or Throne hard by the King.

The King and Queen and the others mentioned being thus placed, the Lords and Councillors of the King, and the Lords and Counsellors of the Palatine took their Seats on the left Hand of the Chapel. The Ladies of Honour took the other Side of the Seats. The young Lords and Gentlemen of Honour, and younge Ladies and Bridewomen, with the necessary Attendants upon the King and the Queen, stood all below upon the Pavement. It is remarkable, that by the extraordinary Care of the Earl of Suffolk Lord Chamberlain, the Chapel was so kept, as not one Person but of Honour and great Place came into it.

The Ceremonies in the Chapel on the Elector Palatine's Marriage.

This Royall Assembly being in this Sort settled in the Chappel, the Organ ceased, and the Gentlemen of the Chapel

^a The Reason of this black Colour might be the late Death of Prince Arthur, for that Colour, and not Purple, was the real Mourning Habit of the Crown.

^b It may not be easy to determine, whether the Queen was thus robed in White, with regard only to the Habits used in Marriage, or with a further View to the Customs of France, where all the Queens (till Anne of Bretagne) wore White for Mourning.

Chapel sung a full Anthem; and then the Bishop of Bath and Wells, Dean of his Majesty's Chapel, went into the Pulpit, which stood at the Foot of the Step before the Communion Table, and preached upon the Second of St. John, the Marriage of Cana in Galilee; and the Sermon being ended (which continued not much above an Half Hour) the Choir began another Anthem, which was the Psalm, Blessed art thou that fearest God, &c.

While the Choir was singing this Anthem, the Archbishop of Canterbury and the Dean of the Chapel went into the Vestry, and put on their rich Copes, and came to the Communion Table, where they stood till the Anthem was ended, and then they ascended the Hautpas or Throne, where these Two great Princes were married by the Archbishop of Canterbury, in all Points according to the Book of Common Prayer. The Prince Palatine speaking the Words of Marriage in English after the Archbishop. The King's Majesty gave the Bride.

When the Archbishop had ended the Benediction God the Father, God the Son, &c. the Choir sang the same Benediction in an Anthem made new for that Purpose by Doctor Bull. The Anthem ended, the Archbishop and the Dean descended from the Throne: The Bridegroom and Bride following them, kneeled before the Communion Table, while the Versicles and Prayers were sung by the Archbishop, and answered by the Choir, which being ended, another Psalm was sung.

Then Garter Principal King of Arms published the Styles of the Prince and Princess. to this Effect: —All Health, Happinesse, and Honour be to the High and Mighty Prince Frederick the Vth, by the Grace of God Count Palatine of the Rhine, &c.—And to Elizabeth his Wife, only Daughter of the High, Mighty, and Right Excellent James, by the Grace of God King of Great Britain, &c.

Then Joy was given by the King and Queen, and seconded with the Congratulations of the Lords there present; and then divers of these Lords brought out of the Vestry Bowls with Wine, Ippocras, and Wafers: After tasting the Wafers an Health was began to the Prosperity of the Marriage out of a great gold Bowl by the Prince Palatine, and answered by the Princess, and others present in their Order.

This being ended they departed in the same Manner as they came, save that the Bride was led back from the Chapel by the Duke of Lenox and the Earl of Nottingham Lord Admiral; and that the Bridegroom was led back by Prince Charles

Charles and the Earl of Northampton. The King and Queen, leaving the Bride and Bridegroom in the Great Chamber, went to their privy Lodgings; and the Bride and Bridegroom proceeded to dine in State in the new Banqueting House with the Prince, the Ambassadors of France, Venice, and the States, Count Henry, and all the Lords and Ladies who had been attendant on the Marriage.

CEREMONY OF THE MARRIAGE

O F

*William only Son of Frederick-Henry Prince of Orange, and Mary eldest Daughter of King Charles the First,
on Low Sunday the Second of May 1641.*

THE Prince, Son of Frederick-Henry Prince of Orange, embarked at Helvoetsluys on board the Admiral, which Ship breaking her Malt in a hard Storm, the Prince went into the Vice Admiral's Shipp, with the Attendance of 17 Men of War belonging to the States, and landed at Gravesend $\frac{1}{2}$ of April, on Monday Morning: The Four Ambassadors of the United Provinces, who came thither with the Officers of the King the Day before to defray the Expences, went on board the Ship and fetched his Highnesse on Shore. That Evening my Lord Lyndsey, sent by the King, with the Coaches of the King and Queen and others, to the Number of Twenty, to salute the Prince, and to bid him welcome, waited on him. The next Day the Prince and Lord Lyndsey sitting together above in the Coach, the Lords Brederode and Aerfsen (the Two chief of the Embassadors) over against them; the Lords Heenulitt and Joachim (the Two others) in the right Boot; the Prince of Talmont and Count Solms in the Left. Behind Greenwich Park there were fresh Coaches, into which they entered. They came directly to Whitehall, where his Highnesse, with the Embassadors, visited the King and Queen in her Majesty's Chamber. The Prince of Wales and Duke of York, with my Lord of Arundell, being Earl Marshall and also Lord Steward of the Household, received his Highnesse at the Door of the King's Presence Chamber. From Whitehall the Prince, with the Embassadors, went to the Queen Mother to visit her Majesty at St. James's: From thence to Somerset House to see the Princeesse Mary, where the King and Queen were in private: After which his Highnesse was conducted to Arundell House, prepared by the Earl of Lyndsey for his Lodging.

The next Day his Highnesse visited the Prince of Wales and Duke of York in Durham House, which was returned by them at Arundell House the next Day.

The Apparatus, or Preparations.

On Wedneſday in Eaſter Week, being the 28th of April 1641, the Right Honourable the Earl of Arundell and Surrey, Earl Marſhal of England and Lord Steward of his Maſteſty's Houſehold, the Right Honourable the Earl of Pembroke and Montgomerſy, Lord Chamberlain of his Maſteſty's Houſehold, and divers other Lords of the King's moſt Honourable Privy Council, upon his Maſteſty's eſpecial Direction, took into Conſideration the Preparations and Ceremonies to be uſed at the Celebration of the Marriage of the illuſtrious Prince William, born Prince of Orange and Count of Naſſau, onely Son of the moſt illuſtrious Prince Frederick-Henry, by the Grace of God Prince of Orange and Count of Naſſau, &c. with the excellent Princeſſe Lady Mary eldeſt Daughter of the moſt puiſſant and moſt excellent Prince Charles, by the Grace of God King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

Their Lordſhips, after due Deliberation, having adviſed with Dr. Wren, Biſhop of Ely and Dean of his Maſteſty's Chapell, touching the Ceremony to be performed there, as alſo with the Kings of Arms about other Solemnities formerly uſed upon like Occaſions, repaired unto his Maſteſty, and by their Lordſhipps Advice it was then reſolved that the Marriage ſhould be ſolemnized the Sunday following in the Chapell at Whitehall; and in reſpect of the Prince's ſudden Return, and other important Affairs then in Agitation, many Solemnities uſed in former Times were omitted; and therefore the Celebration of theſe Nuptialls were with the more Privacy performed. His Maſteſty had previously given Orders, that on Account of the Impuberty of the Bride, who was not then Ten Years of Age, there ſhould be no publiſhing or aſking of Banns.

On the Thurſday Morning, before the Marriage, the ſaid Biſhop of Ely, Dean of the Chappell, by his Maſteſty's Command repaired unto the Bridegroom at Arundell Houſe, and there informed his Highneſſe what he was to ſay and what to do at the Celebration of the Marriage, leaving with Monſieur de Marlot his Highneſſe Governour, and Monſieur Rivel his Tutor, our Liturgy, both in Engliſh and French, to the End his Highnesse might the better understand what to say and answer, and be the more prompt therein.

Orders were given for Preparations in the Chapell in the following Manner.

The Walls about the Altar or Communion Table were hanged with very rich Cloth of Gold Baudekyn; the Septum or Rayle about the Altar was covered with the like; and the Floor within the Septum or Rayle with a fair large Turkey Carpet.

Upon the Altar or Communion Table, the old English Bible printed in 1541^a, and the Liturgy or Common Prayer Book, both with Silver and gilt Covers, together with a gilt Bafon, Two Chalices, One Paten, Two Candlesticks, &c. the Whole weighing Two Thousand Two Hundred Ounces.

The Doors of the Septum were opened and turned back close to the Rest of the Rayle; and a rich Carpet of Silk and Gold was spread from the Step where the Door stood, before the Altar or Communion Table, and thereon Two rich long Cushions were laid just without the Rayle for the Bride and Bridegroom to kneel on at the Time hereafter to be mentioned.

From the Septum or Rayle before the Middle of the Altar or Communion Table was erected a Degree, being Nine Inches deep, fitted to the Height of the uppermost Stepp, and according to the Conveniency of that Place almost down to the Step at the upper End of the Choir Stalls, being about Sixteen Foot in Length, and the middle Part about Nine Foot broad, shaped the Sides to the Fashion of an Octagon, the Entrance of the lower and upper Part being about Two Foot and a Half narrower: The Platform whereof is described by this Figure.

^a The Reason why this Translation of the Bible was laid upon the Communion Table might be, that the Psalms used in the Office of Matrimony, like those in our present daily Services, are not according to either of the Two last Translations of the Bible, but taken out of that old Translation called, The Great English Bible.

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

A. B. C. D. Rails of the Altar.

Both Sides of this Degree or Hautpas were rayled about Two Foot Six Inches in Heighth, with Lyfts on both Sides at the upper End, for the better Conveniency of his Majesty and the Embassadors going to repose themselves, at such Time as the Bride and Bridegroom were to kneel before the Altar or Communion Table.

The Floor of this Degree or Hautpas was covered with a very fair Turkey Carpet, and over that, in the middle Part, with Four small Carpets, and the Rayls thereof with rich Cloth of Gold Bawdekin; this, and the Traverses hereafter mentioned, being furnished by the Care of Mr. Clement Kynardesley, Yeoman of the removing Wardrobe: And a little before the Proceeding was made into the Chapell, the great Offering Carpet was spread from the Foot of the Degree or Hautpas almost down to the lower End of the Chapell, by Two Pages of the said Wardrobe.

Mr. Peter Newton, his Majesty's eldest Gentleman Usher Daily Waiter, by especial Order of the Lord Chamberlain, attended at the foresaid Degree according to his Office to take Care thereof.

The King's Privy Clofet (wherein his Majesty usually sits to hear Divine Service and Sermon in the Chapell) and the King's Great Clofet, and also the Queen's Privy Clofet, and her Majesty's Great Clofet, were all hanged with rich Cloth of Gold Baudekin, being the richest Sort of Cloth of Gold Tissue; all which, and the Rest of that Kind aforementioned, were brought from his Majesty's royal Wardrobe in the Tower, being Part of the antient Crown Furniture.

The Great Chamber was hanged with the Story of the Overthrowe of the Spaniards in 1588, ^a and all the other Roomes were richly hanged and adorned as at other grand Festivals.

On Saturday before the Marriage, the Lords and Ladies had Warning to attend the Bride and Bridegroom at Ten of the Clock on the next Morning, about which Hour, being then Lowe Sunday the Second of May 1641, the Lords repaired unto the King's Privy Gallery, from which his Majesty sent the Right Honourable the Earl of Holland, accompanied with the Right Honourable the Lord Strange, Son and Heir apparent of the Earl of Derby, and divers of the Gentlemen of his Majesty's Privy Chamber, to Arundell House, where the Bridegroom lodged, to conduct his Highnesse to Whitehall; and a little after Tenn of the Clock they sett forth from Arundell House towards the Court. The Coaches of the King, Queen, and of about Twelve Noblemen attended their Convoy; but no Coaches, saving those of the King and Queen, entered the Palace Gate.

His Highnesse was accompanied with the Four Embassadors from the United Provinces, Seigneur de Brederode, Baron of ^a This Tapestry, which still remains hung up in the House of Lords, was at the Time of this Marriage a very proper Compliment to this young Prince, whose Ancestors had contributed in the greatest Degree to the Diminution of the Spanish Monarchy.

of Viennen, Grand Master of the Artillery, and Governor of Bois le duc, Monsieur Francis de Aerfson, Seigneur de Somelfdyck, Monsieur Kirkhoven, Seigneur de Heenulitt, Grand Veneur d'Holland, and Monsieur Albert Joachime, Seigneur à Oefstende in Ottereskin, et Vinninge, upon whom Sir John Finet, Conductor of Embassadors, in performance of his Office attended, as he did also at Whitehall during the Solemnity.

Several Persons of Honor and Quality accompanied the Bridegroom, and his Highnesses Servants attended.

The Bridegroom being arrived at his Majesty's Royal Palace at Whitehall, his Highness was conducted by the Earl of Holland, going a little before him upon his left Side, to his Majesty, through the Presence Chamber into the Privy Gallery; the Four Embassadors followed him; but the Strangers which accompanied, and the Servants of the Prince, with the Rest of the Attendants, proceeded before his Highness, going Two and Two (the meanest in Rank going foremost) the superior Degrees nearest to his Person. His Pages, being Ten, and as many Footmen, were habited in Suits of Sky-coloured Velvet laid with Silver Lace, made up after the French Fashion.

His Highness being entered into the Privy Gallery, was there in princely Manner received by his Majesty in Presence of all the Lords, and after some small Time of Stay, his Majesty took his Highness with him by a private Way unto the Queen, and according to his Royall Order, all the Lords and Strangers repaired through the King's Privy Chamber unto the Queen's Side, where the Lords and the Rest attended in her Majesty's Privy Chamber, and in the withdrawing Room next thereunto, untill the Time of the Procession to the Chapell.

The Ladies attended in that withdrawing Room untill all Things were ready; and in the mean while the Lord Chamberlain repaired to the Chapell, and caused it to be entirely voided and strictly kept, that none, saving those hereafter mentioned, should enter.

And his Lordship finding the Presence Chamber and Great Chamber to be overmuch thronged by many of the King's Servants and others that came to see the Solemnity, inasmuch as the Yeomen of the Guard could scarce keep a convenient Passage clear for the Procession, it was thought fit that the most Part of the Bridegroom's Attendants, which by the first Orders should have followed his Highness in the Proceeding, where they should have been accompanied with young English Nobles and Gentlemen of Quality being

Batchelors,

Batchelors, should now be conveyed into the Chapell before the Procession, and be there placed in the Right Hand ex parte Decani, which was done accordingly by the especial Care of the Lord Chamberlain, and by admitting amongst them such other Strangers, that were not the Bridegroom's listed Attendants, as were by the Favor of his Highnesse nominated by Monsieur de Dorpe, Maitre d'Hotel and Counsellor to the Prince of Orange, who was appointed to attend upon his Highness that Day in Quality of his Gentleman Usher, which Strangers so named were about Eighty.

The Seats on the left Hand ex parte Cantoris were reserved for the Lords of England; and the Gentlemen of the Chapell sat beneath on the Foreseats as at other Times.

About Twelve of the Clock the Proceeding to the Chapell from the Queen's Privy Chamber began in this Manner:

First, Monsieur de Dorpe, Gentleman Usher to his Highnesse, between Somerset and Windsor.

Then the Bridegroom, apparelled in a Suite and Cloak of unshorne Velvet richly embroidered with Silver.

A little before his Highnesse on the left Side went the Lord Chamberlain, and on the other the Two chief Embassadors, and the other Two followed. The Prince of Talmon, the Count de Solms, the Count de Nassau, Monsieur de Marlot his Highness's Governour, and about Ten others of the principal Nobles which came over with his Highnesse, attended upon him to the Chappell, proceeding first from the Privy Chamber through the little Gallery, the Presence Chamber, the Great Chamber, and Passage Gallery down the Stairs, and so into the Chapell, where his Highnesse was placed by the above-mentioned Heralds in the uppermost Angle of the left Side of the Hautpas, and downwards from him on the same Side the Four Embassadors; his Highnesse's Gouvernour there also attending near unto his Person, and the Noblemen Strangers remained without the Rayle on that Side.

With these Attendants of his Highnesse several young English Noblemen and others of great Quality, being Batchelors, were intermixed.

At some Distance of Time the Bride's Gentleman Usher followed, going between Clarenceux and Norroy Kings of Arms.

Then the Bride habited in White embroidered with Silver, her Hair tyed up with Silver Ribbands, not dishevelled about her Shoulders as in former Times used, her Head adorned with a Garland of pendant Pearls, the great Ends
 environed

environed with a Rope of great round Pearls at the Bottom thereof, about her Neck a Necklace of Pearls, round about her Shoulders and Breast a Chain of pendant Pearls, and on her Breast a Rose of Six great pendant Pearls, being the fairest Pearls that are in Christiandom, was led by Prince Charles and the Duke of York, unmarried Ladies, habited in white Satin, immediately following her, the chiefest going first nearest to her Person, proceeding by Pairs; the Lord Chamberlain attended near; before her Highnesse on the left Side, and somewhat behind her, the Countesse of Roxburgh: Some of the unmarried Ladies were in Cloth of Silver, others in white Satten, amongst them Two Daughters of the Marques Hamilton, the Earl of Denbigh's Daughter, the Earl of Berkshire's Two Daughters, the Earl of Newcastle's Three Daughters, the Earl of Stamford's Daughter, the Earl of Newport's Daughter, the Earl of Perth's Daughter, the Lord Ancram's Daughter, the Lord Mowbray's Daughter, the Lord Strange's Daughter, the Lord Dunsmore's Two Daughters, and the Daughters of other Noblemen, and the Maids of Honour following, viz. Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Vaughan, Mrs. Croft, and Madam Maid of Honour to the Queen Mother.

After followed many married Ladies of Honour, the principal of them first, going by Pairs, amongst whom were the Dutchesse of Lennox, the Countesse of Oxford, the Lady Strange taking the Place of Countesse of Derby by his Majesty's especial Favour, the Countesse of Dorset, the Countesse of Devonshire Dowager, her Daughter-in-Law now Countesse of Devonshire, the Countesse of Berkshire, the Countesse of Newcastle, the Viscountesse of Kynalmekyn, and divers other Countesses and Ladies: Her Governesse and some other of her Servants there also attended: All the young unmarried Ladies staid beneath the Hautpas or Stage, and the married Ladies and Women of Honour passed over the Stage and stood together between the King's Traverse and the End of the Chapell on the right Side thereof without the Rayles of the Communion Table.

The Bride was placed by the Kings of Arms on the right Side of the Hautpas or Stage, her Trayne born by young unmarried Ladies.

The Organ, upon the first Appearance of the Procession, played a Volantary, and continued playing untill all were entered into the Chapell.

The Bride being thus placed, the Lord Chamberlain returned to the King in the Presence Chamber, from whence a Procession

Proceſſion was made according to the Manner obſerved upon Feſtivals, ſave that to avoid overfilling the Chapell, ſome few of the Gentlemen of the Privy Chamber went firſt, being followed by the Purſuivants and Heralds of Arms, to whom ſucceeded Privy Councellors, the Barons, Biſhops, and the other higher Nobility in the accuſtomed Manner : York and Richmond Heralds ſupplied the Place of the Provincial Kings, going before the Lord Treafurer and Lord Privy Seal : The Serjeants at Arms with their Maces : Sir John Borough Garter Principal King of Arms between Two Gentlemen Uſhers, Sir Thomas Ayleſbury Maſter of the Requeſts going a little behind to receive the Petitions to be offered to his Maſteſty. Then the Earl of Arundell and Earl of Surrey Earl Maſhal and Lord Steward, bearing the Sword, attended by the Lord Chmberlain on his left Side, and the Lord Chancellor, Lord Treafurer, Lord Privy Seal, Earl of Lyndeſey Lord High Chamberlain ; and after his Maſteſty, having upon his left Hand ſomewhat behind the Rhingrave. Then the Duke of Lennox, Marquis Hamilton, and the Earl of Holland, Gentlemen of the Bed Chamber ; and after them the Earl of Salifbury Captain of the Band of the Penſioners, Lord Goring Vice Chamberlain to the King, Sir Henry Vane Secretary, who all came upon the Stage ; Sir William Howard Lieutenant of the Band ; and then the Gentlemen Penſioners in Guard with their Pole Axes, their Rear brought up by Sir Edward Capell their Standard Bearer, which Penſioners ſtaid in the old or outward Chappell.

The King came to his armed Chair of State in the upper Part of the Hautpas on the Right Hand of the Bride, the Sword being there held before him ; the Lord Chamberlain aſſiſting thereto.

The Organ ceaſed, and a full Anthem was begun, which being ended, the Queen, the Queen Mother, the Lady Elizabeth the King's ſecond Daughter, the Prince Eleſtor, and ſome Ladies of Honour, came to the Window of the Queen's Cloſet to ſee the Celebration of this Marriage ^a.

The

^a It is neceſſary here to remember that the Queen of Charles the Firſt was ſo very ſtrict to the Romiſh Religion, that ſhe would not allow the Characters of our Biſhops, and for that Reaſon reſuſed to be ſolemnly crowned by them. [Finet of Embaſſaders, P. 17.] But in caſe ſhe would have been publickly preſent at this Marriage, her Maſteſty ſhould have proceeded immediately after the King, as in the Marriage of the Prince Palatine ; which Manner of Proceſſion is conſonant to the Practice beyond Seas ; for it is obſerved, that at the Marriage of the Prince of Vendome to Francoiſe de Lorrain in 1609, that after the King of France, Si la Reyne n'eust indiſpoſe elle eust ſuivy, &c. [Cerem. Franc. Vol. II. P. 58—59] — The Queen Mother here mentioned was Mary de Medici Dowager of France, who was then in England.

The Organ played another Voluntary. The Bishop of Ely Dean of the Chapell, and the Clerk of the Clofet Dr. Steward, being in rich Copes, and having the Liturgy in their Hands, stepped forward, and stood upon the former Part of the Hautpas, where the Dean began the Service appointed for Matrimony in the Common Prayer Book, in the English Language ^a, using therein no Style or Title, but plainly as it is prescribed in that Book, [This Man and this Woman] and [I William take thee Mary] which were in this Manner repeated by the Bride and Bridegroom, for so the King had before directed.

When the Dean demanded, Who giveth this Woman to be married to this Man? the King took her by the Right Hand, and gave her to the Bishop, who reverently receiving her upon his Knee, then rose up, and gave her to the Bridegroom.

The Bridegroom laid a little Ring of Gold upon the Common Prayer Book, which he put upon the Bride's Finger.

As soon as the Dean had given the Blessing, God the Father, God the Son, God the Holy Ghost, &c. he and the Clerk of the Clofet went to the End of the Communion Table; the young Couple kneeled before the Table upon the Two rich Cushions laid for that Purpose, the Bride being upon the Right Hand. The King then went off from the Stage or Hautpas towards his Travers, and the Two Princes Charles and James going that Way with him: The Embassadors were conveyed into the other Travers.

Then was sung by the Choir, Blessed are all they that fear the Lord, &c. which Anthem being ended, the Clerk of the Clofet kneeled known; but the Dean, the Bishop of Ely, standing and turning towards the new married Couple (who then continued kneeling) began with a loud Voice, Lord have Mercy upon us, and the Choir answered; and so they sang the Lord's Prayer, with the Versicles, Answers, and Prayers according to the Liturgy.

As soon as the Dean had pronounced, Almighty God, which at the Beginning, &c. the Organ played a Voluntary, and the new-married Couple arose from kneeling, and the Queen, Queen Mother, and the others in the Clofet withdrew, and returned into her Majesty's Bed Chamber.

The King went up to his Clofet, and with him the married Couple, in the Manner following: The Retinue and Attendance of the Bridegroom, the chiefest Degree going last nearest to his Person, proceeding Two and Two, accompanied with some married Lords, and other married Gentlemen of Quality.

^a No Banns being formally asked as at the Marriage of the Prince Palatine, by reason the Bride was not Ten Years old.

Then the Bridegroom's Gent. Usher, with Somerset and Windsor Heraults. The Bridegroom, accompanied with Prince Charles on his Right, and the Duke of York on his Left Hand.

The Bride's Gentleman Usher, with Clarenceux and Norroy.

The Bride, led by the Two chiefest Embassadors, and the other Two Assistants.

Then the Dutchesse of Lennox, and the married Ladies of Honour aforementioned; and after them the aforesaid maiden Ladies; and so ascended up into the King's Great Closet, through the King's Privy Closet, into the Queen's Privy Closet, where the Bride, Bridegroom, Prince Charles, the Duke of York, the Four Embassadors, and Seven or Eight of the chiefest Noblemen Strangers, and his Highnesses Governor, and some others, staid to the ending of the Sermon, attending there with them Sir John Finet and the aforesaid Two Provincial Kings of Arms.

Most of the Ladies retired into the Queen's Great Closet. His Majesty, being attended, as in his Proceeding into the Chappell, went up into his Closet, where he remained during the Residue of the Divine Service. Then the Dean going to his Seat, the Communion Service was read; but in regard the Time was far spent, the Commandments and the Nicene Creed were omitted by the Dean's Appointment from his Majesty; and Dr. Warner, Bishop of Rochester, went into the Pulpit, as appointed by the parliamentary Course to preach that Day, taking his Text out of the 45th Psalm, Dilexisti Justitiam, &c. and being forewarned by the Lord Chamberlain, he was short, but applied his Discourse to the present Purpose.

After the Sermon was ended, the Anthem and all the other Services (save the daily Prayer for the King) were omitted: And the Blessing being given, it being then past Two of the Clock, all returned unto the Queen's Privy Chamber in the same Manner, by the same Way as they came into the Chapell, save that the Ambassadors conducted the Bride, and that the Sword of State was left with the Gentleman Usher at the Lobby Door as was accustomed.

The Time being thus too far spent, the publishing of their Stiles was pretermitted in the Chapell.

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES:

From the Queen's Chamber, the Bridegroom with Prince Charles and Duke of York, and the Bride with Four Embassadors, repaired into the Queen's withdrawing Chamber, where the King having been come before through his own Lodgings, the Bride and Bridegroom were there received by the King, Queen, and Queen Mother, where they both asked Blessing on their Knees; and both the Queens did kiss the Prince, and the Embassadors the Hands of the Princess, and so they departed, the Embassadors to a Dinner prepared for them with their Company in the Gatehouse next towards Westminster.

The King, Queen, Queen Mother, Prince Charles, the Duke of York, the Lady Elizabeth (the King's second Daughter) the Bride, and Bridegroom, about Three of the Clock, dined privately together at a Table about Ten Foot long: Their Majesties seated on Chairs, the Rest on Stools, in such Manner as is represented by this Figure:

This being a Dinner in private, their Styles were not proclaimed at the Second Course. That same Evening they all (save the Queen Mother) supped together in the like private Manner.

Princess KATHERINE out of SPAINE,
T O G E T H E R

With her Arrival and Reception in England by King
HENRY viith and her intended Husband Prince
ARTHUR, in the Year 1501.

[From a Manuscript of that Time.]

THE Agreement between the noble Kings of England and of Spaine, for a Marriage between the Princess Katheryn Daughter of the said King of Spaine, and Arthur Prince of Wales, being prefixed and concluded, the said Princess, with a sufficient Guard and Company of Nobles of her Country assigned as her Conducters and Assistants, went on Board a Navy of Shippes prepared for carrying her to England. After encountering many Jeopardies from Storms and Tempests, which were like to have destroyed the said Shippes, they were at length conveyed unto the English Parts, and fortunately arrived at Plymouth, farr in the West Country, where the Princess and her Attendants were landed on the 2d of October.

As soon as the glad Tydings of this Ladye's Entry was knowne to the States and Gentlemen Borderers of the said Countrey of the West, they in all goodly Manner and Hast, sped themselves to repaire to that noble Princess with right honorable Gifts, and in goodly and with all required Points and Feats of Curtesye saluted and welcomed her, so escaped from her perillous Jeopardies, entertaining her with their Pleasures, Presents, and Attendances, as well on hyr first arriving as in continuall Service, wayting and guyding the said Princess into the further Entrance of the Realme of England, towards the honorable and auncient Citye of London, where at that Tyme the King's noble Grace was lodged and abiding. About the same Tyme the Lorde
Brooke

Brooke, Steward of the King's House, was by the Assignment of the King's Grace, directed and sent to th Intent to purveye and provide for the Princess and her Retinue in their Journey and Passage, as well Viaunds, Horses, and Carriage, as everye other Necessitie: And so he did right conveniently. After that the Earle of Surrey, with divers other Temporall Lordes of the Land, came unto the Meeting, and gave their Attendance on this worthy Estate and Princess.

Then the Dutchesse of Norfolk, by the like Assent and Will of the Kinge, and with hyr a goodlye Companye of Countesses, Baronesses, and many other honnorable Gentlemen, repayed unto the said noble Princess, and after the Meeting had, kept her continuall Company.

Notwithstanding this, his Highness's Grace was not so intently satisfied with the Cheere, Service, and diligent Attendance of his said Subjects, but he bounteously with a seemely Companye of his Estates, Dukes, Earles, Barons, and divers Knights, Esquiers, and Gentlemen, on the Fourth Daye of November, removed from his Manor of Richmond toward the Meeting of this goodly Ladye. His Journey was however annoyed and suffred Impedymment by the Badness of the Season, and so late was he and his liedge Servants horsed, that they were compelled at Chertsey, not very farre from the said Manor of Richmond, to purveye and herbage for their reposing that Night.

On the Morrowe the King's Grace, with all his Company, stroke the Sides of their Coursers with their Spurres, and began to extend their Passage towards the Village of Eshamsted, where they pleasantly perceived the pure and proper Prefence of Prince Arthur, who was come thither to salute his sage Father; the which was great Gladness to all trustye Hearts of the Realme.

Here the most noble Henry of Richmond, the vii. King of England of that Name, accompanied of his Sonne, full pleasantly passed over the Season of that Night, and in the next Morrowe departed to the Plaines, where the Prothonotarye of Spaine mett him, and ensured him, that they had receaved the strait Injunction and Commandement of the Sovereigne Lord of their Land, that they should in no Manner of wise permit their Lady the Princess of Spaine, whom they had to guide and in Government, to have any Meeting, ne to use any Manner of Communication, nither to receive any Companye untill the Inception of the very Daye of the Solemnization of the Mariadge: Whereuppon, after certaine musing on this Mynde of the Kinge of Spaine, immediately there in the Fieldes, the King's Grace of our Realme of England let all of them that were of his honorable Councell to be advertized of that Matter, and demanded of them, Whither they thought it most reasonable and agreeable to incline to this declared Purpoe, or that he should, as he intended, mainteyne his Passage to that Ladye ?

Soone after it was, by the prudent Insearck of every Person both Spirituall and Temporall, concluded and answered, that forasmuch as the due Agreements were in a Manner complished, and sith the Princeess and her Attendants were so farre entred into the Empire and Realme of England, they should seem to be in Part dischargd anenst their Sovereigne, and avoided and excluded of all Governace of their said Princeesse ; and that the Pleasure and Commandement of her, seemed to lye in the Power, Grace, and Disposition of our noble King of England.

Then his Highness avauced himselfe, leavinge the Prince behinde uppon the Plaine, and at the Time of ij or iij of the Clocke in the Afternoone, his Grace entred the Towne of Degmerfield, where the Princeesse was arrived ij or iij Howers before his coming, right well accompanied and right richly becene, so as heretofore have none bene seene like her, having with her an Archbishop, a Bishop, and an Erle, with manye other Nobles of Spaine, and many Ladyes and Gentlewomen of the same Contrey to the Number of Threescore, and Ladyes and Gentlewomen of this Region right nighe as manye.

Assoone as the Princeesses Servants wer ascertained of the coming of the King, the Arch Bishop, the Bishop, the Erle, and othres of her Retinue and Councell, shewed him that the Princeesse was in her Rest ; to whom he answered in such Forme, that if she were in her Bed he would see and commune with her, for that was the Mynde and Intent of his Comminge : And thus, convenient Leisure to her respited, she gave him an honorable Meeting in her Third Chamber, where were used the most goodly Wordes, uttered in the Languages of both Parties, to as great Joye and Gladnes, as in any Persons might ever conveniently have bene had.

After the which Welcomes and Communications ended, the King's Grace deposed his riding Garments and changed him ; and within Half an Hour after the Prince was also knowne to be present.

Then the King's Highnes and the Prince made their second Refort together to the Chamber of the Princeesse, and there through the Interpretation of the Bishops the Speeches of both Countries, by Meane of Latine, were understood.

And

And whereas the Prince and Princeſſe thentofore were by Deputies contracted, they were nowe here in the Prefence of each other ſpouſally enſured; the which ſeemly Enſurance honorably ended, the King ſpeed him to his Supper. After that he had ſupped, he with the Prince full courteouſly viſited the Lady in her owne Chamber; and then ſhe and her Ladyes called for their Minſtrels, and with right goodly Behaviour and Manner ſolaced themſelves with the Diſports of Dauncing: After the which the Prince in like Demeanor danced with the Ladye Guilford right pleaſantly and honorably.

Upon the Morrowe, being the viith Daye of the Moneth, the Princeſſe tooke her Journey to Chertſey, and there lodged all that Night, and from thence paſſed toward Lambeth: And or ever ſhe came fully to the ſaid Towne, beyond a Village called Kingſton upon Thames, the Duke of Buckingham on Horſebacke full rightly beſeene, the Erle of Kent, the Lord Henry the Duke's Brother, and the Abbot of Bury, with a great many of the Duke's Gentlemen and Yeomen in his Livery of Black and Red, to the Number of Three or Fower Hundred Perſons, mett this noble Ladye; and after that the ſaid Duke had ſaluted her Grace, the Abbot of Bury declared goodly, in Latin, a certain Propoſition of her welcoming into the Realme: And at that Village they lodged all that Night, and ſo accompanied with her, in the Morne right honorably conducted her to her Lodging at Kennington near Lambeth, where ſhe continued untill ſuch Seafon as her entring into the Cittye of London might moſt conveniently in every Manner be prepared, as well on the Parte of her Retinue of Spaine, as of her Aſſiſtants of the Realme of England, who by our Souveraigne were aſſigned as well for the Increase and magnifying of her Honnor and Eſtate, as for the Maynteynance of the old and famous Appetites that the Engliſh People ever have uſed in the wellcomming of acceptable and welbeloved Strangers.

The King's Highneſſe alſo with his Partie removed from the ſaid Princeſſe, and took another Waye towards the Cittye of London. The firſt Night he lodged at Eaſt Hampſtead, where his Grace had bene before on his firſt coming to the Princeſ: Upon the Morrow, being the viiith Daye of the Moneth, he lay at his Caſtle of Windſore; and on the ixth Daye of the Moneth he reposed himſelf in his Mannor of Richmont, where he was mett by the Queene's Grace, whom he aſcertained and made privye to the Acts and Demeanor betweene himſelfe, the Prince, and the Princeſſe, and howe

he liked her Person and Behaviour. On the Tenth Daye ensewing he rode till he came to Parisgarden, uppon the further Side of the River from London, and there he tooke his Barge, and was carryed to his Lodging called Barnard's Castle, which is situated within the same Cittie, right pleasantly uppon the Thames Side. This Palace was full well garnished and arrayed, and encompassed without, full strongly with Walles. Here all Manner of Maters that appertained either to his owne Person, or to his owne Honor, or the Rights of his Realme had recourse to his AudIENCE for Comfort and Justice. Soon after the King's coming, the Queene's Grace, accompanied of a goodlye Companie of Ladyes, repaired hither in her Barge by Water, to be ready for inducting the noble Princefs of Spaine.

ARTHURE, eldest Sonne to King HENRY VIIth.

[From the same Manuscript.]

UPPON Thursdaye, the great and large voide Space before Westminster Hall and the Palace was gravelled, sanded, and goodly ordered for the Ease of the Horsess; and and a Tilt sett and arrayed at the whole Length from the Watergate well nigh up to the Entrance of the Gate that openeth into the King's Street towards the Sanctuary. At the upper End of the Tilt, by the Water Gate on the North Part, a certaine Space besides from the said Tilt, there was a goodly Tree empainted with pleasant Leaves, Flowers, and Frute, sett up, encompassed, and closed with a Pale round about. Upon Railes under this Tree were hanged the Scochions and Shieldes, with the Armes of the Lordes and Knights Challengers, and of those that intended to take uppon them the noble and valiant Acts, Justs, and Turnements agents. Royall. On the South Side of this Place, ordered and addressed for this Running, there was a Stage strong and substantially builded, with its Partition in the Middest, whose Part uppon the Right Hand was apparelled and garnished for the King's Grace and his Lordes full pleasantly with Hangings and Quillions of Gould; and the lower Part, uppon the left Hand, was in like Manner addressed and purveyed for the Queene's Grace and all the goodly Company of Ladyes. Anenst this Partition there was Greeces and Stayres down to the Place of Tournaye for Messengers, and those by whom it pleased the Kinge's Highnes to have his Mind and Errand done. Into this Tent was Entrance, that the King, the Queene, the Prince, and my Ladye Princess, with all ther Nobles and Estates, might through Westminster Hall by the Exchequer Chamber, without any more Shewe or Appearance, come into the said Standing and Stage. In the Northe Syd, anenst the Stage of the Kinge, ther was another Stage covered with red Seay for the Maior of London, the Sheriffs, Aldermen, and worshipfull Persons of the Crafts: And in all the Circuits of this Field of Warre, by and upon the Walles were double Stages, very thicke, and many well builded and planked for the honest and common People, the which at the great Price and Cost of the common People were hyred. The Field nigh unto the Tilt was barred, not only for the eschewing of the Peoples Rudenes, idle Discurse, and their wandring among the Speares, Horses, and Coursers, but for the Ease and Regarde of their Hurt and Jopardies, and for preventing the distroubling and impediment of the present goodly Acts of the noble Feats of Armes and Warre. Assoone as Dynner was done in the Court, the Queene's Grace, my Lady the Kinge's Mother, the Princessse, the Ladye Margaret and her Sister, the welbeloved Daughters unto the King, the Queene, with many other Ladyes and Gentlewomen of Honor, to the Number of Two or Three Hundred, entered into this goodly and well prepared Stage: And after that ymmediately the Kinge's Highnes himselfe, with his noble Issue, the Prince and the Duke of Yorke, the Earle of Oxford great Chamberleine of England, th Earle of Derby Constable of the said Realme, the Earle of Northumberland, the Earle of Shrewsbury, the Earle of Surrey, the Lordes Straungers of Spaine, with the most excellent Company of the Lords, Knights, Esquiers, Gentlemen, and the Yeomen of the Guard to his noble Estate and Grace in wayting, repayred to the afore-sayd Stage. The Maior of London and all his Company likewise came to their Place as afore reherfed. The Stages, as also the Walles, Battlements, and Windowes of the several Buildings, were furnished and filled with a wonderfull Multitude of People, that unto the Sight and Perceiving there was Nothing to the Eye but onely Visages and Faces, without the Appearance of Bodies.

The Tyme being come for the worthy and pleasant entring of the Field of Warre and Armes, to be made and shewd by the goodly and valiant Duke, Marques, Earles, Lordes, and noble Knights of the worshipfull and aunient Blood of England, the Trumpetts blewe to the Field for a great Season about the Tilt. Then, for the Chalingers, proceeded out of Westminster Hall Sir George Herbert, Sir Rowland Knights, the Lord Barners, and the Lord Henry of Buckingham, armed in white Harneis, and mounted uppon their goodly Coursers, right well and pleasantly trapped and garnished in rich Manner. After them came the Duke of Buckingham in his Pavilion of white and greene Silk, being Foure Square, having proper Turrets and Pynacles of curious Work, sett full of redd Roses of the King's Badges. This Pavilion was borne, upheld, and conveyed with right many of his Servants on Foote, in Jacketts of blacke and redd Silk, followed by many other of his and the said Lordes Servants and Gallants, well horfed, and their Horses trapd and hanged with Spangles of Gold and Belles; so that their Apparell, the avaucing of their Horses, and the Demeanor of there Carriage was great Gladnes to the King's Grace, and to all the Beholders of the whole Realme of England there present. Thus they made their Arrayes, and rode about the Tilt, doing their Reverence when they came before the King till they came to the End next Westminster Hall againe, where they stode up and made their Pause and Tariance. Eftsoones for the contrary Part the Trumpetts blewe up the Field once or twice in goodly Manner of Warre: And anone came out of the King's Street in at the Gate that openeth toward the Sanctuary, for the Defendors, Guillam de la Rivers in his Pavilion, in a goodly Shippe borne up with Men, himsele riding within in the Midst. Then Sir John Pechey, Knight, in his Pavilion of red Silke borne over his Head. The Lord William of Devonshire in a red Dragon led by a Gyant, and with a great Tree in his Hand. Th Earle of Essex in a great Mountaine of Greene, the which served for his Pavilion, with many Trees, Rocks, Hearbes, Stones, and marveyulous Beasts upon the Sides: On the Height of this Mountaine there was a goodly young Ladye in her Haire pleasantly bescene. The Lord Marques in a rich and costly Pavilion

of Cloth of Gould, himfelfe alway riding within the fame, drefsed in his Harneys. Thus they made their paffing round about the Field, doing their Obedience and Curtefie to the King, till they came in likewise to the Place of their Entrance: So that the like unto this goodly Royaltie, Device, and Behaviour had not been feene in very long Remembrance. Immediately as they were departed out of their Pavilions by the King's Assignment, and the Oversight of the Constable and Judges, Staves were brought unto them, and they charged and ran together eagerly. At this first Course ran the Duke of Buckingham and the Lord Marquiffe: The Duke brake his Staffe right well and with great Slight and Strength uppon the Marques, and at the fecond Course the the Marquiffe brake his Staffe uppon the Duke in likewise. Then the Refidue of the Lordes and Knights ran orderly together: And for the moft Part, at every Course, either th'one Staffe or the other, or moft commonly both, were goodly and with good Art and Strength broken of many Pieces: So that fuch a Jufts and Field Royall, fo nobly and valiantly done, hath not bene feene ne heard.

The King's Grace intending to amplifie and increafe the Roialtie of this noble and folemne Feaft with divers goodly Acts of Pleasure, caufed the Walls of Weftminfter Hall, the which is of great Length, Breadth, Largenes, and right craftye Building, to be richly hanged with pleafant Clothes of Arras, and in its upper Part a royall and a great Cupboard to be made and erected, the which was in Length all the Breadth of the Channcery, and in it were fett Seven Shelves or Haunches of a goodly Height, furnifhed and filled with as goodly and rich Treafure of Plate as could be feene, great Part whereof was Gould, and all the Remanant of Silver gilt. In this Hall the King's Highnes, upon the Frydaye at Night after the first Jufts Royall, caufed a goodly Disguiting to be prepared, to the which himfelfe, the Prince, the Lorde of Yorke, the Lords of Spaine, with a great Company of Lords of England both Spirituall and Temporall, Knightes, Efquiers, and Gentlemen of the Court and Realme, awaying on the Kinge, reforted. The Queene, my Ladye the King's Mother, the Ladye Princeffe, with a goodly Company of frefh Ladyes and Gentlewomen of the Court and Realme, awaying on her, likewise made their Repair to the faid Hall. When the King and the Queene had taken their noble Seates under their Clothes of Eftate in the faid Hall, and every one of the Nobles were ordered in their Places convenient, then began and entred the following goodly and pleafant Disguifing, which was conveyed and shewed

shewed in proper and subtile Pageants : The first was a Castle right cunningly devised, sett upon Wheelles, and drawne into the said Hall by Fower great Beasts with Chaines of Gold. The Two first Beasts were Lyons, one of them of Gold and thother of Silver : The other Two were, one of them an Hart with gilt Hornes, and the fourth was an Elke. In each of these Foure Beasts were Two Men, one in the fore Part and another in the hinder Part, secretly hid and apparelled : Nothing of them was seene but their Leggs, which were disguised after the Proportion and Kinde of those of the Beasts that they were in. Thus this Castle was by these Foure Beasts properly conveyed from the nether Part of the Hall to before the King and the Queene, who were in the upper Part of the same Hall. There were within the said Castle, disguised, viii. goodly and fresh Ladyes looking out of the Windowes of the same. In the Foure Corners of this Castle were iiij Turretts, that is to say, in every Square of the Castell one, sett and appearing above the Height of it. In every of these Turretts was a little Child apparelled like a Maiden ; and all the Fowre Children sang most sweetly and hermoniously in all the comming of the Castle, the Length of the Hall, till it was brought before the King's Majestie ; where when it had been conveyed, it was sett somewhat out of the Way, towards the one Side of the Hall.

The second Pageant was a Shippe, in likewise sett upon Wheels, without any Leaders in Sight : The same was in right goodly Apparell, having her Masts, Toppes, Sayles, Tackling, and all other Apperteynances necessary unto a seemely Vessell, as though it had been sayling in the Sea ; and so passed through the Hall, by the whole Length, till they came before the King, somewhat besides the Castle. The Masters of the Shippe and their Company, in their Counteynances, Speeches, and Demeanor, used and behaved themselves after the Manner and Guyse of Mariners, and there cast their Anchors somewhat besides the said Castle. In this Shippe there was a goodly and a fayre Ladye, in her Apparell like unto the Princeesse of Spaine. Out and from the said Shippe descended downe by a Ladder Two well beset and goodly Persons calling themselves Hope and Desire, passing towards the rehearsed Castle with their Banners in Manner and Forme as Ambassadors from Knights of the Mount of Love unto the Ladies within the Castle, making great Instance in the Behalfe of the said Knights, for the Intent to attaine the Favour of the said Ladyes present ; making their Meanes and Intreaties as Woers and Breakers of the Matters of Love betweene the Knights and the Ladyes.

Ladies. The said Ladyes gave their finall Answer of utterly Refuse and Knowledge of any such Company, or that they were ever minded to the Accomplishment of any such Request; and plainely denied their Purpose and Desire. The Two said Ambassadors therewith taking great Displeasure, shewed the said Ladyes, that the Knights would for this unkind Refusall make Battayle and Assault, and so and in such Wise to them and their Castle, that it should be grievous to abyde their Power and Malice.

Incontinent came in the third Pageant, in Likenes of a great Hill or Mountaine, in the which were inclosed viii. goodly Knights with their Banners spredd and displayed, naming themselves the Knights of the Mount of Love, and passed through the said Hall towards the King's Grace, and there tooke their Stannding upon the other Side of the Shippe. Then these Two Ambassadors departed to their Masters the Knights, who were within the Mount, and shewed the Disdain and Refusall, with the whole Circumstance of the same. The Knights, not being therewith content, with much Malice and courageous Minde issued from the said Mount with their Banners displayed, and hastily spedd them to the rehearsed Castle, which they forthwith assaulted, soe and in such Wise, that the Ladyes yealding themselves, descended from the Castle, and submitted themselves to the Power, Grace, and Will of those noble Knights: Which Knights being right freshly disguised, and the Ladyes also, Fower of them being dressed after the Englishe Fashion, and the other Foure after the Manner of Spaine, daunced together divers and many goodly Daunces. In the Tyme of their dauncing, the Thre Pageants, the Castle, the Shippe, and the Mountaine, removed and departed. In the same Wise the said Disguisers, as well the Knights as the Ladyes, after certaine Leasure of their Solace and Disport, avoyded and evanished out of Sight and Prefence. Then came downe the Lord Prince and the Ladye Cecill, and daunced Two Bas Daunces, and departed up againe; the Lord Prince to the King, and the Ladye Cecill to the Queene. Eftsoones, the Ladye Princeesse, and one of her Ladyes with her, in Apparell after the Spanish Guise, came downe, and daunced other Two Bas Daunces, and then both departed up againe to the Queene. In the third and last Place, the Duke of Yorke, having with him the Ladye Margaret his Sister in his Hand, came down and daunced Two Bas Daunces. Afterwards he perceiving himselfe to be accombred with his Clothes, sodainly cast off his Gowne, and daunced in his Jackett with the said Ladye

Margarett

Margarett in so goodly and pleasant a Maner, that it was to the King and Queene great and singular Pleasure. Then they departed againe, the Duke to the King and the Ladye to the Queene. This Disguising Royall thus ended, the Voydee began to enter in the Maner of a Bankett, exceeding the Price of any other used in great Seasons. Before the Voydee came in Five Score Couple, Earles, Barons, and Knights, over and besides Squiers, having Collers and Chains of Gould every each of them throughout, bearing the one of them a Spice Plate, the other a Cuppe, beside Yeomen of the Guard that followed them with Potts of Wine to fill the Cuppes. The Spice Plates were furnished in the most bounteous Manner with Spices after the Manner of a Voydee; and the Cuppes were replenished with Wine, and universally throughout the said Hall distributed. The Number of the said Spice Plates and Cuppes were goodly and marveyous, and yet the more to be wondred, for that the Cupboard was nothing touched, but stood compleat garnished and filled, seemingly not one diminished. Thus this goodly Multitude of Estates and Gentils, refreshed with the bounteous Plenty of Spices and Wines at their Commoditie and Leaseure, concluded this present Fridaye, and departed to their Rests.

Upon Saturdaye, because it was raynie, and not cleere ne stable Weather, the Company of Nobles, after doing their Dueties to Almighty God in the Church, made Pastime right honorably in their Bowers and Chambers.

Upon the Sondaye ensewing there was kept in the Parliament Chamber a great and a goodly Bankett: In the which Chamber were Foure Boards covered with Clothes for the States, so that they might sitt at the said Bankett. There was also a Stage of divers Degrees and Haunces of Height for the Cupboard that the Plate should stand in; the which Plate, for the most Part, was cleane Gould, and the Residue all guilt, and none Silver, and was in Length from the Clofett Doore to the Chimney.

The King's Grace beganne this Bankett, and sate at the Side Table next to his owne Chamber, the Princess of Spaine on his one Hand, and the Countesse upon his other. Next to the Contesse sate the Prothonotary, and by him a Ladye of Spaine. Then was the Earle of Oxford appointed in Course to sitt next, and so he did. Next unto him sate the Ladye Maistresse of Spaine: Then next the Lord of Derbye, and by him a Ladye of Spaine.

The Queene satte at the Table standing at the Bed's Feet, which was in the upper End of the Chamber, and which was the Table of most Reputation of all the Tables in the Chamber.

Chamber. My Ladye the King's Mother set on the one Hand, and the Bishop of Spaine on the other. My Lady Cecill and my Ladye Katherine also sat at the same Table. The Prince beganne the Side Board next Westminster Hall. My Ladye Margaret the King's Daughter sat next to him, and next my Ladye Margaret fate the Dutchesse of Norfolk. Then next to her fate my Lorde of Yorke, having a Ladye of Spaine on his one Hand, and a Lady of England on his other. Then the Earle of Northumberland sat betweene Two other like Ladyes. And anente my Lord Prince fate the Earle of Spaine and a Lady of Spaine. Next the said Earle, and at the nether End of this Table fate the Earle of Surrey, and Two Brethren of the Earle of Spaine.

At the fourth Board, in the lower Part of the Chamber, beganne Two Ladyes of Spaine, one of them before the other. Then the Ladye Dawbeny and the Lady Herbert, the one before the other. Then a Ladye of Spaine, the Ladye Burgeny, and the Ladye Dacres of the South; and then all the Gentlewomen of Spaine. Thirtye Barons and Knights, or thereabouts, were assigned to serve them; and none other did their Service but Barons and Knights, except that Torches were borne by Esquiers, and none others. There were Five Course of Flesh to every Messe of Meate, and at every Course Seven Dishes, and after that a Course of Frute of Five Dishes. Then came in Wafers and Ypocras. This began at vii. of the Clocke, and continued Two Howers. After that the Earle and his Brother daunced Two Daunces. Then the King, the Queene, and all the States departed into Westminster Hall, where they beheld an Interlude till the Disguising came. The Disguising was shewed by Two Pageants: The first was a Thing made like an Arbour, in goodly Manner and Proportion, wherein were Twelve Lordes, Knightes, and Men of Honor disguised and richly besetene. This Arbour was so properly brought, that at such Tyme as it came before the King, it was turned round about in the setting of it downe; so that the King, the Queene, and all the States might see and behold throughly the Proportion thereof. In the setting downe of this Arbour the Gate thereof was turned to the Kinge and the Queene. Then came out thereof sundry Lords, Knights, and Men of Honour, disguised, who by themselves for a long Space daunced divers and sondry Daunces, and then stood aside. Then the Trumpets blew up, and therewith came in a goodly Pageant, made round after the Fashion of a Lanthorne, cast out with many proper and goodly Windowes fenestred with fine Lawne, wherein were more than an Hundred great

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

Lights. In the sayd Lanthorne were xii. goodly Ladyes disguised, and right richly bescene in the goodlyest Manner and Apparell that hath bene used. This Lanthorne was made of so fine Stuffe, and so many Lights were in it, that these Ladyes might perfectly appeare and be known through the said Lanthorne. After that this Lanthorne was brought and set right before the King and the Queene, these Twelve disguised Ladyes came out and daunced by them selves in right goodly Manner divers and many Daunces a great Space, Then coupled the said disguised Lords, Knights, and Men of Honor with these xii. disguised Ladyes, and so daunced altogether a great Space. In the Tyme of dauncing, the Earles, Barons, and Knights, to the Number of Threescore or more, departed to fetch up the Voyde for the King and Queene. At this Voyde were xxx. or more standing with Spice Plates all guilt, and the Residue were all great guilt Bolles with Spices. As for the Cupboard, it was in the same Place and of the same Length and Heighth that it was on Fridaye at Night. After this Voyde, the King and all his Lordes, the Queene and all her Ladies, departed to their Lodging about Midnight.

Uppon Mondaye next followinge was Running and Justs at Westminster. They that were Chalers the first Daye were Defenders rowe the second Daye: And they that were Defendors the first Daye were Chalers the second Daye. All of them ranne well, and brake many Staves, more then they did the first Daye. All the Chalers came into the Field with goodly Devices, but the Defenders had none other Thing but their Harness and Armour.

Uppon the Twesdaye, all the noble and valiant Knights of Warre, Chalers and Defendors, had Respite and reposed themselves, and the other Nobles and Estates solaced and daunced in their Bower and Chambers all that same Daye right goodly and pleasantly.

Uppon the Wednesday, the Tilt within the Palace at Westminster, which was ordeyned for Defence and Safegard of the Houses of those that should exercise the Feats of Warre with their Speares and other Weapens, was removed and taken awaye, and the Grounde made smooth and plaine. Into this Place, assoone as the King's Grace and the Queene's, with their honorable Company of Lordes and Ladyes, were present on their Stages and Tents to behold the pleasant Deedes of Armes, ymmediately entred in out of Westminster Hall the noble Duke of Buckingham, his Brother the Lord Henry of Buckingham, the Lord Earners, Sir George Herbert, and Sir Rowland Knights. Incontinent after

after that the Trumpetts had blowen into the Field, the said Duke in his Pavilion of white and green Silk fashioned after the Manner of a goodly Chapell, with Turrets and Pinacles, with proper Vaines upon them, besett with red Rofes of the King's Armes of England, having before him v. younge Children of Honor in goodly Manner furnished with Clokes of Cloth of Gould, came ryding upon pleasant Coursers, with divers other Gallants right costly horfed and arrayed: And in such Wise they all made their Course about the Fielde, doing their Obedience with Curtesye before the King's Grace. And so they came againe unto their Entrance, where they made Pause and Station as Challengers, in the most goodly Wise, as they did on the Thursdays, as is before rehearsed.

Eftsoone, for the contrarie Partie, the Trumpetts blew up unto the Fielde, ridinge once or twice about the Place of Warre. Forthwith entred in at the Gate that openeth into the King's Street and the Sanctuary of Westminster, the L. Marquesse, the Earle of Essex, the Lord William of Devonshire, Sir John Peché, and Sir Guilliame de la Rivers, Knights, in right goodly Manner and Guise, with their Followers and Serviteurs to a goodly Number. Both the Parties were so pleasantly horfed and decked, and they advanced their Horses and Coursers so courageously, that this royall Sight of so great a Multitude of Noblemen, both on Horsebacke and on Foote, was so pleasurefull and goodly, that the like unto it have not bene seene in Tymes past. Thus the Marquesse, the Earle, the Lord, and the Two Knights compassed the Field with their Horses, making their Obedience with Curtesye to the King's Grace, and so came againe to their Entrance, and there they stood up as Defendors. Then at the Pleasure of the King's Grace and of his Highnes, and by the Oversight of the Constable and Judges, were sharpe Speares brought unto them by their Servitors. First, the Duke and the Lord Marquis ran together egerly and with great Courage, although in great Jeopardye and Feare of their Lives, and brake divers Speares right valiantly and with great Strength. Secondly, the Earle of Essex, and the Lord Henry of Buckingham ran together with like sharpe Speares, and did full nobly, and lyke hardye Knights, breaking upon each other divers and many Speares. After that the Lord William of Devonshire and Sir Rowland ranne, and did full courageously the Act of that Feate of Armes with such Strength and Power, that they brake many and divers Staves each upon other. The Residue coupled and ran each to the other, and noblye brake there

their Staves. In such Manner, and in so noble Wise did they uphold that Daye, that howbeit they ran with sharpe Speares, yet they forced themselves so much, and so little Favour was used amongst them, that some Tyme both Parties of them were borne to the Ground both Horfe and Man. After these noble Challengers and Defenders had thus valiantly attempted each other in the Points of Justs and running with sharpe Speares, that they turneyed with Swordes. First, the Duke and the L. Marquesse, and after that the Earle of Essex and the Duke's Brother, who so worthely and like hardy Knights fought and ran together with such Might, and in so noble Wise, that some of their Swordes were stroken out of their Handes: Sometimes both Horfe and Man enclined to the Earth. Thus all the Five Couples of Lordes and Knights turneyed full eger and valiantly, so that their Deedes of Armes in those Feates were worthy great Prayse, and in Memory to be recommended. Immediately after these goodly Acts they departed the Field, First the Chalengers repaired into Westminster Hall, and the Defendors out againe at the Gate into the King's Street, nigh unto the Sanctuary. In the meane Season, while both these Companies of noble Warriors and Knights were absent and harneying of themselves, there was brought into the Fielde a certaine Barrier, the which was sett overthwart the Place before the King's Stage, being of the middle Height of a Man, made stedfast and with Rayles on each End of the Barryers, sett upright and tyed together at the Toppes with Cordes. Enfewing the Duke of Buckingham, the Lord Henry his Brother, the Lord Barners, Sir George Herbert, and Sir Rowland Knight, in compleat Harnes enterd in from Westminster Hall and proceeded unto the Side of the Barrier, and there did theire Obedience with Curteseye unto the King's Highnes, and somewhat withdrew them againe, and made theire Standing yet as Chalengers. In this their Act of this present Daye, forthwith appeared in the Gate that openeth into the King's Street and the Sanctuary a goodly Shippe, with all Manner of Tacklinge and Mariners in her: The which, on their said Appearance, made a great and huge Noyse with Serpentine and other Gunshott, and so came, being goodly conveyed, unto the other Side of the Barrier, the Five rehearsed Defendors being all within her in compleat Harnes, that is to saye, the Lord Marquis, the Earle of Essex, the Lord William of Devonshire, Sir John Pechey, and Guiliam de la Rivers. Then they descended from the Shippe without Obedience, because the Daye was farre past. Forthwith was sent to the Duke, to his Brother, to the Lord Marquesse, and to the Earle of Essex, each of them being on foote, a Speare. Soone after they pitched together, and fought with those Speares, and eftfoones turned the great Endes, and fore and greivously laid at each other a long Season. After that the other Couples in like Cafe fought eagerly, and many Stroakes were betwene them: And in all such their Battell, Gunshott was still setten out of the Shippe. This solemne Acte ended, they purposed them to their Departure, and avoided the Field in like Cafe as they entred, and the same Waye. The King's Grace, the Queene, and all other Nobles of Honnor then resorted to their Suppers and Lodgings: And thus goodly concluded this present Wednesdays, with much Joie and Pleasure.

Uppon the Thursdays, being the Morrowe after, were Appointments and Summons of Jufts and Tourney given unto the Nobles and Knights: To the beholding hereof the King's Highnes, the Queene, the Lord Prince, the Princes, and all other Estates conveyd themselves into the foresaid Field. They being in their Tents and Staires redye present, the Field was avoyded, and the Tipped Staves and other Officers sett the People in Order full discretely. The excellent Number of Commons that were somewhat touched and spoken of in the first Daye of Jufts, were now also in their foresaid Stages, and the Windowes and Battlements right plentifull and bravely filled. Incontinent the Trumpetts of the Chalers blewe up unto the Field, encompassing the same once or twice about on Horsback. In right pleasant Manner, and without tarrying, came out of Westminster Hall, for the Chalenger's Partie, a goodly Company of Gentlemen and Men of Honor, right well horsed and beseene, avaunsing after a courageous Guise their Horses, which were decked and garnished with Spangles, Belles, and divers other Devices, after the meetest Fashion that hath bene used. After them came a goodly Chaire of Cloth of Gould, drawne with fower marvelous Beasts: The two first were great Lyons, one of them Redd and the other White: The third Beast was a white Hart with guilt Horns; and the fourth an Elke: Every one having within them Two Men, whose Leggs onely appeared, being fashioned after the Colour and Similitude of the Beasts that they were in. Within this Chaire there was a faire young Ladye, the which, when they had ridden about the Field doing their Reverence before the King's Grace with much Curtesye, was delivered into the King's Stage amonge the faire and beautiful Company of Ladyes, and there continewed untill such Tyme as all the Jufts and Tourneys were expired and ended.

The

The Five Noblemen, to wit, the L. Marquis, th Earle, the Lorde, and the Knights, all in compleat Harneis, rode about the said Charre, Two on the one Side and Two on the other, and the L. Marqueffe directly behinde. Thus they conveyed the rehearsed Charre unto the Place of their Entrance, there abiding the Defendors comming. So fortunate hath our Realme of England ever been behoulden, that whatsoever Challenge of Armes hath been made therein in any Wise by Straungers or Aliens, th'answere thereof hath bene right laudably shapen and found by some noble Knights of our Realme and Nation, wherefore unto this present English Chalendge in Armes, is like Answer and Defence given right gladly by English Knights. To this the Trumpetts blewe up, riding once or twice about the Field. Incontinent came in at the Gate that opened into the King's Street and Sanctuary, a goodly Company of Gentlemen and Men of Honnor uppon their Courfers, right richly besene and arrayed, as it was before expressed, in the Partie of the Challengers. After them followed ymmediately the Enactors of the Feates of Warre, and the Defendors in this Behalfe. First, Sir Rowland Knights, Sir George Herbert, the Lord Barners, the Lord Henry of Buckingham, and the Duke of Buckingham, all on Horsbacke in compleat Harneis, and the Horses trapped after a full goodly Manner. Thus they compassed the Field round about, and did their Obedience before the King's Highnes full curteously, and so resorted to the Place of their Entrance. Eftsoones were Two Staves with Cronalls brought unto them, one unto the noble Duke of Buckingham, the other to the Lord Marqueffe, and anone they chardged and ran together at the Large, without any Tilt, and brake their Staves right nobly. Two or Three Courfes after that were other Staves sent unto th Erle of Essex and the Lord Henry the Duke's Brother; and they also chardged and ran together. After them ran every other Couple of Chalers and Defendors. Each unto other made their Courfes full nobly, and like valiant Knights. Sir Richard Guildford Comptroller of the King's Houfe, and Sir Nicholas Vaux were ever, for the most Partie, in the Field every Daie of the Jufts, right goodly befene both as to their Horses and their Rayment, with great and Massye Chaines of Gold about theire Necks: By them the King's Grace did send his Minde and Messages into the Field, at his goodly Pleasure. This noble Running at the Large thus ended, there were Swordes for the Tourneye delivered unto the Duke of Buckingham and unto the Lord Marqueffe, and they ran together and tourneyed, and had many Strokes unto each other. After them the Earle of Essex and the Duke's Brother did these like goodly Deedes with Swordes, and tourneyed right nobly. In the same Manner the Lord Barners and the Lord William of Devonshire, Sir Rowland Knights and Sir John Pechey, and the Residue. After these severall Runnings and Tournaye each with the other, all the v. Chalers and Five Defenders tourneyed all in the Field at once, striking, rayling, and lasting at each other, many Strokes a long Season. Some of their Swordes were broken of Two Pieces, and of some others their Harneys was hewen off from their Bodye, and fell into the Feild. By this Season the Daye drewe fast unto its End, and these noble Knights purposed them to their departing. Then the Lord Marqueffe, th Earle of Essex, the Lord William of Devonshire, Sir John Pechey, and Sir Guillian de la Rivers, conveyed their Chaire of Cloth of Gould drawn with the Foure rehearsed Beasts, unto the King's Stage, and there received their Ladye agayne, and so departed out of the Field. In like Manner the Duke of Buckingham, the Lord Henry his Brother, and all the Defendors made their Departinge in like wise as they entred, in most goodly Behaviour and Usage.

The same Thursday at Night, Westminster Hall was caused by the King's Grace to be goodly apparelled. First, the Walles thereof were hanged with rich and costly Clothes of Arras of a great Height; and in the upper Part was ordered a Cloth of Estate for the King's Highnes, with Cushions and Carpetts, and all other goodly Requisites unto his noble Person and Estate. The Cupboard also of Seven Shelves and Stages of great Height, furnisht and filled with pretious and sumptuous Plate of most pleasant Fashion, was erected and sett, conteyning all the Breadth of the Chauncery. The Plate thereof were great and massye Potts, Flagons, standing Cuppes, goodlye Bolles, and Peeces for the most Part cleane gould, and all the Residue gilt: as it was upon the first Thursdaie of Justs before rehearsed and shewen. Into this goodly Hall and Place thus pleasantly apparelled, the King's Grace, the Queene's Grace, the Prince and Princeffe, my Lady the King's Mother, with all the noble Estates, as well of England as Straungers of Spaine, came and resorted for the Purpose and Intent of beholding a certaine Disguising there assigned. This Disguising, shortly after Silence and Order of every Person had been commanded, appeared, and was showen after the most proper Wise and Manner, that is to saie; in the lower End of Westminster Hall were disclosed and brought into Sight Two marvelous

Mounts or Mountaines right cunningly practized and made, the one of them of the Colour Greene, planted full of fresh Trees, some like Olives, some like Oranges, and some like Laurell and Juniper Trees, as also with divers and many faire and pleasant Herbes, Flowers, and Frutes, that great Delite it was to behould. The second Mountaine was somewhat more like unto a Rocke, scorched and brent with the Sun, and of a darker Colour, out of whose Sides grewe, and eboyled as it had bene, Ore of fondry Mettalls, as of Gold, Silver, Lead, and Copper, Sulphur, and divers Kindes of Stones, Christall, Corall, Amber, and other more of merveyulous Kinde and Nature, right stately pictured and imprinted as ever hath bene seene. These Two Mountaines were fastned and chained together with a goodly Chaine of Gould throughout the Midst of both of them; and thus were subtelly conveyed and drawne upon Wheelles, prively and unperceaved, unto the Tyme they came jointly so tyed together, unto the King's Presence, being in the higher Part of the said Hall. There were sitting upon certaine Steppes and Benches on the Sides of the first Mountaine of Colour Greene xii. freshe Lordes, Knights, and Men of Honor, most seemely and straungely disguised, making great and sweet Melody with muscal Instruments of much Harmony, as Tabors and Taboreurs, Lutes, Harpes, and Records. In the small Hilles upon the Sides of the redd Mount or Rocke were xii. disguised Ladies, and one in the Toppe arrayed after the Manner of the Princess of Spaine; all these fresh apparelled Ladyes and Women of Honor, having like Instruments of Musicke as Claricords, Dulsymers, Claricimbals, and such other. Each of them, as well the Lordes disguised in their Mountaine, as the Ladyes in theirs, used, occupied, and played upon the Instruments all the Waye comming from the lower End of Westminster Hall till they came before the King and the Queene's Majestie, so sweetly and with such Noyle, that in my Mynde it was the first such pleasant Myrth and Property that ever was heard in England of long Season. When the Mountaines with their People were pitched and grounded before the King's Sight, the xii. goodly disguised Knights and Men of Honnor descended and daunced together deliberate and pleasantly. Eftsoone the xii. Ladyes in like Mauner descended from their Hilles, and coupled with the said reherfed Lordes; and so in a seemly Sort they all xxiiii. disported and daunced there a long Season many and divers Roundes and newe Daunces, full curiously and with most wonderfull Counteynance. In the meane Season the Two Mountaines departed and vanished

out of Prefence and Sight. Incontinent entred in the Voyde, brought by 4 or 5 Score Couple of Earles, Barons, Knights, and Men of Honnor, one of them bearing a Spice Plate replenished with Spices, the other a Cupp, enfewingly throughout the whole Company. After them followed Squires, Gentlemen, and Yeoman of the Guard, with Potts of Wine to fill the foresaid Cuppes whensoever and as often as they were emptied. At this Voyde was Distribution and Delivery of the Rewardes and Gifts unto the Lordes and Knights that had so well upheld and mainteyned the noble Deedes in Justs and Tournaye the Foure Dayes past, after righteous and bounteous Curtesie unto every each of them, as the Bruite and Fame went, and was knowen of their worthy Meritts and Deservings. First, the Duke had given unto him a rich and precious Stone, a Diamond of great Virtue and Price: The Lord Marquefs had a Rubie: The Duke's Brother, the Earle, and other Lords and Knights each of them had pretious Stones, and Rings of Gould, most excellently and after most goodly Manner, as they were righteously perused and commended, by the Handes of the Princefs. Thus the King's Grace, the Prince and Princeffe, with all other Estates both of England and Spaine, refreshed and joyfull made unto their Lodgings and Rests: There seemely departing, with excellent Mirth and Gladnes, deducing this goodly Daye unto its End.

The Duty of the Religion of Christendome is, that the Service and Woorship of God should be above all Things especially mainteyned; and so verely it was on the enfewing Sunday, after the most excellent Solemnitie about the Honnor of Almightye God, with pricked Songe and Organes, and goodlye Ceremonies in the Queere and Aulters. Thus was the Forenoone expended wholly and with great Vertue. In the Afternoone, the King Highnes sped with a right pleasant Companye of Gentiles and Estates, through his goodly Gardens unto his Gallery uppon the Walles, the which Gardens were apparelled pleasantly for his Highnes and certaine Lordes there redye sett, some with Chesses, and some with Tables, Byles, Dice, and Cardes. The Place of Butts was redye for Archers; and there were bowling Alleys and other pleasant and goodly Disports for every Person as they would choose and desire. Uppon the Outside of the Walles, directly under the Windowes, were Barres, and voyde Spaces for Justs. Also there was sett up and areafed Two high and great Posts with Croches. These Posts were fast sett and driven into the Ground; and over the Croches was a great Table stretched stedfastly, and drawne with a

Wheele, and stayde uppon both the Sides with diuers Cordes, so that the Sight of it was like unto the Rigging of an Houfe. Uppon the Frame and Table ascended and went up a Spanyard, the which shewed there many woondrous and delicious Points of Tumbling, Dauncing, and other Sleights. The King's Grace and his noble Companye entred againe through these pleasant Gardens to his rehearsed Lodging at Richmond untill Even Song, and so went into his Supper. Against that his Grace had supped, the goodly Hall was addressd and goodly befeene, and a Royall Cupborde sett ther uppon, in a baye Windowe of ix. or x. Stages and Haunces of Height, furnished and fulfilled with rich and goodly Plate of Gould, and of Silver and Gilt, In the upper Part of the Hall were Carpets and Cushions of Cloth of Gould for the King's noble Majestie, whither, when that his Grace and his wel-beloved Company of Nobles were come, there entred in a pleasant Disguising, conveyed and shewed by a glorious Towre or Tabernacle made like a goodly Chapell, fenestred full of Lights and Brightnes. Within this Pageant or Tabernacle was another standing Cupboard of rich and costly Plate to a great Substance and Quantitie. This Throne and Pageant was of Two Stories, in the longer were viii. goodly disguised Lordes, Knights, and Men of Honnor; and in the upper Storye and Partition viii. other fresh Ladyes most strangely disguised, and after most pleasurefull Manner. Thus this goodly Worke was approached unto the King's Presence and Sight, drawn and conveyed uppon Wheeles by iij. Sea Horses, two before and one behind. On either Side of the same were Mermaides, one of them a Man Mermaid the other a Woman: The Man was in Harnesse from the Waist upwards. In every of the said Mermaides was a Childe of the Chapell singing right sweetly and with quaint Harmony. Thence these viij. pleasant Gallants, Men of Honor, descended: And before their comming forth they cast out many quicke Conyes, the which rann about the Hall, and made very great Disports. After that they daunced many and diuers goodly Daunces. And forthwith came downe the viii. disguised Ladyes; and in their apearance they let flye many white Doves and Byrdes that fiewe about the Hall, and great Laughter and Disport they made. These Lordes and Ladyes coupled together and daunced a long Season many courtly Roundes and pleasant Daunces. After that, the Earle of Spaine and a Lady of the same Countrey daunced Two base Daunces, and went up againe. After this came in a Voyde of goodly Spices and Wine, brought by a great Number of Earles, Barons, Barons, and Knights, to a great Company, as it hath bene declared in Voidees before this present Daye. Th Archbishop of Spaine, the Buiſhop, the Earle, and his Brother, made their Repaſts ſeverally every one of them in their owne Chambers and Lodgings, and they had Cupboards made unto them of the King's Plate and Treafure right goodlye and rich. Th Archbishop's Cupboard was to the Sum of 6 or 7 Hundred Marks, the Buiſhop's unto the Value of 500, the Earle's 400, and the Earle's Brother 300. All the which Plate and Treafure the King's Goodnes bounteuſly gave clearly unto every each of them, as unto them they were made, with moſt noble Wordes and Thaunks for their great Diligence, Labour, and Paine that they had, with his noble Daughter in the Lawe, ſuffred and abidden. And thus was this moſt joyfull Daie ended and expired, and the worthie Nobles departed to their Reſts.

T H E
DEATH and INTERRYEMENT
O F
PRINCE ARTHURE.

[From the ſame Manuſcript.]

IN the Yeare of our Lord God 1502, the ſecond Daye of Aprill, in the Caſtle of Ludlowe deceaſed Prince Arthur firſt begotton Son of our Sovereigne L. King Henry the viith. and in the xvith. Yeare of his Raigne. Immediately after his Death Sir Richard Poole his Chamberlaine, with other of his Councell, wrote and ſent Letters to the King and Councell to Greenwich, where his Grace and the Queene's laye, and certified them of the Prince's Departure. The which Councell diſcreetly ſent for the King's Ghoſtly Father a Fryer obſervant, to whom they ſhewed this moſt ſorrowfull and heavy Tydings, and deſired him in his beſt Manner to ſhewe it to the Kinge. He in the Morning of the Twesdaie following, ſomewhat before the Tyme accuſtomed, knocked at the King's Chamber Dore; and when the Kinge underſtood it was his Confefſor, he commanded to lett him in. The Confefſor then commanded all those there present to avoide, and after due Salutation began to saie, Si bona de manu dei suscipimus, mala autem quare non sustineamus? and so shewed his Grace that his dearest Sonne was departed to God. When his Grace understood that sorrowful heavy Tydings, he sent for the Queene, saying, that he and his Queene would take the painefull Sorrowes together. After that she was come and sawe the King her Lord, and that naturall and painefull Sorrowe, as I have heard saye, she with full great and constant comfortable Wordes besought his Grace, that he would first after God, remember the Weale of his owne noble Person, the Comfort of his Realme, and of her. She then saied, that my Ladye his Mother had never no more Children but him onely, and that God by his Grace had ever preserved him, and brought him where that he was. Over that, howe that God had left him yet a fayre Prince, Two fayre Princeesses; and that God is, where he was, and we are both young ynoughe: And that the Prudence and Wisdome of his Grace spronge over all Christendome, so that it should please him to take this accordingly thereunto. Then the King thanked her of her good Comfort. After that she was departed and come to her owne Chamber, naturall and motherly Remembrance of that great Losse smote her so sorrowfull to the Hart, that those that were about her were faine to send for the King to comfort her. Then his Grace of true gentle and faithfull Love, in good Hast came and relieved her, and showed her howe wise Counsell she had given him before; and he for his Parte would thanke God for his Sonn, and would she should doe in like Wife.

The INTERRYEMENT of PRINCE ARTHURE.

The Corpse was coyled, well seered, and conveniently dressed with Spices and other sweet Stuffe, such as those that bore the Chardge thereof could purveye, and that it might be furnisht of. This was so sufficiently done, that it needed not Lead, but was chested. The Chest was covered with a good blacke Cloth close sewed to the same, with a white Crosse and sufficient Rings of Iron to the same; and thus laid in his Chamber under a Table covered with rich Clothes of Gold, a rich Crosse under him, and certaine Caudlesticks of Silver over him, with Tapers of Waxe burning, and Foure other great Candlesticks of Lattyn, with iiij. great Tapers continuallye burning there. On Shere Thursday certaine of his Almes Folkes sat aboute the Corpse, holding Torches both Night and Daye. And so it thus remained remained unto the Feast of St. George Daye at Afternoone, at which Season he was removed to the Parish Church in Manner that followeth.

First, the Hall was voyded, and there was ordeyned a Table with Tressels for the Corpes to remaine on unto the Tyme that the Proceffion was redye: The Corpse was brought from his Chamber borne by Yeomen of his Chamber under a rich Cloth of black Cloth of Gould, with a Crosse of white Cloth of Gold. After that the iij. Bishoppes had fenced the Corpes, and cast holy Water, manye Noblemen gave their Attendaunce, as the Lord Gerard, the Lord John Graye of Dorsett, Sir Richard Crofts Steward of his Houfe, Sir William Ovedall Comptroller of the same, Sir John Mortimer, Sir Walter Baskerville, Sir John Harle, Sir John Cornwall, Sir Richard de la Vere, Sir Thomas Inglesfield, and others.

The Earle of Surrey the principall Mourner being in his Sloppe and Mantel of Blacke, having his mourning Hood over his Head, followed next to the Corpse. Then the Earles of Shrewsbury and of Kent, with Sloppes and Hoodes onely, and the Lord Gray of Ruthen, and the Baron of Dudley, the Lord Powys, and Sir Richard Poole the Prince's Chamberleine, in like Wife.

The Canopie was borne over the Corpse by Mr. Haward, Mr. Anthony Willobie of Brooke, Mr. Ratcliffe of Fitzwater, and Mr. St. John.

At everye Corner of the Canopie was a Banner. First, a Banner of the Trinitie, borne by Thomas Troys: The second a Banner of the Patible, borne by Sir Thomas Blunt: The third a Banner of our Ladye, borne by Thomas Dudley: The fourth a Banner of St. George, borne by Edward Hungerford.

Next before the Corpse was a Banner of the Prince's owne Armes, borne by Sir Griffith ap Rice, having on every Side of him an Officer of Armes.

Before them went Two Spaniardes of the best Degree belonging to the Princeesse. Before them the Pursuivants. Then followed the Bishops, Abbots, and Priours. Before them walked the Parson and all the secular Priests of the Towne; and before them the Two Orders of Fryers of that Towne, having the Gentlemen before them. On every Side of the Proceffion, and so behind towards the Corpse, were Fower score poore Men in blacke mourning Habits, holding Fower score newe Torches, besides all the Torches of the Towne. And so the Corpse was conveyed into the Queere of the Parish Church there, where was placed a light Hearse, about

about the which were ordained certaine Stooles for Mourners, covered with black Cloth, which afterwards the Officers of Armes tooke for their Fees.

Then began the Dirige; and an Officer of Armes in a high Voice began at the Queere Doore, For Prince Arthur's Soule, and all Christen Soules, Pater Noster. Then the Bishoppes of Lincolne, Salisbury, and Chester read the Three Lessons; and when the Dirige was done, all the Lords, Knights, Officers of Arms, and other Gentlemen accompanied the said Mourners to the Castle. That Night there was ordeyned a goodly Watch.

On the Morrowe the Bishop of Chester song our Lady's Masse, which was song with Children, and prickt Songue with Organes. At that Masse no Man offred but the Earle of Surrey as chiefe Mourner. All the other Mourners and Officers of Armes accompanied him, and he had both Carpet and Cushion. Sir William Ovedall, Comptroller of the said Prince's Houses, gave him his Offring, which was a Piece of Gould of xl^d. and always as often as the saide Earle offred the Masse Pennyes, a Gentleman of his owne bare his Traine.

The second Masse of the Trinitie was songe by the Bishoppe of Salisbury and the Queere, without Organes or Children. And at that Masse the Earle of Surrey offred a Piece of Gould and v^s. for the Masse Pennye, accompanied as before.

The third Masse was of Requiem, songe by the Bishoppe of Lincoln. At that Masse the Earle of Surrey offred a Noble for the Masse Pennye, accompanied as before rehearsed. Then the Earles of Shrewsbury and Kent offred, but they had no Carpet nor Cushion. Then the Lord Ruthen and the Baron of Dudley. Then the Lord Powys and Sir Richard Poole. Then the L. Gerard and the Lord John Greye of Dorset. Then the Ambassadors of Spaine, Don Peter de Praule and the Earle of Surrey, offred for themselves, and they bare their owne Offerings. After them all noble Banneretts, Batchelors, and noble People in great Number. After them the Bayliffs and all Burgessees of the Towne.

That Offering done, Doctor Edenham, Almoner and Confessor of the said Prince, said a noble Sermon, and tooke to his Antyteme Beati mortui qui Domino morientur. That said and done, he went to the Dolle, and gave every poore Man and Woman a Groate. At that Masse the Abbot of Shrewsbury was Gospeller, and the Abbot of Burry Epistoler: And when Masse was done, the Lords went to Dynner to the Castle. That Night at Dirige none of the

Lords

Lordes were present, but the did the Divine Service. And on the Morne the Lord of Shrewesbury offred a Noble for the Masse Penneye, in the Absence of the Earle of Surrey; which Masse was songe by Note by the Abbot of Shrewesbury.

The rich Charre was prepared in Manner as ensleweth, drawne with vi. Horses trapped with blacke Cloth, having rich Scocheons of Gould beaten on Buckram, and 3 Charriot Men in mourning Habite. The Bales of the Charre were covered with blacke Velvett, and the Sides of the same. Over the Charre was a Cloth of blacke Velvett, with a Crosse of white Cloth of Gould.

Item, there was ordeyned another Cloth of fine black Cloth to cover that Cloth from Dust and the Weather, with a Crosse of white Damaske; and in the foule Weather a ceared Cloth was put all over the Chest with the Corpes, in the Charre covered with rich blacke Clothe of Gould before spoke of. All the Mourners followed the Charre with mourning Hoodes over their Heades. At every Corner of the Charre a Banner was borne by Noble Men through the Townes. There and by all the Waye Two Noblemen went on every Side of the Draught Horses, with mourning Hoodes over their Heads.

Next afore the fore Horses Sir Griffith ap Rice in mourning Habitt, rode on a Horfe trapped with Blacke, with a little Scocheon in his Courser's Forehead; and so had the Four Horses of the Draught, and no more, on the Forehead: He bore the Prince's Banner, before which Banner the Bishops, and other Gentlemen before them, rode in good Manner.

There were ordeined vi^{xx}. Torch Bearers, whereof iij^{xx}, bare Torches burning through Ludlowe, and the other xl. were ordeined to support them. When they were in the Field all the Torches were put out saving xxiiij. about the Charre. The Officers of Armes and the Sergeants of Armes, bearing the Banners, rode behind, as the Manner was.

On St. Marke's Day the Proceffion went from Ludlow to Beudley. It was the foulest cold windye and rainey Daye, and the worst Waye that I have seene: Yea, and in some Places they were faine to take Oxen to drawe the Charre, so ill was the Waye. Assoone as the Corpe was in the Chapple of Beudley, and set in the Quiere there; with such Lights as there was Room for, the Dirige begann. That done, the Lordes and other went to their Dinners, for it was a fasting Daye. On the Morne the Earle of Surrey offred at the Masse of Requiem a Noble in Manner as before. At which Masse Season there was a generall Dole of Pence, of Two Pence to every poore Man and Woman.

Every Church that the Corpes remayned in was well furnished of Scochions of my Lord Armes, both of Mettall and Colors. And every Parish Church, or religious Place or Order that mett the Corpes with Procession, and range their Belles, had a Noble of Gould, Fowre Torchcs, and Six Scochions of Armes. From Beaudley Sir Richard Croft and Sir William Ovedall, Steward and Comptroller of the Prince's House, rode before to Worcester, and suffered no Man nor other to enter the Gate of that Cittie untill the Tyme the Corpes was come. And then every Thinge was ordered as followeth :

Fresh Scocheons were sett on the Charre, and draught Horses were mended, and vi^{xx}. new Torchcs delivered to the vi^{xx}. Torch Bearers at the Towne's End. That Daye was faire, and then the Gentlemen rode Two and Two together, and all the other as were before ordered. The Order of Fryers censed the Corpse at the Towne's End, and then proceeded to the Gate of that Cittie : At which Gate were the Bayliffs, and the honest Men of that Cittie on Foote. Alonge in a Rowe on every Side were the Vicar Generall or Chauncelor of the Bishoppes of that See, with a good Number of secular Canons in graye Amys, with rich Copes : And other Curats, secular Priests, Clerks, and Children, with Surplisses in great Number, and I suppose all the Torchcs of the Towne. These went on every Side of the Street before the newe Torchcs ; and all of them were as many as might well stande from the Towne Gate to the great Church. The Gentlemen were conveyed through the Street on the left Hand before the Church Yard ; at the which Gate the iiij. Bishoppes in rich Copes censed the Corpes : And there it was taken out of the Charre, and conveyed under the Canopie as before, with Banners and all Things. Within the Church Yard were the Abbotts and the Prior with his Covent all in Pontificalibus, that is to saie, the Abbots of Gloucester, Evisham, Chester, Shrewsbury, Tewksbury, Hayles, and Bordesley, the Priors of Worcester and of And thus with Procession proceeded through the Quiere to the Herse, which was the goodlyest and best wrought and garnished that ever I sawe.

There were xviii. Lights, Two great Standards, a Banner of the King's Armes, a Banner of the Kinge of Spaine's Armes, a Banner of the Queen's Armes, a Banner of the Queen

Queene of Spaine's Armes, a Banner of the Prince's Armes, a Banner of the Princesse's Armes, Two of Wales, One of Kadwallader, a Bannerell of Normandye, a Banerell of Guien, a Banerell of Cornwall, a Banerell of Chester, a Bancrell of Poystowe, and 100 Pencills of divers Badges; also the rich Cloth of Majestie, well fringed and double rayled; covered with black Cloth, was layed under Foote, which after was the Fees to the Officers of Armes.

At Dirige were Nyne Lessons, after the Custome of that Church. The First was read by the Abbot of Tewksbury, the Second by the Abbot of Shrewsbury, the Third by the Abbot of Chester, the Fourth by the Abbot of Easham, the Fifth by the Abbot of Gloucester, the Sixth by the Prior of Worcester, the Seventh by the Buiishop of Chester, the Eighth by the Buiishop of Salisbury, and the Ninth by the Buiishop of Lincolne. At the Magnificat and Benedictus all that were in Pontificalibus did cence the Corpes at once: At the same Tyme the Vicar Generall, with all the Seculars, fange Dirige in our Ladyes Chapell.

That Night there was a goodly Watche of Lodes, Knights, Esquiers, Gentlemen Ushers, Officers of Armes, Yeomen, and many others.

On the Morne by viii. of the Clocke were all the Mourners redye at our Ladye Masse, which was songe by the Bishoppe of Chester. An Abbot was the Gospeller, and a Prior the Epistoler: At which Masse the Earle of Surrey offred as before at Ludlowe.

The Second Masse was of the Trinitie, songe by the Bishoppe of Salisbury. At which Masse the Earle of Surrey offred, viz. 5s. for the Masse Penney. At that Masse Two Abbats were Gospellers and Epistolers.

The Third Masse was of Requiem, songe by the Buiishoppe of Lincolne. The Abbot of Hayles was Epistoler, and the Abbot of Tewksbury Gospeller.

The Manore of offringe at the Masse, viz.

First, the Carpet and the Cushion were laid, and all the Mourners, Noblemen, Officers, and Serjeants of Armes, went before him to the offering of that Masse Penney, and so conveyed him againe. Then Two of the Officers of Armes delivered the Cote Armes imbroidered unto the Earles of Shrewsbury and of Kent, and they and the Serjeants of Armes went before them. The Officers of Armes delivered the Shield to the Lord Graye Ruthen and the Lord Dudley; likewise the Sword, the Point forward, to the Lord Powys.

and Sir Richard Poole. After that the Helme with the Crest to the Lord John Graye of Dorset and to the said Sir Richard Poole. Then Sir John Mortimer, Bannerett, Sir Richard de la Vere, Bannerett, Sir Thomas Cornwall, and Sir Robert Throgmorton, Bachelors, convayed the Man of Armes, which was the Earle of Kildare's Sonne and Heire, called the Lord Garrard, armed with the Prince's owne Harneys on a Courser richly trapped with a Trapper of Velvet embrothered with Needleworke of the Prince's Armes, with a Pollaxe in his Hande, the Head downwards, into the Midst of the Queere, where the Abbot of Tewksbury, Gospeller of that Masse, received the Offring of that Horse. Then the said Man of Armes alighted, and was led with the Axe in his Hand, as before, to the Buishoppe, by Sir Richard Crofts Steward, and Sir William Ovedall Comptroller, and from thence to the Vestrye: But to have seene the Weeping when the Offring was done, he had a hard Heart that wept not. That done, the Three Earles went ^{up} together, and offred for themselves. There went no Officer then before them, nor Carpetts nor Cushion after them. The Barons, Baneretts, and Bathelors, and all Men that would, saving those of the Cittie, because of the Sicknes that then rained amongst them, offred in our Ladye Chappell to the Vicar Generall, who also kept there iij generall Masses.

All the Offrings of Money done, the Lord Powys went to the Queere Doore, where Two Gentlemen Ushers delivered him a rich Palle of Cloth of Gould of Tyssue, which he offred to the Corpe, where Two Officers of Armes received it, and laid it along the Corpe. The Lord of Dudley in like Manner offred a Palle, which the said Officers laid over the Corpe. The Lord Greye Ruthen offred another; and every each of the Three Earles offred to the Corpe Three Palles of the same Cloth of Gould: The lowest Earle began first. All the Palles were layd crosse over the Corpe.

That done, the Sermon beganne, said by a noble Doctor: Endureing which there was a great generall Dole of Groates to every poore Man and Woman.

At Tyme of St. John's Gospell, Sir Griffith ap Rice offered to the Deacon the rich embrothered Banner of my Lordes Armes.

The Gospell finished, all the aforesaid Prelats came and fenced the Corpe, with all the Covent standing without the uttermost Barres, singing divers and many Anthemes. At every Kurie Elyeson an Officer at Armes, with a high Voice, said, For Prince Arthur's Soule, and all Christians Soules, Pater Noster. That finished, a Minister of the Church

ooke

tooke away the Palles: And then Gentlemen tooke up the Corpse and bare it to the Grave, at the South End of the High Altar of that Cathedrall Church, where were all the Divine Services. Then the Corpse, with Weeping and sore Lamentation, was laid in the Grave: The Orifons were said by the Bishop of Lincolne, also sore Weeping. He sett the Crosse over the Chest, and cast holye Water and Earth thereon. His Officer of Armes, sore weeping, tooke of his Coate of Armes, and cast it along over the Chest right lamentably. Then Sir William Ovedall Comptroller of his Houshold, sore weeping and crying, tooke the Staffe of his Office by both Endes, and over his owne Head brake it, and cast it into the Grave. In likewise did Sir Ric. Croft Steward of his Houshold, and cast his Staffe broken into the Grave. In likewise did the Gentlemen Ushers their Roddes. This was a piteous Sight to those who beheld it.

All Things thus finished, there was ordeyned a great Dinner: And in the Morne a Proclamation was made openly in that Cittie, that if any Man could shewe any Victuals unpaid in that Countrey, that had beene taken by any of that noble Prince's Servants before that Daye, they should come and shewe it to the late Steward, Comptroller, and Cofferer, and they should be contented.

Thus God have Mercye on good Prince Arthur's Soule.

A N HISTORICAL ACCOUNT
 OF THE
 MASTERS of PEMBROKE HALL in Cambridge,
 WITH
 A LIST of the FELLOWS of the Same.

Compiled by Matthew Wren, Bishop of Ely; augmented and continued by Mr. Thomas Hawes of Framlingham, in Suffolk, and Mr. Atwood of Pembroke Hall.

[From the original Manuscript.]

I. THOMAS DE BINGHAM.

THERE is no Mention of this Thomas de Bingham any where in the College Registers till the Year 1364, at which Time he took Possession of the Church of Wearestly, in Huntingdonshire, for the College; though that he was made the First Master by the Foundress is past all Question.

In the Archives of the University it is said, that Mr. Thomas de Bingham left the Office of Proctor Anno 1363.

In 1389, the University in a Supplicate to Pope Boniface the ixth. for a Dispensation and Provision for Thomas de Bingham, that he might be made Canon of Lichfield, files him Presbyter of the Diocese of York, Master of Divinity, Subdean and Canon and Prebendary of Wythlakington in the Church of Wells.

Another Supplicate, and that more ancient, calls Thomas de Bingham, Master of Arts, and Batchelor in Divinity, and Rector of Westmyle in Lincoln Diocese.

In 1390, Thomas de Bingham changed his Rectory of Bingham with William Bedeman for the Rectory of Grandesden the Less; and having obtained Leave of Non-Residence from the Bishop of Ely in 1391 for Two Years, he died within that Space of Time.

II. ROBERT

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

683

II. ROBERT DE THORP.

His Name, as Master of the College, from the Year 1373 to 1389 (which is the Time he is supposed to have been Master) is not so much as once mentioned in any ancient Writing now extant. Neither is he called Fellow, nor any other before Richard Morrys, in any Catalogue.

But that he was Fellow is plain, if by no other Reason, yet for that of his being Master: For in the choosing a Master, the ancient Statutes are so strict in directing that the Choice shall be out of the Fellows of the Society, that about One hundred Years afterward they were forced to get a Dispensation from the Pope to do otherwise.

III. RICHARD MORRYS.

Mr. Richard Morrys was Master of this College in 1389 (says an imperfect Register in the College) but when he was chosen is uncertain.

In 1389, the University supplicates the Pope for a Dispensation and Provision for Richard Morrys, Presbyter of London Diocese, Master of Arts, and Scholar in the Canon Law, who was then possessed of the Church of Melden in the Diocese of Canterbury.

The Time of his being Master appears from a certain Indenture made in December 1389, between Nicholas Abbot of Notely and the Convent there, and Richard Morrys Master, and the Scholars of the Hall of Mary Valence. The same Richard Morrys and the Fellows, Three Years after, on the 17. Cal. December 1392, admitt one Thomas de Sutton to the Mastership of the Grammar School of Tilney.

Mr. Richard Morrys, Master of the Chantry of Beauvale, in the Church of Corberley in the Diocese of Worcester, having changed with Mr. John Goodhyne for the Vicarage of Middleton in the Diocese of Ely, was presented to it by the Rector thereof on the 9th of July 1401: And afterwards changing that Vicarage for that of Gresham in Norwich Diocese, was presented to it by the Prior and Canons of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre of Thetford, November 24th 1404.

IV. JOHN TINNEMOUTH.

In the Year 1364, John de Tinnemouth, and John de Appleby, Clerks, were present when Mr. Thomas de Bingham the Master took Possession of the Church of Wearisley for the College.

In 1367, the prudent and discreet Mr. Simon de Dodington Bachelor in the Decretals, and John de Tinnmouth Master of Arts,

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

Arts, and John de Appelby Batchelor of Arts, Proctors of the Masters and Scholars of the College of Mary Valence, and of the Fellows and Scholars of the same, were present when the Vicar was sworn to observe the Composition of Wearisley.

In a Supplicate of the University to the Pope, before the Year 1380, he is stiled Presbyter of the Diocese of London, and Master of Arts.

He succeeded Richard Morrys as Master of the College; but the Time of his Election is uncertain, and he is thought to have been the First Benefactor to the College Library.

V. JOHN SUDBURY.

That he was Master in the 12th Year of the Reign of King Henry the ivth, that is 1411, appears from a Letter of Attorney granted by Mr. John Sudbury Master, and the Scholars of this House, to certaine Fellows, concerning an Affair relating to Grantsden. That he was Fellow too there is no Doubt.

In the Year 1390, the University supplicates the Pope for a Dispensation and Provision for John Sudbury Clerk, of Norwich Diocese, Batchelor of Laws, then possessed of the Canonry and Prebend of Brightling in the Collegiate Church of Hastings in the Diocese of Chichester.

For what Reason he left the Mastership is hard to be determined; but leave it he did about the Feast of All Saints 1428, and lived Six Years afterwards, being a very good Benefactor to the College, both in Books and Money. He also gave a Piece of Plate to the College.

Whether he was Rector of Ditton before he left the College is not certain, but that he was Rector of that Church in 1430 is without Question; and yet he seems to have lived in the College at that Time, for in 1432 there is Mention of mending the Walls of Mr. John Sudbury's Chamber.

He died about the Beginning of the Year 1435.

VI. JOHN LANGTHON.

In the Year 1412, he was Fellow of the College, and in 1428 chosen Master.

He governed the College Twenty Years; and in that Time did many Things truly worthy of a Fellow and Master of Pembroke Hall.

In 1430, he bought of Helena Bolton and others a Messuage (then commonly called Bolton's Place) to enlarge the College Garden: He enriched the Chapell and Library
with

with several good Gifts: But what was by far most considerable, by his Favour with K. Henry the vith. he so far recommended the College to that most pious Prince, that he obtained for us the Rectory and Mannor of Soham, and the Priory and Rectory of Great Linton, with the Chapel of St. Margaret of Illeham ^a.

In certain Letters of Proxy dated 1442, he is stiled Licentiate in the Decretals; and in the same Year Chancellor of the University. In a Presentation to the Vicarage of Wearisley in 1446, John Langthon occurs as Master or Keeper: And in 1447, in the King's Letters Patents he is called Master, without any other Title.

Matthew Stokys, Beadle of the University of Cambridge, and a curious Searcher into its Antiquities, calls him Chancellor of the University and Bishop of Bangor: But the Bishop of Landaff (Fran. Godwin) in his Book de Præfulibus Angliæ, stiles him John Langthon, President of Pembroke Hall in Cambridge and Chancellor of that University; and says he was consecrated Bishop of St. David's in 1446, and that he died on the 15th Day after his Consecration. But how doth this agree with the above-mentioned Letters Patent of the King?

In the Archives of the University we find this Entry, Pray for Mr. John Langthon Bishop of St. David's, Chancellor, who did and procured many good Things for us.

VII. HUGH DAMLETT.

He was Fellow of the College, and chosen Master before December the 18th 1448; for on that Day a Title was given to John Levifon, Fellow, in his and the Fellows Names, directed to Thomas Bishop of Norwich.

In 1426, he himself had a Title which ran thus: To the Reverend Father in Christ Philip by the Grace of God Bishop of Ely, your humble and devoted the Master and Fellows of the College of Mary Valence, all Manner of Reverence and filial Subjection; We present to your Paternity our beloved Fellow Hugh Damlett, Bachelor of Arts, that he may receive all sacred Orders, &c.

In 1432, in an Appeal of the University to the Pope, he is stiled Regent in the Faculty of Arts, and Proctor of the University. William Gull was Proctor with him: Mr. William Laffels being then Chancellor.

He

^a Diplom. 18 Hen. vi. in Archivis Collegii.

He was scarce Three Years Master ^a.

He gave some Books to the College, One whereof had this Inscription : This Book was caused to be writ by Mr. Hugh Damlett, Doctor in Divinity, and Rector of the Church of St. Peter, Prince of the Apostles in Cornhill, London.

Whether that was a Convent of Friars, or whether he was Abbot or Prior any where else is a Doubt : But in the Year 1458, as he came through this Place, the Fellows very kindly paid their Respects to him, which is thus remembered : Item, For the Repast of Mr. Hugo and his Friars, Twelve Pence.

He died in 1476, or a little sooner, that is, about Twenty Six Years after he left the College.

It is said that no Fellows were elected into the College during the Time that he was Master.

VIII. LAURENCE BOOTH.

He was chosen Master 1450. It is very likely that he never was Fellow of the College ; for in a certain Bull of Pope Nicholas vth. we find that he (the Pope) was willing to grant the Fellows their Request ; and since they affirmed there was not one among 'em whom they thought fit to preside over the College as Affairs then were, gave them Power to choose a Master (notwithstanding the Statutes to the contrary) who was neither then Fellow, nor had at any Time been Fellow, or indeed ever belonged to the College. This Bull came out the 8th of the Kalends of December 1450, and was directed to Laurence Booth, in England. Doubtless the Fellows petitioned for this Bull Time enough, but the Court of Rome being very tedious in their Dispatches, the Election was made some Months before it was granted : For the Election was in the third Week after Easter 1450, which that Year fell before the Kalends of May.

In 1458, October the 10th, he is stiled Laurence Booth, Licentiate in Civil Law, Master.

In 1444, March the 6th, the Bishop of Ely conferred the Rectory of Cottenham on this Gentleman, Mr. Laurence Booth, then Deacon, reserving a Pension for Life of Twenty Marks to Mr. Thomas Walton, who resigned in 1446. He had ^a Here seems to be a Mistake in Bishop Wren's Book : For John Sudbury left the College about All Saints 1418. Langthon succeeded, and was Master Twenty Years. Damlett is Master the latter End of 1448 ; and Booth succeeds a little after Easter 1450 ; so that Damlett enjoyed the Mastership not Two Years. If it be writ per Biennium illud (aut paule minus) it is right.

had Letters Demiffory for Priests Orders on the 21st of September in that Year.

But the great Deferts of this Person were not long without their due Reward.

In 1456, December 2d, Mr. Laurence Booth, being then Keeper of the Privy Seal, resigned his Rectory of Cottenham. In 1457, September 15, he was made Bishop of Durham: Fifteen Years after he was constituted Lord High Chancellor of England; and Five Years after that Arch Bishop of York *.

He was a very great Benefactor to the College, particularly in the Gift of all those Houses which are situated between the College and St. Botolph's Church, and in the Confirmation of Soham, Linton, and Isleham to the College, all which were very near being lost in the first Year of Edward the ivth.

In the Time of his being Chancellor of the University, that Composition (which makes such a Noise) between the University and King's College, was made 1457: Mr. Millington, formerly Provost of King's then Master of Clare Hall, being Vice Chancellor.

He died 1480, having been Arch Bishop of York almost Four Years, and Master of the College full Thirty, and was buried in the Chappell of our Lady at Southwell.

By his last Will he gave to the College that valuable Mannor of Overton Waterville, otherwise called Cherry Orton, in the County of Huntingdon, with the perpetual Advowson of the Rectory.

IX. THOMAS ROTHERAM.

Thomas Scot, called Rotheram from the Place of his Birth, was one of the first Fellows of King's College, Chaplain to the Earl of Oxford, then to King Edward the iv. who procured him to be Provost of Beverley; then Keeper of the Privy Seal; Bishop of Rochester 1467; Bishop of Lincoln 1471; Lord High Chancellor of England 1474; then Chancellor of the University. He built the School Gates, and the Eastern Part of the Library.

He gave Ten Pounds to the repairing of St. Mary's Church: And endowed Lincoln College in Oxford. In 1479, he gave at One Time 27 Volumes to the University Library.

He was chosen Master in 1480, and in the same Year Arch Bishop of York. In 1483, the Protector, Richard Duke of Gloucester, designing to murder his Nephews the Sons of

C c c 2

King

King Edward iv. brought the Archbishop into very great Streights, for delivering the Great Seal to the Queen their Mother, and siding with her; but the University having the greatest Esteem for him, interceded with the Protector on his Behalf.

In 1488, May 28, being Chancellor, he made that Decree, That no Grace should be proposed to the House, unless Twenty Masters Regents and Non-Regents were present, and Notice were given of the Congregation by the ringing of the Bell.

He gave to the University the Patronage of the Vicarage of Campfall in Yorkshire, and finished Lincoln College in Oxford, and added Five Fellowships to the same ^a.

He was Secretary to Four Kings, and Legate of the Apostolick Chair, and died of the Plague on the 29th Day of May 1500, at Cawood in Yorkshire, being 76 Years of Age.

X. GEORGE FITZHUGH.

He was chosen Master 1488. In 1478 he was admitted Bachelor of Arts, with Liberty to go out Master when he pleased; to be Regent or not, as he thought fit. In 1480 he had Leave to be at all publick Acts without his Habit; in 1482 to be absent from Congregations; and in 1483 to go out Doctor in Divinity.

It is thought that upon the Decease of his Brother, who was a Baron, the Honor descended to him. That he had his Chaplain is certain; for in 1501, we find this Entry in the College Register, Spent with Mr. Borow the Master's Chaplain, Eight Pence. Oliver Cosen, President of the College, in a Letter signed by him and all the Fellows, hath these Expressions, Honourable, and my singlar good Lord and Master: And, Your Letter, my Lord, written to me your Scholar and Beedsman: And, I meekly beseech your Lordship: And, God preserve your Lordship in good Health. A Piece of Flattery, were not those Titles due to him, not more unbecoming, than despised by the Society of Pembroke Hall.

Some are of Opinion that he was a Suffragan, or perhaps an Abbot; but it doth not appear that he had any other Preferment than the Deanery of Lincoln.

In 1496, he was Chancellor of the University, continued so for Two Years, and in 1501 he was Chancellor again. He died Master in the Year 1505.

XI. ROGER

^a Godwyn Ex. 484.

XI. ROGER LABOURNE.

He was a Gentleman of a very ancient House, born near Carlisle, Fellow of the College in 1488, and in 1489 he was junior Proctor in the University.

Upon the 1st September 1503 he became Bishop of Carlisle, being then Doctor in Divinity; and on the 29th of November 1505 was chosen Master of the College.

It was almost a Year before he came to the College after his Election, and within another Year he left it by Death.

XII. RICHARD FOX.

It is a Question whether he ever was Fellow of the College. For in the Letter which the Fellows sent to Labourne upon his Election, they tell him, there was not a Man in England bred in the College, besides himself, that was worthy of that Place; yet Fox, at the same Time, was possessed of all those Honours he enjoyed when he was chosen Master Two Years after. In 1502, Five Years before he was chosen Master, he gave to the College Fifty Pounds Sterling for Two Priests to pray for the Soul of John Dawison, Dean of Sarum, and the Prosperity of him Richard Fox, Bishop of Winchester.

He was Lord Privy Seal, Secretary, and Privy Councillor; Ambassador into Scotland; Bishop of Exeter 1486, of Bath and Wells 1491, Durham 1494, and Winchester 1502; and likewise God-father to King Henry the Eighth. In 1500 he was Chancellor of the University, being then Bishop of Durham.

There are several Reasons given for his founding a College (Corpus Christi) rather at Oxford than in Cambridge: As his being extremely displeased with the Fellows of his own College, particularly with one Hudson, and that in so great a Degree, as to threaten to leave them, as in Truth he did some Time after: The Examples of other People, as those of Rotheram and Smith of Pembroke Hall, who were great Benefactors to Lincoln and Brazen-Nose Colleges in Oxford; of Wickham and Wainfleet Bishops of Winchester, who were Founders of New College and Magdalen: And the great Veneration, and frequent Dedications to the Body of Christ at that Time, might perhaps prevail with him to resolve to build a College in Oxford to the Honour of that Name, which he could not do at Cambridge, there being in that University one before. But the chief of all at last was, that Oldham Bishop of Exeter (who was a Cambridge Man too) had gathered together a vast Summ of Money, which he had designed for Exeter College; but changing his Mind,

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

Mind, resolv'd to place it att Oxford: With him Fox joined, and by that Means got as much Honor, and saved more Money than he would have done any other Way.

He resigned his Mastership the latter End of 1518, or the Beginning of 1519. He died 1528, having finished several sumptuous Buildings at Taunton in Somersetshire, and at Grantham in Lincolnshire (which is thought to have been the Place of his Birth) and at Winchester Cathedral, in which he lies buried.

XIII. ROBERT SHORTON, SCHURTON, or SHIRTON.

He was chosen Fellow of the College on November 24, 1505. In 1507 Publick Preacher: In 1509 Bachelor of Divinity, and Senior Treasurer: In 1511 Doctor of Divinity, Compounder, and Publick Reader of Divinity. The first Mention of him in the Archives of the University as Master is on June 4, 1519. He came from St. John's College, where he was the second Master.

He was Canon of Windsor, Dean of the Chappel to Cardinal Woolsey, and Dean of the College of Stoke in Suffolk, which was suppressed in the Reign of K. Edward the Sixth.

He left the College in the Beginning of 1534, being a very good Benefactor to it. He gave the Mannor of Vescie in Chesterton, in Huntingdonshire, to the College; besides very good Gifts to the Chapel: Also the Farm called Rouse, in Overton Waterville. He likewise gave to the College a Sum of Mopey, with which the Farm in Wittlesford, in the County of Cambridge, called Beauties or Henlies, was purchased. Not only this College, but those of St. John's, St. Peter's, and St. Katherine's Hall were Partakers of his Liberality.

XIV. ROBERT SWINBURNE.

Whence this Gentleman was is uncertain. It appears that he was Master of Arts in 1520, at which Time he was Auditor of the University Common Chest, with Mr. Stephen Gardiner then Vice Chancellor, and others.

He was a very great Malefactor (may I say so?) to the College: For besides sundry other bad Deeds, he alienated all those Houses between St. Botolph's Church and the College; and presented to the Vicarage of Wearisley in Huntingdonshire, February 21, 1536, and to the Vicarage of of Saxthorp in Norfolk, 1537, one William Tod and one Anthony Temple, neither of them Fellows of the College.

The last Mention of him as Master is in October 1537. It is thought he left the Mastership for the Vicarage of Tilney in Nottinghamshire. He died in the Beginning of 1539.

XV. GEORGE FOLBERIE.

In 1514, Folberie was Questionist: In 1519 he and Cranmer were Two of the Preachers: February 10, 1539, he presented one of the Fellows to the Vicarage of Tilney: May 24, 1540, he held a Court at Soham; and died that Year. He was Doctor in Divinity when he was chosen Master.

XVI. NICOLAS RIDLEY.

He was of an ancient and good Family in Northumberland, and educated at Newcastle; Scholar of the Colledge, Bachelor of Arts, chosen Fellow 1524, Master of Arts 1525.

He, with others, in 1533, publicly, and with good Success disputed with George Throgmerton an Oxonian, who, with John Ashwell, had challenged the University of Cambridge.

In 1534 he was Proctor of the University; and, as himself says in a Letter of his, Chaplain and Common Reader. In 1537 he was Bachelor in Divinity.

He was called to be Vicar of Herne in East Kent, by that most Reverend Father Thomas Cranmer Arch Bishop of Canterbury, and made Prebendary of Canterbury.

In October, or at farthest in November, 1540, he was chosen Master, and that same Year was Doctor in Divinity; and departing from the College he travelled to Paris, and at his Return was made Chaplain to King Henry the viiith.

On the 25th of September 1547, he was consecrated Bishop of Rochester; and in 1549 (Edmund Bonner being turned out) Bishop of London. King Edward the Sixth designed him for the See of Durham.

In 1550, September 1st, in a Letter of Bucer's to Grindall, he is called Visitor of the University of Cambridge, by which probably is meant Chancellor; for he is not named among King Edward the Sixth's Visitors.

Queen Mary coming to the Crown, he gave place to Bonner on the 5th of August 1553, and suffered Martyrdom with Bishop Latimer at Oxford, October 16, 1555, having first taken his Farewell of the College in these Words: "Farewell Pembroke Hall, of late mine own College, my

 " tary to all the Holy Scriptures, may ever abide in that
 " College so long as the World shall endure!"
 . He wrote in English a Treatise against Transubstantiation.

XVII. JOHN YOUNG.

He came from St. John's College, and it is likely by the Queen's Mandate 1554; being Doctor of Divinity, sometime Publick Professor, and then Vice Chancellor, if Stokys the Beadle be in the Right, who says he was chosen to that Office November 5th 1553.

Upon the Resignation of Mr. Risley he was preferred to Streatham, April 24th 1554; and about the same Time had a Prebend of Ely: And he and the Dean of Ely, by Agreement of the Chapter, chose Thomas Thirlby Bishop, July 5th 1554.

In 1556 he was one of those that made the Proctor's Circle.

He was a rigid Romanist, which occasioned many sharp
 Conflicts between him and Bucer.

At the Arrival of Queen Elizabeth's Visitors in 1559, he left his Mastership on the 20th of July following.

XVIII. EDMUND GRINDALL.

He was born at St. Bees in Cumberland: Scholar
 Bachelor of Arts, and Fellow of the College 1538: In 1540
 Master of Arts: July 4th 1544, he had the College Titles for

for Orders : In 1548 Proctor of the University : In 1549 President of the College, and Assistant to the Vice Chancellor in his Court : Bachelor in Divinity : And by Bishop Ridley's Means, one of the King's Chaplains : Yet he left not his Fellowship until 1553.

Upon Queen Mary's Accession to the Crown he fled into Germany ; and there is a Letter of his to Ridley in Print, dated from Francfort. May 6th, 1555.

In the Beginning of Queen Elizabeth's Reign he returned, and was made by her Bishop of London, and consecrated on the 1st December 1559, Bonner being again turned out.

Before his Consecration he was chosen Master, which art first he refused, with a great many Excuses ; but at last did accept thereof : And on the 3d August 1559, the fourteenth Day after he was chosen, being then Bachelor of Divinity, and Bishop of London elect, he appointed Mr. John Pilkington to be admitted Master for him, and that very Day had Leave of Absence, which was continued from time to time ; so that he was never in the College at the Time of his Mastership, which he resigned about May 1562.

In 1564 he went out Doctor of Divinity : In 1570, May 20th, he was translated to the Arch Bishoprick of York ; and in 1575 to that of Canterbury.

He was a Benefactor to Queen's College in Oxford ; to Magdalen and Christ College in Cambridge ; to Canterbury Town, and the Poor of Croydon.

He founded a School at St. Bees in Cumberland, and endowed it with Land of the annual Value of 30 Pounds.

In this our College he founded the Greek Lecturehip, and gave a Stipend out of the Mannor of Westbury in Ashwell 1568.

He obtained Letters of Mortmain of Queen Elizabeth for Forty Pounds per Annum, whereof the College now enjoys about 24 Pounds per Annum, for the Maintenance of One Fellow, and Two Scholars to be taken out of his School at St. Bees.

He gave also some Books to the College, and a gilt Cup of Forty Ounces, called the Canterbury Cup.

He was a religious and grave Man, and flourished in great Esteem with Queen Elizabeth, untill by the cunning Practices of his Adversaries he quite lost her Favor ; they suggesting that he countenanced the Conventicles of the turbulent Ministers and their Prophecies (as they termed them) but in Truth it was because he condemned the unlawful Marriage of Julio an Italian Phisitian with another Man's Wife, whilst the Earl of Leicester, the Queen's great Favourite, in vain opposed his Proceedings therein.

He had the Misfortune to be blind Two Years before his Death, which was in the Sixty-fourth Year of his Age, and was buried at Croydon 1583.

That famous Poet, Spencer (who was of this College too) laments him in one of his Pastorals under the Name of Algrind.

XIX. MATTHEW HUTTON.

He was Fellow of Trinity College, Bachelor of Divinity: May 14th 1562, chosen Master. Being Grindall's Chaplain, it is probable that when he resigned, he recommended him to the College.

In 1563, September 4, he became Rector of Boxworth in Cambridgeshire, which he resigned March 28th 1576; he also left his Prebend of Ely, June 25th 1567.

In 1565 he took his Doctor of Divinity's Degree, and was made Publick Professor in the University with Whitgift.

In 1567 he left the College for the Deanery of York: In 1589 he was made Bishop of Durham, and in 1594 Arch Bishop of York.

He gave a Hundred Marks towards the Buildings in Trinity College, and founded an Hospitall at Wareton in the County of Lancaster. He was a learned and pious Prelate, and died 1605.

XX. JOHN WHITGIFT.

He was born at Grimsby in Lincolnshire, and brought up under that most glorious Martyr Bradford in this College, and from hence was chosen Fellow of Peter House, Dr. Pen being then Master there, who protected him during the Reign of Queen Mary.

April 21, 1567, he was chosen Master of this College, and the same Year created Doctor in Divinity.

He was scarce Three Months here before he was chosen Master of Trinity College; then Divinity Professor, and Regius Professor, and twice Vice Chancellor, viz. 1571 and 1574. He was Rector of Feversham and Prebendary of Ely. But at his first coming to Trinity College he found Divisions occasioned by some who disliked the solemn Rites and Government Ecclesiastical then settled and exercised in the Church, of whom Thomas Cartwright, the Lady Margaret's Professor, was a chief Man, and with whom he entred the Lists in Writing; but by his wise and discreet Carriage the

Master

Matter was so managed that all Things were settled in Peace and Quietness again.

April 21, 1577, he was made Bishop of Worcester, where he recovered the Revenues of that Bishoprick then much impaired, and within Five Months afterwards Vice President of Wales for almost Two Years and an Half.

September 23d, 1583, he was made Arch Bishop of Canterbury, which Honor he enjoyed above Twenty Years with very great Applause.

February 1, 1585, he was made Privy Councillor, and died at Lambeth, February 29, 1603, being then above Seventy Years old. He gave some Books to the College.

His last Words to King James the First, who in Person visited him the Day before he died, when he could hardly be understood, are reported to have been Pro Ecclesia Dei, Pro Ecclesia Dei, thereby intimating his Care thereof even to the last.

The principal Monuments of his Charity are, an Hospital built College-wise at Croydon for a Warden and 28 Persons, and a Free School near it, with a convenient House for the Schoolmaster, and a standing Stipend of 20l. per Annum.

XXI. JOHN YOUNG.

The second Master of that Name, was a Londoner, and chosen Fellow 1553. When Bachelor of Arts, March 20th 1561, he had the College Title for Orders. He continued Fellow till 1563.

He was chosen Master July 12th 1567, being then Bachelor of Divinity; and after Two Years went out Doctor, and was Vice Chancellor 1568.

He expelled one Prettiman, a Scholar of the College, for his ill Behaviour, especially for administering the Sacraments, having no Orders.

March 16th 1577, being consecrated Bishop of Rochester, he left the College. He refused the See of Norwich 1594, saying, it was not so easy for an old Man, since the Cushion was taken away from it, meaning, since Dr. Scambler had scambled away the Revenues thereof. He died April 1605.

XXII. WILLIAM FULKE.

He was born at London, sent to St. John's College very young; from thence, presently after his taking his Bachelor of Art's Degree, (some think before) to Clifford's Inn: Thence coming to the University, he took his Master of Art's Degree, and was Fellow of St. John's College.

Having taken his Batchelor in Divinity's Degree, there happened such a Diffension in the College, that Fulke, who by his Familiarity with Cartwright was turned Puritan, was plainly expelled thence. From the College he went to the Faulcon Inn, and there read Lectures, and held Disputations and other Exercises, having his Pupils chiefly for Auditors.

By the Earl of Leicester's Means, who took any Divines of Note, of what Principle soever, under his Care, he was made Rector of Warley in Essex, and Dynnington in Suffolk, and also Doctor of Divinity.

He was admitted Master May 10th 1573 : In 1581 Vice Chancellor: In 1579, he gave Twenty Pound toward the Building of an Hostle: The College was at the rest of the Charge. He gave also a gilt Cup, with a Cover to it, to the College.

In his Youth he wrote a Book of Meteors; and when older confuted the Rhemish Translation of the Bible. He died in 1589, and was buried at Dynnington aforesaid, with this Epitaph.

30 November. 1621.

XXIII. LANCELOT ANDREWS.

This Gentleman was also born at London, but descended from an ancient Family of the Andrews in Suffolk: He was educated at Merchant Taylors School; and by Thomas Wattes, Doctor of Divinity, Prebend and Residentiary of St. Paul's, and Arch Deacon of Middlesex (who had then newly founded some Scholarships in this College) was sent hither; where he had the first of his said Scholarships besowed

stowed upon him ; which Places are now commonly called the Greek Scholarships.

As soon as he was Bachelor of Arts, and so capable of a Fellowship, there being then but one void, and Thomas Dove (afterwards Bishop of Peterburgh) being then and there a Scholar also, and well approved of by many of the Society, the Master and Fellows put these Two young Men to a Tryall before them by some Scholastical Exercises, upon Performance whereof they preferred Sir Andrews, and chose him into the Fellowship then void in 1574 : Though they liked Sir Dove so well also, that (being loth to loose him) they made him some present Allowance for his Maintenance, under the Title of a Tanquam Socius.

Not long after he was made Vicar of St. Giles without Cripplegate, London ; then Prebendary and Residentiary of St. Paul's ; after that Prebend of the Collegiate Church of Southwell. Upon the Death of Dr. Fulke, 1589, he was chosen Master of this College ; then Chaplain in Ordinary to Queen Elizabeth, who took such Delight in his Preaching and grave Deportment, that first she bestowed a Prebendary at Westminster upon him ; and not long after, the Deanery of that Place : And what she intended further for him her Death prevented.

He soon grew into far greater Esteem with her Royal Successor King James the First, who made him Bishop of Chichester in 1605, and Lord Almoner. From Chichester he was translated to Ely in 1609, in which Time he was a Privy Counsellor, first of England, then of Scotland ; and from Ely he was preferred to the Bishoprick of Winchester in 1618, and to the Deanary of the King's Chappell, which Two last Preferments he held 'till his Death, which hapned about Eight Years after, in the 2d Year of the Reign of King Charles the First : But the Mastership of Pembroke Hall he resigned in 1605, though he had a peculiar Regard and Love to this Place of his Education, for he gave the College a Thousand Pounds to purchase Lands for Two Fellowships, to be supplied out of the Scholarships founded by the said Doctor Wattes, if his Schollars were fit for those Places. He gave them also the perpetuall Advowson of the Rectory of Rawreth in Essex ; also Three hundred and Seventy Volumes in Folio to increase their Library ; together with a gilt Cup, Bason, and Ewer, in all Points (as Weight, Fashion, Inscription, &c.) so like the Cup, Bason, and Ewer given by the Foundress of the said College, as that not ovum ovo similis, not for the Continuance of his own Memory,

Memory, but for fear that those which she had given might miscarry, and so her Remembrance might decay. He departed this Life on the 25th of September 1626, in the 71st Year of his Age, and lieth buried in the upper Isle of the Church of St. Saviour's, Southwark, where a very fair Monument of Marble and Alabaſter, on which lieth his Image dressed in his Robes as Prelate of the Order of the Garter, was erected to his Memory, with this Epitaph :

XXIV. SAMUEL HARSENET.

He was Proctor of the University in 1593, and succeeded the above-mentioned Lancelot Andrews in 1605. In the same year he was Vice Chancellor, as he was again 1614. In one of his Vice Chancellorships Thomas Howard Earl of Suffolk was made Chancellor of the University. He answered the Orator's Speech by telling him, though he knew not Latin, he knew the Sense to make him welcome, and that he would serve the University faithfully, &c. Upon which the Vice Chancellor requested him to entertain King James at Cambridge, which accordingly he did in a very magnificent manner, at the expence of above 5000 l. He was successively Bishop of Chichester 1609, Norwich 1619, and Arch Bishop of York 1628. He resigned the Mastership of the College in 1616, and died May 25, 1631. He lyeth buried in the Church of Chigwell in Essex, under a handsome Monument, on which is his Effigies in his archiepiscopal Robes.

XXV. NICHOLAS FELTON, D.D.

He was chose Master on June 29th 1616, and in 1617 was elected Bishop of Bristol, and then Bishop of Coventry and Litchfield (possibly designed only to that later See). He afterwards, in 1618, became Bishop of Ely. He resigned the Mastership within Two Years after he had been elected Master, and died in 1627.

XXVI. JEROME BEALE.

On the 21st of February 1618, he was admitted Master, being Batchelor in Divinity, Rector of Willingham near Cambridge, and Prebendary of Chichester and Ely. In 1622 he was chosen Vice Chancellor, and was also Sub Almoner and Chaplain to his then sacred Majesty King Charles the First. I apprehend he deceased in December 1630.

XXVII. BENJAMIN LANY.

On the Twenty-fifth Day of December 1630, Mr. Benjamin Lany, then Dr. of Divinity, Prebendary of Winchester, and Rector

MISCELLANEOUS PIECES.

Rector of Beriton in Hampshire, was chosen Master. In 1632 he was Vice Chancellor. He enjoyed the Post of Master of the College till about the Year 1644, at which Time he bore his Share in the Calamities that befell the Nation and the Church; and, together with almost all his Society, (I am apt to think to a Man) was ejected, and during the Confusion of Things was succeeded by the Three Persons whose Names follow, viz.

RICHARD VINES, { The Two first of these were
SIDRACT SIMPSON, { Men of good Note, and well WILLIAM MOSES, { esteemed by the Powers that promoted them.

The Third, bating that he enjoyed what was another Man's Right, was on all other Accounts worthy of his Post. He seems to have had an uncommon Affection for the Old Houfe, which exemplified itself in the great Care he took of it, in repairing it, beautifying it, adding to its Buildings, and at his Death leaving to it a considerable Sum of Money for the Foundation of Scholarships, which through the Injustice of his Executors has not been yet received ; and we fear that after Abundance of Charge in Law-suits, a very small Proportion will be at last received. Well ! upon the happy Restoration of our rightfull Monarch, the above-mentioned Dr. Lany came again to his own, and to the Bishopricks of Peterborough in 1660, then vacant, and continued amongst us for about two years, when he resigned, being afterwards successively Bishop of Lincoln 1663, and Bishop of Ely 1667. He died 1675.

It must not be here forgot that he was a Benefactor to us in founding a small fellowship, and augmenting that of Mr. Smart's Foundation, commonly called the Ipswich Fellowship.

XXVIII. MARK FRANK.

He was cholen in 1662 Prebendary and Treafurer of St. Paul's, Chaplain to the Arch Bifhop of Canterbury, and Archdeacon of St. Alban's. He was a Benefactor to us in Books and Monies; and died Mafter in 1665.

XXIX. ROBERT MAPLETOFT.

Robert Mapletoft, D. D. Rector of Claworth in Nottinghamshire succeeded him in 1665, was Vice Chancellor in 1671, Prebendary and Subdean of Lincoln; afterwards Dean of Ely. He appears to have been a Man of a strict life and undissembled Piety. He was a good Benefactor in in founding a Chatechistical Lecture, and in other Acts of Charity.

XXX. NATHANIEL COGA.

Nathaniel Coga was Master of Arts, then Fellow of the College, Proctor in 1671, and succeeded the former Master on the 20th of August 1677, Vice Chancellor 1681. He was afterwards Doctor in Divinity, Rector of Feltwell St. Nicholas in Norfolk, and of Framlingham in Suffolk. He is numbered among our Benefactors, and deceased in January 1693.

XXXI. THOMAS BROWNE.

He was Rector of a College Living, viz. Overton Waterville in Huntingdonshire, Proctor 1685, and succeeded Mr. Nathaniel Coga 1693. He commenced afterwards Doctor in Divinity, and was Vice Chancellor 1694; and had also the living of Lowth. He died March the 9th 1706.

XXXII. EDWARD LONG.

Dr. Edward Long, Grand Nephew to the above mentioned Benjamin Lany, was chosen to succeed Doctor Browne in the Mastership. At the Time of his Election he was Fellow of the College of his Foundation. He was at the same Time Professor of Divinity at Gresham College, and a Fellow of the Royal Society; and during the Life of his late Majesty was Chaplain to his Household at Kensington; Vice Chancellor 1707.

John Bradford, of Manchester in Lancashire, first a Servant to Sir John Harrington, Knight; yet, though a Place of very good Profit and Expectation, he left it, and gave himself to Study, especially of the Scriptures, at the Temple in London, where the Common Law is studied; and from thence he came to Cambridge, and within a Year was made Master of Arts and Fellow of this College. He was ordained by Bishop Ridley, by whom and Bucer he was intirely beloved. He was Chaplain to Ridley, Prebendary of St. Paul's, and died a Martyr in Queen Mary's Reign, 1st July, 1556. His last audible Words were those of our Saviour; " Strait is the Gate, and narrow is the Way which leadeth unto Life, and few there be that find it." He was of Stature tall, but slender; of a faintish sanguine Complexion; his Hair and Beard auburn; his Countenance full full of Sweetnefs, mixt with Reverence and Austerity.

 The chief Article whereupon his Enemies condemned him was for denial of the corporal Prefence in the Sacrament, which yet he never denied in the worthy Receiver, as to the Eye of Faith; and no Man yet, whether Papift or Proteftant, could ever dif-
 cover it through the Elements of Bread and Wine
 by the Eye of the Body.
 His Death was generally lamented by all who knew him, or had heard of him;
 yea many Papifts themselves heartily wifhed his Deliverance, for all Men obferved how his Enemies had firft committed him to Prifon without Law, and then after a Year's Imprifonment made one to take away his Life.

On him was made this
